The Tickets Are All There

That there is no preference in the matter of p ing out reserved seats for the Hilltop Minstrel was pointed out by President Lou Saunders this week.

Said he, "I'll pay $100 to anyone who finds one ticket removed from that reserved box before the first one in line gets his tickets on the morning of March 17. First come, first served."

Need A Community Center

For a long time the need of a community center on the Hilltop has been known.

Increased facilities for meeting places, club rooms, etc., have been needed. And above all a recreation center having facilities more on the order of the YMCA and YWCA would be appreciated by Hilltop people.

This week a gentleman came to our office with just such ideas. He believes a community the size of the Hilltop and of the community mindedness of the Hilltop could and would support such an institution.

The program has merit. It should be talked further and its feasibility investigated.

Greetings To The Eagles

This week announcement is being made of the formal opening of the new Hilltop Eagles club rooms. We extend our heartiest greetings.

We sincerely hope the Hilltop organization will prosper and will continue its steady growth.

We have a very warm spot in our heart for the Eagles Lodge. It presents no false fronts and is a lodge of fellowship for men of all degrees of wealth. The lodge has accomplished some very worthwhile things.

Jitterbugs

There may be a place in the Hilltop Minstrel for four good jitterbugs. But they must be good. Anyone interested should contact C. C. Hartley at the Hilltop Record office or call Ra. 1125 not later than this Saturday.

Car Track Menace

One of the most disconcerting things which drivers have to face on W. Broad-st is the car track menace. Since the Rail-Light company has substituted trolley bus service for street cars the tracks are no longer used—and for this we are all exceedingly grateful.

But the tracks remain to jeopardize the safety of motorists.

According to officials of the power company, the track abandonment program is of necessity a slow one. Tracks may be removed and replaced with pavement only during the few frost-free months between spring and fall.

There is quite a lot of bad track condition in the South End. It is the policy of the company, working in conjunction with the city engineering department, to remove the worst track first.

Hence, according to the present track abandonment schedule, the car tracks on W. Broad-st cannot be removed this year and quite possibly not next year.

We sincerely hope that some alterations can be made in the present plans in order to effect the removal of the tracks before the elapse of two more years.

We Either Do Or We Don't

It seems to us that a lot of conversation is flowing in Washington that doesn't have a lot of meaning behind it. Everyone seems to be agreed on the lease-lend aid to Britain. But there are those who are shaking it by the hand and stabbing it in the back all in one motion.

Congressman John Vorys has been making the headlines with his opposition to the bill and all the while he says he is for aid to Britain.

Frankly we believe the straightforward way of either being for or against a thing and not continuing to straddle the fence in order to satisfy both sides is the only way to get things done and most certainly this is a time for action.

Services Held For Cambridge Man

Mrs. G. Neil, 159 S. Wayne-av, was called to Cambridge Tuesday because of the death of her father, Cal McAninch. Rea Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Sheron Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neil and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neil attended the funeral.

Minstrel Ducats Reserved March 17

That outstanding Hilltop community event, the annual Hilltop Minstrel is less than two weeks away and hundreds of people have already purchased their tickets and are awaiting the signal on the seat reservations.

Seats will be reserved at Shank & Saunders office, 2459 W. Broad-st, beginning Monday, Mar. 17, at 8 a. m. No tickets will be reserved before that time. General admission tickets may be exchanged for reserve seats by paying 10c extra.

Production of the show under the direction of C. Carlton Hartley swung into high gear this week as end men Leo Phillips, Bill Taft, Bill Southworth and Dick Becker practiced their antics with interlocutor Mayor Floyd Green.

This year a dancing extravaganza featuring George Pfaff in a solo number along with a dancing chorus made up of such talent as Herbert Davis, Curtis Wilcox, Dr. Chet Brady, Dr. William Lowry, Clarence Story, Dr. F. L. Sulzberger, Curtis Roberts, Don Smith and Gene Hays will be one of the outstanding local talent features.

Production was started this week on an old time "melodrammer" under the direction of L. E. Saunders. The cast was not complete at press time.

Three exceptional numbers are being prepared by the prize winning Hilltop chorus. In addition there will be solos from two members of the chorus and three of the end men will sing.

George Hardy, who made a hit as Bojangles, the Duke of Harlem, in last year's show, will repeat this year paired up with his nine-year-old daughter, Jackie.

A Spanish dance will be presented by Dorothy Manus and a tap routine is being prepared by the team of Marchant and Moore. Other dance numbers will be announced later, as will other features of the show.

This year's show will take place in a Musical Kollege setting with the collegiate atmosphere prevailing.

Local Resident In Arizona Converses With Hilltop Home Folks Via Radio

Howard R. Young is not one to neglect his home life even if he is over 2000 auto-miles from home. He is spending the winter in Tucson, Ariz., in order to recuperate from a recent illness.

Equipped with an amateur radio transmitting apparatus, he keeps the air waves in an uproar with his twice-weekly conversations with his wife and son who reside at 319 Eldon-av.

"It is a great pleasure," he says, "to be able to talk and hear those who are close to you from such a distance away."

"With all due respect for our Hilltop winter," he comments, "the Southern Arizona climate is ideal." Mr. Young vigorously maintains that he is in no way connected with the Tucson chamber of commerce.

"Life out the desert," he says, "is truly exotic with all the blooms and flowers you see for miles about to say nothing of the rugged mountain scenery."

"It all grows on you," he continues, "and I am afraid I have gone native."

Harry Gease Dies Of Heart Attack

Harry A. Gease, 46, of 607 Hillsonia-av, supervisor for the Clark Baking Co., died of a heart attack at his home last week. The fire department inhalator squad was summoned, but Mr. Gease was dead on its arrival.

Last month this group heard Clarence Bateman, West High teacher and council commissioner for Cubbing, lead a lively program among those present.

Cagers In District Tourney; Baseball, Grid Calls Slated

Coaches George Williams and George Collins at West High school are deep in a dizzy sports whirl these days, what with basketball, football and baseball occupying their attention.

On the Go--

George B. Williams
Busy Buckaroo

The basketball lads, to keep busy, had to whip a favored Marion Harding quintet in the central district tournament at Delaware last night. If they lost, spring football will get under way immediately, with managers already sorting out equipment. Just recently the city wrestling titles went on the block, with Coach Collins having four lads come out as city champions in their respective divisions.

Hurdling the Marion obstacle, the Buckaroo courtmen will clash with the winner of the Columbus Central-Mt. Vernon tilt at Delaware tonight. The Hilltoppers closed their second round in the city loop last Friday evening with a thrilling triumph over North's Polar Bears to cop second place in the circuit.

It was a case of beating the enemy at their own game, last Friday evening in the West High gym, where the West High Cowboys closed their regular basketball season by squeezing out a 38 to 36 victory over the North High Polar Bears, perennial jinx to West teams.

The game, which was tied for the last several minutes at 36-all, produced no score in the first three-minute over-time period, but was abruptly and spectacularly ended in the second overtime by West's little guard, Dave Wills, who, although he had been missing shots all evening, shot from mid-floor and watched the ball pass through the hoop without touching the back-board or the rim of the basket.

Variety Show At West To Benefit School Band

The third annual band concert and variety show will be presented this evening on the stage of the auditorium at West High school, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The program, which has been sponsored by the West High Band Parents club for the past three years, is under the direction of Herbert E. Hutchison, director of music at West High, and Roy Bowen, dramatics instructor.

The first part of the program will be a concert by the West band. The second part will be a variety show, including songs, dancing and instrumental numbers. The finale will be a one-act play, "The Perfect Gentleman," directed by Mr. Bowen.

The entire proceeds of the show will be placed in a fund to purchase new instruments for the band, keep the uniforms in repair, and finance the band's trips to participate in contests.

Mrs. Stuart Hurd, president of the Band Parents club, stated that one of the more immediate aims of the organization is to purchase a set of kettle drums and the necessary cases for the band. In 1939 the club purchased two sousaphones, and in 1940, a bass-soon, which they presented to the West High music department.

Grapplers Cop City Titles

Although West High wrestlers landed four city championships in the city wrestling meet, the locals were nosed out for the team title by South which copped too many place positions as well as three titles.

City winners for the Hilltoppers were Jack Hartung, 122 pounds; Bob Wright, 130; Les Brandenberg, 140; and John Beamer, 135. The squad was coached by George Collins.

In the past, the North High team has been very successful in winning a high percentage of their close games, and it appeared, after Duck Ucker and Dick Smith had gone out on fouls, that the Maroons might again take a decision, but they had not reckoned on the indomitable spirit and drive shown by the Bucks, who had not dropped a game since their first round defeat at the hands of the North cagers.

Due to North's defeat at the hands of the West team and their win over the hapless Central Pirates, the South Bulldogs annexed the city high school basketball league championship for the second consecutive year, leaving North and West in a two-way tie for second place, with seven wins and three losses each.

Highest Percentage

For the season, the Cowboys have a higher percentage than any other city league team, for all their games; the West team won 14 games out of 19, for a seasonal average of .737.

In spite of all activity on these sports fronts, Coach Williams has already given some thought to the coming baseball campaign in which the Bucks will be defending the title they won a year ago.

And prospects are not dull. Returning for action will be all high performers Bill Albert, catcher; Jake Richards and Swisher, pitchers; Dave Wills, third base, Dick Smith, left field, and Ray Medlick, center field.

In addition, the squad will be bolstered by a crack left hander from the junior high ranks in Dick Hoover as well as a potential first sacker in Roy Melony.

Hitting will be the big problem. Williams indicated this week, when, in spite of bright prospects, he shed some tears over the loss of such big guns as Bell and Mack from last year's pennant winners.

Eagles Plan Week-Long Program

Plans for the grand opening of the new Eagles club, 2354 W. Broad-st, were to go into action tonight in the first step of a week-long program of special activities. C. H. Hughes, chairman of the entertainment committee, has worked out special entertainment for each day in the week with visitations from several Columbus and central Ohio lodges expected.

Also on the committee arranging the grand opening are Adolph Smith, Ed Mason, Curt Littman and Charles Snyder. Littman was general chairman of the building committee. Hughes and Snyder were on the committee.

The local lodge, known as Aguila Aerie 2209 F. O. E., was organized in 1935 and has enjoyed a steadily growing membership each year. Until a month ago headquarters for the lodge were in the old Powell homestead at Chase-av and Broad-st.

Present quarters occupy the entire second floor at 2356 W. Broad-st. All new furnishings, including a large meeting hall, lounges and offices, were installed after the building had been completely remodeled.

The Hilltop is invited to inspect the new lodge facilities on Friday and Saturday nights. Each Tuesday night euchre parties are held for the general public. Bingo is played on Thursday nights.

It's easy to follow a recipe!
There are people who think that the compounding of prescriptions is just like following a recipe. Well, a prescription is a recipe, but its filling is not so easy. It takes knowledges of chemistry, physiology, biology, and a host of other scientific information—plus ability and experience—to be able to fill prescriptions properly — exactly!

Aguila Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles Says

Monday, Mar. 10 through Mar. 16 2356 W. Broad St.

The officers and members of Aguila Aerie F. O. E. 2209 are happy to invite the Hilltop to a grand opening of our new quarters, 2356 W. Broad St., starting Monday and continuing one week. We are proud of the progress our lodge has enjoyed and we want each of you to come and see our new quarters.

Aguila Aerie, F. O. E., offers a medium of good fellowship and an opportunity to belong to a worthwhile organization. Eagles are known for their charitable and civic activities not only in Columbus but all over the country. Aguila Aerie fills that position on the Hilltop.

You are invited to visit the new Eagles club at any time during the week for a few hours of relaxation. The fine new facilities are at the disposal of anyone wishing to take advantage of them. Play Euchre any Tuesday night or Bingo any Thursday night.

Every year a shoe fund is subscribed to by members of the local lodge. This fund is responsible for providing shoes for many needy children whose parents are unable to buy them. Just now the entire Fraternal Order of Eagles is raising money to build a dormitory at Boys Town. Approximately $500,000 will be needed to finance the project. Thousands of underprivileged boys will be given an opportunity to take advantage of the marvelous training offered in this camp. These are only a few of the many worthwhile projects being fostered by this nation-wide fraternal association. Pay a visit to the new Eagles club at your first opportunity.

History of Aguila Aerie F. O. E. 2209

Auditor and Historian

Early in November, 1935, a letter was received by the writer from M. L. Brown, State Secretary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at Springfield, Ohio. Advising that there would be, on the following Thursday night, an organizer from the State Organization Dept. in Columbus for the purpose of forming a lodge of Eagles on the Hilltop in Columbus, and requesting the aid of the writer in the formation of the new lodge.

The meeting was held with the organizer, Harold Nafzger by name, and particulars discussed at that meeting resulted in a meeting of some twenty-five or thirty men in the basement of the writer, Mr. Charles Snyder, of 619 S. Eureka Ave.

From this body of men, and through their labors the formation of the new lodge was made possible. Weekly meetings were held in Snyders' cellar by these men and other friends of theirs until on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 12, 1936, Deputy Grand President James H. Kellner instituted Franklin Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

On January 22nd, 1936, a letter was received by George G. Wallace, then secretary of the new lodge, from Conrad H. Mann, Chief Auditor at Kansas City, Mo., advising the members that a new name would have to be picked for the new lodge because there was already a Franklin Lodge in existence.

At the next meeting of the lodge, which was held upstairs over what is now the Corner Cafe on Sullivant Ave., several names were up for consideration. Brother Joseph Mittendorf, since deceased, suggested that we, due to the fact that we were the youngest lodge in all Eagledom, adopt the Latin name for "Little Eagle." The name of "Aguila" was provided by a friend of Bro. Mittendorf and a professor of languages at Ohio State University, and the name forthwith adopted and accepted by the Grand Aerie.

The next meetings of the new lodge were held in the rear of "Pats" barber shop, next to Todds Drug Store, also on Sullivant Ave., where we continued to meet until August of 1936, when a committee headed by Bro. Chas. Hughes finally reached an agreement with Frank Powell for the lease and remodelling of the old Powell homestead on the corner of Chase and W. Broad-sts.

On October 5th of 1936 the Aerie moved from the barber shop into their new quarters at the Powell homestead. A large celebration was held on that date. A nice street parade was headed by the Circleville Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, several bands and drill teams from nearby lodges took part in the parade which was followed by a big housewarming party at the club house. The party was a large affair and Eagle delegations attended from all over Ohio.

State Vice President Edward Poss, U. S. Marshal for N. W. Ohio, made the dedication address at the new club home, and later addressed an overflow crowd on the spacious lawn of the home.

Since that date the Aerie has gone about its various businesses always ready to aid in any civic duties and ever willing to render charity where it would do the most good. Numerous school children on the Hilltop can testify to the charity of the shoe fund of this lodge. This fund is maintained for the purpose "that no child regardless of race, color, or creed shall be forced to remain out of school because of lack of proper footwear," and has done exceedingly fine work to that end.

West High School was presented with batons for the drum major by this Aerie. Many needy families on the Hilltop have also been furnished with coal and groceries by the emergency fund of this Aerie.

Recently the lodge moved into its beautiful new home at 2356 W. Broad St. This club is one of the finest equipped and furnished club houses in the city of Columbus and the members can well be proud of their new quarters.

The building committee charged by the lodge with remodelling and equipment of the new club was headed by Bro. Curt A. Littman, chairman Chas. H. Hughes and Chas. W. Snyder.

However all of this would not have been possible were it not for the energy and foresight of the 46 original members of Aguila Aerie, and the lodge and Hilltop citizenry should each honor these men who are named below by attending the open house parties that will be arranged during the week of March 9th, to 16th, 1941.

Employment Is Up In January

Reflecting the usual after-Christmas decline, Ohio employment in January was two per cent under December. But it was 13 per cent above January of last year.

Manufacturing employment was one per cent greater than in December and 18 per cent above January, 1940. Non-manufacturing work declined 11 per cent in January, remaining nine per cent above the same month last year. Construction work in January was seven per cent under the previous month, but 45 per cent above last year.

All chief cities shared in the December-to-January decline, but all had more employment in January of this year than in January of 1940.

Independent Sales Up

Sales of Ohio independent retailers for January were 19 per cent higher in January than in the same month last year, it is shown in a report of 1118 stores compiled by the U. S. Bureau of the Census and Ohio State university's bureau of business research.

Department stores, handled as a separate group, recorded a gain of seven per cent over January a year ago.

Although showing a healthy gain over the same month of last year, independent retailers had the usual experience of a declined drop from December when holiday trade was at a peak. This amounted to 43 per cent.

Of the several kinds of business surveyed, motor vehicle dealers showed the largest gain, 45 per cent, followed by lumber and building materials dealers, 38 per cent. Jewelry stores and drinking places each reported sales gains over last January amounting to 14 per cent. Apparel stores, led by a 13 per cent gain for shoe stores, showed a seven per cent increase. Drug stores indicated sales 13 per cent higher than last year, while hardware stores were up 10 per cent.

"What Is Under Your Hat?"

How much should he own to get married,
How much money should be laid away?
What should be the amount of his salary
On his contemplated wedding day?
There's no one can answer that question
Dollars are fleeting you know,
It is not all a question of his income
But how far can he make a dollar go.

Many people have lost their possessions,
Quickly can fortunes fly away
To answer that question with intelligence
We must know what he'll put on display.
It is not all a question of his income,
A fortune can be lost over night,
But this he should consider with compunction,
Has he got any business foresight?

Love is first for consideration.
Then how many brains in his dome.
It takes thrift, economy and intelligence
To provide and maintain a good home.
Many people have lost their position,
Would that knock him down flat?
It is not all a question of his income
But what is under his hat.

Let's Consider Our Fire Protection

An Editorial

It comes to our attention that the city has an order several pump trucks which will be distributed among various fire stations sometime in the future.

We were under the impression that the Hilltop station would get a new "pumper" back in 1939. But for some reason or other, the pumper which was apparently destined for this community got permanently waylaid in some other section of the city.

For some time it has been a recognized fact that available fire fighting facilities are not adequate to serve this community properly.

There has been some discussion to the effect that a new engine house will, in the dim future, be erected near Hague and Sullivant-ave.

Pending such development, it would surely be advisable to equip the only existing Hilltop unit with the most modern and efficient fire-fighting devices.

The pumper now used at Station 17 has seen many years of service. It has two-wheel brakes and the motor is not the most dependable one in the world.

When property and lives are at stake, it is essential that seconds will not be lost in getting to the scene of the conflagration.

In view of such things as these, we sincerely believe that one of the new "pumper" trucks is due this community.

Of special importance in this connection is the housing situation at the State Hospital which is served by the local fire station.

Authorities have long recognized the fact that the interior of the State Hospital has many of the characteristics of a fire trap. Although the outside of the structure is faced with brick, the walls and interior contain a large amount of wood.

The wide halls would create a tremendous draft in the event of a fire. Inmates are locked in their rooms at night and if a considerable blaze ever gets under way there will be panic.

We can't help but think, in this connection, of the disastrous penitentiary fire of some years back. Every possible step should be taken to prevent any similar occurrence.

A new pump truck for this community would be a first step in the direction of more adequate protection.

As Crowds Watch Firemen Battle Flames

Crowds gathered from far and near Monday afternoon to watch firemen extinguish the blaze which all but demolished the lower floor of the two-story frame residence at 424 S. Warren-av belonging to Marvin Brodie.

Many of the more curious were doused with water from the fire hoses.

W. A. Colwell Named Scout Executive

Charles A. Jones, president of the Central Ohio Area council, Boy Scouts of America, announced last week the appointment of William A. Colwell, a former Scout, as field Scout executive to be associated with Robert H. Hellstand on the local professional Scouting staff.

In addition to assisting in the general program and administration, the new official will work extensively in the Negro field. The project is being accomplished by the local council through the co-operation of the Community Fund of Columbus and Franklin county.

Colwell lives with his wife, Esther, and their 18-months-old daughter at 333 Clarendon-av.

Mechanic Suffers Severe Burns

Burned on the face and hands last Friday morning when a fire, apparently starting from gasoline, broke out in the E. J. Snyder Trucking company, 112 S. Glenwood-av, Harry Rinehart, 26, of 44 S. Hague-av, a mechanic, is now recovering.

He was taken immediately to Mt. Carmel hospital, where he is now confined. The burns are rather severe, according to hospital attendants.

The roof of the building was destroyed and the two trucks parked inside were damaged. Firemen estimated total damage at $700.

General admission tickets will be sold at the high school on each night before the show begins. There will be approximately 500 such seats available.

Joke Winners

Winners in the Minstrel Joke contest are as follows: Mrs. W. F. Smith, 266 S. Roys-av; Mrs. Russell Sage Anderson, 3014 Olive-st; Mrs. Arthur Tomlinson, 436 S. Ogden-av; M. C. Clark, 56 S. Hague-av; G. M. Garrison, Hilliards. Two tickets to the show are being mailed to each of the winners today.

Alumni Plan Spring Dance

The second annual spring dance of the West High Alumni association will be held on Apr. 26 at the K. of C. club ballroom. There will be, according to report, and plans are under way for obtaining a "top-notch" orchestra. Tickets will be available soon, according to George Hardy, president of the association.

Commissioners Award $2,000

County commissioners last Friday settled for $2,000 a claim of Lois Ann Read, 13, of 233 N. Harris-av for a broken back suffered Aug. 25, 1940, when she fell 18 feet into an unguarded culvert on N. Hague-av, near the city limits.

The girl, through her father, Philip Read, had asked for $10,000 damages and $906 expenses. No suit was filed. Since the accident, a guard rail has been erected across the culvert.

He's In the Army Now . . . .
West Drama Coach Falls Under Blade of Selective Service Ax

Roy Bowen

With the annual senior class play just in the offing, the West High school dramatics department found itself without a director this week, when the long arm of Uncle Sam reached out from the selective service act and beckoned Roy Bowen, drama coach, to the army.

School officials are now breathing easier. A substitute has been found. It has been arranged to have Mrs. Hilda Leech, dramatics teacher at Roosevelt Jr. High, take over at West for the remainder of the school year.

Bowen, who is 29 years of age and unmarried, has been a member of the West High faculty for the past five years.

Together with many other draftees, Bowen reported this morning at 7:30 at the Fort Hayes barracks, ready to leave for a year's training at one of the camps.

He hopes to be sent to Washington state, where he will be able to do entertainment work in the training barracks. He also plans to catch up with his neglected vacations. For the past few years he has been working on his master's degree at Northwestern university.

Aside from his military training Bowen plans to read the complete works of Shakespeare, and see all of the movies and productions that will be available.

Eagles Stage Grand Opening

The much-anticipated Eagles Jamboree and grand opening will be held tonight and tomorrow night in the new Aguila Aerie club rooms at 2354 W. Broad-st. The week-end programs will wind up a gala week of special activities.

All Eagles are invited to attend the affair tonight and to bring friends and prospective members. The Brown County Clodbuster will present a program of songs, music and jokes. In addition, there will be round and square dancing.

Everyone is invited to attend the grand opening scheduled for Saturday evening. According to the entertainment chairman, C. H Hughes, great effort has been made to prepare a fine program.

There will be a gala floor show and entertainers include the Girl Friends quartet; Miss Sawyer, taps and songs; Jackie Jones, soloist; Bobby Martin, tap dancer; Condon family, group singing; Goodchilds, duet taps; and Lombard, duet rope taps.

Local Woman Corresponds With Duke of Windsor

Mrs. Minnie Davis, 271 Dana-av, has been corresponding with some regularity of late with presidents and kings.

Her letters to President Roosevelt and King George some time ago were answered promptly and their appreciation for her "kind thoughts" was enthusiastically expressed.

Recently comes a letter from the Duke of Windsor, postmarked Government House, Bahamas. It read: "I . . . thank you for your letter and very much appreciate your kind thoughts and good wishes."

Needless to say, Mrs. Davis cherishes her letters very highly.

Youth Of— Killed By Auto

James Manus, Age 14, Struck In W. Broad-st

James Manus, one of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Manus, 263 S. Eureka-av, was fatally injured Monday night, when he was struck by an automobile as he rode his bicycle in W. Broad-st at the bottom of asylum hill.

He died early Tuesday morning of a skull fracture and other injuries in Mt. Carmel hospital, where he was taken by Dave Scobie, 71 S. Harris-av. He did not regain consciousness after the accident.

According to Patrolmen John Bethel and George Webb, the boy was riding west on Broad-st, holding a newspaper over his head to shield himself from the rain, when a car driven by W. J. Harris, 73 N. Oakley-av, struck the bicycle from the rear.

The youth's father operates a confectionery and restaurant at 1244-46 W. Broad-st.

A ninth grade student at West Junior High, James would have celebrated his fifteenth birthday today. Today would also have marked two years' riding on his bicycle without an accident.

James was a member of the West Park M. E. church.

Besides his parents he is survived by three brothers, Phillip, jr., at home; William, in training at Camp Shelby, and George, also of Columbus; five sisters, Mrs. Jane Fariand, 650½ Kelton-av, and Dorothy, Mary Ann and Patricia, at home. There are several aunts and uncles.

Services were held yesterday, 2:30 p. m., in the Wylie S. Shroyer funeral home, 1278 W. Broad-st. Interment was in Union cemetery.

Westway Post To Assist Service Men

Assistance to the men of this community who enter the military or naval services either voluntarily or as draftees is one of the chief items on a program to be prepared and maintained by the Westway post.

The post will also attempt to render aid and assistance to the dependent families of such men. Efforts will be made to keep in touch with the men, themselves, while they are in service, maintaining friendly contacts by means of letters, home newspapers and gifts.

Commander Wilson has appointed George Ell, 168 S. Harris-av, chairman of the committee in charge of this work. Ell requests the relatives of all local men who are in service to contact him at RA. 8037, so that he may obtain their addresses and other information.

To Celebrate St. Patrick's

Westway Post, No. 3441, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a St. Patrick's Day party at their club rooms, 2393½ W. Broad-st, Saturday night, Mar. 15. The party will feature round and square dancing and will start at 8:30 p. m.

Westway Post is sponsoring a membership rally on Sunday afternoon, Mar. 23, at 2:00 p. m., at the Buckeye club, 44½ E. Long-st.

The degree team from Post 1698 will put on a degree work for all members who have joined all local posts in the past year.

Refreshments will be served after the degree work is completed.

The program is sponsored by the Youth Council of the church and youth organizations from several other U. B. churches in the city have accepted invitations to attend the services.

A pot-luck fellowship supper for the youth of the church will be held in the church basement at 6:15 p. m.

Dr. Howe is a graduate of Otterbein college and Yale Divinity school. He has taught theology and philosophy at the Bonebrake Theological seminary and is widely known for his work among young people in summer camps and conferences. He spent 15 months in France during the first World war.

The annual membership stag party of Camp Chase post, American Legion, will be held tonight at the post club rooms, 3184 W. Broad-st, starting at 8:30. Luncheon will be served and an elaborate entertainment program has been planned, including boxing exhibitions by some of the leading contenders in the recent Golden Gloves tournament.

Contest Essays

Approximately 300 essays were written by students of West High and Holy Family High schools in the recent Legion essay contest. This year's subject was "Lincoln and the Constitution."

The committee, headed by Dr. A. C. Myers, reports that this year's essays were exceptionally well written. Two winners from each grade will be submitted as the local entries in the state contest where 12 winners will be picked for a 10 day trip to Washington, D. C., as guests of the Ohio department of the American Legion.

HBMA Seeks Report On Sullivant-av Extension

On a motion made by Miss Mary Bentz, the Hilltop Business Men's association meeting Tuesday night in Schmelzer's restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st, decided to write Councilman Arvin Alexander for a report on plans for the extension of Sullivant-av into High-st.

The Sullivant-av extension is part of a long-range program of the association for obtaining more satisfactory outlets for Hilltop and West Side traffic.

Life-Saving Demonstration

Members witnessed a demonstration of life-saving methods by the life-saving squad of the city fire department. The program, in charge of Dr. William Lowry, consisted of demonstrations and explanations of the facilities used in emergency work.

In charge of the demonstration was Captain William Lewis. According to him this squad was recently rated as the best of its type in the country.

The squad was first organized in October, 1934, but for financial reasons was discontinued in 1936. The squad was again instituted in 1938 after several drownings in the Scioto river, which, according to Captain Lewis, could have easily been avoided.

No "Owl" Extension

A letter from the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to a committee of the association headed by Dr. F. L. Sulzberger, which requested the extension of the W. Broad-st "owl" service to Southampton-av, was read at the meeting.

According to company officials, the additional expenditure which would be required for the extension would not be warranted in view of the very limited patronage that would be received by providing this convenience.

According to a survey conducted by the company between Feb. 24 and Mar. 5, the total number of passengers transported from the Powell-av district by the "owl" service was 47 and the total number transported to the district was 85.

Booster prize winners were announced as follows: John Riepenhoff, Alva Nafzger, William Jones, Curt Wilcox and Tom Lewis.

Fire Perils Hilltop Home

Fire gutted the two story residence of Marvin Brodie, 424 S. Warren-av, Monday afternoon, causing loss estimated at $900.

Firemen fought heavy smoke and flames on the first floor of the frame structure for half an hour before the blaze was extinguished.

Curious children, crowding about the premises, were doused with water from the fire hoses before firemen could clear sufficient space for operation.

Assistant Chief Clarence Ogborn said the flames originated from burning coals which fell from the stove that had been fired too heavily.

Brodie's daughter told firemen she put coal in the stove and then left the house. When she returned, a half hour later, she discovered smoke rolling from the house.

Chief Ogburn said flames shot from the house as a door was opened.

More Twins

The Frank Shaub farm, 157 Demorest-rd, is having a run on twin calves. Several weeks ago "Lady Bonnie" bore twin calves, a rather unusual thing, according to Shaub.

Perhaps inspired by jealousy, sister cow "Daisy Mae" last week bore twin calves—both female.

Railroader Dies Of Heart Ailment

Funeral services for William Dulgar, age 62, were held Sunday at the residence, 81 S. Wheatland-av. A night foreman at the C. and O. railroad roundhouse for 30 years, he was found dead in bed last Thursday of a heart ailment.

Mr. Dulgar was a thirty-second degree Mason and also belonged to the Shrine. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Stell Dulgar, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Dayo, of Derby.

Burial was at Mt. Sterling by Jerry Spears.

Prizes To Be Awarded For Hilltop "Memories"

If you have never won $5 the easy way—here's your chance.

You old timers who have spent many years on the Hilltop probably have accumulated a store of memories about persons and events in the community.

You tell the "I remember" contest editors about them in 250 words or less and you will be eligible to win a $5, $2, or $1 prize for your efforts.

The memories may have to do with the time when W. Broad-st was a mud road between pasture lands or the water trough which stood on the site of the present ultra-modern service station.

Of course, your memory doesn't have to be 25 years long in order for you to qualify for a prize. Maybe you remember some particularly interesting occurrences at the spring dance of your graduating class back in '29.

Whatever they are, let us have your memories. They must be authentic and they must have some connection with the Hilltop. If your letter is adjudged best, you will be awarded the first prize of $5.

Address your letters to the "I Remember" contest editors in care of the Hilltop Record, 2463-68 W. Broad-st. The letters must be in the Record office by noon, Apr. 16.

The editors reserve the right to publish any or all letters received in the anniversary edition on Apr. 27 or any edition thereafter. Winners of the contest will be announced in the anniversary edition.

Mr. Heiney was a native of Meigs county. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Heiney; a daughter, Mrs Florence Emerick, and two grandchildren.

90 Years Young -- Hale and Hardy
Mrs. Rachel Bair Turns Nonagenarian

Mrs. Rachel Bair will be 90 years young on Mar. 18. But in many respects she is as hale and hearty as she was 30 years ago.

The rigors of the Ohio winters hardly phase her. She makes her regular trips to market, rides the streetcar unescorted and attends church regularly.

Mrs. Bair, who resides at 2343½ W Broad-st, is particularly fond of flowers and in the summertime tends her own garden, which she feels is far too pretty to be hidden by the restaurant building in front.

But she takes much consolation in the fact that many of the restaurant-goers take pleasure in seeing her flowers.

Born on Mar. 18, 1851, Mrs. Bair lived many years in her girlhood home in Holmes county. She was married to Rudolph Bair on July 17, 1870. The couple had two children.

Mr. Bair, who died at 75, operated a jewelry and optical business at 2341 W. Broad-st for about 30 years.

Mrs. Bair will be happy to have her friends call at her home from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9 on her birthday.

Rev. W. E. Riebel Is New Pastor of Hilltonia U. B.

A graduate of Otterbein college, Rev. Riebel received the Doctor of Divinity degree from that institution in 1932. He also received a Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Andover Theological Seminary in Massachusetts.

"Vision Week" Being Observed

"Save Your Vision Week," being observed by members of the optical profession locally in cooperation with a statewide program of education along the lines of impressing people with the importance of eye care, brings out many interesting facts concerning vision.

For instance it is estimated that every 10 seconds day and night an American worker suffers an eye injury. Gruesome, isn't it? But then consider the further fact that we lose two billion dollars each year through industrial accidents. With this amount of money every person with a job in the United States could have a two-weeks vacation with pay at the rate of $24 a week. The cost of eye accidents in industry alone is 50 million dollars per year.

Authorities maintain that 96% of all industrial eye accidents can be prevented. Likewise, 96% of all eye defects can be corrected, which means that 47½ of the 50 million dollars lost each year could be saved.

— Letters — To the Editor

Editor's Note: Following is a letter received this week from "Woody" Owens, well-known Hilltop sportsman, who was recently drafted for army service.

Editor:

Well, here I am on my way to Oregon on a troop train which has 450 soldiers aboard. We are now passing through Iowa and will soon reach the Nebraska border.

Here is the routine which is scheduled for the draftee after induction:

After reporting to the induction center at Fort Hayes, which I did on Feb. 27 at 8 a. m., we were given a physical examination, which isn't as hard to pass as some are led to believe.

After the examination we were called to "chow," as it is called in the army, and the food was better than one would expect. "Chow" is served at 6:30 a. m., 12 noon, and 5 p. m.

About mid-afternoon we were taken to our sleeping quarters and then went to "chow" again, where about 1,700 men are fed at each meal. After this the Columbus men were permitted to return to their homes, if they wished.

Lights were out at 9 p. m. and everyone in at 11:00.

On Friday we were awakened at 5 a. m., made our beds, cleaned up the barracks, and then given an I. Q. test of 150 questions. Articles of clothing were then issued to us, including an overcoat, two pairs of pants, underclothing, shoes, socks, soap, towels and a black necktie.

In the afternoon we were vaccinated and given typhoid shots in the arm. We were given our first drill on Saturday morning which wasn't so bad. Then we returned to our quarters and cleaned it from top to bottom, since Saturday is inspection day. On Monday morning we began drill. It lasted for about two hours and during the time we walked about five miles.

In the afternoon we prepared to leave for army camp. On the next morning we checked our equipment and were then given another physical exam.

Then came the sad moments—about 3 p. m.—when we were called up one at a time and started for the army train. Our friends and relatives were there to bid us goodbye and most of us nearly burst into tears as we were put on the train.

We pulled out of Columbus at 4 p. m. and passed through Dunkirk, Ind., at 7 o'clock, and arrived in Chicago at 11 p. m. Most of the boys retired but I stayed up to see the sights.

On Wednesday we passed through some big oil fields in Iowa and crossed the Mississippi river. It took all day to pass through Iowa. Now we are just pulling into Omaha, Neb.

Although I didn't get to bid many of my friends goodbye, I wish them the best of luck, health and happiness and would like to hear from them. My address will be Fort Stevens, Ore.

I am glad to represent all you people on America's first line of defense. The men are all very friendly and most of the time in high spirits. We will be situated about two miles from the blue Pacific. I will write soon.

Your friend,
Woody Owens.

Editor:

I do not get out very much. I am 71 years old. Lately I have been taking short walks and sometimes get out for short automobile rides.

The thing that puts me to thinking is why we, as Americans, are not more patriotic. There should be a flag or similar emblem in every front door of every house on the Hilltop. I believe your paper is the one to have it put there.

I would like to see some flags or emblems on your paper too. I am not criticizing you or telling you how to run your paper but am only trying to give you my idea as to how to create more interest in our America.

We need it and need it badly and the Hilltop is a good place to start. I walked nine blocks today and saw just one flag. Another was on an automobile, but that doesn't seem to be very patriotic to me.

Think this over. Maybe you can get something out of it that will be of benefit to us all.

There are designs besides flags that might give the desired results but whatever it might be it would indicate that at least an American lived in that home.

It won't be long now until we will need more flags in our front doors.

Veterans All, They Will Appear In Minstrel

Here they are, folks—the interlocutor and his four dynamic, mirth-provoking endmen, all of whom will appear in their gaudy, collegiate attire on the West High school stage for the twelfth annual Hilltop minstrel show.

In case you've forgotten, the show will be presented on three nights, Mar. 19, 20 and 21.

Becker, Southworth, Green and Phillips are veterans all. They have seen service in several Hilltop minstrels.

Bill Taft will appear for the first time in this show. He has served as an endman in several professional productions.

What Is Dirt?

Since we spend so much time in keeping things clean, it is interesting to know just what it is that makes our houses get dirty. Of course we know that a certain amount of dirt is brought in from the outside, but just why does the newly painted living room wall get dirty and why does the kitchen wall get so much dirtier? Where does the soil come from which accumulates on the woodwork, etc.?

Here is the answer from the Ohio Laboratories, the chemists who manufacture "Smiling Scot." Surface soil or discoloration is caused by the accumulation of dust particles held to the surface by the adhesive qualities of an oily film. This oily film comes from the fuel we burn which is thrown into the air in the process of combustion. In the kitchen the vapors from cooking foods add to the film caused by the fuel combustion, hence the kitchen walls and woodwork tend to become soiled more quickly than other parts of the house.

To clean walls and woodwork, the practical method is to use "Smiling Scot," which dissolves this oily film and leaves the dust particles free to be washed away in the cleaning solution. This method does not disturb nor harm the paint and does insure long life and brilliance to enamels and to all types of paints.

Brings Out the Unnatural Color

You see, it brings out the natural color of the hair, and makes it red," said the beautician to her customer.

Red Measles Cases Are On Increase

Cases of red measles will continue to increase this month, Dr. Nelson C. Dysart, city health commissioner, said last week in reporting 266 cases since the first of the year.

The upward trend began in January, when there were 59 reported cases; 167 were reported in February, while the total for the first five days of March was 40.

He warned parents that measles is not an insignificant disease, urging them to report sudden increases in temperature of their youngsters to the family physician, since this may indicate that the child has contracted pneumonia.

Loew's Ohio

Loew's Ohio is now showing "So Ends Our Night," adapted from Erich Maria Remarque's novel, "Flotsam," which tells of the adventures of two men and two women in middle Europe in the turbulent days before the outbreak of hostilities. Frederic March, Frances Dee, Margaret Sullavan and Glenn Ford are in the cast. "Tall, Dark and Handsome" with Cesar Romero, Virginia Gilmore and Milton Berle. Starting next Friday, Mar. 21, the Ohio will show "Western Union" in technicolor with Robert Young, Randolph Scott and Virginia Gilmore plus "Blonde Inspiration."

Loew's Broad

Loew's Broad is now showing "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary" with Mickey Rooney, Ann Rutherford, Lewis Stone and the new singing find, Kathryn Grayson, plus "Meet Boston Blackie" with Chester Morris and Rochelle Hudson. This is the second local week for these two features. Starting next Friday, Mar. 21, the Broad will show the musical, "You're the One" with Orrin Tucker and his orchestra with Wee Bonnie Baker plus "Blackout" with Conrad Veidt and Valerie Hobson.

Bliss College To Present Concert

The Bliss college orchestra and glee club will present a concert at the YWCA Tuesday, Mar. 18, at 8:15 p. m.

The orchestra personnel consists of 65 musicians and there are 40 members of the glee club.

Orchestral selections will include works by Widdel, Beethoven, Handel, Brahms and Wagner. The glee club will render some of the best of such composers as Sibelius and Friml.

Director of the orchestra is Victor Voeller; the glee club, Albert H. Heinz.

"Nathing specia,l thanks—just smelling," said the woman shopper at the perfume counter as she opened another expensive bottle.

Forceful Preaching

Dr. Kidd, a well-known preacher of Aberdeen, Scotland, in bygone days, once spied a man sleeping peacefully through all his fulminations. He lifted his Bible and threw it with unerring aim at the head of the offender, shouting, "If you don't hear the Word of God, I'll make you feel it!"—Frank Cairns, "The Prophet of the Heart."

BEAUTY SHOP OWNERS TO HOLD MEET

The Ohio Beauty Shop Owners association will hold a district meeting in Columbus at Deshler-Wallick hotel on Monday evening, Mar. 17, 8 o'clock.

The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Katherine Miller of Columbus.

TEWAHNA MOTHERS' CLUB TO HAVE PROGRAM

Mrs. L. W. Kaufman, 179 S. Ogden-av, will be hostess to the Tewahna Mothers' club Tuesday, Mar. 18, at 2:30 p. m. At this meeting the Tewahna Camp Fire Girls, under the guardianship of Mrs. Ardis Hawthorn, will present a short program. All mothers are urged to attend.

Killed his artiste wife to spare her the miseries of war. The sight of bombed cities and the thought of invasion were too much for the imaginative English professor, so he slew the woman he loved. Read this poignant account of one of the luftwaffe's most tragic cases, as told in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's Sunday Chicago Herald-American.

Exceptional Vision

"It's Obscene, I tell you!," the artist exclaimed to his friend as they gazed at a modernistic painting.

"Well, I wish I could see it your way," the friend replied.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Camp Fire girls all over the world are celebrating their twenty-ninth birthday this month. There are seven groups and two Bluebird groups on the Hilltop.

The girls will begin Birthday Week this Sunday with a church service at the Hillcrest Baptist church. Rev. MacDonald will have a special Camp Fire service on the occasion.

Monday will be Camp Fire Day. All girls will wear service costumes on that day. One day during the week each girl will cook dinner for her family, relieving her mother of all the work.

Birthday Party

Many birthday parties have been planned.

The Tewahna group, Mrs. Ardis Hawthorne, guardian, will entertain the mothers on Mar. 18, with a party. Dancing, music and poetry will be featured on the occasion and the mothers will serve refreshments.

The Shish-ta-wa-he group, Mrs. Amy Reed, guardian, Mrs. Clara Borland, assistant, will have a birthday party on Saturday, Mar. 15, at the home of Wilma Borland, 50 S. Burgess-av. New officers of the group include Marjorie Fry, president; Jean Meservy, vice-president; Zoe Skipper, secretary; Iris Weaver, treasurer; Alberta Seely, scribe, and Marilyn Koch, song leader.

The Wa-Kan-Ya group, Mrs. Frances Emrick, guardian, Miss Mary Herbert, assistant, will have a Camp Fire display in the window of Seiller's store during Birthday Week.

The Shat-u-awa Camp Fire group met with the two new guardians, Miss Dorothy Frazier and Mrs. A. W. Kanaby, at the West Broad school on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Annette Fick gave a short talk. The girls are working on birthday celebration plans.

The girls of the Tandakota Camp Fire group passed their wood gatherer examinations on Saturday, Mar. 8, before the committee of awards. Those who passed are Phyllis Jean Adair, Vivian Bishop, Doris Evans, Mary Jane Hedges, Virginia Herbert, Phyllis Howard, Betty-ann Keidel, Aleta Schwender, Jerri Sherwood, Vera Thompson and Lillian Walker.

On Tuesday, Mar. 11, Jerri Sherwood gave a short talk on Camp Fire activities at the West Jr. High assembly.

The Han-eka-ya Camp Fire group and the Chick-a-dee and Daffodill Blue Bird groups entertained their mothers Tuesday afternoon at the West Broad school with a St. Patrick's Day tea. The tea was held in room 109 which was decorated in good Irish form.

Irish riddles were given by Jacqueline Fleming and prizes were won by Patsy McCrady, Ruth Gildersleeve and Mrs. Floyd.

Mrs. Fick, from the Camp Fire office, gave a short talk to the mothers about the coming birthday activities.

Virginia Witherspoon led the group in singing, Ruth Gildersleeve playing the piano.

Bluebird Groups

The Chick-a-dee Blue Bird group is in charge of Mrs. Thelma Hardy, guardian, and Mrs. Louise Heffron, assistant. Officers are Ruth Heffron, president; Mary Look, vice-president; Nancy Hardy, secretary, and Constance Nebel, treasurer.

Guardian of the Daffodill Blue Bird group is Mrs. Margery Pindell. Officers are Barbara Pindell, president; Joan Deyo, secretary.

A Twist of the Dial and The Laundromat Does the Washing

Hats off to the new Westinghouse Laundromat, the automatic cycle washing machine that mixes water, washes, rinses and dries garments, requiring little more than a twist of the wrist.

It is now on display at the Westgate Electric Co., 1855 W. Broad-st. People of the community are cordially invited to stop in here to see a demonstration of this remarkable machine.

Modern, compact and extremely attractive in appearance, this revolutionary type washer looks like a desk, is all bone-white, and is streamlined for the modern home.

It will fit conveniently into any bathroom, kitchen or basement and is bound to enhance the decorative scheme of the room in which it is placed. It is safe and simply constructed that a child could operate it.

The Laundromat first mixes water to the correct temperature. Then it washes its contents and rinses them in three different baths. The Laundromat is automatically drained after each process.

It is not possible for dirt or grime to accumulate on the smooth interior surfaces. Finally the Laundromat dries the clothes by spinning them in a porcelain basket 1500 times in three minutes and then automatically shuts itself off.

The Laundromat is not only a boon to the overworked housewife but also is very economical. In fact, it soon pays for itself in electricity and soap savings. It is a very efficient device; no motions are wasted.

The housewife has only to load the Laundromat with clothes, add soap and water softener, then set two dials—and lo and behold—the washing is started.

The electric cord attached to the machine may be attached to any home outlet.

The Laundromat is manufactured by the Westinghouse Merchandising division plant, Mansfield. It is now on display.

PARENTS PLAN BEAN SUPPER

The Parents Auxiliary of Troop 18, Boy Scouts, Glenwood Methodist church, will meet in the social rooms of the church Tuesday, Mar. 18, at 7:30.

Plans for the bean supper to be held Monday, Mar. 24, will be discussed.

Hilltop Couple Returns From 8,000 Mile Trip

Weary from travel but happy in their possession of a thousand memories are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mitchell, 684 Wiltshire-rd, who returned home recently from an 8,000 mile auto trip through the West and South.

While in California, they attended the Rose Bowl game and Rose parade in Pasadena. They spent considerable time in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

On the trip back east, the couple toured the Death Valley region and had a "friendly chat" with "Death Valley Scotty."

They observed the wonder works of man and nature at Boulder Dam and then turned east and south through Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

After a short visit in Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell returned home via North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky.

To top off the whole thing they stopped over at Renfro valley to witness the barn dance.

Word Torture

O. O. McIntyre once asked in his column who could tell, without looking it up, the present tense of the verb of which "wrought" is the past participle. At first I thought it so easy that I passed it by, but somewhere in the back of my head a mischievous little voice said: "All right—what is it?" From that day on I have been muttering to myself. I'll be darned if I'll look it up, and it looks now as if I'll be incarcerated before I get it.—Robert Benchley, "After 1903—

"The Mothers' Study Group"

I refer to an organization
Who are loyal and devout
The foundation of this nation
Of that there is no doubt.
Busy in their humble station,
Working for a worthy cause
Receiving little compensation,
Freely give them your applause.

Each one I'd like to mention
If their names I could recall
Who are giving their attention
To young folks large and small.
Giving freely and sincerely
No thought of aristocracy
Young folks they love dearly
The foundation of democracy.

The Mothers' organization
Located from shore to shore,
Receiving no compensation,
Crucifixions they deplore.
This is my serious opinion
When they reach that other shore
They'll inherit a vast dominion
From God's bountiful store.

NEW CRUISER TO BE NAMED AFTER STATE
In selecting names for 10 naval cruisers now under construction, President Roosevelt has designated one of the vessels to be named "Columbus." The new cruisers are all to be named after cities and territories and the Buckeye capitol was among the first names chosen.

28 Close to 300,000 of Ohio's million and a quarter public school pupils will be hauled to and from school in busses and the cost of transporting them will run close to $6,300,000, reports the state department of education.

RUPTURE
Shield Expert Here Again
E. J. MEINHARDI, widely known Expert of Chicago, will personally be in Columbus, Ohio, at the Deshler Hotel, Thursday and Friday, March 20th and 21st, from 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. and 6 P. M. to 8 P. M. daily.
MR. MEINHARDI says: The Meinhardi Shield is a tremendus improvement — well known for producing immediate results. It prevents the Rupture from protruding in 10 days on the average —regardless of size or location of Rupture and no matter how hard you work or strain. It has no leg straps or cumbersome arrangements. (No Surgery or Injection Treatments used.) Mr. Meinhardi has been coming here for 15 years.
Caution: If neglected—Rupture may cause weakness, backache, constipation, nervousness, stomach pains, etc., or sudden death from strangulation.
Men having large Ruptures which have returned after Surgical Operations or Injection Treatments are also invited. When all others fail—see MEINHARDI. He will be pleased to demonstrate to you privately without charge. (Only men invited.) While only.

POINTS OUT DANGERS OF WATER SUPPLY
"Restoration of the Ohio water supply, now at critical low levels in some sections, is an immediate need which the state should recognize," says the Ohio Chamber of Commerce in a letter addressed to the legislature. "From studies made over a period of months," the letter said, "it has become apparent that there exists a serious situation caused by the recession of the water table—as much as 90 feet in 35 years in some areas. This is having a harmful effect upon agriculture, municipal water supply and particularly industry which is dependent upon underground water supplies." The Chamber asks the legislature to create an Ohio water supply board to deal with the problem.

Self-Heating Cans
Self-heating canned goods are now on the market. When a false bottom is punctured, air combines with special chemicals and produces sufficient heat to warm the contents. — Clifford Parcher in "This Week".

12th Annual Hilltop Minstrel Opens Wed.

Prize Winning Hilltop Chorus To Back Show

Without a chorus, what would a Minstrel show amount to? Therefore, by this token, with the splendid voices of the Hilltop Business Men's chorus, how could the Twelfth Annual Minstrel show be anything but a complete success?

Approximately 60 fine singers will blend notes on the opening chorus and will carry the show through to the grand finale when the boys really "open up"!

For their special renditions they have chosen, "Joshua 'Fit the Battle of Jericho," "Plantation" and the rollicking "Rolling Down to Rio."

Director of this fine group is Dale Gilliland, professor of music at Ohio State university, who triumphantly led this chorus to first place in

They Will Tap

Firman Moore and Mary K. Marchant, pictured above, will be featured in a special tap-dancing act at the twelfth annual Hilltop minstrel show to be presented in West High auditorium on March 19, 20 and 21.

George and Secretary

Pictured here are C. H. Campbell, secretary of the Hilltop Business Men's association, and Geo. Hardy. The one in black is George. He will be featured in a dance routine in the show this year as he was last year. This year his daughter Jackie will appear with him. She claims she taught her dad the steps.

Head Man

L. E. Saunders

Head man in the business of running the Hilltop Business Men's association is L. E. Saunders of the firm of Shank & Saunders, 2459 W. Broad St., real estate, rentals and insurance. He was installed president of the group at the January meeting. He has had an active part in the production of the minstrels for years.

He—The man that can bluff me doesn't live!

She—Then you've never been bluffed?

He—Oh, yes; I'm married.

Music Man

Dale Gilliland

Music, the soul of the Hilltop Minstrel, is in the capable hands of Dale Gilliland, director of the Hillfop men's chorus, that highly touted group of musicians around whom the theme of the show is built. Music Professor Dale will lead his class of talented students through their paces and he promises that you listeners will hear better music this year than ever before. And take it from Dale, he knows!

Kisses shorten life, but not the life of the party.

He Gets 'Em

Charles Kent

Chairman of the advertising committee for the production of this special section is Charles Kent of the Kent Modern Market, corner Hague and Sullivant avenues. Charley has been one of the dependable spark plugs of the Hilltop Business Men's association for a number of years, having served as a past president. He was assisted this time by a committee of workers in getting the ads for this edition.

Director

C. Carlton Hartley

Director of the show this year as for the past three years is C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record. He has had an active part in every Hilltop Minstrel since they started. One year he was an end man.

FLOOR SHOW

"Speaking of scrubbing floors, my wife discovered a new wrinkle."

"Don't tell me your lazy wife scrubs the floors!"

"She does since she's discovered she has a new wrinkle."

WATCHER

Husband—I'm paying you 10 dollars a day to shadow my wife. Now do you know what to do?

Detective—Shall I tell you every move she makes?

Husband—No, just every man.

Wide Array of Talent To Be Presented In Program

For the most side-splitting, rip-roaring two hours ever spent in the confines of any show, the audience of the twelfth annual Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel can anticipate such a time. From the time the curtain goes up on the most colorful college class ever to be in session until it descends on the grand and equally colorful finale, patrons can be sure that this extravaganza is tops when it comes to an all amateur talent production.

For three running nights, Mar. 19, 20 and 21 in the auditorium of West High school, will be presented the business men's own interpretation of the Musical Kollege. The wide variety of songs and dances, instrumental and vocal numbers that have been chosen to complete this year's program will leave you wondering at the display of talent that is to be found right here on your own Hilltop.

For a sample of what you will see and hear, take a look at this survey of the show: The interlocutor is "Hizzoner" Mayor Floyd Green; riotous in their roles of end men are Dick Becker, Billy Southworth, Leo Phillips and Bill Taft.

Gravel-voiced Becker will sing for his contribution, "I Ain't Got Nobody"; "My Feet's Too Big" will be the complaint voiced by Billy Southworth; Showman (Sherlock Holmes) Leo Phillips will wow 'em with his version of "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

Marchant and Moore will present a clever tap routine; a good banjo number will feature Stanley Reeves, a Spanish senorita will appear and many will see a glimpse of old Spain in the castinet-accompaniment furnished by the dancer herself, Dorothy Manus.

One of the high spots of the evening will be the "bevy of dancing beauties" as represented by Herbert Davis, Dr. Chet Brady, Curtis Wilcox, Dr. William Lowry, Clarence Story, Dr. F. L. Sulzberger, Curtis Roberts, Don Smith and Gene Hays. Wait until you see these fair maidens strut!

George Hardy and his daughter, Jackie, will share honors in a father and daughter tapping routine in black face.

A special event, a Jitterbug contest is being planned and the complete details will not be revealed until the actual performance on the opening night.

Ballads are on the schedule from Howard Young and Sam Russel, members of the chorus.

A bit of old Japan in the springtime will be presented, in song, by a trio of the Trappe sisters, Marjean, Marwynne and Sharlene along with a solo number by Dorothy Hartley.

A trio, consisting of Louis Smith, Lewis Taylor and John Betz promises to be one of the best features of its kind ever presented in the Hilltop Minstrels.

NOT MUCH

"When my wealthy boy friend refused to give me a car, I cried and cried."

"Good grief!"

"No—it didn't get me the car."

When the great accounting takes place, my wrecks on the Sea of Matrimony will be traced to Davy Jones' liquor.

There's a fortune in horse racing. Ours.

Scenery

Curtis Roberts

Experienced in the arrangements of beautiful floral designs, Curt Roberts, proprietor of Yost Florist shop, should have a good background for his duties as stage manager of the Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel show which will go into its twelfth year on the evenings of Mar. 19, 20 and 21. Good scenery is as important a part of the performance as any other part could be and Curt has spent a lot of time is seeing that the backgrounds for this show will be the best ever!

Sound Effects

Charles Cruea

To make certain that the sounds issuing from off the stage reach the audience in best form, is the duty of Charles Cruea and he has ably gone about his duties as manager of the sound equipment department. This is a task as it involves obtaining the very best of reproducing units that the talent, annually heard in the Hilltop Business Men's show, will be heard to best advantage. Charlie is known best on the Hilltop as manager of the Hilltop Swimming pool. This winter Charlie handled coal and Christmas trees. A very versatile man!

Jane: "What sort of a chap is Jack?"

Mary: "He has a mechanical mind. He was over to see me last night and the lights went out and he spent the whole evening trying to fix them."

Three ghosts decided on a game of bridge. One asked: What shall we do for a fourth?"

Another replied: "Everything's o. k. Rigor Mortis will sit in."

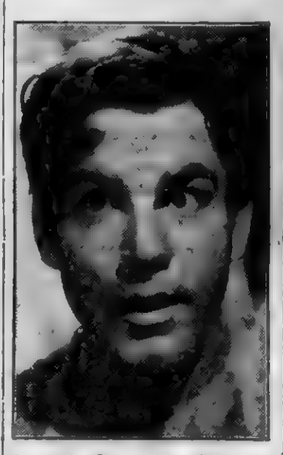
the mixed choral contest of the recent eisteddfod and second place among the male choruses.

President of the organization is J. G. Smith; vice-president of George Kennedy; Joseph McLin holds the post of librarian and C. H. "Doc" Campbell is secretary-treasurer, a position he has held since the founding of the group.

The audience just can't miss seeing and hearing the talent that will be presented in this, the greatest Hilltop Minstrel of all times.

Showmen To Be Attired In Red, White, Blue



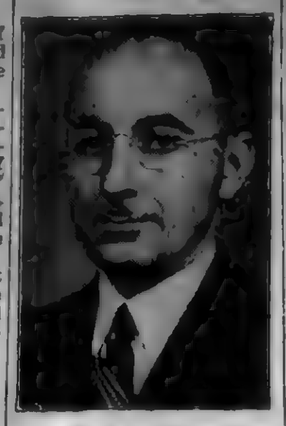
An inspiring note of patriotism will be added to the general atmosphere of wit and humor at the Twelfth Annual Minstrel show to be held in the West High auditorium on Mar. 19, 20 and 21.

Members of the cast will be decked out in colorful cap and gown costumes of red, white and blue. Furnished by the C. E. Ward Co. of New London, O., these brand-new costumes will be used for the first time in the local production.

The general theme of the show is based on the "college of musical knowledge" idea, made famous on the radio networks.

The Ward company has 125,000 cap and gown garments in 16 different colors available for rental and distribution to all parts of the country. Fred Schmueckle, 2619 Bexley Park-rd, is local representative of the firm.

"Li'l Abner"



Granville Owen, 23, might have stepped right out of one of Al Capp's familiar cartoons, so nearly does he match in appearance the big, handsome mountain boy, "Li'l Abner," from Dogpatch. He is to play that role in RKO Radio's film, produced by Vogue Pictures. Six feet three inches tall and weighing 195 pounds, his broad shoulders can well make Li'l Abner's feats of prodigious strength seem believable. He is a former four letter man from San Jose (Calif.) State College. He is a Pacific Coast amateur heavyweight champion.

Bellhop: "Telegram for Mr. Niedspondiavanciyouf, telegram for Mr. Niedspondiavanciyouf, tel' . . ."

Mr. Niedspondiavanciyouf: "What initial, please?"

Arrangements

Joe. M. Briggs

Once a year, Joe Briggs, real estate and insurance man takes time off from routine duties and enters into the spirit of the Hilltop Minstrel show. Joe is in constant demand as he is in charge of arrangements for the three evenings of the production. All the miscellaneous items are thrust upon Joe and he handles them with ease year after year, and enjoys his duties more and more with each show.

"WHAT! NO APPLE PIE"

The popularity of pie is seldom questioned. The popularity of apple pie is NEVER questioned. It's food with a flavor that promises increased enjoyment each time it is eaten.

Let's swing back the years to the first old-fashioned apple pie you ever tasted. Does that start you reminiscing of grandmother and bake day and those delicious sugar and spice kitchen odors? The years have passed, but the memories are never forgotten.

Just as everything has been revised, so has apple pie kept abreast with the trends and undergone numerous transformations. Still, regardless of this, that familiar, hauntingly delicate flavor is always detectable.

Some like it hot; some like it cold; some like it with cheese, some like it without; if you have a waistline without worry you like it with cream. If the waistline cries attention you like it without. Take your choice, the variety is there.

Open-Faced Apple Pie
5 or 6 tart apples
1 C. sugar
1½ tsp. cinnamon or nutmeg
2 tbsp. butter
Pastry

Line a deep pan with plain pastry. Press pastry against pan. Sprinkle generously with sugar which has been blended with cinnamon or nutmeg. Fill with thinly sliced, highly flavored apples. Sprinkle with sugar and spice. Dot generously with butter. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, about 20 minutes. Lower the temperature to 375 degrees and continue baking until the apples are well cooked and the crust a delicate brown.

Blush Apple Pie
5 large apples
1½ C. sugar
1 No. 2 can crushed p'apple
10c worth red cinnamon drops
1 tbsp. flour
⅛ tsp. salt
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
2 tbsp. butter
Pastry

Peel and slice apples, add grated pineapple, cinnamon drops and all dry ingredients. Let stand while preparing double crust pie. Bake in double crust at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake 30 minutes.

Apple Cream Pie
Pastry
4 tbsp. flour
5 small apples
1½ C. cream
⅛ tsp. nutmeg

Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry having a fluted edge. Sprinkle the bottom with 2 tbsp. flour and 3 tbsp. sugar mixed together. Pare and core the apples and cut in halves. Place ½ an apple in each eighth of the pie and ½ in the center. Pour the cream over the apples and then sprinkle with 2 tbsp. flour and the remainder of the sugar mixed together. Add nutmeg if desired. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees for 10 minutes, and then reduce temperature to 325 degrees for 30 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

Fondant Fruit Roll

Make fondant mixture by blending 1¼ C. sifted confectioner's sugar into ¼ C. sweetened condensed milk, using fork. Put 10 prunes, ½ C. dried apricots, (uncooked) and ½ C. nut meats through food chopper. Stir into fondant. Sift a little confectioner's sugar on table and turn fondant and fruit mixture out on it. Knead and form into roll. Let stand 2 hours. Cut into slices to serve.

Christmas Fudge
3 C. granulated sugar
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
¼ tsp. salt
1 C. thin cream
1 Tbsp. butter
1½ tsp. vanilla
½ C. chopped nut meats
¾ C. chopped dates
¼ C. chopped candied cherries

Combine first four ingredients in a large saucepan, while stirring. Place over low flame and bring slowly to the boiling point. Stir frequently, so that the sugar is completely dissolved before the boiling point is reached. Just as mixture starts to boil, wipe down sides of pan carefully with a cloth wrapped around a fork and dipped in hot water. Boil without stirring until a soft ball forms in cold water, 238 degrees. Remove from fire, drop in butter; and cool without stirring until lukewarm, 110 degrees. Add vanilla and beat until thick and creamy. Then add combined nuts and fruits and pour quickly into a greased pan. When cool, cut in squares. Makes 1¾ lb. fudge.

Honey Chocolate Candy
½ lb. sweet or milk chocolate, cut in small pieces
2 Tbsp. honey
⅛ tsp. salt
5 tsp. boiling water, about

Put chocolate in top of double boiler. Place over hot, not boiling, water and stir occasionally until chocolate is all melted. Add honey and salt, blend well. Add boiling water 1 tsp. at a time, beating after each addition. Beat until mixture is smooth and satiny. Spread evenly over buttered dish, 6x6 inches. Chill in refrigerator. When firm, cut into 1-inch squares and wrap in cellophane or waxed paper. Store in refrigerator. Makes approximately 36 pieces.

Spiced Brazil Nut Chips

To prepare the chips, soak ½ lb. shelled Brazil nuts in hot water for at least ½ hour, then cut in lengthwise slices. Spread nut chips in a shallow pan; pour 1 Tbsp. melted butter over them. Sprinkle the chips with ⅛ C. granulated sugar and 1 tsp. cinnamon, which have been mixed together. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 to 30 minutes, stirring frequently.

And a laughing pickpocket is a fellow who never takes things seriously.

Mac Tooill To Play For Show

"Mac" Tooill, that full-of-rythm, master-of- the - keys, director of the Masqueraders, will lead his band on to new heights as the curtain of the Hilltop Business Men's Twelfthe Annual Minstrel show goes up to the snappy tune of the opening chorus.

Mac is a real showman—last year when the final curtain descended on the last evening of the show, Mac was as blue as if the show was completely over, never more to be.

But he's back again this year, cooperating as he always does and "beating out" the rythm for the various songs and dances. Ask anyone who is a showman; it takes good accompaniment to get an act across.

They Will Warble

Above are members of the trio that will present some song specialities at the annual Hilltop minstrel. They are Lois Smith, Lewis Taylor and John Betz.

Publicity

C. G. Wilcox

Selling the annual Hilltop Business Men's minstrel show to the Hilltoppers is a cinch! But selling it to the entire city and surrounding districts takes an agile pen and an understanding of the propaganda of publicity. Curt Wilcox for the past several minstrels has handled this end of the show and again has proved his worth in this capacity. "The Hilltop Minstrel" show is on the tongue of every butcher, baker and banker. Managing the Hilltop branch of the Ohio National bank left little time to attend to this but somehow Curt hopped around from hither and yon and we'll find representatives from all parts of town as a result of his work.

WATER NYMPH

Blonde—Last night one of the boarders walked in when I was in the bath tub.

Friend—What did he say when he found out he'd made a mistake?

Blonde—Glug.

Dentist—A patient of mine just had the nerve to say he didn't owe me any money.

Friend—Did you tell him he lied in his teeth?

Dentist—I did not. They're mine until he pays for them.

A peach of a girl in time becomes a well-preserved woman.

LUCKY BOSS

"In my office I have everything right where I can lay my hands on it."

"That pretty secretary of yours must be a wonder, then."

"Yes, she's got everything."

"If you had the choice of any actor in Hollywood," asked one old maid of another, "which one would you fall for the soonest?" To which the other replied, "The one who could get here the soonest."

SAFETY FIRST

Singer — Now that you've heard my voice, what would you suggest to accompany me?

Impresario—A body-guard.

"Hm, so you want to be a football player, eh? Any experience?"

"Yes, two years ago I was hit by a truck."

Tickets

John Riepenhoff

A hard worker is John Riepenhoff—he has to be. John has had the responsibility of handling the sale and distribution of the tickets. Between moments of cleaning and pressing in his dry cleaning establishment, he has traveled over and over the Hilltop territory and is now satisfied that he has "given his all" that West High auditorium be filled to capacity when the show is presented. John will answer any and every question in regard to minstrel tickets. He is only eager to see that everyone will be able to see the "greatest show on earth" and he has done nobly.

CUTE CURVES

The record for dumb extras has been established. The director said he'd give her a good part if she played ball with him, and she replied, "but I'm no good at outdoor games."

PARDON ME

He—My grandfather invented the first time-saving machine in this country.

She—Did he make much money from it?

He — Sure, one thousand dollars for every convict he pardoned.

He—Nope, I've never met a woman yet who wouldn't stand for a little squeezing from me.

She—My, aren't you conceited?

He—No, I'm a shoe clerk.

DADDY'S BOY

Mother—Junior loves pig's feet.

Dad—I don't care—make him wear shoes and stockings.

HOLD ON

Arabella—Well, dearie, I brought that handsome bachelor to his knees last night.

Agatha—What did you use on him? Jiu-jitsu?

"Mac's been terribly bothered by his eyesight lately."

"Do you mean to say he's becoming blind?"

"No—a peeping Tom."

Another thing that shatters a cutie's girlhood dreams is an alarm clock.

Cute little bundles of fluff may not know much about tree surgery, but they sure know how to work on sturdy oaks.

Workless Washdays?

YES, it's a reality with the new

This Will Be 12th Year For Big Show

When the curtain goes up next Wednesday evening at West High auditorium on the annual Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel it will mark the twelfth annual show the association has produced.

In these 12 years the Hilltop Minstrel has come to be an institution. It is in a class by itself as a home talent production.

The first year the show was presented it was a one night stand. Then a few years later it came to be a two night performance and for the past three years it has turned into a three night show with hundreds turned away from the building on the second and third nights.

Present ticket sales indicate that this year will prove no exception.

In the meantime many community organizations over the county have produced home talent minstrel shows but first place in the field still goes to the Hilltop show.

Hosts

Dr. W. L. Durflinger

Despite his regular duties as a dentist, Dr. W. L. Durflinger will manage to spare enough time to take charge of the genial hosts that will greet you at the doors of the West High auditorium on the nights of the annual Hilltop Mnistrel. As chief host, Durflinger will succeed in seeing that all who enter into those portals will receive the very best of attention during the performances on Mar. 19, 20 and 21.

REASONABLE

Homely Lady—What will you charge to entertain me this evening, my good man?

Gigolo—Well, if you're willing for me to be good I'll give you reduced rates.

Crook—It takes money to make money.

Counterfeiter—Yes, I always need a sample in front of me before I start printing.

"Officer, what's the quickest way to the hospital?"

"Close your eyes, cross the street, and you'll be there in 15 minutes."

"It doesn't pay to tell a policeman anything."

"How do you know? Are you a stool pigeon?"

"No, a fortune teller."

Costumes

Dr. E. E. McNamee

COLOR, the dazzling display of costumes, each year makes the Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel show the bright, attractive entertainment that folks from miles around have come to know. And in charge of costuming is Hilltop's Dr. E. E. McNamee. With his assistant, Noble Allen, prominent funeral director, McNamee, who regularly spends his time as a chiropractor, instead finds his moments spent in an eager search for the duds that will best fit the theme, scene and characters of the show. This year's College of Musical Knowledge afforded the doctor some moments of trepidation — color was needed and you all know that caps and gowns are the least colorful of garments that can be thought of. But just wait and see how this committee solved the problem. Be on hand Mar. 19, 20 and 21 and see the most colorful "College" ever to be viewed on any stage. It's sensational!

"My Aunt Lucy fell down a flight of stairs this morning."

"Injuries?"

"Yes, it hurt her somewhat and bruised her otherwise."

A hair on the head is worth two in the brush.

"Well, well, so you landed in seventh place in the Kissing Contest?"

"Right. It was Seventh Heaven."

Boss—You're fired.

"Out—how?"
"Out loud!"

"My wife made some bread and then socked me on the head with a loaf of it."
"Heavens! Is the woman half-baked?"
"No, but the bread was, darn it."

And a young married couple's first baby, states Sadie, always brings a lot of changes into their life.

An apple a day keeps the doctor away, chuckles Cutie, but it'll have just the opposite effect if the patient is the apple of his eye.

THE LAST STRAW

Playboy—But I bought you a hat last week. Why should I buy you this one?
Gold-Digger—I'm making hay while the sun shines!
Playboy—Oh, yeah? Well, this is the last straw.

When a fellow's too much in love with himself, he's not likely to have much competition.

"Gracious, it's been five years since I've seen you. You look lots older."
"Really, my dear? I don't think I would have recognized you either if it wasn't for that coat."

"My girl and I never look at the screen when we go to the movies."
"What makes it impossible screen at the same time?"

"The usher."

"I hear you were honor pupil at the Charm School."
"Yeah."

SCRATCHING

"Does your husband have a clear head?"
"Naw, it's full of dandruff."

"I specialize in shaking hands."
"I see. A sort of official welcomer?"
"Oh, no, I'm a palsy specialist."

The man who is very tight always has some loose change.

And if a girl wants to get married, rules Rita, she's got to know a lot of catch words.

Minstrel Ticket Sale Explained By Group

In order that there will be no misunderstanding about securing tickets for the twelfth annual Hilltop Minstrel, members of the committee in charge asked that the following important facts be made clear:

1—Positively no reserved seats will go on sale for any performance of the Minstrel show until Monday, Mar. 17, at the office of Shank & Saunders, 2459 W. Broad-st. There is no reserved seat sale until then.

2—These reserved seats will be sold on a first-come-first-served basis and positively no one will be favored over another. This is being done in order to correct any impression that blocks of tickets are held out for persons by request. If you are first in line you can get the first reserved seat.

3—Persons purchasing the 25 cent general admission tickets for any performance must take their own chances of getting a seat to their liking. While there will be plenty of general admission seats available they will be on a first come, first served basis and the early birds will get the best seats.

4—Because there are always many requests for reservation for seats on the last night of the show, naturally the committee is anxious to have as many persons as can, attend the performances the other two nights, Wednesday, Mar. 19, and Thursday, Mar. 20, to eliminate the final night's rush.

A CHOICE

I can make my life a garden
Where only flowers grow
Or let it be a "vacant lot,"
Where winds, foul seeds will blow.
So this the choice that I must make
For flowers or for weeds,
And now's the time I must decide
While I am planting seeds.

TODAY

If today I can bring a smile
To the lips of those I greet,
If somehow I can chase a frown
From the face of all I meet;
If today I can bring some joy
To all those who pass my way,
If today I can lift some care
By helping someone to pray;
If today I can strengthen faith
In a heart with sorrow torn,
If some way I can bring new hope
To a life that is faded and worn;
If today I can share some love
With everyone that I see,
Then my own heart will be lighter
I will have forgotten me.

WAR

"I had a friend, a foreigner."
The aged soldier said,
"And then my country said to fight.
And now my friend is dead.

There was no hatred in my heart
I did not want to fight,
I hated wars long bloody days
And dark and fearsome night."

"I wonder if my friend was killed
By a bullet from my gun!
Yes, that war took my heart away,
The war they say we "won!"

Campfire Girls Conduct Survey

In connection with a national Campfire Girl movement commemorating the twenty-ninth anniversary of the movement, older girls of Hilltop groups are conducting a survey to determine magazine and radio preferences. The work is being conducted under the direction of Margaret Benton, 85 S. Westgate-av, a senior at West high school.

The following questions as to magazine preference are asked:

1. What is your favorite magazine?
2. What is the first choice?
3. What magazines appear regularly in your home?
4. What ones do you yourself buy and why?
5. What magazine do you read, for: fun, news, hobbies or special interest or studies?
6. Is there any special magazine you like but seldom read because it is expensive to buy or isn't available in library?
7. Is there any type magazine you would like to see published which does not exist at present? If so, describe it or list some ideas concerning it.

Letters To The Editor

The Hilltop Record
14 S. Oakley Avenue
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Sirs:

This is just a note of thanks for the copies of the Hilltop Record that I have been receiving here at my post of Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. I was very much surprised and am thankful for the editions, as it helps me to keep in contact with my community, as there are only two other fellows, from other communities than my own here, from dear old Columbus, Ohio.

By now I like the army life very much, and I myself do think that the "EATS AND ENTERTAINMENT" that they have furnished us here at this post have been swell so far.

Our work here has to do with the clothing of the new Selective Service Men who are coming into Uncle Sam's Army from Indiana and Louisville, Kentucky. Last week we had a few fellows through here from Cleveland, O.

I am a clerk in the office of the supply workhouse and we have been working just eight hours a day, and after that the time is our own to do as we please. They have a post theatre here which we can attend, and a post gym and bowling alleys.

Well, for now I must close, and thanking you again for your copies of the Record, and hoping you continue to send them to me, I remain

A Member of Your Community,
Albert E. Stephens

P. S.: You can tell any one for me who has to come to the U. S. A.'s army that the life of a soldier is swell after you get used to it.

Rhine Gets Lost

The mighty Rhine river, flowing through half of Europe, is camouflaged when it reaches Holland. The traveler need not ask when in Holland, where is the Rhine? Not even the natives know. The river branches into many outlets when it reaches Dutch soil and each outlet has been given an individual name, the Dutch being careful to avoid the use of "Rhine." The Waal is part of the Rhine, uniting the Maas, which is known in its southern course as the Meuse, and then on its way to the North sea is neither the Rhine nor the Waal but the Maas.

A Cape Cod Lighter

A Cape Cod lighter consists of a soapstone, which is kept in a jar of kerosene; a handle is attached for convenience in using. When the soapstone is lighted it blazes for a considerable time before the kerosene is entirely used. The stone itself lasts indefinitely.

An Ancillary Receiver

An ancillary receiver is a receiver appointed in a state or a district other than the one in which the principal or original proceedings have been begun. The duties of an ancillary receiver are to gather in and administer property in the state or the district of his appointment.

Pacific Salmon a Traveler

The Pacific salmon leads a nomadic existence most of its three to six years of life. Although born in fresh water the salmon wanders at sea, far from its birthplace. Eventually, however, and with the unerring instinct of a homing pigeon, it returns to the streams and lakes of its origin to spawn and die.

Took Puppets to War

In ancient Persia, virtually all men and women owned puppets, which they often proudly carried to the bazaar, the theater and the temple. Even many army officers possessed these dolls, says Collier's Weekly, and usually took them to war.

Hebrews Cradled in Arabian Desert

The Hebrew people were cradled in the Arabian desert from which they migrated in small tribal groups between the Fifteenth and Twelfth centuries, B. C., and settled in Palestine.

Coronation of George III

The coronation of George III, first of the house of Hanover to be born and bred in England, was acclaimed with rejoicing by the people, who hailed him as "a true-born Englishman." Allan Ramsay's coronation portrait shows him to have been "fair and fresh-colored, with fine teeth, blue eyes and light auburn hair which grew very handsomely to his face," as he was later described.

The Apt Response

When Edmund Burke was delivering his famous speech against Warren Hastings, he suddenly stopped in the very middle of an idea. Slowly and impressively he raised his hand and pointed his index finger straight at Mr. Hastings. There he stood for almost a minute with that dramatic pointing finger while the audience almost held its breath. Then he went on.

After the speech one of the opposing advocates came up to him and said, "Mr. Burke, that was one of the most effective pauses I have ever seen. We simply held our breaths, wondering what you were going to say next."

"That," responded Mr. Burke, with his Irish twinkle, "is exactly the way I was feeling."

Larceny On a Lark

A young married couple who had just settled down in their new home got a pleasant surprise in their mail one morning—a couple of tickets to one of the best shows in town. But the donor had omitted to send his name, and for the rest of the day the question was: "Wonder who it was?"

They enjoyed the show; but when they reached home, they found that all their wedding presents had been taken. There was a note from the burglar, saying: "Now you know."

Hilltop Minstrel Takes Lots Of Cash

Frequently the question is asked, "What do members of the Hilltop Business Men's association do with the money they make on the Hilltop Minstrel?" And it's a good question that probably the general public would like to have answered.

And the answer may be somewhat a surprise. Fact of the matter is that the association doesn't make anyways near the amount of money on the show that might appear on the surface.

Sure enough, with a full and overflowing house for three nights at 35c there is a lot of revenue from the show.

Last year the show had total receipts of $1367.55 . . . and it cost $1013.83 to stage the production! So it can easily be seen that the net profit was not so large after all. This money is turned into the treasury for a portion of the expenses of the association during the year, which is but a small part of the amount the group contributes back to various community projects and organizations in the course of a year.

In the line of expenses there is generally a cost of over $200 in costuming the show, a large amount for scenery, seat covers, etc. Then there are the many, many incidentals such as the rental of the school building which runs into a three digit figure, the use of union stage hands, electrical, sound equipment, operators, state and federal ticket tax, printing of the tickets, posters, programs, makeup, policing of the grounds, loud speaker equipment, and a couple dozen small expenses that mount into the large amount it costs to produce this, perhaps most outstanding of Columbus amateur programs.

More Notes On The Big Show

It's a lot of fun to work with the Hilltop Minstrel. It must be . . . a complimentary ticket . . . er passed out to even a . . . er of the cast. Until this . . . ho passes had been sent . . . e downtown papers. Every . . . ember of the hard working . . . horus and all the amateur . . . must buy tickets for their . . . es if they expect them to . . . e show . . . and not only that but stand in line to get their own reservations.

The radio broadcast that was previously announced for the show was cancelled early this week when it was learned that too many of the musical numbers in the show were not permitted on the air by ASCAP.

It's a fine bit of cooperation put forth by every person who contributes a part to the Hilltop Minstrel. The finest of spirit prevails. Yes sir, it's a grand thing to be able to work with this show.

Former Hilltop Resident Dies

Injured on Mar. 4, when his car collided with a trolley bus at Town-st and Riverside-dr, Evan (Ed) Thomas, 63, of Grove City, died Sunday morning in St. Francis hospital.

A streetcar operator for the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. for many years, he had lived on the Hilltop for about 35 years before moving to Grove City. He was a member of the Ralph Rickley lodge of Masons.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon in the Spears funeral parlors. The former services were conducted by the Masons and the latter were the regular services. Rev. Joseph Shellhaas officiated. Burial was in Union cemetery.

Anchors Aweigh—

Local Musician Foresakes Organ For Battleship

Gone are the days, for a while at least, when the organ of the St. John Lutheran church will respond to the artistic touch of Howard Baird Dressel.

The organist for the local church for the past two years, Dressel left this week for Cincinnati to take his physical examination before entering the naval service.

Later on he will be transferred to the Great Lakes Naval Training school.

A graduate of West High school, Dressel also attended Capital university and recently has been studying under the direction of Mrs. Lelia Brown Glenn.

He began taking lessons on the organ at the age of 14 and was named assistant organist at the St. John's church at 15.

He doesn't want to be a musician in the navy but, instead, just an ordinary sailor.

Dressel is 21 years old and his residence is at 64 N. Ogden-av.

Hilltopper Killed In Kenton Wreck

Donald H. Latham, age 50, 3034 Olive-av, was killed instantly Sunday evening when his auto skidded in route 31, a half mile south of Kenton, turned around several times and then struck a tree. Patrolmen said death was due to a broken neck.

The victim's wife, Mrs. Elsie both Latham, age 50, and the couple's five-year-old grandson, Billy Latham, of Toledo, also riding in the car, suffered shock and bruises. They were brought to Columbus after treatment at Kenton hospital.

A member of the postal department since 1911 when he entered the service as a carrier, Mr. Latham had been a foreman in the carriers' division since 1920, and had been acting as assistant superintendent of mail since the death of Oscar Thompson, acting superintendent, in February.

A member of the Masonic order, he was also affiliated with the Post Office order of Supervisors and retained his membership in the carriers' organization.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred about 7:30 p. m. Sunday as the trio was returning to Columbus after visiting in Chicago with the couple's daughter, Mrs. Charles Rose. They left Columbus Friday, according to a sister-in-law.

Besides his wife and grandson, Mr. Latham is survived by a son, John Latham, of Toledo, Billy's father; his daughter in Chicago; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Latham, of Columbus; two brothers and five sisters.

Harry K. Marsh, a member of Camp Chase post and a resident of the Hilltop, was heard on a national radio hook-up from Camp Shelby, Miss., last Sunday on the occasion of the Legion's birthday celebration.

Registration of Legionnaires and other World war veterans for the double purpose of national defense and assisting jobless veterans to find work, is being continued indefinitely by Camp Chase Legion post at its home, 3184 W. West Graduating Class Plans Eventful Programs

By Bob Kolesar

The June graduating class of West High, under the leadership of its officers, is planning to bring an eventful year to a close in June. Bob Sinclair, 109 Powhatan-av, is president. Vice-president is DeWayne Adams, 277 N. Ogden-av, secretary, Marilyn Rohr, 275 Binns-blvd, and the treasurer is Lucille Burkett of 2469½ W. Broad-st.

The long list of class events got under way in December with a Cowboy-Cowgirl mixer which was a real thriller. The class sponsored the biggest and most profitable skating party ever sponsored by a West group on Valentine Day. Part of the profit was voted toward the purchase of a permanent public address system for the West auditorium, which is now being installed.

Fun Making Night

At a recent meeting the class voted for another fun making night for Apr. 4, and a fine senior prom June 6.

Plans for class day, June 9, and bacculaureate June 8, are also underway.

318 In Class

Forty-two members of the 318 strong class was elected to the Otto H. Magly chapter of the National Honor society. Eighty-six members of the class are planning to enter college with a big majority picking Ohio State. Twenty seniors plan to enter the state scholarship test.

The 1941 annual, edited by Eldred Miller, is on the way and is expected to be delivered the latter part of May.

The 318 seniors of West are to be the first to enter the coliseum and the first to receive their diplomas.

Committee Chairman

The chairmen of the various committees are: Social, Bob Hess; publicity, Eldred Miller; project, Jacqueline Cleveland; refreshments, Betty Dunson, and decorations, Janice Bright.

Five members of the class have attained a four point average all through high school, which is equivalent to all A's. These are Betty Dunson, Don Mathews, Vivian Swain, Betty Pickering and Luana Wagner.

West Side Wheelmen To Ride

The West Columbus Wheelmen are scheduling a ride for 9 a. m. Sunday, Mar. 23

While training, the students receive $75 monthly, plus free equipment and living expenses.

Panorama - - - Hilltop Business Men's Minstrel - - - 1941 Version

By p. w.

Playing to a capacity house in the West High school auditorium the Twelfth Annual Hilltop Minstrel opened Wednesday night in a fast moving tempo that rivaled any past performance of the show. Tonight will see the finale of the three-night run that has no equal in central Ohio as an amateur performance.

Reserved seat tickets for all three nights were sold out Monday afternoon six hours after they were put on sale at Shank and Saunders, 2490 W. Broad-st, as hundreds of persons arrived early in the morning to wait their turn at the ticket window. A continual stream of telephone calls came in throughout the week wanting to have reservations made or inquiring if seats were available. Approximately 600 seats will be available in the general admission section tonight for persons who were unable to get reservations. General admission seats are 25c.

From the opening curtain to the closing chorus the show moves with smoothness and precision that rivals professional performances. Staged with a collegiate background of red, white and blue caps and gowns it lacks nothing for color in its staging.

Best clicking number in the galaxy of variety acts on the opening night was the dance routines of Mary Kay Marchant and Firman Moore, two hard working hoofers who are newcomers to the HBMA performance. Leo Phillips easily lives up to his reputation as a topnotcher in blackface. His song, "There'll Be Some Changes Made," provokes a hearty encore that is not satisfied until he goes into his favorite, "Dinah."

A trio of newcomers, Louis Smith, Lewis Taylor and John Betz are well received in a comedy version of "There's A Tavern In The Town." Likewise newcomers to the show but veterans in close harmony and pleasing presentation are the Hilltop's own Trappe Sisters, who team with Dorothy Hartley to present a charming taste of the Orient in "Three Little Maids From School," "When April Sings," and as an encore for the Trappe sisters, "Chop Sticks."

The Hilltop Chorus, directed by Dale Gilliland, sing three numbers in pleasing style and do a good job of backing up the end men's songs.

Mayor Is Tops

As an interlocutor Mayor Floyd F. Green would be difficult to equal on or off the professional stage. His masterly handling of every number presented gives the show an added touch of certainty that goes a long way in getting newcomers to the show off to a good start. He ad libs with the ease of a veteran, handles his end men in good style and is generally master of the situation to the minutest detail.

Dick Becker gets the show off to a rollicking start with his singing of "I Ain't Got Nobody." His own jokes and the aid he gives to his fellow end men in getting laughs keeps the audience in an uproar . . . Billy Southworth sells his talking version of "Your Feet's Too Big" with good effect . . . The rope tap dance of Nancy Bailey and Joan Lombard clicks with precision . . . Coming in for one of the biggest laughs of the evening is George Pfaff and his dancing chorus of shapely (?) Hilltop business men . . . Stanley Reeves is definitely a hit in his banjo specialty . . . Howard Young adds class with his singing of "The Road To Mandalay." . . . The father and daughter dance team of George and Jackie Hardy goes over big with the audience . . . The Hot Rhythm number of the Jive Five is all rhythm and jive. To the followers of that style they are a big success . . . Sam Russel gives a pleasing tenor version of "High On A Windy Hill." . . . Bill Taft, a new end man, starts the comedy portion of the show with his patter . . .

To C. Carlton Hartley, director of the show, Lou Saunders and his committee responsible for staging the entertainment, should go a word of praise for a difficult job well done. Professional stage reviewers have repeatedly pointed out that the Hilltop show is close to "big time" in its caliber and surely this year's version adds to its past reputation. Running for exactly an hour and 45 minutes, there is not a dull spot in the staging. It's not an easy thing either to turn away a housefull of patrons as satisfied as Wednesday night's crowd. Veteran performers say it is one of their severest tests to come before the home town audience. From the first to the last the performers work hard for their laughs and applause and do a good job in bringing forth both.

Sidelights

Curt Roberts was first in line for tickets when he took up his position in front of Shank and Saunders at a quarter to four a. m. in a near zero temperature . . . Dick Becker was second to appear . . . As others started coming Curt lined them up in his new station wagon in order of their appearance. When that was filled other autos were lined up along the street in numerical order. All went well until one lady appeared about 7 a. m. and insisted she was first in line. When she wouldn't consent to getting in a car all piled out and formed a line with her on the end.

At 7:15 Jack Shank took pity on the group and herded them into the office to wait until exactly 8 before the first ticket was pulled out.

Immediately behind Roberts and Becker came Jim Jenkins, Howard Taft, Leo Phillips, Billy Southworth, Mr. Fraumfelter and Curt Wilcox. Others well up in the ranks were Ed Planck, Jim Shields, Sam Morrison, Charles Cruea, Jack Merriman, Herb Deems, Mrs. T. S. Fox and Mrs. Ed McGurer. Councilman Wyatt Millikin appeared at 6:30 to find 17 ahead of him.

One family from 16 miles out of Columbus, unable to get reservations, were in line out at West High when the doors opened for Wednesday night's show.

Leo Phillips believes "Dinah" is the best minstrel song ever written . . . George Pfaff did a blackface number in the first Hilltop show. Danced in three other later shows including the "Hula hula" chorus of a few years back . . . The boys who did the comedy trio number were never in this type of show before. Admitted they were a little nervous about the thing . . . This was Billy Southworth's first song in a show . . . Nancy Bailey and Joan Lombard are repeaters from last year's minstrel . . . Clarence Story fell when the "chorus" was practicing an encore entrance at dress rehearsal . . . There was a good bit of good natured kidding hurled at various acts during rehearsal when Leo's number was announced: "There'll Be Some Changes Made."

"We Make Them Dull Or Smart"

Though humble be their station
Help some child today,
Tomorrow they'll run this nation,
Help them on their way.
The pathway they'll be treading
Will require a healthy mind,
A healthy body won't be dreading
Any tasks we leave behind.

Though humble be their station,
Help some child today,
Tomorrow they'll run this nation
While their children play
They'll have joy and sorrow
As we are having now.
They'll run this nation tomorrow
We must show them how.

Serious trials they'll be facing,
They'll have joy and strife,
We must help them avoid erasing
In the book of Life.
They are watching us in action,
They'll be our counterpart,
Tomorrow they'll run this nation,
We make them dull or smart.

Tom and Tom

They say Marguerite Mohn, out at Hauntz', talks backward when she gets excited . . . The fellow who hit Dwight Wasson's car the other day got away three times before the cruiser finally ran him down. Like the Mounties, DW got his man . . . Gladys Holbrook says it takes her a year to remember anything . . . Nash, the West Jr. Hi teacher, drives a new Nash car . . . From Camp Shelby comes a letter wanting to know about E. W.'s Persian Percival and family . . . Esther reminds us that she was author of our first fan letter, written a year ago . . . Our apologies, Esther . . . There will be a new artificial lake at Beacon Light Course. Just another place to lose those karn earned golf balls . . . Curtis Allen and Bob Harper are together down at Camp Knox . . . Jayne Hartley is taking a course in fashion art out at the Col. Art School . . . The day Chet Rinehart took his physical examination for selective service he was so excited he walked home without his car . . . The George Melvins will live in Toledo. His employment with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. sends him there . . . Aesop's Fables were written by a slave. What was his name?

One meets many interesting people on the Hilltop. Charles Hughes, down at the Eagles club, is one of them. Charley spent several years in the minstrel business, part of the time with T. G. Fields. Specialized in "rattling the bones," an act seldom seen now-a-days. He and a brother once ran a show of their own. Feels that minstrelsy will again come into the prominent spot it once occupied in the entertainment field. For a showman he is the most publicity shy person you could imagine.

On the Hilltop

Imagine Dr. R. J. Miller on the street without his cigar . . . The Broad-Hague Hdwe. is remodeling . . . Don Bailey traded his Chevy on a Dodge last week . . . Ruth Schofield's boy friend is from Rome . . . John Eckard will be inducted into military service Saturday . . . Tom Reid is in an artillery unit at Camp Thomas . . . Mary Bunner and Ralph Deems were married Sunday morning, several days earlier than friends expected . . . We learn there are almost half a dozen Dorothy Millers on the Hilltop. Almost as many Marys, too . . . Nine out of ten "Wimpy" fans prefer onion on their hamburgers . . . Ray Anderson's necktie rack leans to the "loud" color combinations . . . Art Currier should buy lollypops for the kids on Eldon Ave. from reports we hear . . . Nine-months-old Gerry Hoffert has four teeth . . . The Stifflers were in Jackson Sunday . . . The Baus front door bears a measles quarantine card

'Twas Told To Me

Add persons who have no respect or regard for the much abused light pole at Fremont and Terrace-sts: John Wolfe . . . He deftly removed same a fortnight back but persistent city workers put it right back again next day . . . Clyde Good will be driving a new maroon Olds as soon as delivery can be made . . . Curt Roberts was first in line for minstrel tickets Monday morning. He put in his appearance at 3:45 a. m. . . . Rev. E. E. Burtner down on Sullivant-av has been getting numerous phone calls lately wanting to know what "number" came out.

The office of Shank and Saunders was jammed to the corners with persons waiting to get minstrel tickets Monday morning when Harry Whitehead stopped on his way to work to pay the rent. People didn't believe him at first but when he waved some "folding money" they made room for him to squeeze through the door leading into the office.

Dorothy Saunders, working at the window selling tickets, looked surprised when he plopped all the money down before her.

"How many, please?" she asked.

Compton Clippinger Grabill

PROF. A. R. SPESSARD

Professor A. R. Spessard will direct the Otterbein college men's glee club of Westerville, O., in a concert Saturday, Mar. 22, at Avondale U. B. church.

Specialty groups this year are replacing the banjo orchestra, which has been a feature of the glee club since 1922.

Members of the newly organized clarinet trio are Lee Franks of Limestone, N. Y.; Charles Hefling of Uhrichsville; and Stanley Taylor of Keyser, W. Va.

A quartet has been a part of the glee club program for several years. This year it is composed of Stanley Taylor of Keyser, W. Va.; Robert Heffner of Dayton; Wendell Emerick of Gore; and John Stone of New Philadelphia.

Donald Compton and John Clippinger, both of Dayton, with James Grabill of Westerville, son of Professor G. G. Grabill, head of the Otterbein department of music, make up the violin trio.

VETERANS SPONSOR BASKETBALL CARNIVAL

The Ohio Rainbow veterans are sponsoring a basketball carnival Sunday night at the fairgrounds coliseum at 8 p. m. for the benefit of the athletic fund of the 37th division now stationed at Camp Shelby.

The teams lined up are the best in this section of the country. At in this section of the country, it is said. At 3 p. m. the famous Waterloo Wonders hook up with the Dayton Suchers, while an hour later the Harlem Globe Trotters, world's greatest colored team, will oppose the Toledo Rockets.

Confederate Prisoners Failed Twice in Break

On July 4, 1864, the entire population of prisoners at Camp Chase planned to make a grand push through the gate as the bread-wagon made its exit. The signal was given at the wrong time and few escaped. Several were shot by guards, but all were returned.

Another time, the prisoners attempted to tunnel under the walls. They had covered the tunnel with loose planks. Came the dawn of freedom and the entire tunnel caved in.

Premiums Offered For Purchases

Added premiums for your purchases is the slogan of 12 merchants in the community who are now issuing Holden Trading Stamps to their customers.

The merchants point out that the red stamps are the same as a cash discount and a book of stamps is good for a number of premiums.

Holden representatives were in the community this week and placed stamps with several places of business which are listed elsewhere in the paper.

A copy of today's Record entitles you to 10 free stamps from any of these merchants who will gladly show you the premiums being offered for your stamp books when filled.

"My Own Home" . . . . three simple words that have a world of meaning . . . . words that express a universal feeling of satisfaction and pride . . . . satisfaction derived from the appreciation of good things that go with home ownership; security, independence, privacy, comfortable living; pride because home ownership is a sign of accomplishment . . . . of a family duty honorably discharged.

We want you to feel free to come to our office and allow us to help you plan this home. We have a wide selection of books, plans and suggestions on building and also how to arrange financing . . . . all without obligation on your part.

Assured by some that spring really is just around the corner, the fancies of a lot of West High students and several faculty members has turned to sports!

At least 150 students will be affected by the speed-up in athletic activity, which will include spring football practice, baseball and track warming up, and golf practice.

Spring Football Held

Among the sixty-odd candidates for berths on next fall's football squad, Coach George Williams was glad to see 8 varsity lettermen and 15 reserve lettermen. Holding a spring football practice for the first time in a number of years, Williams stated that practice would "be tough, stressing tackling, blocking, running, passing, kicking, and other football fundamentals."

Baseball Squad To Meet

West, the defending city champion, with eight lettermen back from last year's squad and six or seven reserves, looks from here to have one of the best teams in the municipal circuit.

A veteran team, backed by the classy pitching of Jake Richards, Bob Swisher and Dick Hoover, the Buckaroos should be hard to beat.

Bill Albert will probably retake his position behind the plate, with Wills and Rogers at short and third. Smith, Medlick and Baird will cover the outfield, unless darkhorses come through surprisingly well.

Coach George Collins will handle the junior baseball squad, while Coach Rose takes over the track teams, both for junior and senior highs.

Trackstars Open Practice

With over one hundred boys reporting for the first track practice, Coach Rose expressed his optimism about the West High team. Captain Stan Ballinger, Eldred Miller, Leonard Dougherty and Harry Householder will be the mainsprings of this spring's team.

Already scheduled meets outside of the city league include the Wesleyan Relays, Apr. 26, at Delaware, the Newark Relays, May 3, and a quandrangular meet Apr. 3 between West, Dayton Fairview, Sidney and Springfield.

Blayney Selected To Enter District Music Contest

In the judging of instrumental solos at West High school, by judges from OSU, Dick Blayney, 268 Wrexham-av, received a superior rating which entitles him to represent the school as the clarinet soloist at the district high school music contest to be held at Capital university Apr. 4.

Others competing were Bob Gulcher, Dick Sinclair and John Patterson, clarinets; Don Bowser, trombone; Eunice Baker, oboe; Dick Houk, saxophone; Marguerite Kennedy, horn.

The clarinet quartet, composed of Blayney, Gulcher, Sinclair and Patterson, also enter the district contest, this group having been organized by Blayney last year.

This quartet, competing in the contest in 1940, received first division rating at the state and third at the national held at Battle Creek, Mich.

"When To Plant Potatoes"

Potatoes will be large and round,
That's what some people say,
If we plant them in the ground
On each St. Patrick's day.
But that is only a delusion,
If no wise is it true.
If you'll pardon my intrusion,
Then read my verses through.

When ground is warm and mellow,
No matter what the date.
Plant potatoes white or yellow,
That is not one bit too late.
The moon doesn't affect tomatoes,
But this I will concede,
In some way it affects potatoes,
A dark moon you will need.

Stay inside if it's snowing
Or when the ground is froze,
It is foolish to be sowing
As any farmer knows.
You will never raise potatoes
Leave your hoe hang on the rack.
Neither can you grow tomatoes
By signs in the almanac.

For all things there is a reason,
Whether we reap or sow,
Crops must have the season
Or they cannot grow.
If ground isn't in condition
No potatoes will you sack.
Please heed this admonition,
Disregard the almanac.

Cash Awards Offered Amateur Photographers

Of particular interest to all photographers in Columbus and surrounding suburbs is the announcement that the second annual amateur photographic salon, sponsored by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., will be hung May 6 to June 6 in the company's office foyer at 109 N. Front-st, Columbus. Last year's show, inaugurated by the Gas Co. to create a greater general interest in photography and at the same time to encourage the amateur lensman in pursuit of his hobby, was one of the most successful events of its kind in the country. Already advance indications point to a second bigger and better salon.

There are no restrictions of any kind as to subject matter of pictures entered and any amateur photographer in central Ohio (excepting employees of the company or associated companies) is eligible to compete.

Substantial cash awards are being offered: $50.00, first prize; $25.00, second prize; $20.00, third prize; $15.00, fourth prize; $11.00, fifth prize, plus 15 honorable mention ribbons.

Last year numerous entries were received from members of the West Side Camera club and club members are expected to enter an increased number of pictures this year.

Sullivant Extension To Get Council's Attention

Councilman Hauntz and Millikin Seek More Adequate Outlet For Hilltop Auto Traffic

By John Hess

Coming up for consideration by city council in the near future will be the problem of arranging for a more adequate outlet for automobile traffic from the east terminus of Sullivant-av into town, according to Wyatt L. Millikin, Hilltop councilman.

"There are many other important matters for council to clear up first," said Millikin, "but as soon as we can get to it, we will take up plans for giving the Hilltop a better outlet from Sullivant-av."

Councilman Ray Hauntz has been giving studious attention to the proposed project and agrees with his Hilltop colleague, that something should be done in the near future to settle the matter.

According to Paul W. Maetzel, city engineer, three plans have been drawn up to insure free traffic flow from Sullivant-av into Rich-st and thence across the Scioto river by the Main-st bridge.

Plan No. 1 calls for the construction of a 40-foot pavement beginning in Sullivant at May-av and running in a northeasterly direction to intersect McDowell-st immediately south of Rich-st

The southeast corner of Rich and McDowell would be cut away by a curve of 100-foot radius, thus moving the curb back 35 feet from its present position.

Plan No. 2 provides for a cut-off at Sullivant-av and McDowell-st, leaving an island at the present intersection. The enlargement of the intersection at Rich-st as provided for in Plan No. 1 is also included under this plan.

Because of the large property and paving costs involved in these first two plans, according to the report of the city engineer, it may be necessary to consider only the enlargement of the intersection at the northwest corner of McDowell and Sullivant and that of the southeast corner of McDowell and Rich-sts.

Curves of 40-foot radius would allow an additional width in the turning lane at Sullivant-av of 10 feet and 11.5 feet at Rich-st.

This plan (No. 3) requires no acquisition of property and has been used to advantage on a considerable number of intersections within the past few years, it is said.

According to a recent letter sent to city council by the city traffic commissioner, present traffic conditions do not warrant the extensive improvements outlined above.

Traffic conditions might change, however, say traffic commissioners, after the federal housing project in that vicinity is completed.

The commission would advise the adoption of the No. 3 plan, providing for the enlargement of the intersections at McDowell and Sullivant and McDowell and Rich-sts, if and when traffic conditions warrant the change.

According to a statement made by Councilman Hauntz this week this is the plan that will probably be adopted.

Hauntz feels that the large expenditures that would be required to realize Plan No. 1 are not feasible in view of the greater need for other traffic improvements and the financial condition of the city.

He believes that the community would be better served by the extension of Mound-st to the city limits. This, he says, could be accomplished with little more expenditure than would be required to bring Sullivant-av into Rich-st by means of a long curve, beginning at May-av.

Gung-ho

As the machines of war and devastation have moved into the eastern portions of China the Chinese have been forced westward and some 90 percent of the industry of China has fallen into the hands of the invading Japanese.

But a new war cry has been set up on the interior of this vast nation far back in the hills and valleys that have not been penetrated by the invaders. It is "Gung-ho," which means "Work Together."

Almost daily hundreds of new industries are springing up far in the western part of China. They are hidden in canyons, dugouts and deserted temples. Thousands of these new units of guerrila industry are supplying a major portion of the needs of China today.

University students and technical experts are training the people to become self supporting. Not much machinery is allowed to be accumulated in one spot. It is all mobile. Let word come of an approaching invading force and the entire factory can be loaded up and moved on to another spot and soon set in operation.

Today the Chinese industrial cooperatives have become the main line of defense of the Chinese and Americans are assisting them in a large way by contributing to their cause. Money given to this cause will do more to aid democracy in China than outright gifts of materials and war aid.

Ambulance Goes South For Local Cop

Stricken with a heart attack Mar. 11 while competing in pistol matches in Tampa, Fla., Patrolman Charles Butler, 584 S. Warren-av, will return home today or Saturday, thanks to the generosity of his fellow policemen.

Wm. Feil, funeral director, and Capt. Charles H. Eckstorm of the fire department emergency squad, left Columbus in Feil's ambulance for Tampa, where Butler was confined in the Municipal hospital. The ambulance carried an inhalator and two tanks of oxygen and will return Butler, who had told friends he wished to be home with his wife and two daughters, Jeannie, 12, and Betty Jo 17.

Voluntary contributions by police department members made the ambulance trip possible. His wife, Helen, who celebrated her birthday recently, has been at his bedside.

Deadline For Auto Tags Approaches

Warning motorists who have not obtained their 1941 auto tags that only three more days remain before the Apr. 1 deadline, local auto license dealers announced today that extra clerks have been added to the staff to handle the late comers.

Local agencies include one at the corner of Avondale-av and W. Broad-st, operated by Henry A. Koontz, and the Bert Carlos auto agency, 2506 W. Broad-st.

The owner of the auto must present himself at the place where tags are sold as no other person can secure tags for him. The owner must have with him the certificate of title, memorandum certificate of title or the bill of sale.

Prices of tags are the same as last year. Cars under 25 horsepower, $7; over 25 and under 31 horsepower, $10; and over 31 horsepower, $16.

They Are Good Skates---

The couple took top honors in the city junior dance skating finals, held recently, at the Greystone Skateland, 622½ Oak-st.

School Board Prexy Is A Papa

Draper is a papa. A bouncing baby girl (Nancy Mae) was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Draper, 94 N. Roys-av, Friday, Mar. 21, in Mt. Carmel hospital.

The "precious bundle" weighed eight pounds, seven ounces at birth. The president of the Columbus board of education and a down-town attorney, Draper is speechless (for the first time). He had no comment to make to reporters.

Cruea Sisters Are Champion Dance-Skaters

Charlie Cruea is mighty proud of his three daughters these days —and justly so.

Since Charlie opened his skating rink on N. Hague-av, the girls have been living on skates. Now, all three are champs in the making.

Barbara Lee, age eight, and her partner, Bobby Bartlett, 886 Oak-st, recently took first place in the city junior dance skating finals in the Greystone Skateland, 622½ Oak-st.

Older sisters, Martha Ann and Frances Mae, have also been marking up records on the board. With her partner, Robert Kefauver, 1649 Oak-st, Martha Ann skated away with the city championship in the novice dance-skating matches held at the Greystone rink in February.

Frances Mae Cruea and her partner, Harold Moore of 65 W. Star-st, took third place in the Ohio nationals (dance-skating division) held on Mar. 19 in Cincinnati. Nineteen couples competed in this event.

Frances Mae and Harold will skate in the national contest to be held at Cleveland on Apr. 23. Harold will be a lifeguard at the Hilltop swimming pool again this summer.

All of the young couples skated together this winter for the first time. They received their skating instructions at the Greystone Skateland.

Henry Koontz Is Relieved Of $571 By Polite Bandits

The automobile license agency at 995 W. Broad-st, operated by Henry A. Koontz, was robbed last Friday night by a pair of "business-like, smooth working and extremely polite" bandits.

According to Koontz, he and his assistant, Mrs. Elsie Donahue, were warming themselves by the fire when two well-dressed men entered the front door.

The taller man, brandishing a blue steel .38 revolver, demanded; "Do as we say and nobody will get hurt." Koontz and his associate were hurried into the back room while the shorter bandit scooped up the money from the strong box.

In the back room Koontz was told courteously to lie down on the floor in the corner. Koontz pleaded, "Please pal, can I stand up, it's dirty there." Acting very gracious, according to Koontz, the bandit replied, "O. K., stand there then."

After relieving Koontz of his billfold, the pair departed, one by the front door, the other through the rear.

The loot, totaling $571, was covered by insurance. Koontz still can't get over the polite manners that the bandits displayed in relieving him of the day's receipts.

Oscar Tipton Returns To U. S. From French Occupied Area

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tipton, 313 N. Warren-av, received a letter this week from their son, Oscar, who arrived in New York on Mar. 16 from France via Spain and Portugal.

He had been residing in France for several years.

Tipton came to this country by way of the Azores and the Bermuda islands. He planned to stay temporarily in New York with friends who came over with him from France.

According to the letter, he "was taken over by the Germans on the seventeenth of June." He was residing in the occupied area.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton wrote a letter to their son last July but he did not receive it until November. The letter had been heavily censored by the Germans. Tipton was not permitted to reply since sending letters from the occupied to the unoccupied zone was "verboten."

A member of the A. E. F. during the last World war, Tipton returned home for a short time and then went back to France.

Write Up Your Memories--Win Hard Cash

Contests — contests — contests. Beauty contests, movie contests, radio contests, find-the-hidden-word contests. No matter where you turn a contest strikes you in the face.

It is getting to be a comparatively easy matter now-a-days to win money from contests.

But never before have you had a chance to win for yourself a pocket full of shekels this very easy way.

You folks who have lived on the Hilltop for a lot of years have collected a stack of memories and anecdotes which the rest of us would appreciate hearing about.

Your memories may be about an old car getting stuck in the mud while coming up Broad-st or about the old shoe factory on the Hilltop or about events in connection with the 1913 flood.

Whatever the story is about, it must have some connection with the Hilltop.

Now, right away, sit down and write a letter to the "I Remember Contest" editors of the Hilltop Record incorporating your own story of the people you have known and the events you have witnessed in these environs over a period of years.

The letter must not be lengthy. In fact, it must be limited to 250 words.

The writer of the letter that is judged best by the editors will be awarded $5 in cash. For the second and third best letters, $2 and $1 will be awarded.

The editors reserve the right to publish any or all of the letters received in the anniversary edition to be distributed on Apr. 27.

All letters must be received in the Record office, 2463-65 W. Broad-st, by noon, Apr. 8.

Glenwood and Schonthal will clash for the title Friday, Apr. 4, at the K. of C. hall.

Mers' Play Takes Honors In Drama Festival

One of the eight plays to remain in the Ohio Inter-denominational Drama Festival is "Snowflakes," a one-act play which has been presented by the Glenwood Epworth League, winning in the county and district competitions.

The state festival starts Saturday evening at the Broad Street Presbyterian church, with three plays being presented. The second part of the festival takes place Sunday afternoon, when the Glenwood entry will be presented, as far as it is possible to ascertain, and the evening performances will conclude the drama festival.

A drama critic from Chicago will present a public summary and criticism of each play after the series has been presented.

Due to his departure with the Ohio State baseball team on a spring training tour, Dick Colburn, who was a member of the original company, will be replaced in the cast by Jack Remington.

Those taking part in the play, which was written by Harold Mers, a member of the league, are Carl Glade, Gerald Gifford, Doug Meyers, Jack Remington and Harold Mers. The directors are Annis Turner and Betty Vail.

First Lease-Lend Bill Was With Great Britain In 1799

To most Americans, the lend-lease bill, passed by congress early this year, was something entirely new and without precedent in the annals of American history.

But Alfred Mace of 25 Clarendon-av knew better. From his father's diary he took excerpts to prove his contention, that when the nation was young, similar lend-lease arrangements were made between the United States and Great Britain.

But at that time the tables were turned. America was seeking aid from the mother country instead of vice versa.

According to the dairy, in 1799, a few years after the American war of independence against Great Britain, the struggling little American government became concerned over possible French aggression.

America needed cannon to fortify the harbor of Charleston, S. C. The American secretary of state, Timothy Pickering, began negotiating with authorities in London and Halifax, asking Britain to lend, lease, sell or give to the United States 24 cannon, then resting in Halifax harbor.

On Sept. 6, 1789, Lord Grenville, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, advised the American minister in London that the cannon would be lent on condition that they would be returned if and when the British needed them.

President John Adams agreed to those terms and ordered the secretary of the navy to arrange for the convoying of the cannon to the Charleston harbor, where they were placed in service.

This incident, according to the diary, reveals the affinity of interest which existed between the United States and Great Britain in those early days.

'Twas Told To Me

Now that the HBMA Minstrel is over we have to think of a different excuse for being late to work . . . The Drapers will nickname one-week-old Nancy Mae "It". Says Proud Papa Bob: "That's how we always referred to her before she was born." . . . Harry Entwhistle learned to speak French while he was in France during World War I . . . There will probably be a business men's golf league organized to play at Beacon Light this summer. Paul Leighninger, Curt Wilcox and others are much interested in the project . . . Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stephens (the florists) and daughter Ada Jeanne will return from Fla. shortly . . . Harold Fox had a letter from Dr. W. E. DeVol, now in Nanking, China . . . Delores Rudge, member of the Ripplettes trio in lats year's minstrel, sang over a northern Ohio radio station recently . . . Earl Webb, Jr., spent the week in the country . . . Rodger Chrisman thinks army life is ok. Says he has gained 10 pounds since entering Camp Shelby in January . . . One sure sign of spring: Emmet Seely was scrubbing down the front of the hardware store Tuesday.

An artificial snake created quite a stir in Hilltop financial circles this week when Harry Markins "put the scare" on members of the two banking offices. After treating Elmer Hegenberger at the Ohio National Bank to quite a hair raising experience Curt Wilcox suggested Harry invade the First Federal office just across the street. Reports have it that Herb Deems lost several years' growth and Jim Blower made a hasty exit when the trick snake started to perform.

Reflections On The HBMA Minstrel

Don't be surprised if there is a fourth showing of the Minstrels next year. Right now there is talk of a double header showing on Friday night . . . That flower they gave Doc Brady the final night of the show was from a West Alumnus . . . Joe Leach, that hot guitar tickler, was being eyed by talent scouts for some of the name bands, we're told . . . Mary Kay Marchand, the feminine half of the dance duo, is in grade 8 at West Jr. Moore is a freshman at West. The two first danced together a year ago last Thursday night . . . Johnny Jones, Dispatch columnist, had many nice things to say about the show as did Jim Fusco of the Citizen . . . Two guns were used on the Charley Kent shooting act the final night of the show "just in case." When the gun failed to fire on Thursday night seven members of the cast brought guns to Director C. C. Hartley for the last show . . . That was some party Endman Billy Southworth and the Mrs. tossed after the Friday show. Scouts report that 12 chickens were fried for the occasion and nothing but bones remained ere the evening waned . . . Said Interlocutor Green following the Thursday show when the gun failed to fire: "I thought I would have to hang him."

This contribution by one of our readers:

There was an old maid who talked so slow that when the man asked her if she had ever been kissed and she started to say she hadn't, she HAD.

This and That

Contrary to reports being circulated, Dr. W. L. Durflinger is NOT scheduled for military service . . . Lieut. Curtis K. Allen is home on a five day furlough. Curtis recently wrote a manual on the operation of one of the new artillery pieces. He is at Fort Knox . . . John Raymond sang with the old Grotto Male Chorus . . . Joe Laezenbee is cartoonist for the American Legion News . . . Ray McVay, Jr., will go into the coal and cement business with his father after he graduates in June . . . Double sign of spring: Harold Mers and John Hess both getting haircuts the same day . . . L. C. Marble is building a new home . . . Ray McVay is likewise building new residential quarters . . . Jack Blackledge, operator of the Sunoco station at Princeton and Broad, spent 3 years at UCLA. Worked in a station out of Yuma, Ariz. . . . John Eckard left for Camp Lee, Va., to enter active military service . . . Mrs. J. A. Runyan, 125 S. Wayne-av, mother-in-law of Principal Vance Smith, is writing a family history that dates back to 1642.

general chairman of the affair. A dance with eats served cabaret style will be held on Saturday night, Apr. 26, at the post club rooms, 3180 W. Broad-st.

The dance is open to legionnaires and their friends until tickets are exhausted. Due to limited space the party will be limited to 200 persons. Several reservations have already been made and an overflow crowd is expected.

Assisting Mr. Williams is a committee that includes all past commanders of the post. Serving on the committee are Edgar Planck, William H. Rogers, James Hurd, Dr. A. C. Myers, Ray McVay, D. C. Finneran, Arthur J. Bellar, Ernest Brown, Col. George Ward, M. P. Hain, present commander of the post. C. H. "Doc" Campbell and Chester Wagner, who are not past commanders, are also serving on the committee.

Mr. Campbell will have charge of all decorations, novelties and favors Mr. Finneran is serving as ticket chairman. Mr. Bellar has charge of program arrangement and Mr. Brown is arranging special prizes. The committee hopes to make this one of the most outstanding parties ever sponsored by the local organization.

Hard Time Dance

A "Hard Time April Fool's Dance" will be held at the Legion club, 3184 W. Broad-st, tomorrow (Saturday) night. According to Vice-Commander Clarence Lytle, chairman of the social committee, special recognition will be accorded the worst-dressed person in the hall. The party is open to all members of the Legion and their friends.

Camp Chase bowling team, composed of Tom Millikin, Clarence Lytle, Bob Billups, Ed. Costello, Joe Montell and Ben Deems, will make a trip to Toledo to compete in the Legion's state tournament Saturday, Apr. 5.

Defense Registration

A total of 28 questions will be asked of all World war veterans registered by The American Legion for possible national defense service, Commander M. P. Hain of the Camp Chase Post No. 98 announced today.

Commander Hain pointed out that men and women skilled in the trades now are in demand in national defense industries irrespective of age.

"Factories and shops are reported to be hiring trained men today in some cases who are past 70 years and even older," Commander Hain said. "This is especially true in machine, mechanical and metal trades."

The American Legion national defense questionnaire lists 67 special trades and vocations which each registrant is asked to check. If the registrant's trade is not listed, he should write it in, Commander Hain advised.

Frances Cloys, now attending Sullins college at Bristol, Va., will return tomorrow to spend a 10-day vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Cloys, 38 N. Brinker-av.

Parents of Troop 79 Organize Club

The Parents club of Scout Troop 79 of the Burgess Avenue U. B. church was organized Mar. 4, and the officers elected for the group were: Mrs. Neal Borror, president, and Mrs. Charles Shawd, secretary-treasurer. O. O. Tope is Scoutmaster of the troop.

The purpose of the club is to get new equipment for the troop and to promote good fellowship between the members of the troop and their parents. With this idea in mind, a pot-luck supper was held in the church Tuesday evening, Mar. 25, with 72 people in attendance.

The guest speaker was Robert H. Heistand, Scout executive of the central Ohio area.

The first business meeting was held later and the project decided upon was a doughnut sale to be held in April. Mrs. William Smith is chairman of the sale. A monthly meeting will be held every fourth Tuesday and all parents of the troop are urged to attend.

Minstrel Improves Each Year, Says HBMA President

Following is a statement made this week by L. E. Saunders, president of the Hilltop Business Men's association, on the twelfth annual minstrel presented Mar. 19, 20 and 21:

"As the president of the Hilltop Business Men's association I am called upon to make a statement concerning the twelfth annual Hilltop minstrel which was presented recently at West High school.

"At the outset, I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to members of the cast, the directing staff and the community at large, all of whom combined to make this year's production the best in the annals of the Hilltop minstrel.

"Each year the quality of the performance seems to improve. The Hilltop minstrel can no longer be classified as an amateur performance. It is too good for that but not too good for this community.

"In short, the Hilltop minstrel show serves as a yardstick for community talent and community spirit. This year's performance proved without a doubt that we on the Hilltop are not lacking in either of these elements."

Church Named In Honor Of Itinerant Missionary

Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, ranking fourth in membership among the churches of that denomination in Columbus, is located at 29 S. Eureka-av. Rev. Alfred J. Wold is the minister.

Religious worship was established in Columbus 136 years ago; when Rev. James A. Hoge was commissioned by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church as an itinerant missionary to Ohio. He arrived in Franklinton, as the town on the west bank of the Scioto River was then known, Nov. 19, 1805, in company with the Supreme Court judges who were to open the first term of court in Franklin county.

Rev. Hoge was invited by the judges to conduct public worship in a private dwelling where the court held its sessions. Accordingly a small band of worshippers assembled there for services and religious history in Columbus began.

This dwelling house stood just north of the intersection of Broad and Sandusky-st. Later, when the Franklin county court house was completed in Franklinton, Rev. Hoge held services there for a period. In September, 1807, he became pastor of the First Presbyterian church, a relationship maintained for 50 years.

When the First Church and the Presbytery of Columbus were celebrating the Centennial of Presbyterianism in Franklin county, "A Memorial Fund for Church Extension" was raised in honor of the memory of Dr. Hoge.

Just prior to this time Dr. Walter H. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Deems, and a small group of members from the West Broad Presbyterian church had been conducting a Sunday School in a building that formerly had been a saloon. This building stood on the lot adjoining the Houx building, corner of W. Broad and N. Terrace.

Thirty-five years ago Mar. 23, 1906, a band of members met in this building and organized a church. These 25 charter members were Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Ault, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Birch, Ada Marie Birch, Leland Birch, Mrs. Lelia J. Cooley, Harold Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. George Gill, Raymond Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Huff, Gladys Huff, Ralph Huff, Mrs. J. P. Johnson, H. M. King, Dorothy King, Grace McGill, Mildred K. McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McDonald, Charlotte, Violet and William McDonald.

This new church was chosen to share in the "Centennial Memorial Fund" and a gift of $50,000 was made toward the erection of a chapel. On July, 1906, ground was broken for the new building to provide a church home for what was to be known as the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church on the present site and services were held in the unfinished building in April, 1907, with Rev. C. G. Watson as stated supply. Rev. J. H. Hatfield was called to be the first regular minister in 1907 and remained until 1918.

Rev. Richard E. Shields was called as pastor of the Hoge Memorial church in 1919 and remained until June 30, 1926. It was under Rev. Shields' pastorship that the present church house costing $44,000 was added. This addition provided space for the Sunday school, a dining room, kitchen, a gymnasium, a church office and a church parlor. The entire week, beginning Apr. 20, 1924, was given over to the dedication services. Rapid growth and increased interest were manifested in all departments of the church. Hoge Memorial was recognized as a church with a program for a growing community.

In the fall of 1926 Rev. Harry C. Hutchison was called to Hoge Memorial and remained until Mar. 31, 1939. Under his pastorate the church continued to grow with 500 members being added to the church roll.

The present pastor, Rev. Alfred J. Wold, was called May 21, 1939, and preached his first sermon as minister in charge on July 9. Hoge Memorial is flourishing under the leadership of Rev. Wold with a steady growth in membership and an increased interest and attendance in worship services.

Hoge Memorial, with a membership of over 900, is enlisted in an active program motivated not only for the temporal and spiritual advancement of its members but for the welfare of the entire Hilltop community in which it is located.

At present there are the following active Hoge Memorial organizations: Sunday school, Ladies Aid society, Missionary society, Eureka Guild, Christian Endeavor societies, a Boy Scout troop, and a men's club.

Music, always a prominent part of the worship program, is furnished by a vested choir of 30 voices directed by W. H. Jones and F. L. Buckingham as organist and a junior choir of young ladies under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Jerman.

The Sunday school is the largest in the Columbus Presbytery, enrolling approximately 700 members. The first superintendent was W. H. Deems, followed in order by S. J. Westlake, S. K. Todd and T. A. Jones. H. G. Deems was superintendent for 14 years and the dynamic efficiency of this man had much to do with the building of this highly successful school. This work has been ably carried on by A. W. Jordan, L. E. Saunders and L. H. McAllister, who, by experience and fine organizing ability, have maintained and advanced the high standards.

A record in establishing new Sunday school ——— has been made during the past 14 years, 44 having been established from funds contributed each year on Children's Day. The present need is for larger quarters for the growing membership of the school.

The official boards of the church consist of the Session of 12 elders who are responsible for the spiritual affairs of the church. They receive members into the church, administer the sacraments, direct forms of public worship and promote spiritual life of the church.

The board of 12 deacons performs the service of collecting and administering local charities and providing for the poor. The deacon of Hoge Memorial in addition to acting as ushers, maintain " a deacons' cupboard" from which is supplied not only the needy in their own congregation but many others in the community regardless of race, color or creed.

During the present winter season 30 families, in which were more than 90 children, have been supplied with clothing and baskets of food. At Christmas time alone 21 baskets of food as well as toys, clothing and other articles were distributed. A board of eight trustees has charge of the physical plant and equipment of the church and the expenditures of all funds for church support. The present board of trustees, T. C. Weir, chairman, has so efficiently conducted the financial affairs of the church that each year even through the period of business crisis, the budget needs of the church have been met without a deficit. Mrs. Henry Jones is the efficient church secretary and K. B. Neff church treasurer.

The present minister of the Hoge Memorial church, Rev. Alfred J. Wold, is a graduate of Macalester college, St. Paul, Minn., and of the Presbyterian Theological seminary, Chicago, Ill., and pursued graduate studies in the University of Chicago and Northwestern university.

Rev. Wold's pastoral experience has been for the most part in city churches. He served churches in Minneapolis and Chicago before taking up the work at Hoge Memorial.

Rev. and Mrs. Wold reside at the manse, 2503 W. Broad-st. Their daughter, Eleanor, is a student at the Ohio State university.

— Letters — To the Editor

Editor of Hilltop Record

In Columbus there are a number of business firms which sponsor athletic teams and the majority of these firms are willing to spend a liberal amount in the interest of young athletes, girls and boys, young men and women.

One of the most generous and thoughtful of these firms is located in our own community. It is the Wylie S. Shroyer & Son Funeral Homes, 1278 and 2553 W. Broad-st. During the past several years this firm has performed an excellent service to many young people of the Hilltop by sponsoring girls' and boys' softball and basketball teams. To girls and boys, athletic competition is extremely valuable in many ways. It gives them healthful recreation, builds up their bodies, gives them a greater interest in life, assists in character building, and teaches valuable lessons in sportsmanship and fair play.

At the present time Shroyer's are sponsoring girls' and boys' basketball teams. These teams are composed mostly of Hilltop athletes.

The athletic activities which many young people of the Hilltop enjoy is due to the generosity of Mr. Wylie S. Shroyer.

The firm's athletic sponsorship gives the firm a certain amount of advertising and it also brings the Hilltop to the forefront as the best known and most popular community in the city. But Mr. Shroyer's main purpose is to assist in the healthful upbringing of girls and boys, young men and women of the Hilltop.

With this writer as spokesman, the members of the Shroyer Funeral Home girls' basketball team say: "Thank you, Mr. Shroyer."

Columbus, O.

Editor:

The last time you heard from me, I was in Lincoln, Nebraska, [illegible] very beautiful city. We then continued through South [illegible] to Wyoming, which is [illegible] wooded country. You can see fir trees for miles around.

We then entered Montana and the only city we passed through was Billings, a very nice and clean-looking city of about 50,000 population.

In Montana there are beautiful snow-capped mountains. We saw them from about 100 miles away. The clouds hang down around the peaks which reach away as far as the eye can see. We passed one mountain peak which was 7,760 feet above us and 11,000 feet above sea level.

On March 8, we passed through Spokane, Wash. We then entered Seattle, a very beautiful city. The territory around Seattle is low and level. There are many lakes and small streams, most of which flow into the Columbia river.

We arrived in camp at about 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon and were escorted by the National Guard band to the barracks which are located about two miles from the main camp.

We are located about 100 yards from the Columbia river where it is eight miles wide and about two miles from the Pacific ocean.

At camp we were issued blankets and a heavy comforter, because it gets pretty chilly here at nights. The tall men were put in one set of barracks and the short men in another, so I don't feel lost.

The nearest town is Astoria, Oregon, which is about 14 miles from camp. It has a population of 10,000.

The first night we spent in camp was very chilly but we slept with the windows open. We were awakened on Sunday morning at 6 a. m. A high wind swept the camp but the sun was very warm.

We went to reveille and then to chow and then returned to our barracks with nothing to do all day.

So, with a little ache in my heart to see some of you people back home, I will close. We are going out to play baseball this afternoon. I will be glad to hear from any of my friends who care to write. My address is Battery C-18, CAC, Fort Stevens, Oregon.

Your and everybody's friend,
"Woody" Owens

Dear Editor:

Howe Represents Weather-Seal, Inc.

John A. Howe of 1910 Coventry-rd, Upper Arlington, represents the Weather-Seal, Inc., of Barberton, with local office and show room at 375 N. Sandusky-st.

Mr. Howe reports sales of the Weather-Seal storm windows and doors with insect proof bronze screens exceeding 300 percent over 1939. Sales and installations were made out of Columbus in Huntington, W. Va., Newark, Zanesville, Chillicothe, Springfield, Mt. Gilead, Leesburg, Washington C. H., Kenton, Circleville and Ashville.

An exclusive feature in Weather-Seal not found in any other storm window is the double tongue and groove that positively seals out all dust, dirt, soot and water that enter around the windows.

Weather-Seal windows and screens all operate from inside the house. They give you draft-proof ventilation in winter and rain proof ventilation in summer.

"If You Lend You Lose a Friend"

Jim says to me, let's cross the street,
There comes a man I would not meet,
He loaned me five at the county seat
I've never liked him since.
Jim says to me in the field one day,
There comes a man that I should pay.
He loaned me money to buy some hay,
Let's climb over the fence.

If your friends you'd like to keep,
If you wouldn't be a chimney-sweep,
Quote these words from sleep to sleep,
The man who lends is out.
Some start to slink soon as you lend,
You lose your money and also a friend,
Another man's money is easy to spend,
Of that there is no doubt.

If you refuse who wants to borrow,
You'll see that man again tomorrow,
He'll be your friend in joy or sorrow.
If you don't lend him money
He'll be your friend forever more,
In the fields or at your store,
I'll say again as I said before,
Keep your money for bread and honey.

Book of Poems

This newspaper and plant are the publishers of, and have just issued, a new book of poetry by Walter Ewing Carlisle, Poetry and Rhyme editor of the Ohio State Journal, of which we are justly proud.

The volume contains 76 of Mr. Carlisle's best poems, many of them entrancingly beautiful, with an introduction by Kenneth D Tootll, managing editor of the Ohio State Journal

The volume is a handy size, beautiful format, with green cloth binding and gold lettering. It will make a handsome and valued addition to anyone's library.

Let's Adopt a Hilltop Flower

In line with a program for the beautification of the Hilltop we feel it would be well for the community to adopt a Hilltop flower.

Van Wert is noted for its peonies. Wellington is the lilac city Holland, Mich., has a place of prominence due to the publicity given its tupils.

We believe considerable interest could be developed in the community if a program and competition was to be provided for local flower growers.

How about some suggestions, gardeners? Let's adopt a suitable Hilltop flower!

Time For a Big Spring Clean-up

Hilltop alleys are in a deplorable condition. Ashes and cans and rubbish litter the back streets and it is hard to believe how homes that look so nice in front can be so disrupted in the back.

But with the necessity of a part way refuse collection on the part of the city due to impaired finances we could hardly do otherwise.

But we believe Mayor Green will see to it that an organized clean-up campaign is conducted on the Hilltop at a very early date. We'd like to see the week beginning Apr. 28, set aside as Hilltop Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week. How about it Mr. Mayor? Can we have a little concentrated help from the city at that time?

Oscar Tipton Returns To His Native Land From A Continent At War

Says Blockade Will Lick Germany — France Still Pro-British

In one way Oscar Tipton wanted to leave France and in another way, he didn't. If he didn't leave and the United States went to war with Germany, he as an American citizen, would be interned in a concentration camp.

If he left (and he did leave) he would have to leave a wife to whom he was devoted and a place he had called home since 1926.

Officials at the American consulate at Paris advised him to make an immediate departure. That was on a Tuesday. Four days later he was bound for the shores of his native land.

With AEF

Tipton was in France with the AEF during the World war. He returned home after the war only to remain a short time. For in France he met a girl. She is the present Mrs. Tipton.

Living in a small hamlet, about a hundred miles west of Paris, Tipton and his wife managed a small farm. In addition to his farm work, Tipton worked on a small narrow-gauge railroad as a fireman.

In June, 1939, he saw the motorized columns of the German army roar into town and, until recently lived under the jurisdiction of the army of occupation

German Behavior Good

The behavior of the German troops in France, according to Tipton, is above reproach. Though there is very little communication between the Germans and the French, the former, in all their relations with the latter, behave with distant and reserved courtesy The Germans are very well disciplined, he added.

Shortly after the occupation, the Germans devalued the franc by decree. This, it was possible for them to buy up all available produce and materials with little trouble and with a superficial appearance of legality.

Land Is Bare

The land is bare, said Tipton. The section in which he lived had been noted for its cattle raising. Now, there are few cattle Since the first of the year, it has been impossible to buy clothing or shoes in the occupied zone, which includes all of France that was wealthy.

Due to the blockade and the requisitions of the Germans, food is scarce. What there is of it is rationed.

According to Tipton, the vast majority of the French people are unreservedly pro-British and pro-American. They fully expect America to enter the war in a short time. In fact, they often express amazement that we have not entered before this time.

On departing from his adopted country, Tipton was told by his friends, that the next time he came back he would be with an American army.

Thousands Will Perish

Thousands of Frenchmen will perish under the stress of the British blocade, he said. On the other hand if the blockade is relaxed and food is permitted to enter the country the war, inevitably, will be prolonged and other thousands will die in battle.

Thus, as Tipton aptly expressed it, the French people are between two fires. No matter who wins, they are the losers.

With Germany having full sway on the continent, he feels that the possibility of invasion by the British or Americans is remote, if, indeed, an invasion will ever take place.

He feels that it would be bad business, strategically speaking, for the British to try to launch an army against Germany from their position in Greece.

An invading force, beginning in that section, would run the risk of being "pinched off" by both the German and Italian armies. The most effective weapon against Germany, Tipton feels, is the blockade. Many essential war materials have already been used up, he believes, and there are no more to supplant them.

Tipton left Paris on Feb. 28, and arrived in Jersey City on Mar. 18. Due to bad weather, his boat was detained in Bermuda for a day. He left France via Spain and Portugal.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W E. Tipton, 313 N. Warren-av, he attended Highland-av school and the old West High school.

"Railroads Are Here To Stay"

Everything will soon be motorized
That's what some say I know.
All features with care they've analyzed,
Steam trains will have to go.
They'll couple motor trucks together,
Eighty trucks in one train.
Travel sixty, in all kinds of weather,
Sunshine, snow or rain.

Everything will soon be motorized,
That's the tale they broadcast,
After careful study they're satisfied,
Railroads are a thing of the past.
Motor cars are hurting the railroad,
I'll concede that point my friend,
But trucks can't haul their heavy load
Upon railroads we must depend.

Motor cars can't handle their business,
Steam trains will have to stay,
Stagnation will confront all business
If we let them lay and decay.
Don't harbor that foolish delusion
Railroads will here remain
You will see a mighty confusion
If they ostracize that train.

Glad To Live In Modern World

It's quite a far cry from the days when grandma kept house, from the sort of furnishings she had, to keep clean and from the tools with which she had to work. The smoky wood or coalstove created quite a cleaning problem in the kitchen and living quarters. The unpaved streets certainly tracked in on the carpets and the heavy foods which were the vogue in those days took lots of pots and pans.

Yet grandma was a little arrogant toward any neighbor whose house was not so spotless as grandma kept hers.

Today we are appalled at the amount of work grandma did to keep her house clean. She didn't have a heating system which filtered the air. She didn't have a clean gas or electric stove for cooking. She didn't have an electric vacuum cleaner nor that modern chemical miracle—Smiling Scot. Today, stores everywhere stock products which our engineers and chemists produce for us, to make our house keeping easier, and every grocer stocks Smiling Scot to take the drudgery out of surface cleaning and washing dishes.

Yes—we are glad we live in this modern world.

Shall It Be Rose?

Following our suggestion of last week that the community adopt a Hilltop flower we have received several letters and more comment and all have been in behalf of the rose.

One gentleman writes that he has quite a variety of ever-blooming roses from early spring until frost. Another suggests the monthly rose. He has a hundred plants in his garden that cost but an average of 10 cents. "With a little care and no additional expense anyone can be justly proud of a rose garden," he adds.

And our friend C. S. Parks writes us a poem in behalf of our flower campaign. Other comments are accordingly.

And so it seems that there are others who feel we should have a Hilltop flower. Any more suggestions? Why not have a flower show this summer? Attention, Hilltop Business Men's Association, here is an opportunity to come to the aid of a campaign to assist in beautifying the Hilltop.

Sullivant Traffic Light Needed

Out in East Broad street six traffic lights have been erected at one intersection. Now maybe people going east and west on Broad street may not be able to see everything that goes on around them but surely they don't need three lights each way.

And while this installation has taken place in East Broad street there has been no change in the Sullivant avenue situation at Hague avenue. This corner needs a light. Traffic men will tell you the same.

Our friends in the city administration will probably come back with good legitimate reasons why East Broad street has six lights at this one intersection but we really don't care if they put another half dozen out there if they will but give us some definite lowdown on the light at Hague and Sullivant.

Something The Other Firm Doesn't Offer

It's Easter and a lot of Hilltop folks are going to do a lot of buying this week-end.

And we wonder if they have stopped to think about what they are going to be buying.

If it's a hat, a coat, a pair of shoes, groceries or meats, hardware or what have you . . . have you paused to think that the local Independent Hilltop merchant should have your first consideration?

When you buy from these neighbors you are getting more than the mere merchandise you pay for. You are making it possible for a community program to be carried out that is not contributed to by downtown department stores or the chains.

Right here on the Hilltop every community improvement and every local institution, from your churches down to your community newspaper that comes to you free each Friday, is made possible by Hilltop merchants. Give it a thought!

Selectee Or Draftee?

Uncle Sam's Selective Service organization has sent word out that such boards are to be known as such. They are Selective Service Boards and not draft boards.

But it seems to us that, just like a rose smelling as sweet with any other name, so it is that calling a man a selectee is not going to make this business of going into the army any sweeter.

But selectee or draftee . . . we'd like to see the fellow who handed down such an order write headlines using the words selective service board.

Red Birds Open Season Thursday

Spring is definitely in the air! For several weeks the experts have been figuring out who is going to win the pennant, and now that their work is finished, the baseball teams are ready to fulfill their destinies.

Here in Columbus the Red Birds, who have been training in Hollywood, Fla., will return to town next week, and their first game is scheduled for next Thursday afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

The game will be preceded by a parade sponsored by the Agonis and Old Timers' clubs. Special pre-game activities at the stadium will take place before the contest with the St. Paul Saints gets under way.

Sports reporters have indicated that the Red Birds look to be better this year than they have been for a number of years.

Cotton To Be 11th Ward Club Speaker

Wilbur M. Cotton, assistant director of the Citizens Tax League of Ohio, will be the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Eleventh Ward Republican club Thursday night. The meeting will be held in the VFW hall, 2393½ W. Broad-st. There will be entertainment and refreshments.

Mr. Cotton has served as city manager of a number of cities including Ashtabula and St. Petersburg, Fla. At present he has full charge of the administration of the league during the absence of Lt. Col. Stuart A. Baxter, who has been called to Camp Shelby, Miss., with the Ohio National Guard.

Officials of the club have issued a special invitation to any person to attend. The speaker should be of as much interest to non-members as those affiliated with the club, it is said.

Services Are Held For Gill Smoot

J. Gill Smoot, former assistant superintendent of the Columbus branch of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., succumbed at his home at 137 Highland-av, Sunday, after a heart attack.

Mr. Smoot had been a long time resident of the Hilltop and for the past eight years has been retired from his work, the insurance business, in which he spent 38 years.

He was a member of the Glenwood Methodist church, Westgate lodge of the Masons, Scottish Rite and the Shrine.

Services were conducted by Rev. J. B. Shellhaas, pastor of the Glenwood church, on Tuesday, Apr. 8, at the Smoot residence. The burial was at the Union cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Smoot and five brothers, Leslie, Walter, Glenn, Harry and Dr. C. E. Smoot.

Mr. Smoot has been serving as a member of the advisory committee of Draft Board No. 12 and had assisted a registrant in filling out his papers just two days before his death.

Burroughs Pupils Join In Kite Contest

The sky was filled with circling aircraft—more than 60 of them; the children ran excitedly about, yelling and shrieking as they stared open-mouthed at the glistening man-made birds that circled over them and dived toward the earth, time and again.

But they carried no bombs and their insignia was not the swastika or the tri-colored circles. Instead they were adorned with brilliant multi-colored pictures of Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Peter Rabbit, Chief Sitting Bull, Superman, Holland landscapes, and one even carried the picture of a barrel of trash, under which was written "Clean Up."

These decorated craft of the upper regions were not airplanes, but kites, made by the fifth, sixth, and seventh graders at John Burroughs school. The school is sponsoring a contest to find the highest flying kite made by one of the students. These are three divisions, according to the grade of the entrant and the kites of each group will be flown at the same time.

According to Mr. Al Latham, seventh grade teacher, who has supervised the contest, many of the kites were made by girls, and some of the feminine entries have been among the highest flyers.

All of the kites are hand-made, some with two sticks, some three, four, and one or two box kites have been entered.

Hilltop Committee For Benefit

The early part of the evening is to be spent in entertainment furnished by the Jorg Fasting school of dance. Mr. Fasting will present his dancers in the ballet, "The Nutcracker Suite." A group of Chinese folk songs are to be sung and a magic show is promised.

On display will be several exhibits furnished by prominent persons in the city interested in the Chinese cause. Chinese shawls and jewelry will be for sale with the owners of the articles offering a percent of their profit to the Chinese cause.

Bridge tables will be furnished to those who are interested in playing. Special instructions in Mah-Jong furnished by those who "know how."

Students Get Four Day Vacation

Students attending Hilltop schools will be among the more than 55,000 Columbus and Franklin county children who will be dismissed from classes for a four-day Easter vacation.

The schools will be dismissed Thursday afternoon, and the students will not report back until Tuesday morning, according to L. P. Replogle, assistant superintendent of schools. This will be the last prolonged vacation before the summer dismissal.

Cowboys In Readiness For Opening With South

Scheduled to meet the South Bulldogs in the opening game at ... the West ... bility for a second straight championship in the city baseball league seemed nearly as rosy as it had when purely in the paper stage.

The squad opened its 1941 campaign for the championship by winning its first two practice games.

The Cowboys, led by Dick Smith at the bat, and Richards, Kulp and Ours, on the mound, trimmed the Hamilton township nine, 12 to 3, Monday afternoon. Jake Richards, all-high pitcher for the West nine, held the Hamiltonians to no hits in the three innings he pitched. The opposition nicked Jack Kulp for four bingles, while George Ours held them hitless in the final inning.

Mifflin was defeated by the Westerners, 10 to 3, on Tuesday, when Dick Hoover, southpaw from the junior high team, pitched one-hit ball for five innings and was the leading batter of the day. George Ours, relief pitcher, twirled the ball for two innings, giving up two hits.

Hitting Practice Needed

Although the Cowboys steamed through their first two practice games, it is stated that a lot of intensive hitting practice is needed before the opening game of the loop race at South, Apr. 15. No other games have been scheduled before that time.

The second base position on the local team is still uncertain, it is reported. Pitcher Jake Richards will cover the territory when he is not pitching, and when he is on the mound, Don Mathews or Phil Wisdom will take over. Dick Hoover, another pitcher and utility man will probably patrol one of the outfield positions when he is not in the box.

West Opens Against South

The Cowboy tracksters have been working strenuously this past week, in preparation for the opening meet of the season against the South thinlyclads, on the West field next Wednesday.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, Coach Rose held an inter-squad meet to decide upon the starters for the next meet.

The weight events are still rather uncertain, but Don Crosby, Bob Bates, Don Walters, Harry Householder, Bill Elliott and Fred Williams will take care of most of the sprints and dashes, Captain Stanley Ballinger and Eldred Miller will probably lead the hurdlers and Len Daugherty seems to be the middle distance man.

Gerald M. Johnston, 196 Binns-blvd, made the freshman honor roll in the college of education at Ohio State for the spring quarter, according to Dr. Leston L. Love, junior dean of the college.

Mrs. Runyan Traces Family History To 1645

Mrs. J. A. Runyan, 128 S. Wayne-av, has been doing, for the past several years, something that most of us have always wanted to do at some time or other, and that is to trace our ancestors as far back as possible—to some king or princess, or other important personage to whom we could point and say, "I'm a direct descendant of so-and-so."

Mrs. Runyan, whose records have been authenticated back as far as 1645, found no kings or princesses at the roots of the family tree, but a lot of other interesting people have been included in the book which she is writing for her two daughters.

The first Runyan, as far as the records show, was Vincent Runyan, who came from France in the seventeenth century, during the Hugenot migration. It is said that his ancestors were feudal lords, whose family crest was a blue shield with three honeybees, arranged in a triangle, on it.

After coming to America, he married an English girl and raised a family of 11 children. One of the children, Thomas, married Martha Dunn Drake, relative of the English sea-rover, Sir Francis Drake.

"There was nothing of importance in the next generation. It was just regular," stated Mrs. Runyan, "but in the following generation, John Runyan, who married Susan Custer, went with his family to Harrison county, Virginia, where the story is told of his daughter's murder by the Indians, and the ambuscade of her brother, who vowed to kill any Indian that he should happen to meet."

In 1802, a number of the farmers from Virginia migrated to Warren county, where they stayed until 1811. Then they moved to Clarke county, Ohio, where they founded the little settlement of Asbury (this name was changed later). In the Asbury cemetery there are more than 100 Runyans buried, including John Runyan and his wife.

Mrs. Runyan's side of the family is not without its striking personalities. John Knisley, her great-grandfather, came to Ohio from York, Pa., in 1803, and bought a plot of land along the Tuscawarus river, where, with the help of his sons, he planned and laid out the city of New Philadelphia. He is regarded as the patriarch of that community, it is stated.

Mrs. Runyan was born in Hancock county and went to Ohio Northern university where she met John Runyan. After they were married they came to Columbus, in 1917. Mr. Runyan was associated with the public school system. He was supervisor of Marion and Hamilton townships, which include the area that Bexley now occupies.

One of Mrs. Runyan's daughters is married to Vance Smith, principal of the West Junior high school.

Committee Is Selected On Sullivant Extension

Business People To Seek Suitable Eastern Outlet

A special committee of Sullivant-av business people headed by Mary Bentz, 2020 Sullivant-av, as chairman, was named this week by L. E. Saunders, president of the Hilltop Business Men's association, to expedite plans for a more suitable eastern outlet from Sullivant-av into Rich-st.

Named to assist Miss Bentz were Dr. M. W. Bates, 2130 Sullivant-av; Fred Donley, 2086 Sullivant-av; Dr. E. E. McNamee, 2543 Sullivant-av; John Riepenhoff, 2532 Sullivant-av; Joe Briggs, 2596 Sullivant-av, and Carl Capretta, 2006 Sullivant-av.

Heated opposition to the most recent proposal for widening the curves at McDowell and Sullivant and the southeast corner of McDowell and Rich-sts, was voiced by Miss Bentz before the meeting of the HBMA. Naming of the committee followed a motion passed by the group.

Speaking on behalf of the newly named committee she made the following statement:

"The committee is definitely opposed to the proposal of making the curve at McDowell and Sullivant as suggested by city engineers in a story appearing in a recent edition of the Hilltop Record. We favor the proposal made by Councilman Arvin Alexander of the long sweeping curve from just east of Sandusky joining up with Rich at McDowell-st."

Councilman Ray Hauntz had expressed himself as feeling that this plan would involve larger expenditure than the city could afford inasmuch as it would be necessary to buy up several pieces of property over which the route would run.

"We have a real fight on our hands," Miss Bentz told the HBMA. "But we are not going to be content with this unsatisfactory outlet for Sullivant-av traffic."

West Pupils Rate Well In Contest

In the district music contest, held at Capital university, last Friday, Apr. 4, musical artists from West High school, who entered in the competition all received ratings of "excellent" or "superior," with twice as many superior ratings showing on the record book.

Eunice Baker received a "superior" rating on her oboe rendition; Marguerite Kennedy, ... "excellent" for french horn; Dick Blayney, "superior" on his clarinet solo; Dick Houk, "superior" for tenor saxophone; Don Bowser, "superior" for his work on the trombone.

The clarinet quartette: Richard Blayney, Bob Gulcher, Dick Sinclair, John Patterson, received a "superior" rating in its classification.

The West band was rated by one of the judges as "superior" and by the other two judges as "excellent."

Daniel Is Called By Local Board

Raymond Daniel, 232 N. Ogden-av, will be inducted into military service next Thursday as a replacement from Selective Service board No. 12. He is the only person to be called from the three boards this week.

Dr. L. W. Adams, 2431 Sullivant-av, has been added to the medical examining staff of board No. 11, it was learned this week. Dr. Adams will assist Dr. C. O. Cramer, 3191 W. Broad-st, and Dr. Howard Whitehead, 2239 W. Broad-st.

Two replacements will be selected by board No. 13 during the next few days. One will be inducted next Thursday, while the date for the other replacement has not been determined.

Chairman

Dr. M. W. Bates

Dr. M. W. Bates, 2130 Sullivant-av will head the committee for the the HBMA spring dance to be held at the Seneca hotel on Thursday, May 15. Members of the Hilltop Male chorus and members of the cast of the minstrel show will be guests of the association at the dinner dance.

Jack Shank, 2459 W. Broad-st, will have charge of ticket sales. Others on the dance committee are: Mose Williams, 2581 Steele-av; Harriet Huff, 2154 Sullivant-av, and Dr. Bruce Tanner, 3 Eldon-av. Mac Tooill's Masqueraders orchestra will play for the dance.

The dinner and dance is open to all members of the association and their friends. Tickets for the dinner will be $1.25 per person. Expense of the dance is taken care of by the association.

C. H. "Doc" Campbell, 2786 W. Broad-st, was declared winner of the hat given annually for the member selling the most tickets to the minstrel show. Campbell turned in sales of 550 tickets.

Quiz Program

At the meeting of the HBMA Tuesday night H. G. Deems, 2369 W. Broad-st, acted as "questions and answers man" for a quiz program that took the place of a regular speaker. Candy suckers was the award to members of the winning team.

Harriet Huff pulled her own name for the first booster prize of the evening, donated by Campbell's pharmacy, 2786 W. Broad-st. Other prize winners were Ed McGurer, prize by Burdett's grocery, 192 S. Eureka-av; Charles Althen, Broadway Shoe store, 2408 W. Broad-st; Mrs. C. J. Detamore, Capretta's market, 2006 Sullivant-av; Dr. M. W. Bates, Broad-Warren market, 2656 W. Broad-st, and H. G. Deems, Coffman's Electric store, 2388 W. Broad-st.

Kent Bowlers Hitting the Pins

Kent's Modern Market bowlers have been traveling recently. And these kegelers have been doing all right by themselves too.

Last week at Cincinnati in the Times-Star tourney with a handicap of 294 they rolled 3120 and until this week were in forty-fifth place after 490 teams had rolled. First place high went to a team rolling 3237.

In the Ohio State tourney at Dayton Sunday they rolled 2828 for fifth place to date. The Kent team bowls in the Social league on Tuesday nights at the Hilltop Recreation alleys.

Hilltop Girl Sends Her Paper Into 48 States

When Rosalind Growe, 128 N. Ogden-av a freshman in the college of journalism at Ohio State university, decided about two years ago that she wanted someone to publish her short stories and poems, she couldn't find anyone who wanted to do so—so she founded her own newspaper to get them into print.

The little weekly has grown in two years, from a limited circulation in the Washington C. H. High school, where Rosalind graduated with the class of 1940, to a subscription list bearing names in every state in the union, Hawaii, Canada and the Philippines.

The Sunshine Messenger, the monthly magazine which has evolved from the first paper, was founded for young people, under 25, who are interested in writing; each month the magazine is made up of contributions from the various subscribers.

Included in the January, 1941, issue, which was dedicated to President Roosevelt on his fifty-ninth birthday, were short stories, poems, a cross-word puzzle, jokes, comic strips, editorials and short feature stories, all of which were sent in by the subscribers.

Rosalind states that she works about three nights a week on the magazine, and that most of her subscribers are high school and college students throughout the United States.

She is interested in working on one of the publications at the university but has not decided which it shall be. She has been commended for her work by many people; one Columbus columnist commented in regard to her activity, "a unique, clever publication and a sincere and interesting work by ambitious youth of today."

WEST STUDENT RECOVERING FROM APPENDECTOMY

Bill Mead, West High student, is recovering from an appendectomy at the Mt. Carmel hospital. Complications, which set in after the operation have retarded his recovery but it is reported that he is much better.

STORE ENTERED

It was a small take for the person or persons who entered the Davis & Herbert grocery, Burgess and Broad, Wednesday night. Chet Herbert reports that nothing was taken except about 60 pennies in the cash register. The side entrance was broken into.

Mooney Sets New Record

Chuck Mooney, 166 Tulane-rd, set a new miniature auto track record for the Hilltop track when he ran his car to a dazzling speed of 72 miles per hour in workouts Sunday afternoon. The new mark bettered existing records by nine miles.

Mooney had been co-holder of the previous track record with Jack Boyer, 2337½ Sullivant-av, with a mark of 61 miles per hour. Several visitors from Wheeling, Dayton and Coshocton ran their cars on the local track, located near the Hilltop swimming pool.

The first scheduled races are slated for May 18, with a prospective entry list of more than 23. A good list of prizes are already on hand from a race cancelled last fall because of inclement weather.

Candidates For Camp Chase Post Team To Report

A meeting of all boys planning to play ball with the Camp Chase post No. 98 team will meet at post headquarters Saturday morning at 10 a. m. Boys wanting to play must be 17 years of age or under.

All candidates are asked to bring gloves as there will probably be a practice session.

Beacon Course Ready For Play

The Beacon Light golf course, on the Rome-Galloway road, just south of the national highway, opened its season last Saturday, Apr. 5.

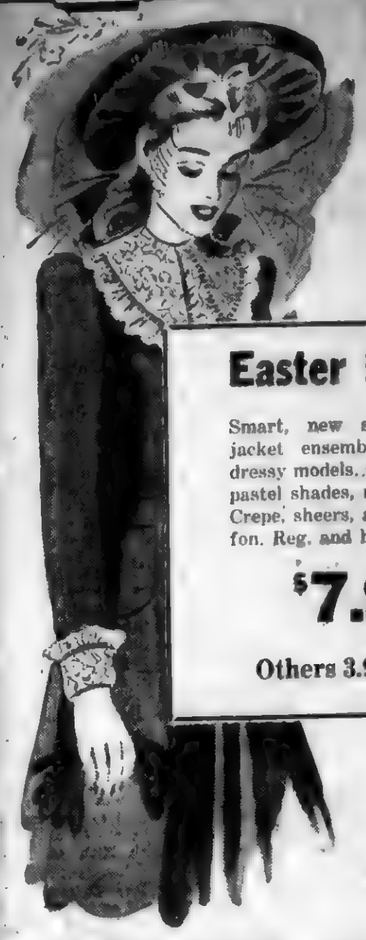
The course, with L. E. Kidwell in charge, and his son, Jack, caring for the greens, has seen considerable improvement in the past year, inculding the construction of a new lake, the addition of 100 new trees, replacement of sod on eroded areas, and the re-sodding of each of the nine greens.

Extra Copies Anniversary Edition Should Be Ordered Before Apr. 27

Twenty-four years is a long time and a lot of things have happened on the Hilltop in that period. Furthermore, and maybe more interesting to some people are the things that are happening here today.

Well, anyway you take it, we believe there will be a great number of things of interest to every member of the family in the big anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record to be delivered to your home on Sunday morning, Apr. 27. This big paper will mark the beginning of the twenty-fifth year of publication of The Hilltop Record.

For three months the Record staff has been hard at work getting together all the material necessary to make this the largest paper ever published by The Record, and you'll recall that the Hostorical Progress edition of 1936 contained 40 pages.



But this is enough of a hint right now as to what the paper will be like. If you want extra copies they will cost 10c each. If your friends in other cities would like to have them they may be mailed for 15c. The supply of extras will be limited. Orders are being taken now for delivery after Apr. 27. Just phone RA. 1126.

FIND PEACE IN RELIGION

CHERISH AN AMERICAN TRADITION

COME TO CHURCH
Easter Sunday

THERE are so few things to hold on to these days—material values, mental conditions change rapidly .... affected directly and quickly by the strife, turmoil and economical upheavals of recent years. There is one thing left unshaken — the solace and peace to be found in church. Come to church Easter Sunday — find stable spiritual values which, in the last analysis, are enduring in peace or war, or times of sadness. Go to the church of your choice .... Easter Sunday and every Sunday — you need the comfort and companionship to be found there .... the churches need your support. Go to church Easter Sunday in the traditional American way .... to celebrate this great day in accordance with your beliefs. It's a perfect way to begin the day. You will find a warm welcome at any of the Hilltop and West Side's many fine churches—and you'll find great benefit in the special Easter Sunday services planned by each. Come to church Easter Sunday!

Capretta Installs Chicken Picker

NOW housewives don't have anything to do—nothing at all. It's taken modern science a long time to do it—but it's been done.

The thing we're driving at sounds like an invention from a Rube Goldberg cartoon, but after thorough investigation we have been able to ascertain that it is the real McCoy.

It's a chicken picker—heavens above!

This demoniac device is in the possession of Carl Capretta, local food merchant. Electrically operated, it picks chickens right down to the last tail feather. No long waiting for the butcher to clean your chickens.

Little man, what now?

"A COMMUNITY FLOWER"

Only one perfect rose out of twenty that grows
Say the experts on botany
I'm sorry to say that I'm blind in that way
They all look perfect to me.
Experts would say if they should come my way
If they were to scrutinize me
After they had read they'd sadly shake their head
And frown at the flaws they'd see

But a rose is a rose I don't care how it grows
If they'd leave that question to me
I'll confess brother I can't tell one from the other
A flower from a sycamore tree.
But whatever the plan for the rose or the man
That's too deep for me to define
I ain't look'n for flaws and this is the cause
My defects are ninety and nine.

I'd like to grow a flower in a rustic green bower
Call it the Lily of the City
In honor of the Hilltop coz that's where I stop
Other places I think of with pity.
I'd grow a nice flower in a lofty near tower
Where all folks could stop and view
A community flower in a rustic green bower
An emblem of the loyal and true.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Editor:

Try to imagine the busiest, noisiest, most confused and industrious place in the U. S. and you will have a good idea of what a crusier in dry dock being repaired is like.

I'll start off with my trip and relate it to you step by step. We left Great Lakes at 9:40 and went in to Chicago where we got our Pullman. The first day we went through Burlington and Des Moines going the length of Iowa; the food was swell. Crossing Nebraska we went through the Royal Gorge over the Continental divide and through Tennessee pass, the highest place in the U. S. that can be reached by train.

We saw Pike's Peak and many others that were higher, including the second and third highest in the U. S. In Utah we saw Salt Lake City, the Great Salt lake, and got a glimpse of the Morman temple. We rode all the way across the Salt lake on the train, first over a fill-in and then a bridge. This is a 12 mile ride and is a sight to see. There were the salt flats and the spot where Campbell made his speed runs.

In Nevada, as well as Colorado, there were a great many mines and there was also—Reno. When we reached California it certainly impressed me. When we started in Illinois everything looked a picture of winter, bleak and desolate. In California the skies are blue, the sun is shining, the grass is green and the flowers are in bloom.

The towns we passed are so clean and pretty with their palms, not drab like the eastern ones. From our ship I can see the twin towers of the San Francisco bridge. After we were assigned our bunks we were allowed to roam the ship and familiarize ourselves with the ship. I went up to the super-structure forward where the forward range finder is located. This is really a powerful telescope so I had a good view of the bridge.

The food aboard ship is good and we sleep in bunks instead of hammocks.

They Defend City Title Hopes

RICHARDS

SWISHER

Upon this enterprising group of Cowboys rests Coach George Williams' hopes for another championship team in the city league. Holdovers from last year's champs are Pitchers Jake Richards and Bob Swisher, Catcher Bill Albert, Third Baseman Dave Wills, Outfielder Dick Smith and Shortstop Don Rogers.

George Ours, Dick Hoover and Jack Kulp will complete the roster of hurlers. Roy Maloney has been looking good at first base. Don Mathews, Don Davis, Phil Wisdom and Ours will be on hand for infield chores while Richards will probably see action at second base and Hoover in right field when they are not doing their turns on the mound. Jack Baird and Earl Bland will complete the outfield and Ray Laughlin and Charles Weidner will augment the catching position.

Clean-up Week To Start On Hilltop On April 28

The week beginning Apr. 28, will be Hilltop Clean-Up Week!

Mayor Floyd Green announced today that he would cooperate with such a move for the Hilltop and would see that the entire city refuse collection force is at work in this community starting that day.

On Monday, Apr. 28, the refuse collection wagons will start at the extreme west end of the city and will work eastward each day until the entire Hilltop has been covered.

A more detailed schedule of their activities will be announced in next week's issue of The Record.

Every Hilltop family is asked to cooperate with the move by having all their ashes piled at the edge of the alley and all refuse cans, etc., in containers that can be emptied into the trucks.

Mayor Green also announced this week that a traffic light would be placed in operation at the intersection of Hague and Sullivant-avs before Apr. 28.

He stated that a survey is now under way on Sullivant-av to determine the need of any additional lights in that street. He pointed out that an increasing speed menace on Sullivant-av must be stopped.

The Spectator

By C. C. Hartley

Thank You Mr. Mayor

The kind of cooperation we like to see was certainly evidenced from Mayor Floyd Green this week when contacted regarding our proposed Clean-Up Campaign for the Hilltop.

He's all for it and is throwing the force of the entire city clean-up squad behind our movement to make it a thorough job. Full details announced elsewhere in this issue.

And then too, he has announced that a traffic light will be erected at the Hague and Sullivant intersection are a few more days roll by and that a further survey of possible needed lights on that street will be made.

Thanks, Floyd! We're sure this will be welcome news to the Hilltop.

Something To Think About

Think this one over: The amount of monthly increase sought by striking men on defense jobs will total about the same as the full monthly wage of the boys who are being drafted for service.

Here Is a Big Year Job

In these days of adding another billion to the national debt or appropriating another billion as easily as batting an eye have you stopped to think just how big a billion is?

A BILLION!

If you look at the second hand of your watch and count every time the hand moves it would take you 11,574 days or 31 years and 259 continuous days of counting before you reach one billion.

Latest estimate is that the U. S. spending for defense alone this year will be nearly 30 billions. This is at the rate of $221 per person, man, woman, child . . . rich or poor.

Every time Congress votes another billion it costs the average citizen and his family about $37.50.

8 Hilltoppers Enter Service

Because of the large number of young men of Ohio volunteering for service with the army, navy and marine corps, most boards have filled their quotas and few new selectees are being sent, it was announced by local boards 11, 12 and 13.

Board 11 sent two men yesterday, but no new selectees were named from either board 12 or 13, although each of the latter sent one replacement.

Those sent from board 11 were Willis E. Ballard, formerly of 36 S. Wheatland-av, and Herman E. Campbell, 445 Helen-st. Carl Hackman, 295 S. Eureka-av, was sent from board 13 as a replacement.

STRUCK BY CAR

While riding his bicycle at West Broad-st and Roys-av, 10-year-old Robert Feustle, 221 Evan-av, was struck by a car Monday. He suffered leg injuries and minor bruises.

Hospital Lights To Attract Good Play

Plans are already under way for the formation of a Columbus Night Softball league to play at the State hospital diamond Wednesday and Friday nights. Play would get under way late in May pending weather conditions that warrant night play.

Some of the fastest competition in the city will again be seen in the circuit of eight teams. At least two Hilltop teams are likely to appear in the roster. Kent's Modern Markets and Shroyer Funeral Home are both planning to enter teams. Other possibilities are Ferguson State Auditors, former state champs, Bobb Chevrolet, Kay Jewelers, Hysells, defending district champions, Neil House, and two speedy colored teams, Timken Roller Bearings, defending champs and Speedway AC.

Chances are good for a girls' night league to play under hospital lights with the fastest quartet of lassie teams in the city. It would be operated as an independent league and play two games on Thursday night.

Five teams are possibilities. Four would be selected from the following: Shroyer Funeral Home, J & K Shoe Co., defending district champs, Timken Roller Bearings, Model Dairy and Willkie Meats.

Scales Services Will Be Tomorrow

Albert L. Scales, 66, of 460 S. Hague-av, founder and owner of the Empire Press Co., died Wednesday morning at his home of a heart attack. The fire department inhalator squad was called, but Mr. Scales was dead before it arrived.

He has been a resident of the Hilltop for 36 years. He was a member of the Printing Pressmen's union, the Hilltop Democratic club and St. Aloysius church.

Mr. Scales is survived by three sons, Larry, Francis and Albert Scales; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Colburn; 18 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in the St. Aloysius church.

Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Four Hilltoppers On Honor Roll at OSU

Two hundred and sixty-five students in the college of arts and sciences, Ohio State university, made the honor roll for the winter quarter, according to Howard L. Hamilton, secretary of the college. Forty-five had perfect grades.

The following Hilltop students have made a point hour ratio of 3.5 or better on the work of the winter quarter:

Franklin Edwards, 103 S. Ogden-av; Marilyn J. Lisle, 2847 Sullivant-av; James R. Looker, 223 Binns-blvd; Wilford E. Neptune, 406 S. Richardson-av.

The West High baseball squad will try for its fourth win this afternoon when the Cowboys furnish opposition to the Central Pirates on the West diamond.

The Central squad lost its initial encounter to the Irish of Aquinas, 12 to 8.

With so many pitchers on its mound staff that three of them play in one game, the West High baseball squad looks like championship material, if its batting percentage can be upped in the next few games.

Coach George Williams stated that he would not name the starting pitcher for this afternoon's encounter until just before the game, but it will be Richards, Kulp, or Hoover, who has already pitched one win this week.

Bob Swisher, another member of the pitching staff, and one that the team is counting on, has been out of school for a week with an infected foot, which will probably hold him from work in any league games for several weeks.

The game will start on the Powell-av field at 4 p. m., it was announced.

Cowboys, Hoover Blank South

In as thrilling a pitcher's battle as any rabid baseball fan could desire to witness, sophomore Dick Hoover set down the South High Bulldogs in a 3 to 0 shut-out. Hoover's 10 strike-outs and one base on balls were nearly matched by the fine hurling of Mickey McDonald, South south-paw, who fanned 10 and allowed two men to walk.

West garnered six hits, one each by McElwee, Rogers, Richards, Meloney, Hoover, and Wills, from the offerings of McDonald, while South managed to get two bingles off Hoover's twirling.

The score was tied until the beginning of the seventh at nothing-all, and Richards blasted a triple into right field setting off the spark that exploded in the Bulldog's faces and blew three tallies across the plate for the Cowboys.

Hoover struck out the first and last men in the last of the seventh, the second man hit a single and the third flew out to center field.

The slight crowd in attendance saw three pitchers in action for West simultaneously; Hoover on the mound, Richards at second, and Ours in the outfield.

Legion Party To Be Apr. 26

Arrangements have been completed for the Camp Chase Post American Legion's twelfth annual birthday party and dance to be held at post headquarters on Saturday night, Apr. 26. Mose M. Williams, 2581 Steele-av, is general chairman of the committee arranging the affair.

Accommodations are being made for about 200 persons and reservations must be made in advance with the committee. Eats will be served cabaret style with tables arranged around the room and dancing in the center. Hal Brown's orchestra is engaged to play for dancing.

Legionnaires and their friends are invited. Tickets may be obtained from any of the following members of the committee: Mr. Williams, Edgar G. Planck, Dr. A. C. Myers, James F. Hurd, William H. Rogers, D. C. Finneran, Ray F. McVay, Arthur J. Bellar, E. H. Brown, M. P. Hain, Ralph C. Schmelzer, Chet Wagner, Dan Stout, Gus A. Russell and Robert Hitchcock.

Petitions Seek School In Westgate

Petitions were being circulated in the Broadview and Westgate sections this week seeking the erection of portable school buildings to take care of children in the first and second grades residing in that area.

G. H. Evans, 312 S. Brinker-av, pointed out that with the continued growth of that territory it is now necessary to transport children from distances ranging up to one and a half miles either to Broad Street or John Burroughs.

Suggested location of the portable buildings, similar to those now in use on W. Mound-st and other sections, would be the 10 acre tract of land owned by the board of education in the area bounded by Fremont, Westgate, Wicklow and Huron avenues. Six petitions were in circulation today and at least four more were expected to be in the hands of workers within a few days. Mr. Evans suggested that any volunteer effort by persons in that community would be appreciated at this time.

Group To Organize

A committee will be organized within a few days to present the signed petitions to the board at its meeting scheduled for May 8.

It is hoped to have action taken so that the buildings could be put in use by the time school opens in the fall.

The territory affected by the petition would be bounded on the north by W. Broad, on the east by Roys, on the south by Sullivant and on the west by Derrer-rd.

Advantages pointed out by the petition would be:

1. Eliminate the transportation of children to the West Broad-st school at Broad-st and Hague-av, a point distant from some children's homes of at least one and one-half miles.
2. Make it possible for children lacking transportation to eat lunch at home.
3. Avoid the crossing of hazardous thoroughfares.
4. Relieve parents of driving to the West Broad-st school morning, noon and afternoon.

The Townsend club No. 7 meets Tuesday evening at the VFW hall, 2393½ W. Broad-st. Walter Woodward, candidate of seventeenth district for congress last fall, will be the speaker. There will be music.

Record Crowds Are Present At Hilltop Easter Services

Ideal Easter weather with temperatures soaring into the 80's during the afternoon filled Hilltop churches to capacity Sunday. Several pastors reported the largest congregations in the history of their churches. People were turned away at several places of worship.

Nearly 10,000 persons packed religious services conducted at various hours of the day, ranging from "sunrise" to evening worship. An additional 5,500 were present at Sunday school and church school.

It is believed that these figures constitute a record high for Easter attendance. It was necessary to hold duplicate services in several churches in order to handle the crowds.

Hundreds of other Hilltoppers attended worship services in other parts of the city where they regularly hold membership or were visitors for the day.

Largest attendance in any Hilltop sanctuary was at St. Aloysius church where three masses were celebrated with approximately 2100 persons attending. Glenwood Methodist reported 675 for Sunday school services—the largest attendance for the day.

Almost 400 new members were accepted into churches of varying denominations. The rite of baptism was given more than 150 others. Good Friday services conducted at Immanuel Baptist church drew over 200.

"Red Birds Are Sailing North"

The train is coming 'round the bend,
Ball players are coming home.
They've seen the southern sun descend,
Now they must start to roam—
Up here around the playing field.
It is stern business now,
Their playing ability must be revealed,
Or go back to the plow.

The boss is watching them in action,
Not what they did last year—
Today is the day to give satisfaction.
Without any doubt or fear.
Great players today are boobs tomorrow,
'Tis not what they did last year,
They must deliver or retire in sorrow,
The game requires high gear.

'Tis not a round of pleasure,
Old timers will tell you so.
If they cannot fill the measure—
Back to the farm they go.
They are playing for our pleasure,
To them business stern and grim,
Daily they must fill the measure,
Players are always on a limb.

Three Salesmen Join Coffman's

Three salesmen have been added to the Kelvinator staff of the Coffman Radio and Electric Co., 2388 W. Broad-st, it was announced this week. The three new representatives, all Hilltoppers, are Edward Kline, Virgil Sullivan and Eldon Fluggle.

The demand for the new Kelvinator Moist-Master refrigerator has prompted Coffman's to purchase the 1941 models in carload lots. Last year the firm led all dealers in the United States in the number of this particular model sold. A complete line of 1941 models are now on display.

The Moist-Master is said to be completely new and different. It is a revolutionary new principle of refrigeration giving the controlled moist cold that most foods need—keeping them fresher for a longer time. There is no need to cover dishes. The giant glass-enclosed "cold-mist" freshener with two glass doors provides super-moist storage for vegetables, salads and left-overs. The crystal-clear glass shelves are easy to keep clean.

BAG LIMIT

I just got a limit—had very good luck
But didn't shoot pheasant, a quail or a duck
I got up quite early and traveled the by-ways
You see, I'm the fiend who shoots road signs on highways.

My very first shot bagged a beautiful SLOW
And I chuckled with glee when I laid that sign low—
Then I sneaked through the grass and I hid among boulders
And knocked over a couple of tender SOFT SHOULDERS.

I got three CITY LIMITS and one sign that read
In arresting black letters LOOK OUT, CURVES AHEAD.
Then I shattered a STOP, but my prize shot, no doubt,
Was the one that demolished a DANGER—BRIDGE OUT.

It was strenuous work, but I've no cause to squawk,
I'm a sharp shootin' champ with an eye like a hawk.
So, if you get lost, or get killed, or pay fines,
You can thank me, Ol' Pal—I'm the fiend that shoots signs.

Berlin-Wolf Motor Firm Occupies Building on Broad-st

Recently moved into new quarters at 1385 W. Broad-st, the Berlin-Wolf Motor Sales is one of the most modern and completely equipped sales and service establishments in central Ohio. The firm handles the complete line of Oldsmobile automobiles and a large selection of used cars.

The new building now in use provides 10,000 square feet of space for new car displays and service quarters. Immediately adjoining is a lot with 5000 square feet of display for used cars.

The old location of the firm at 1354 Sullivant-av will be continued in use for used cars. Twenty-five persons are employed.

The new building introduces many new features. Fluorescent lighting fixtures are used throughout the plant. The storeroom offers space for the displaying of six new Oldsmobiles.

White enamel service benches are used throughout the service department. An under-floor exhaust system carries motor fumes out of the building. The car washing and paint departments are enclosed in glass so that customers may watch work being done without damage to clothing.

Nate Berlin and Sam Wolf are partners in the business which was started in 1933.

The J. C. McCoy Relief corps will meet at Memorial hall on Wednesday, Apr. 23, at 1:30.

West Church League Play To Start May 5

Plans for the organization of a Hilltop or Hilltop and West Side church softball league were in the formative stage this week pending the entry of other churches interested in sponsoring teams.

At present only four teams have definitely committed themselves as desiring membership in the league. There is still time for others to enter, according to Walter Gerber, at the city recreation department.

The first game of the season will be played on May 5, Mr. Gerber said. St. John Lutheran, Burgess Ave. U. B. and Hoge Memorial (two teams) are the entries thus far. If two more teams could be lined up a six-team league of all Hilltop churches could be organized.

Last year the Hilltop and West Side churches were organized into one league played under two divisions.

Hilltop Library Has "Look" For Local Patrons

Patrons of the Hilltop branch library, 21 N. Hague-av, have been enjoying "Look" magazine for the past few months. It is through the courtesy of Dr. Howard Whitehead, 2239 W. Broad-st, who presented the branch library with one year's subscription to the magazine. Worn covers speak eloquently of the pleasure each issue has given.

Since Jan. 2, the Columbus public library and branches have been having a re-registration of all patrons. During January, February and March, 3123 residents of the community re-registered at the Hilltop branch. This is an average of over one thousand per month, but there are still many others who will want to avail themselves of the opportunity to use the branch library. It is no longer necessary for adults to have the signature of a property holder on an application. Just come in, sign your application and take books at the same time. However, children under 16 must have the signature of one parent before cards can be issued to them.

Mrs. Hegenberger Directs Play

The Luther league of St. Matthew's Lutheran church will present "Three Moss Roses," a three-act comedy to be given at the Lutheran Evangelistic center, Gift and State-sts, Friday, Apr. 25, at 8:15 p. m.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Elmer J. Hegenberger, 329 N. Ogden-av.

Those in the cast are: Alice Smith, Dorothy Spangler, Norman Schellhase, Anna Louise Jones, Ellen Lyden, Herbert Wolber, Daisy Mae Dent and Clyde Miller.

Gift Is Offered Each Lady Visitor

A free gift will be presented to any lady who stops in at the Westgate Electric company to attend the open house demonstration of the 1941 line of appliances which includes Philco, Easy, Blackstone, General Electric, Estate, Quad, Sunbeam and Toastmaster.

Miss Helen Graves will be at the store from 2 o'clock until 9 daily, Apr. 17, 18, 19 to demonstrate the new features and design of the Philco refrigerators. The store will be open every evening.

Log rolling in political usage means the trading of political favors. To repair fences means to patch up differences inside a party.

GEORGE SHANK HEARS PASTOR IN LOUISVILLE

George Shank returned recently from Louisville, Ky., where he visited with Rev. C. A. Robertson and family. Rev. Robertson, former pastor of the Indianola Lutheran church, has occupied the pulpit of Calvary Lutheran church in Louisville for the past 11 years.

It was just 11 years ago that Mr. Shank made his last visit with the family and enjoyed hearing Rev. Robertson's first Easter service in the Calvary parish.

Glenwood League To Have Play

The Junior High league of Glenwood Methodist church will present a three-act mystery comedy, "The Haunted Tea Room" on Friday evening, Apr. 25, in Motter hall. In the cast are Betty Yelton, Catherine Wisdom, Betty Williamson, Firmin Moore, Johnnie Herbert, June Ison, Noble Allen, Freddie Rucker and Lois Ray.

Thanks For The Cakes

The most pleasant thing that can happen to a person is a pleasant surprise and we had just that Thursday morning when Ray Hauntz came to the Record office carrying a big three tier cake . . . a birthday cake for The Record.

Ray explains that it's sent with his best wishes for a most pleasant birthday for The Record and incidentally that the staff really should have a big birthday party after putting out a 56 page paper.

This is National Bakers' week too, and that cake was a good example of the good things that come out of Hauntz's bakery. Thanks lots, Ray!

And on Monday afternoon a group of Camp Fire Girls came to the office with a delicious chocolate cake for the event. They are pictured elsewhere in this issue. And to them a hearty, Thanks.

Same Old Story

Seems like the same old story when it comes to trying to get a Wednesday afternoon holiday for the summer by unanimous consent of local merchants. As usual one chain store outfit refuses to cooperate and it is the same one that has usually held out.

Still Selling Florida

Florida's one man chamber of commerce, George Painter, erstwhile Hilltopper, was a caller at this office Tuesday selling us on the idea of a trip to Miami, and incidentally, displaying Florida sunshine that has accumulated all over him this winter, even down to stripping off his shirt in the office to show us a real coat of tan.

George urges us by all means to visit the Fountain of Youth at St. Augustine and tells us if we are there 30 days he can take us in 30 different directions to provide the time of our lives each of the 30 days.

He reports that vegetables are at their best down that way right now and that they are shipping carload after carload of Florida green beans to . . . you'd never guess where . . . California.

O. K. George . . . we'll be seein' you one of these days.

Sunday Edition: Just a few words about the anniversary edition of The Record to be delivered this Sunday a. m. . . . yes, it's free, the one copy. Additional ones may be purchased at the office. And if you were expecting a certain story and it isn't in the paper just look for it at a later date 'cause already we have more type set than we can get in 56 pages.

56 Page Anniversary Edition Of Record Out Sunday

The largest issue of the Hilltop Record ever published will be delivered to your door on Sunday morning, April 27. It will contain 56 pages.

This special edition will commemorate the beginning of the 25th year of publication of The Hilltop Record.

One copy will be delivered to each home. Additional copies may be had at 10c each at the Record office while a limited supply lasts. The paper will be mailed anywhere in the United States for 20c per copy.

This anniversary edition has been in the process of being edited, composed and printed during the past three months. It represents a complete view of the Hilltop, past, present and future.

Clean - Up Drive To Start Monday

Housecleaning time on the Hilltop will not stop with the house this spring. In fact it won't stop until the premises, including the alleys, are left spic and span. Last week Mayor Floyd F. Green proclaimed the week beginning Apr. 28 as Hilltop Clean-Up Week.

The campaign will get under way at 8:30 Monday morning when the rubbish crews will leave the city garages on their way west to Derrer-rd, where the collection of rubbish will begin, at approximately 6 a. m., it was announced by the city refuse collection department.

It is requested that everyone put their refuse into containers. There is a city ordinance to the effect that rubbish that is not in containers does not have to be collected by the rubbish crews.

Tree limbs and long bushes will not be collected with the rubbish, it was stated.

Notices To Be Distributed

The department of refuse collection will distribute cards bearing the approximate time of collection in each district to houses in that district, about 24 hours ahead of the schedule, working east from Derrer-rd.

Hilltoppers are encouraged to get their rubbish cleaned-up even before these cards are received so that there will be no piles of refuse left in the alleys because they were put out too late for collection.

Senior Play Cast Chosen

By Bob Kolesar

The seniors of West High are presenting their class play Thursday and Friday, May 8 and 9, in the school auditorium. The play is a comedy entitled "Ladies of the Jury," written by Fred Ballard. It is to be one of the funniest plays ever presented on the West high stage.

The tentative cast has just been released by Mrs. Hilda Leech, director. The one and only main lead will be played by Dorothy Jones, one evening, and Harriet Simms on the other. They play Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane, a New Jersey socialite who is subpoenaed to serve on the grand jury at a murder trial.

In the supporting cast, in most cases in dual, Eldred Miller makes a good prosecuting attorney; Rome De Victory and Dan Wolfe take the role of defense lawyers. The freak jurors, besides Mrs. Crane, are played by Jackie Cleveland, Jean Dhume, Jean Gulden, Anne Mae Sands, Betty Bull, Jean Stockum, Grace Proctor, Marilyn Rohr, Harriet Englehard, Camille McKee, Tom Dean, Bob Sinclair, David Smith, Dick Jones, John Rogers, Monte Ball, Ed Tarleton, Bill Murray, and Harold Beckett.

The main witnesses have been cast as Clarence Dixon, Patty Corder and Joan Kitchen. Others are, Ellen Crabbe, Ruth Groves, Jim Ogden, Ray McVay and Dick Anthony. The defendent is played by Ann Bennett and Martha Waite.

GOP Club Plans Meeting Thursday

The Eleventh Ward GOP club will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday, May 1, in the K. of P. hall, Burgess and Broad, at 8 o'clock. At 7:45 the executive committee will have a short meeting. It is very important that all members of this committee be present at this time. At 8:30 the club is to be entertained with a varied musical program. President F. E. Robertson urges all members to be present and bring a friend.

IS RECOVERING

Mrs. Mary Bowers is recovering from a recent major operation in White Cross hospital, it is reported.

Shato, Spring Inducted In Service

The selective service boards on the Hilltop reported only two selectees going to camp Wednesday of this week. They were Henry L. Shato, 1960 W. Broad-st, from Board 11, and Lawrence Spring, 460 S. Richardson-av. Shato was an attendant at the State hospital.

The next call will be May 13, it is reported and several selectees will be sent from each of the boards except board 12.

Francis Services Were on Monday

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Mrs. Oris Francis, 91 N. Burgess-av, wife of Dick Francis, former prominent West high athlete. Death occurred last Friday. She was 23.

Mrs. Francis is survived also by an infant son, David Lee Francis; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Forbes; two sisters, Mrs. Eleanor Stewart and Miss Joyce Forbes; and three brothers, Ace, Lane and Howard Forbes.

Burial was by Jerry Spears in the Green Lawn cemetery. Rev. D. S. Mills conducted the service.

New Church To Be Built

Plans are being laid for church building located at Sylvan-av and Crystal Springs-dr to be erected in the Joan Heights addition by the Family Altar league. This section of Columbus is in need of a church building to be used for religious services and as a community center for the people of this neighborhood, especially for the children and young people, it is said.

The Family Altar league has for the past five years been a friend to shut-ins, and hopes to broaden its service with a new church, not only to the shut-ins, but to the entire community.

Rev. Herman Hartwell is the pastor in charge and the church is to be known as the Interdenominational church of the Family Altar league. Various classes of music, singing, art, etc., are being organized for the betterment of the community. Another organization dealing with the problems of the mother and the youth is also being planned.

Rev. Hartwell has been personally interested in the cases of young boys and girls who have been in the court. He intends placing some of them on farms and in various other work in which the youth might be interested. Home missionary work is being stressed by Mr. Hartwell in this campaign for youth and he heartily desires giving them a better chance in life.

Evangelist

Dr. Harding

Dr. U. E. Harding, noted evangelist of Portland, Ore., will speak Monday evening, Apr. 28, at 7:30 in the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, 648 S. Warren-av. He is the only preacher that has ever appeared on that nationally known CBS hook-up on the program "We the People Speak." He will tell about his experience which received associated press comment and headline space for a number of days in many of the leading newspapers of the country. His experience in "Seeing Through the Eyes of the Dead," when he had the cornea of a dead lady's eyes transplanted into his, thereby bringing him vision" will be retold by him along with a message of how he overcame four major handicaps of life.

Local Group Gets Honor From Council

The WaKanYa Camp Fire group, whose guardian is Mrs. Frances Emrick, was recently signally honored by the national council, when this group was judged to have rendered the most outstanding service in Camp Fire work during 1940, and was awarded a medallion for this honor. Only nine of these medallions are awarded each year; one to each of the nine districts in the United States. This district is composed of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and West Virginia.

The award was made to Mrs. Emrick at the local guardians' meeting Tuesday, Apr. 15, at the Camp Fire Girls office.

The district Camp Fire ceremonial will be held at W. Broad-st school this evening at 7:30, with Mrs. Emrick in charge.

Motorcycle Race To Be Sunday

The first race of the Ohioans Motorcycle club will be held Sunday, 2:30 p. m., Fisher-rd and Hague-av. This T. T. course is said to be the fastest in Ohio. There will be a two-star event with prizes amounting to $200.

Headliners for the day will be the national champion J. B. Jones; the Pennsylvania state champion, Johnny Hoefstetter and the Ohio state champion, Louis Atkinson, a Hilltopper residing at 235 S. Waymer Opens In New Location

A. L. "Pop" Waymer is open for business again today in his new location at 2671 Palmetto-av, having just moved his business from 2385 W. Broad-st. Long a familiar figure in the Broad-st sector, he expects to serve his customers in his new location with the same "Waymer quality" in home-killed meats, fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables.

Installed in his new store is a new vegetable rack refrigerated to insure fresh, crisp produce at all times. Refrigerated display cases protect the line of meat products.

Pop's new quarters are between Ogden and Warren-avs. A free delivery service is maintained.

Cowboy Baseballers Have Busy Schedule

After taking one on the chin, the West High Cowboys will attempt to come back fighting from their first loss by capturing all four of the games that are scheduled for the coming week.

This afternoon, the locals will trek to North where they meet the defending state champs in a game scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock. West and North are tied for second place in the city loop race and the game should offer some real ball.

Saturday, the Bucks will meet Greenfield McClain at Greenfield in a game scheduled to begin at 2:30.

The fifth game of the first round will be played Tuesday afternoon at West. The East High Bengals will offer the competition for this game.

Beat Central, 6-5

In their second league victory, the Bucks managed to win by some timely hitting in the seventh inning, but their bats are still too weak to capture any titles, observers believe.

Behind in the fifth inning 5 to 0, after the Central Pirates had blasted starter Jack Kulp from the mound, the West squad was handed three runs on a silver platter when the infield and outfielders from Central ran into each other on two fly balls, and the first baseman dropped one.

Still behind in the last of the seventh, the Cowboys showed some real hitting power after Mathews was safe on an error by the first baseman. Wills connected for a double scoring Mathews and Rogers got a safe hit, scoring Wills and winning the game.

Drop First Game, 9-1

The lack of hitting power was again evident as the Cowboys suffered their first defeat and dropped out of the lead in the city loop.

Dick Hoover, ace West southpaw, was nicked by the Irish's shillelahs for seven hits, but good fielding held the runs down to three.

McQuade struck out 12 West batters in the seven innings. Hoover led the Cowboys in the batting department with one for one and was walked twice by McQuade.

West's lone tally came when Richards tripled and was knocked home by Smith's single.

New Traffic Survey To Start on Sullivant

Meeting with Service Director Grover F. Clements and Paul Maetzel, city engineer, Tuesday noon, a committee of Sullivant-av business people headed by Mary Hantz received little encouragement for a solution to an eastern outlet for traffic from that street.

Asserting that a long sweeping curve from Sandusky and Sullivant into Rich-st just east of McDowell would be prohibitive from a cost standpoint, Maetzel stood firm on his proposal of widening the corners of Sullivant and McDowell and McDowell and Rich as the only feasible solution to the traffic "bottleneck." This suggestion was met with unanimous objection of the committee as being "entirely unsatisfactory."

A new traffic survey of the Sullivant-av sector to show the flow of traffic eastward will get under way as soon as possible by the traffic regulation department, according to Mr. Clements. This suggestion was made after the committee refuted the accuracy of a check made previously at three points near the area involved.

Maetzel was definitely opposed to the committee's proposal of the long curve, saying it was both prohibitive from the standpoint of cost and it involved "bad engineering." He favored extension of McKinley-av and continuation of Mound-st west as being the more practical solutions to easing traffic congestion into the heart of the city.

Would Cost $125,000

"Traffic does not warrant expenditure of money for the expensive proposition that would be involved in the Sullivant-av extension," Mr. Maetzel stated. According to his estimate it would cost approximately $125,000 to acquire the needed property for such an outlet.

It was pointed out by both Director Clements and Maetzel that money would be available for the required paving from the gas tax fund but that the money could not be used to buy up the needed right of way and that the city was not in a position to go ahead with it even if the new traffic survey showed the need.

Members of the committee contend that the [illegible]imate of the valuation of the property is too high.

Hoover Rites Are Today

Funeral services are to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Carl Hoover, Kroger store manager, who died Tuesday, one hour after being shot by a holdup man who attempted to rob his store at 1260 Oak-st. Services will be conducted at the home by A. J. Held. Burial will be at Eastlawn cemetery.

News of his death came as a distinct shock to the Hilltonia addition in which he lived and was well known. The Hoovers reside at 810 Hilltonia-av.

Quick action on the part of Columbus police resulted in capture of the confessed killer, Wayne Thompson, 295½ E. High-st, after he had robbed a second store on the South Side. Thompson will be arraigned Monday morning on a charge of murder in the first degree while perpetrating a robbery. A second indictment containing 12 counts of armed robbery was returned by the grand jury Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Hoover had been in charge of the Oak-st store for the past six years and had been with the company for twelve years previous. He is survived by his wife, Louise; two children, Carol Ruth, 4, and Carl David, 2; his mother, Mrs. Cora Hoover; two sisters, Mrs. Helen Uncles and Mrs. Myrna Hosler and one brother, Burton.

The Rev. Paul C. Kaefer, pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church will have charge of the service.

West Alumni Spring Dance To Be Tomorrow

The West High Alumni Spring dance will take place tomorrow night at the K. of C. ballroom, it was announced by George Hardy, alumni prexy, who invited all West grads to attend.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Jimmy Francis's orchestra, and entertainment for the graduates is being planned. Tickets are $1.00 per couple.

Recreation Center Is Open

The Highland Avenue Community center for Negroes, opened to the public for several weeks, will sponsor a drive to obtain facilities to equip the community center, pictured above, so that the people of Highland community may have a recreation center.

Although the city furnishes one worker, and the WPA furnishes four, neither can give any financial service to the center and the committee that recognized the need for such an institution on the Hilltop has appealed to the general public for aid.

Classes, Recreation Offered

The five workers assigned to the center will hold classes for the children and adults in various lines of work, including music, papercraft, handicraft, sewing and leathercraft.

Church Celebrates Twenty-Third Anniversary April 6

The Hillcrest Baptist church had its inception at a cottage prayer meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Robinson, 2017 Fairmont-av, in the winter of 1916, with seven persons present, Rev. T. F. Chambers, pastor of the First Baptist church, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Lepper, Mrs. Robinson and son, Myles.

Dr. L. W. Doelan who succeeded Dr. Chambers as pastor at First Baptist church revived the idea in 1917, and appointed a committee with himself and H. H. Barker of First Baptist church and Raymond H. Bell of Memorial Baptist church to canvass the territory, with a view to selecting a suitable site for a Baptist church on the Hilltop.

After months of consideration the site at the north east corner of Eldon and Steele-avs, was chosen for the new church. This lot was a part of the Hillcrest park addition, a new development, and the church on its dedication was named the Hillcrest Baptist.

Work Started In 1917

Sponsored and financially supported by officials and members of the First Baptist church, construction of a building was begun Oct. 26, 1917, under the direction of W. E. Knox. The building was rushed to completion and dedicated Apr. 7, 1918.

May 2, 1918, the church was formally recognized as a unit of the Columbus Baptist association. Rev. J. E. Richardson of Westerville served the first six months, followed by Rev. Arthur St. Claire, who served until the installation of the first regular pastor, A. E. Cowley.

E. Ray Evans was the first Sunday school superintendent and served in that capacity for 11 consecutive years.

In 1923 the need for expansion became increasingly pressing. A group of five men, all members of Hillcrest, N. W. Kent, F. G. Kent, W. E. Knox, Albert Peake and E. Ray Evans, purchased a half completed theatre building at the corner of W. Broad-st and Eldon-av. It was in turn offered to the church at cost to them, and to be purchased by the church upon completion of plans and specifications, approved by a building committee of the church, authorized at a business meeting held in July, 1923. The building was remodeled and completed under the direction of Knox & Phillips, contractors, and turned over to the church early in 1924, and formally dedicated Apr. 6, 1924.

Pastors who have served the church are as follows: Rev. A. E. Cowley, 1919 to Sept., 1921; Rev. E. E. McFarland, January, 1922, to February, 1927; Rev. J. H. Hughes, June, 1927, to February, 1930; Rev. Wm. Pfeiffer, May, 1930, to May, 1933; Rev. T. S. Magann, September, 1933, to October, 1937; Rev. Geo. J. MacDonald, November, 1937, and present incumbent.

The present church membership is approximately 450.

April 6, 1941, represents the twenty-third anniversary of the founding of Hillcrest Baptist church and 17 years in present location.

In November, 1937, George J. MacDonald was called to be the pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist church. The early background of the pastor was founded in the old German Baptist church and its various branches. It was in that church that he was ordained.

His education was received at Ashland college and seminary and at Ohio State university. Considerable business training preceded his entry into the ministry. Student pastorate work, a charge of two missionary churches in West Virginia preceeding the depression and he became acting pastor of the church after a five year term with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co.

Since coming to Hillcrest 87 members have been added to the church; vacation Bible schools have been conducted each summer; two BYPU organizations begun; two W. W. G. organizations launched and a forward looking program in many other ways has been launched.

Rev. and Mrs. MacDonald have one child, Joyce Marilyn, a student at West Broad school.

Dr. F. L. Keiser Well Known To Hilltoppers

When Dr. F. L. Keiser first came to the Hilltop and the State Institution for the Feeble-Minded, to relieve Dr. Burns in the summer of 1906, he expected to stay until Dr. Burns returned from his vacation and has been at the institution ever since, except for the winter of 1906, when Dr. Burns returned to his job.

Dr. Keiser graduated from Bryan, Ohio, high school before attending Ohio State university, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1904, and his M. D. in 1907. He also took six months' post graduate work in New York in 1914.

At this time, he recalls that from 11th to 15th avenues across from the Ohio State university, there was nothing but open fields.

After receiving his M. D. degree in 1907, he came to the institution located on the hillside, and found it isolated "in the middle of a lot of big fields and swamps." Dr. Keiser relates his bird study trips were taken into the big swamps around Belvidere and Lechner-avs.

An active participant in community affairs, Dr. Keiser is a member of the Hilltop Business Men's association, of the Columbus Academy of Medicine, the Ohio State Medical society, the American Medical society, the Columbus Neuro-Psychiatric society, and is fellow in the American Association on Mental Deficiency.

After serving as assistant physician of the institution for 17 years he was made superintendent of the institution Feb. 1, 1924, which position he has retained to the present.

"THE HILLTOP RECORD"

Twenty-five years in business
And they are going strong.
That is indeed a fine record
Among this restless throng.
Each weeks the paper is published
And delivered at your door
By a reliable organization
Who never get foot sore.

It is supported by advertisements,
That is their only pay.
Each Friday you'll get the paper
Unless you move away.
Good mechanics live on the Hilltop,
Their service at your command,
They'll give you an estimation
On any work at hand.

The paper is a community venture,
If you are a community man.
You should be proud of this paper
And support it all you can.
It is delivered to you promptly
At no cost to you whatever,
Each Friday you'll get the paper,
No matter what kind of weather.

West Side Motors Largest Auto Firm On West Side

One of the largest automobile dealers on the West Side is the West Side Motors, Inc. Its business tops the half-million dollar mark each year, during which time over 1,000 new and used cars are sold by its sales staff.

The company was originally started in 1925, by its present owners, E. G. Planck and C. A. Althen, at 1354 Sullivant-av.

Previous to their organization of an auto agency, Althen and Planck were associated in the gas and oil business, from 1922 to 1925.

They were both born just west of Columbus, Planck attending school at the old Skidmore building, and at Warren, O., high school. He returned to Columbus in 1914. Althen attended school and business college in the city.

Planck was a mechanic and Althen was a meat man at the Central Market before their business association.

The West Side Motors is a direct factory dealer for Dodge and Plymouth cars, and Dodge "job-rated" trucks. The main office and new car display room is located at 1350 W. Broad, the trucks and used cars are at 1347 W. Broad, and the complete body and fender service and other used cars at the location at 1390 W. Broad.

Dr. L. W. Rohr Is Also Teacher

Dr. Lovell W. Rohr is busy, even for a doctor. He not only takes very good care of a large number of patients but is on the teaching staff of Grant hospital, where for the past four years he has taught obstetrics.

He is also an examiner for Draft Board No. 10, and the newly-elected president of the Columbus Bureau of Medical Economics. This bureau has for the past six years acted as the official business organization for the Columbus Academy of Medicine and the Columbus Dental society.

Two of the bureau's activities are the 24-hour physicians' call service and the budget service. The latter service enables physicians' or dentists' patients to pay for medical care on a monthly payment plan. Other services are a collection department, credit exchange, centralized bookkeeping and clerical assistants for members of the organization.

Dr. Rohr is also representative for the West High Alumni Council of Class of '17; is a graduate of West High and Ohio State university medical college.

He built the special doctors' building at 1251 W. Broad-st, three years ago, and before that his office was located at 1267 W. Broad-st. He has practiced at the two locations since 1929.

Dr. Rohr is married, his wife being the former Miss Marie Kashner, who was instructor and supervisor at Grant hospital. They are the parents of two children, and live at 291 S. Brinker-av.

Dr. Rohr's one hobby is fishing. He is a member of Camp Chase Post 98, V. F. W., and Masonic lodge.

The Alton Flower and Garden club met for their April meeting at the home of Mrs. John Smith on Burgess-av.

8-Team League To Begin Season

Since the announcement made last week by Walter Gerber of the city recreation department that St. John Lutheran, Burgess Avenue U. B. and two teams from Hoge Memorial Presbyterian had made entries in the West Church league, the number of teams increased to six when Glenwood Methodist, defending city champs, and Hillcrest Baptist announced that they would sponsor teams in the league.

Avondale U. B. and West Park Methodist have indicated that they are strongly considering entries, and their decision to do so will make a full eight team league. Play will start Monday evening, May 5, and players are asked to contact managers of the teams as soon as possible.

The Hilltop Record

Beginning Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. 25, No. 1 — The Hilltop, Columbus, O. — Sunday, April 27, 1941

CLEAN-UP DRIVE TO START MONDAY

Today's 56 Page Record Is Largest Ever Published

Here it is . . . the largest issue of The Hilltop Record ever published.

And just by way of explanation . . . it commemorates the beginning of the twenty-fifth year of service of The Record on the Hilltop.

The first issue of The Record came off the press on Apr. 27, 1917. Today's finished product shows in comparison what has happened in the intervening 24 years.

We of The Record staff express our appreciation to all who have helped to make this issue possible. We sincerely hope the paper will be well received and will be retained in many homes for years to come.

Additional copies of this edition may be had at The Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, at 10c each or they will be mailed anywhere in the United States for 20c each.

Starting Our 25th Year Today

Today's issue of The Record commemorates the beginning of the twenty-fifth year of publication of your community paper.

On April 27, 1917, Volume 1, No. 1 of the Hilltop Record was printed by S. J. Westlake. That edition was a little four page paper with pages less than one-fourth the size of the present standard size sheet. And so this 56 page edition, the largest ever published by The Record, is more than 224 times as large as the first copy of The Record.

We of the Record staff are indeed proud of today's paper. We believe it represents about the finest job of this type possible for a community paper to produce.

Five years ago our Historical Progress Edition of 40 pages was judged the best special edition in Ohio that year at the Ohio newspaper show. We like to believe this edition is in a similar class.

But we of the Record do not claim the success of this paper as being due entirely to our efforts but rather to the generous response and hearty cooperation of the business firms of the Hilltop and nearby communities who are represented here-in.

I take this opportunity to thank every business firm and individual represented in these pages. The many advertising messages contained herein attest the optimism of the Hilltop. This edition is a tribute to the forward looking leaders in all phases of our community life.

Likewise I am deeply grateful for the very fine cooperation of every member of the Record editorial, business and mechanical staff. Three months ago we set a goal to be reached in the production of this paper. The finished product represents an accomplishment considerably beyond that goal.

The Record is the oldest of the Columbus community weeklies. We are proud to have contributed in our humble and sincere way to the development of the Hilltop in the past 24 years and sincerely hope we may have an opportunity to serve for many years to come.

This Is The Size of It

A few figures may give a better idea of the size of today's Hilltop Record.

The entire edition weighs a little over five tons. A crew of 22 men of the Orange Shirt Distributors are employed today to deliver it. Three trucks are being used to make the necessary relays of papers to the men.

If the pages were laid end to end the entire edition would form a strip of paper 17½ inches wide and 119 miles long.

All of which is nothing more than to say this is the largest community paper ever issued in Columbus.

Thanks for numerous photographs appearing in this issue of the Record are due Montrose Studios, 101 N. High-st. Also, pictures of the West High seniors on page 1-E were furnished by the Baker Art Gallery and Rembrandt Studios.

Romans Building New Homes

Simultaneously with the increased building program on the Hilltop and throughout the city, the village of Rome has recently seen a miniature building boom taking place. Although the population of the village is only 600, some 20-odd homes were erected during the past year and occupied by the owners. Fully 85% of the residents of Rome are home owners.

Prospects are good for a continuation of the extensive building movement during the next year, it is reported by local realtors.

Some of the attractions which have brought about this increased building program are the accessibility of the village to Columbus by the newly-constructed super-highway, the well-laid town plan, the good sized lots, and the village's own water system. Gas and electricity are also available as is bus service, at a reasonable rate.

The village, which is located seven miles from down-town Columbus, and three miles from the west city limits, has most of its territory north of Broad-st, in what is known as "National Pike Little Farm Add." This territory was developed in the early twenties.

A large portion of the population is employed in Columbus.

Gardens, flowers and small fruit orchards represent the main avocation of a very large number of the folks who like to live at Rome.

Hoon Will Build Shop

Due to an increase in business Clarence N. Hoon, tinner and roofer, announces the plans for construction of a new shop to be located at W. Broad-st and Big Four tracks. The building is scheduled to be completed late in July or August.

The shop will be 50 feet wide and 112 feet long, built of concrete block and providing 5600 square feet of floor space. It will be covered with five ply Texaco asbestos roof.

All new and modern equipment will be installed. When completed the new shop will be able to handle about six times the capacity of the present plant located at 27 N. Powell-av.

At present Hoon has four trucks in operation and one to be delivered soon. He employs a staff of 14 men working every day. The firm has been in business since 1922 and carries out the slogan "Service for you since '22."

West Side Board Has Big Banquet

More than 150 persons attended a special dinner meeting of the West Side Board of Trade in the Southern hotel Thursday night, according to Joseph Linville, 83 S. Eureka-av, president of the group.

Prof. Hoover B. Cotterman of Capital university was guest speaker for the evening. A program of entertainment was presented.

Some Late Copy Omitted From This Issue

Due to a last-minute avalanche of copy, both feature and advertising, many stories and advertisements had to be omitted from this issue of The Hilltop Record.

We are sorry that all contributions could not be handled by our editorial and advertising staffs, but the final "deadline" could not be extended.

All contributions, however, will appear in later issues of the Record.

Hilltopper To Head Eagles Lodge

Ralph Swearengin, 383 Larcomb-av, was selected as the only candidate for the presidency of Columbus Aerie 297 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Election will be held on May 1.

Other nominations include Scott O'Neal, Edward J. Keenan and John Van Rooyen for vice president; Frank D. Grasiel, unopposed for chaplain; Kinnis Fritter, unopposed, for secretary, and James Teal and Augie J. Rehe for treasurer.

President's Greeting

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 2, 1941

Dear Mr. Hartley:

Hearty congratulations on the beginning of the twenty-fifth year of publication of your paper. I trust that through long years to come it will give faithful service to the community by upholding the highest traditions of American journalism.

Very sincerely yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Village of Valleyview Has Many Activities Under Way

Development is proceeding along many lines of activity in the village of Valleyview, according to Mayor Lafayette Wareham, first mayor of the village, and already the traffic, misdemeanor and building codes have been put into effect, streets have been repaired, garbage collection has been instituted, baseball diamonds are being constructed in the park area between Valleyview-dr and Diblee-av.

At present the main objective of committee members and members of council is the organization of a volunteer fire department and the institution of a zoning code for the village. John Webb heads this group.

The police department, headed by Marshal C. D. Blair, three deputy marshals; Henry Whipple, Louis Blum and Paul Wareham, is already functioning, it is stated.

The building code has been put into effect and the following men have been appointed: Emerson Thomen, building inspector; John Ritzman, plumbing inspector; Paul R. Wilcox, electrical inspector; Holland Butler, heating and ventilating inspector.

Four houses are under construction in Valleyview at present and it is reported that several more will be under way in the near future.

At present there are about 135 dwellings in the village, the population of which is approximately 650.

Arch Rogers was elected president pro-tem of the council for 1941. Mayor Wareham is acting chairman of council.

County engineers have been surveying Valleyview-dr for possible widening and straightening of curves with the increase in traffic on that street.

John Ohnsman, chairman of the committee for the parks and recreation, and Paul Wilcox, head of recreation, have the scrapers busy at work smoothing off the ball diamonds which will be in shape by the time spring is well on its way. Construction of two new tennis courts will also be finished before summer is here.

George Halliday is the chairman of the service committee. Ruth Burnside is head of the publicity and welfare committee.

Gale R. King, attorney, has been hard at work with his job as solicitor, as has Thelma Turner and Harry Holroyd, clerk and treasurer, respectively.

Other ordinances are contemplated by various committees and these will be presented at council meetings which are held every other Monday night.

John H. Lucas Claims Longest Residence Here

John H. Lucas, 2438 W. Broad-st, lays claim to the longest period of residence on the Hilltop, although your reporter found him perched on a ladder, cleaning the front-room wallpaper.

Lucas was born in Highland county in 1859 and after spending his early youth in southern Ohio, he came to Columbus and the Hilltop "around 50 years ago."

He recalls the old toll-gate on the National Highway at Oakley-av which served well enough until the Oakley addition was opened. Travelers then went one block south of Broad, into the Oakley addition, and then traveled three blocks, east or west, according to their direction of travel, and returned to Broad, missing the gate and the toll.

All went well until the owners of the toll gate began to smell a detour and moved the toll-gate some four miles west, where the road was bounded on either side by fields.

The mule-drawn street cars of the nineteenth century were also something that Lucas could well remember. He recollects that one of the favorite pranks among the older boys was to get on the back end of the cars and rock them until they fell off the track, whereupon the conductor would have to get out and jack the cars upon the rails again.

One fine day, Lucas related, he arrived at Broad and High just as the car was leaving, but he decided that he would walk to the Hilltop. He started and passed the car twice on his way home; each time it had gotten off the tracks. He arrived at the bottom of the Broad-st hill, the western terminus of the "jackass express," several minutes before the passengers of the car reached the end of the line.

After arriving in Columbus, Lucas started work as a carpenter-contractor and he estimates that he has built more than 50 houses on the Hilltop, including the one he built when he first came to live on Oakley-av. This house is still standing and in use. He also built more than 50 other houses throughout the city, he reports.

One of the old Hilltop landmarks, the old brick school house at the corner of Broad and Harris-av, which he passed once each week as he walked out to Camp Chase to get his mail, was torn down about 46 years ago.

When he first came to Columbus, Lucas stated that its population was about 80,000, and that High-st was lighted by gas lights which were placed on steel arches spanning the street at short intervals.

Bessie Groves Is Winner of First Prize In Record Contest

First prize of a five dollar bill goes to Bessie Swaney Groves, 28 Midland-av, for her entry in the "I Remember" contest conducted in connection with this anniversary edition of The Hilltop Record. Her contribution is printed below.

Second prize of $2 goes to S. J. Westlake, founder of The Record, and third place to Mrs. Arthur Tomlinson, 436 S. Ogden-av. Their letters are printed elsewhere in today's issue. The first prize follows:

I remember that 28 years ago it was reported that the Scioto river dam had given away. The whole city was panic-stricken and an exodus started toward the Hilltop—a haven of safety.

With hundreds of curious and sad folks I stood near the present entrance of Glenwood park and viewed the wild, angry, rampaging waters tossing boats filled with frightened refugees These boats were manned by experienced boatmen from the lakes because of the dangerous waters.

I shall never forget that sight of horror and desolation or the steady stream of rescued humanity as they surged along W. Broad-st crying and shivering from exposure and the loss of worldly possessions and of dear ones.

The Hilltop's engine house, newly erected, became a temporary morgue. for recovered bodies lost in this chaotic nightmare of sorrow.

Refugees were housed in churches, schools and private homes.

Generosity and kindness were manifest everywhere.

I aided at Glenwood church where thousands of every walk and condition of life were fed, clothed and sheltered.

Around two thousand were fed in the old church daily during this crisis.

Church workers were at their post day and night. I never saw so much food prepared and delivered by kind hearted folks, near and far.

Trucks and private cars brought hundreds of pounds of home cooked and dressed meats and other necessities for nourishing the refugees to our church.

Our ladies prepared potato salad by the large galvanized tubfulls and other eatables in like proportions. Not only the healthy

Here Is Bird's Eye View of Hilltop - - - - - - - From 3500 Feet In the Air

This is what the Hilltop looks like from an airplane about 3500 feet overhead. The photo, through courtesy of the Sullivant-av Airport, was taken by Eagle Photograph Co.

Trucks To Make Rounds Next Week

In an effort to enhance the natural beauty of the Hilltop, Mayor Floyd F. Green has placed the entire facilities of the Division of Refuse Collection at the disposal of the community for the entire week of Apr. 28. This Hilltop Clean-Up Week was worked out with city administration following a suggestion by The Hilltop Record.

Starting at Derrer-rd early tomorrow morning city trucks will work east clearing all alleys and curbs of refuse properly placed in containers. Ashes or other refuse lying loose on the ground will not be removed, it was pointed out.

Cards will be sent to each home approximately 24 hours previous to collection and every effort will be made to "clean up" the Hilltop in the week allotted.

These rules are set by the collection department to be followed in preparing refuse for removal. Officials ask the full cooperation of residents so that the work can be speeded up as much as possible.

1. Have all rubbish in containers either at alley, or curb where there is no alley.
2. Rubbish will not be picked up or shoveled from piles on the ground. Ashes must be kept dry.
3. Shrubs must be tied in bundles.
4. Non burnable refuse only will be collected.
5. Burnable refuse such as paper, rags, etc., should be kept either in garbage can or in covered container beside the garbage can and will be picked up by garbage crew.
6. Waste building materials, trees and tree branches must be removed by owners.
7. Garbage must not be placed in with rubbish.

Hilltop Is In U. B. A.

At a meeting of the United Business Men's association at the Neil House, Tuesday, Apr. 22, members of the city council, the fire chief, safety director and representative from the mayor's office were guests.

The United Business Men's Association is made up of 18 members of nine business groups. These associations represent some 818 members, who represent about 11,000 employees.

Members from the Hilltop Business Men's association are Curtis Roberts and Jos. M. Briggs.

Consolidation was completed to further strengthen the organizations and help the work for betterment of the individual communities represented by the various associations.

All's Harmony In Dem. Ranks

Harmony exists in the ranks of the tenth ward Democrats, say members of the local Democratic club. This, they add, is due to the able leadership of Ward Committeeman Oscar Dildine, 384 S. Wayne-av. Dildine is serving his second term as ward committeeman.

According to Dildine, the Tenth Ward Democratic club endeavors to maintain contacts in all parts of the ward and to carry on social as wall as political activities.

"If a local family finds itself in bad circumstances," he said, "we try to tide them over the emergency period by furnishing groceries and clothing."

There is also a ladies auxiliary to the ward organization proper. The ladies hold social meetings once a month.

President of the Tenth Ward Democratic club is C. Ray Grashel; first vice-president, Cecil Sherlock; second vice-president, Paul R. Gulick; secretary, Mrs. Mary Swank, and treasurer, Mrs. Alice Lombard.

Alleys Open

Alleys of the Hilltop Bowling Alleys will be open to the public after 9 p. m. on Fridays from now on, according to Bill Wolfe, owner of recreation center. Completion of league competition on that evening makes this opportunity to bowl at that time possible.

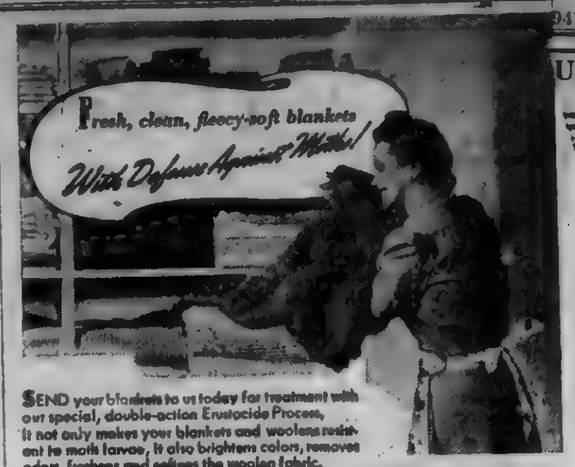
Chet Herbert In Grocery Business For 25 Years



By Jean Louise Young

Current publications are favorite readings of Chet Herbert. He enjoys the Readers Digest and daily newspapers. When asked what he thought of the compulsory training program now in progress he replied "I think it's all right." Though not in active duty he served in World War I.

Chet Herbert operates the Davis and Herbert Market at Burgess and Broad. He has been in the grocery business for 25 years and had no idea of staying in it when he began. "I just took it up because I needed a job!" he said.

The genial grocer was born on a farm in Franklin County. He likes to fish and hunt. Herbert said if he were to retire tomorrow, "I should like to travel over the United States and then live on a small farm."

He lives with his wife, Marie, and their children, John, Anne, Virginia, and Mary at 89 S. Richardson-av.

Groff Mfg. First Columbus Paint

The A. M. Groff Paint Co., 2672 W. Broad-st, had its introduction into the paint business over 50 years ago, having originally been known as Groff Brothers. They manufactured and sold the first prepared paint made in Columbus while located at 15 W. Broad-st. That name can still be seen in the sidewalk in front of that address.

Groff Brothers built and operated the factory of the old Columbus Paint Mfg. Co. which has since passed into other hands but is still remembered by older residents of Columbus.

A. M. Groff, the only surviving brother, continued the business at 106 E. Long-st for 17 years and then moved it to the Hilltop to the present location in the rear of the residence at 2672 W. Broad-st, on Warren-av.

The business is now being operated and managed by his nephew, Carl S. Clover, an experienced paint man who traveled for the O'Brien Varnish and Paint Co. for 20 years. He still sells this line of paints and thinks they are "America's finest finishes."

Murphy Active As A Druggist

Joe Murphy

A Columbus lad, born, raised and educated within the city limits, is Joe Murphy, proprietor of the Murphy Pharmacy, Harris and Sullivant-avs.

Joe attended school at West Broad-st school, Highland-av Junior high, the old West High school, and the College of Pharmacy at the Ohio State university.

After graduating and receiving his bachelor of pharmacy degree in 1933, he worked with the Mykrantz drug store, formerly at Oakley and Broad. After a time he went to the Walgreen Drug Co., and in 1936 opened his own pharmacy at the present location.

Although he does not have much time for fraternal association, he is interested in the community, he states. He has no special hobbies and is a member of Kappa Psi fraternity.

He is married, has one child, Jack, age two years, and resides with his wife, the former Jeannette Bradfute, at 62 S. Terrace-st.

Charlie Kent Has Modern Food Market

By Jean Louise Young

Charlie Kent has the most laughing brown eyes we've seen in quite some time. But then not only do his eyes laugh, because he is full of genuine joviality. He takes a special delight in cheering people, it seems. It's a pleasure to enter his Modern Food Market at the corner of Sullivant and Hague-avs for the mirth that awaits you inside. Kent declares, "If you don't feel good when you come in you will when you go out."

There is a business side to this fellow also. He is endlessly adding appliances to his store. His latest addition is a modern refrigerator that keeps vegetables garden fresh.

Charlie Kent was born in Gallia county, Ohio, and came to Columbus in 1926 at which time he built his home at 323 S. Terrace-st, where he lives at the present time with his wife, Mary.

The hills of southern Ohio attract Kent in the hunting season where he goes with his beagle hounds.

Kent's hobby is his baseball team which nearly always comes out on top or close to it.

Has Own Bakery

A Hilltop resident for the past 21 years, Mrs. Minnie Cruise, 2432 Westwood-dr, has been in the baking business for the past 12 years. She operates Mrs. Cruise's Bakery at 2206 Sullivant-av.

The bakery, which is equipped with all modern baking facilities, can turn out any kind of baking for special occasions, and a complete line of freshly-baked breads and pastries is on sale at the shop each day.

New Kroger Unit Opens On Hilltop

A new and ultra-modern Kroger market is being opened, according to B. P. Redman, branch manager of the Columbus area. Located at the corner of Hague and Sullivant-avs, this new self serve market embraces all of the modern fixtures, and all of the modern conveniences that will meet the demands of the most particular customer.

This new food center occupies more than 4000 square feet of floor space, literally "packed" with finer guaranteed foods, including Kroger's Tenderay beef, Kroger's Clock bread and many fine canned foods carrying the Country Club label.

A free parking space has been provided for the patrons of this market. Of unusual size, this area is well-lighted and has been hard surfaced, solving the parking problems which almost always accompany the motoring shoppers.

A low everyday price policy has been effected in this new self serve and those who prefer to do their food-shopping day by day can enjoy the same low prices as those who purchase the bulk of their food needs on the week-end, Mr. Redman observed. This market will remain open every evening for convenience of those unable to do their marketing in the daytime and the quick check-out service which has been provided reduces the tiresome "waiting in line" to a minimum.

Married Life Not To Interrupt Lumber Business For Annie

The only lumber company in central Ohio, possibly in the United States, run by a woman, is the Phillip McDonald Lumber Co., Eureka-av and Pennsylvania R. R., whose boss is Mrs. Raymond Highfield, daughter of Phillip McDonald, founder of the firm.

Although Mrs. Highfield (formerly Ann McDonald) forsook single existence when she was recently married, she stated that she will not leave the lumber business. She is assisted in the management of the lumber yard by her brothers, Clarence and William.

Despite the fact that Mrs. Highfield had no particular experience in business of running a lumber yard, she entered into it immediately after graduating from school at St. Mary's of the Spring. She graduated on Thursday and came to work on Monday, she stated. She also attended Office Training School.

The McDonald yard sells a complete line of builders' supplies, coal, and do interior and custom millwork.

Mr. and Mrs. Highfield will reside at 3284 Wicklow-rd after May 1.

Lives To Sell and Sells To Live-- That's the Story of Jack Shank

Raconteur, gentleman, good fellow, who plays as hard as he works and gets as much fun out of it,—who believes in selling, lives to sell, and sells to live. Some think he could sell the Swiss government a fleet of battleships, but Jack Shank wouldn't —unless he could also provide it with an enlargement of Lake Geneva.

Few like their jobs as well as he, and in between a dozen stories, you can hear him tell you why. "You can't look anywhere," he says, "but what you see something that someone has sold. Why even the trees—somebody sold the seeds, fertilizer or the land they're growing in."

With everything being sold and everybody buying, the salesman's job is simply a matter of getting there fust with the mostest stuff.

Perhaps it's not as simple as that, but, between stories, Shank will insist that there are only a few simple rules to follow in the business of selling. "A salesman must know his merchandise, from top to bottom; believe that merchandise is good for the customer; and finally, when to quit talking and close the sale," he'll tell you. Anybody who follows those rules, or can apply those rules, will not want for bread and butter, whether he sells mousetraps or shoepolish or concrete mixers.

Jack has been selling since he was a clerk in his father's store at the age of 19. In the decades and decades that have passed since, he's never had a salaried job. He is associated with the firm of Shank and Saunders, real estate, rentals and insurance, with offices at 2459 W. Broad-st.

Harold Fox Has Modern Market

The Fox Food Shop, 2422 W. Broad-st, was purchased by Harold Fox in June, 1937, from the Millikin brothers. Fox was associated with the American Stores in Williamsport, Pa., for the preceding 10 years as the manager of one of their super markets.

The Fox Food Shop operates a credit and service store and streases quality in its merchandise, especially in the meat department.

The grocery carries a complete line of high quality fresh and smoked meats. A complete line of nationally advertised canned goods and merchandise is handled. The produce department is one of the most modern in the city, with fluorescent lighting and refrigeration of all of the produce at all times, keeping it fresh and crisp.

Free delivery service is operated four times each day, anywhere on the Hilltop.

Employees of the store are Claude Andrews, 103 S. Terrace-st, meat manager; Royal Millikin, 77 Eldon-av; Russel Barnett, 2766½ W. Broad-st; Paul Phillips, S. Harris-av; Robert Perry, Whitethorne-av; Irene Skipper, 81 N. Terrace-st.

THE TRAMP

There's many tramps on the highways,
Their raiment faded and thin,
Trav'ling the highways and byways,
Who may be free from sin.
Maybe victims of a certain condition
Over which they had no control,
There's many in that position
Who somehow missed their goal.

Their raiment is a poor criterion
As to what is in their heart,
Whether Methodist or Presbyterian
Perhaps they did their part.
They're not in a place of correction,
That is in their favor you know,
And they may have a clear recollection
Of prosperity not so long ago.

'Tis unfair to judge their appearance,
They may have a heart of gold
Perhaps they had a Christian experience
If their stories were truly told.
There are numerous adverse situations
If they'd come our way today
That might triple the tribulations
Of those tramps along the way.

C. S. PARKS
Broad and Wisconsin

In the last two years, the Allen Milk Co., 1709 Frank-rd, has built an entirely new plant with the most modern of equipment, including the latest delivery trucks. The milk company is one of the finest, from the standpoint of up to the minute facilities, of any in the country.

The company was started about 30 years ago by C. W. Allen, sole owner of the present concern, as a milk route which he delivered himself. He has developed it until there are about 20 regular employees, many of whom are Hilltoppers.

W. A. Roffey, manager, who lives with his wife at 146 S. Harris-av, states that he can remember living on the Hilltop since Broad-st was a gravel road. He recalls walking home many times from the asylum, barefooted on the graveled National Highway.

Roffey was associated with Moores & Ross for 21 years, before coming to the Allen company 10 years ago.

The 10 routes delivered by the company cover all of the city and the larger suburbs, carrying Allen's homogenized Soft-Curd milk, from their registered Guernsey herd, and their specialty, old-fashioned cottage cheese as well as complete line of dairy products.

THE 10TH WARD DEMOCRATIC CLUB

We, Too, Are Proud To Say It's The Beginning of Our

25th Year

Of Service To The Hilltop

Ray G. Hauntz

It is fitting that we extend our congratulations to The Hilltop Record and its staff today on the beginning of their 25th year of service to the Hilltop. Through all these years we have been among the many firm believers in the need of a good community newspaper, and we have always felt we had just that in The Hilltop Record.

And, incidentally, this is the beginning of our 25th year of service to the Hilltop too. Our store was started in the same year the Record first appeared. Over this period of years the Hauntz Food Market has reflected the growth and improvement of the Hilltop community as a whole.

An Editorial

THE Hilltop is a community unlike any other in the city and unlike many in the whole country. You will travel far and wide without finding many communities that will nearly duplicate the type of spirit and cooperation so evident here.

There is a reason for all this. Our neighborliness, our worthy civic promotions, all the good things we have had bestowed upon us as a community, are the result of the concentrated and well confirmed belief that the independent merchant is the backbone of this type of community.

The years past have been fruitfully filled with good things for the Hilltop. All these activities have centered about the efforts of local independent business people who have sought improvement after improvement for the Hilltop.

Today, tomorrow and next year this type of community progress can be made if the people of this community will continue to give their support and encouragement to their local independent merchants.

When you buy from a Hilltop independent merchant you are buying more than merchandise, and something that other business firms have not and will not give you.

Our Organization of 17 People Stands Ready To Serve You

We offer you: The telephone . . . delivery service . . . cheerful, courteous, neat clerks . . . departmentized array of everything a grocery should have . . . nationally advertised high quality merchandise . . . the best in meats and fresh fruits and vegetables kept that way in our modern refrigerated cases . . . our own modern store bakery and a complete line of BirdsEye Frosted Foods . . . friendly, clean, refreshing atmosphere . . . all reflecting the happy development that speaks of refined Hilltop homes and discriminating Hilltop housewives, yet this refinement is without increased cost to you. Our principle of doing business is to give you the highest quality merchandise at prices in keeping with the lowest.

Conveniently arranged display counters contain hundreds of choice items of canned goods and other staple commodities right at your fingertips. You can select from all of the nationally known brands.

Smith's Market handles all nationally known brands of merchandise and a high grade line of meat.

A feature of the produce department is the new refrigerator that keeps the produce fresh and crisp.

Employed at the store are Howard Dawson, Zoltan Paul, John Rogers and Gene Miller.

One of the things that people like to look back on and remember is the friendly atmosphere of the neighborhood grocery store.

The memories that come back to most of us have to do with cracker barrels, salted fish and peppermint candy—memories of neighbors gathering around a dusty coal stove to while away a few idle moments with friendly conversation.

Although the barrels and boxes have long since been replaced by glass covered cases and shiny porcelain refrigerators, the same friendly grocery-store atmosphere persists to a large extent.

In short, the neighborhood grocery store has lost little of its charm. It is an institution as is its proprietor.

The independent grocer is, more often than not, a substantial contributor to the life of the community. Independent grocers on the Hilltop have served the community for many years past. They are sincerely interested in its growth and progress.

The proprietor, himself, is a resident of the community and is an active participant in lodges, churches and civic groups. Many services are rendered entirely without compensation in the interests of the people of the Hilltop.

The quality of merchandise offered for sale at Hilltop independent grocery stores is unusually high and the range of selection is great, while prices are fair in every sense of the word.

Restaurant Can Seat 82 People

Although Lewis Christy and James Phillips, owners of the Biltmore restaurant, 2414 W. Broad-st, have been partners in the restaurant business for over 18 years, the Hilltop has been partaking of their culinary handwork for only the past six years.

Phillips and Christy opened a small lunchroom next door to their present restaurant six years ago and their business so increased that in 1940 they opened their modernistic new building to the public.

They specialize in dinners, for individuals or groups, also short order meals and sandwiches at popular prices. They stress high quality food and courtesy in their relations with the public.

The modernistically furnished restaurant will seat 82 people in its air-conditioned interior and a staff of 14 employees provides efficient service to the Biltmore customers 24 hours a day, every day, as the restaurant is open day and night.

Hauntz Store Is Ultra Modern

A modern store complete with its own bakery and stocked with the highest quality meats, fresh fruits and vegetables, canned goods, frosted foods and every conceivable grocery item is a "bird's eye" picture of Hauntz' Ultra Modern Food Market, 3810 W. Broad-st.

Long recognized as a leader in keeping up to the minute in the newest developments in the food industry, Ray Hauntz, owner of the store, has gained recognition in various trade publications for his work in food merchandising.

The personnel of the store has been selected with the greatest of care. Each person takes a personal interest in knowing customers and their preferences, and each one has a long record of service with the store.

Free copies of Every Woman's Magazine are given away each month to ladies who like to receive it. Each week a circular listing a number of food items in keeping with the season is mailed to customers. Anyone desiring a copy may have one by mailing or leaving their name and address at the store.

Mrs. C. J. Rice Manages Westgate Elec.

Mrs. C. J. Rice

Largest and most modern electrical store in central Ohio is the Westgate Electric shop, 2656 W. Broad, according to Mrs. Cliff Rice, manager of the firm.

Started in 1922 at 2777 W. Broad-st the store was moved to 2772 W. Broad-st where it remained for six years. In October, 1938, Cliff Rice saw the realization of a long planned program when he moved into the new building that now houses the business.

The past three years have required his time out in the field of rural electrification which has taken him into 16 states where his men have wired more than 20,000 homes and have contracts for wiring hundreds more.

The entire first floor of the building is devoted to displaying electrical merchandise. Such well known lines as Westinghouse Laundrymat, refrigerators, ranges and wide selection of small appliances; Philco refrigerators and radios; Estate and Quad gas ranges; Motorola auto radio sets; Easy washers and ironers; Bendix automatic washers; Westinghouse ironers and vacuum cleaners; Telechron and G. E. electric clocks; floor lamps and lighting fixtures by eight leading manufacturers; full line of Sunbeam electric appliances, including Mixmaster, Shavemaster, Toastmaster and waffle irons; hospitality sets; Cory and Silex coffeemakers and numerous items of electrical merchandise.

Despite the large selection offered you pay no more at Westgate for any appliance. In fact you can actually save money on many items because of the buying connections established through large volume of business handled, Mrs. Rice pointed out.

I Remember--

but also the sick were cared for by the cooks. Nothing proved too hard.

I served table with others until blistered feet compelled rest. Then I entered the quartermaster's supply department at Highland Avenue school to aid in investigating and giving supplies to the needy refugees and to those caring for them. Food, clothing, bedding, stoves and necessities of life were distributed freely.

I remember one man, in particular, who begged to aid our work. He had lost home, family and all he had except a door key. He said, "I shall lose my mind if I can't be busy now."

Later old West High classes were transferred to the new West Broad St. school for a few weeks while their school was renovated and made usable.

At this time I was one of six teachers assigned to regular duty in the new elementary school, one of the finest in the city. It was quite exciting to have the high school there, I can assure you.

Refugees were housed there also, before Mr. Magly and his school came.

These are but a few memories salvaged from the hazy past which may prove interesting to your readers.

Mones Drugs Is Modernized

One of the newest and most modern drug stores to be found on the Hilltop is Mone's Drugs, 2109 W. Broad-st, at the corner of Whitethorne.

This store was opened Nov. 8, 1940, by Henry Mone, 238 Binns-blvd, who had previously operated a drug store on W. Broad-st nearer the downtown area.

Completely new, the store is equipped with modern soda fountain and luncheon facilities. It has modernistic furnishings, including fluorescent lighting, stylish show-cases, and an attractive fronting.

Although the store handles a complete line of patent medicines and miscellaneous merchandise, its prescription department is its main department.

Praises Telex Hearing Aid

Marian Weaver Dignan, 2165 N. Fourth-st, is known for her short stories, written in most part in the dialect of the mountaineers, with whom she has spent many years, learning their customs and mannerisms. These delightful stories appear frequently in The Ohio Woman magazine.

Few readers, however, are acquainted with the fact that she is a wearer of a hearing device. In appreciation of the benefits she has received from her Telex, she has written the following poem.

PARADE OF HEARING

From my dull world of jumbled tone,
Of muffled sounds and fear,
I joined the Hearing Parade,
With the help of my Telex Ear.

The music in that marching throng
Is neither of horn or drum,
But the voice of living people,
Of gadgets that click and hum.

Exchanging coins from hand to hand
Cause a merry tinkling clink,
While drops of water, splashing bright,
Play a rhythm in the sink.

The children's cries, or laughter gay,
Are Chimes of Normandy,
And the whispering wind and rain
Are tunes from an old symphony.

No longer do friends shout to me,
No more do I walk alone,
My Telex Ear brings me all sounds
With a clear and perfect tone.

Columbus distributors of the Telex Hearing Aid are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fuller of 137 S. Terrace-st, who have their offices in room 1132 of the Beggs Bldg. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller invite anyone interested in the hearing device to come to their office for a free demonstration and trial.

Will Open New Dance Hall

Tim's Cafe, 778 Sullivant-av, will hold a gala opening for their new dance hall Thursday, May 1. This addition, which was recently built, enables the cafe to seat 100 with adequate room for dancing. Favors will be given to the opening night patrons. An orchestra will furnish music each Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Tim and Kenny Timmons, proprietors of the cafe, stated they wish to thank the public for the patronage which made the expansion possible.

Capretta Has Two Trucks

Capretta's Market, 2006 Sullivant-av, has one of the largest and most efficient delivery services on the Hilltop. Capretta's two trucks each make four trips daily, to all parts of the city.

Carl Capretta, owner of the store, once sold pork chops from a horse drawn meat wagon, and he established an all-time record by selling 237,000 pounds of meat on his route in one week.

The Capretta market is almost entirely a family venture and working with "poppa" Carl in the store are sons: Carl jr., Harold, Robert and Raymond.

The store handles a complete line of high quality fresh and smoked meats, quality produce and a large stock of nationally advertised merchandise.

Howard Taft Operates Broad-Hague Poultry

That Hilltop people like good chicken is attested by the business done each day by the Broad-Hague Poultry Market, 2773 W. Broad St.

This modern poultry market is owned and operated by Howard Taft, 3811 W. Broad St.

Since moving into his new location he has more space. He also has installed a glass enclosed killing room where customers may see their poultry dressed. Taft studied animal husbandry in 1922 and thereby learned the art of properly dressing chickens. Before he opened his business at Broad and Hague he had operated a poultry market at his home for a year and had previously been in business for three years on the North Side.

The Broad-Hague Poultry Market dresses and delivers chickens free. They are ready for the oven or pan. Their eggs are direct from the farm daily and all are candled before selling.

The store is open until 8 p. m. daily and until 10 p. m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

Southworth Boys Started Business In Small Way

A three stall garage, two wash boilers, a wooden table and less capital than would now be required for one day's regular buying made up the capital assets of the Southworth Poultry Co. when it had its inception nine years ago. A will to work and a determination to build something for the future on the part of two boys who didn't know "a hen from a rooster" has developed into one of the most enterprising firms of its kind in central Ohio.

William "Bill" Southworth, just out of Office Training school, and his brother, Marvin, a junior at West High school, were determined to go in business for themselves and the poultry field looked as good as any to them. With the help of Homer Wood, still an employee of the firm, who knew the poultry business, they started out and today four trucks are required to handle the trade.

Just recently they opened a new sales room in a building 28 by 35 where customers can make their purchases without going into the dressing room where the poultry is kept. According to Bill there is no other sales room like it in the city. Here is a large selection of choice eggs and dressed poultry.

At present the business located at 1510 Sullivant-av employs six persons regularly in addition to the owners. During rush seasons as many as 12 are on the payroll. Buying is done within a radius of 75 miles. Daily deliveries are made to every part of the city both to retail trade and to stores, restaurants, clubs, church dinners, etc.

An average turnover of 1500 chickens per week the year around is kept, not to mention turkeys, ducks, geese, rabbits and the full line of poultry products. One room 36 by 35 takes care of the live sales and dressing rooms. Another building, 40 by 96, was erected two years ago and houses storage space for live poultry, trucks and other equipment.

Both Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Southworth, parents of the two boys, devote their time and interest to the business.

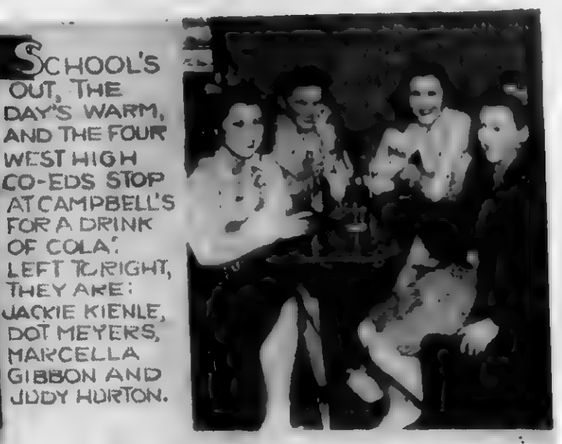
Day Dreamin' Time BUT- There's Rugs, etc. To Beat

Yep, it's spring.

There's a lot of gush about the blush of spring, but there IS a bit of "power and the glory" in the season, and a jubilance of human nature on every hand that's welcome stuff after a rather mild but tedious winter.

It's time to shed our coats and let the sun help slap a little vitamin D into the system. It's time to hit a golf ball or plop a plug or jam a spade into the earth or dream a day dream.



Yep, it's spring. Hitler's gonna try to bust Britain and set up a new order in the world, walls have gotta be washed down or the paper rubbed with a sticky, putty-like substance, and rugs have gotta be beat. Ashes have to be hauled out of the basement, the car's gotta be washed. Yep, we know.

Chorus, Cast Of Minstrel To Be Guests

Next event on the Hilltop Business Men's association schedule is the annual spring dance, to be held this year on Thursday evening, May 15, at the Seneca hotel, President L. E. Saunders announced this week.

The affair, the Hilltop's biggest social event, will honor members of the Hilltop Male Chorus and various members of the cast of the Twelfth Annual Hilltop Minstrel Show.

General chairman of the committee completing arrangements for the event is Dr. W. M. Bates, 2130 Sullivant-av. He is being assisted by Dr. Bruce Tanner, 3 Eldon-av, and Moss M. Williams, 2581 Steele-av. Jack Shank, 2469 W. Broad-st, is in charge of ticket sales and Mrs. Harriet Huff, 2154 Sullivant-av, will be in charge of decorations. Mac Toolil's orchestra will furnish the music.

To Have Bean Dinner

Next project of the association is the planning of the fourth annual bean dinner at Westgate park. To this event will flock thousands of Hilltoppers, as in the two previous years. A large number of special events will mark the program this year, according to Saunders, with one of the big features being a picnic of Hilltop Pioneers. Local residents who have seen the Hilltop grow out of the corn fields will be honored at this affair.

Plans are not completed, but the last week of July will probably be the date of the event.

In addition to this social program, Saunders stated that the association will make every effort to see that Sullivant-av is extended, in such a manner as to join the Main-st bridge and to push the program calling for the conversion of McKinley-av into a main thoroughfare.

Summer Vacation

This will complete the spring and early summer program of the association, prior to a two month period of inactivity usually slated during the vacation period.

Swim Pool Will Open May 30

The Hilltop swimming pool will begin its tenth season under the ownership of Charles Cruea on May 30.

The pool and bath-house will be completely redecorated for the opening date.

On May 1 the skating rink, which also will undergo decorations, will open and will feature moonlight skating.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cruea operate the recreation center of the Hilltop together.

He Is Secretary To Many Groups

C. H. "Doc" Campbell, one of the busiest men on the Hilltop, is along with his many activities, a druggist and operates the Campbell Pharmacy at 2766 W. Broad-st. In 1921 he graduated from the College of Pharmacy at Ohio State university and three years later he opened his own store at its present location.

The drug business however does not get all of his attention. For the past three years he has been serving as secretary of the Hilltop Business Men's association, a job in itself. Ever since the formation of the Hilltop Male chorus in 1931 he has been its secretary. To add to his secretarial duties the Servall Druggist Alliance, of which his store is a member, called on him to act as its secretary. Recently he received an appointment to the City Board of Health.

Just to top off an already busy career he is active on the troop committee of Troop 18, the park committee of Pack 17 and holds membership in the West Gate Lodge of Masons and the Capp Chase Post of American Legion.

Street Names Change

Before W. Broad-st was paved, Claredon-av was known as Price-av and Wheatland-av was called Maple-st.

by John Wolfe — The LOOKOUT

Purely personal pish-posh and piffle: Just can't stand such advertising as that put out for a pipe tobacco that smokes 73 degrees cooler . . . Cooler than what? . . . Or 28 per cent less nicotine in certain cigarettes . . . Less than what? . . . Or our cigarettes contain less manure than the average of the four other leading brands . . . The catch, there, folks, is that word "average" . . . Or the breakfast food that is so good for you with cream and some kind of fruit like peaches and bananas . . . Hell, so's sawdust!

Things that go through my mind in nostalgic moments: The late Cliff Kohn's unruffled composure . . . Doc Sulzebger orating at Davis' noonday round table . . . The beautiful redbud tree at Burgess and Olive . . . The cow that used to be pastured back of the Weber estate . . . The late Dib Deshler's lionhearted tackle play at West High . . . The rear view of Geo. Hardy headed for an umpire . . . Lying on the lawn at midnite at Harris and Broad, listening to Tag Draper talk astronomy . . . Speedy Kent speeding to first base on a slow roller down third . . . Good natured, hearty laughter of Pat Griffin and Charlie Kent . . . Apartment 1, Dixie, on Sullivant . . . old Troop 45 . . .

Dots and dashes—A nod to Woody Owens and thanks for the letters . . . Paul Casey and Al Blumer, not seen in yars, look not a day older than when they were playing ball for Peg Fuller's late twenties ball teams at West High . . . Esther Owens still goes in for strolling . . . Bill Pearch is still with the Akron Porcelain Co. . . . The Ralph Welches of Rochester, N. Y., have a lad born in Dec. named Chip . . . Elmer R. Smith, the M. D., has been back in Panama for a year . . . What became of the AAPO? . . . A boy is the addition at the Dick Bacsman's . . . Roody Baesman is wed and lives in Philly.

Useless information I picked up on the Hilltop and still carry around: 2260, the number of soldiers buried at Camp Chase . . . 6685, the old Hilltop Record phone number . . . 106, the temperature at Peoria, Ill., when Art Bellar post-carded me in 1937 or '36 . . . 143, the number of gallons of ice cream sold in one day by a local ice cream establishment . . . 34, the price of country c[illegible] butter when I worked at Kroger's.

Spring Sports Prognostications: Ohio State to lose four games next fall . . . West baseballers to take the city title, possibly the district, and to run well for the state championship . . . The Hitlers to take the Churchills in the semi-finals, with Roosevelts having a slight edge on the Nazis in the grand finale . . . Yanks to whip Cleveland and the Cards to continue mastering the Reds

Looking Forward to the Day: When I can buy a shave . . . and cease, as Taylor the barber describes it, "this standing in front of a mirror making faces and hacking away" . . . when I can meet a quoter who doesn't quote from the current issue of the Reader's Digest . . . When I can have a garden equipped with a man with a hoe. Who's lazy? The guy who has woods dirt hauled in his back yard so he can dig and peck in it, or the bird who goes out to the woods to paw around?

Oh well, whatza difference, it's spring . . .

Ah lovely spring,
You winsome thing,
I think, by jing,
I'll have to sing.
Selah.

There yare, EW, a jubilant flood of zing in the spring.

14,568 Hilltoppers Have Utilized Hilltop Branch Library In 12 Years of Existence

Since the time it opened its doors in the autumn of 1928, the Hilltop branch library on N. Hague-av has become one of the most popular and cherished institutions in the community.

Children and adults alike spend many happy hours browsing among the thousands of books which are available there.

Early in 1928 city council appropriated funds for establishing four branch libraries in Columbus and on Oct. 4, 1928, the Hilltop branch library, located at 21 N. Hague-av, was opened to the public.

At the time of opening the branch had 1800 volumes, consisting of a representative collection of reference, adult and juvenile books.

Three months later the book collection totalled 2628 and, by year to year additions, has at present come to amount to 11,273 volumes. Over a thousand volumes were added in 1940.

Over the 12-year period of the library's operation, 14,568 persons have enrolled.

During 1940 there were 101,923 books issued from the local branch and 51,307 periodicals and reference books, making a total of 153,130 units issued.

Over the years of service to the community, the Hilltop library has led all other branches in the city in the total number of members and services.

The branch subscribes to 48 periodicals, including the daily and Sunday local newspapers and the New York Times.

Branch librarian is Mildred Phalor, 125 N. Powell-av; first assistant, Mrs. Nannie Currier, 48 Eldon-av; and second assistant, Mrs. Norman Line, 81 Belvidere-av.

Dorothy Hauntz, Martha Mitchell and Peggy Rector are part-time assistants.

For the past few years classes from the West Broad school have been held several times each week in the library. Several hundred county patrons are served from the local branch through the county-wide service program.

IT'S SPRINGTIME ------ AND HILLTOP POETS PRESENT THEIR BEST TRANQUILITY

I have no need for sleep
When these things give me rest:
Quiet tones of the cello deep
And violins that crest
The rich, melodious waves
And purging weariness, reach
The soul, as the ocean waves
Clean the rippling beach.

None of Morpheus' dreams need I,
My own dreams are so sweet,
When the trees' moon-shadows lie
On the carpet at my feet.
The fire burns low and a plume
Of my cigaret's fragrant smoke
Wafts about the room
In the forms my fancies evoke.

The pillow still holds no lure;
I turn on the rosy light.
My eyes are eager to endure
Another sleepless night.
Impalpably, I immerse
My senses in the quiet streams;
In the sweet-flowing, lilting verse
Of another poet's dreams.

Hazel Landin,
110 S. Westgate-av.

SYMPHONY

Instead of dwelling placidly
On tawdry city street,
I dwell in an enchanted land,
Transformed by snow and sleet.
Some fairy fingers, witchingly,
While pregnant night hung low
Composed an icy symphony
Of discordant scenes below.
This chaste, stalagmite morning
I soar over earthly things.
Released, like prisoned swallows,
My captive thoughts find wings!

Florence Denham,
178 N. Eureka-av.

PRAYER FOR THE BLIND

The man is blind. A pleading anguished cry
Lifts from my heart for those who have not seen
A crimson rose, a bronze-gold butterfly,
And autumn hills or fields of emerald green.

What lies beyond the doors closed to the light . . .
Is there but darkness or is there unfurled
Before their clouded vision scenes more bright
Than all this radiant, pulsing, singing world?

Forever blind. God, send them loveliness
Greater than those who see can ever know,
Some compensation that will heal and bless
Those who must ever feel the way they go.

Virginia Eaton,
418 S. Roys-av.

NO ONE KNEW

No one knew her need of bread,
Of hungry children to be fed;
No one knew her house was cold
For lack of fuel. With cares untold,
She bravely lifted her head high While gazing far beyond the sky . . .
But angels watching as she trod
Knew she was looking up to God!

Ethel Titus Worthen,
216 S. Terrace-av.

NEED

When death becomes a personal thing—
Own grief to bear—own tears to shed—
One loses one's philosophy about the dead
And lives in days of agony and nights of dread.

We need our faith in resurrection—
We need our hope beyond the [redacted]
For human help is sweet and will-
[redacted]
But reassurance comes from God.

Cora K. Gooch,
511 Columbian-av.

EACH IN HIS OWN MAD WAY

She hugs the radio and haunts the theatres,
And raves of programs and of plays,
She rides all night, or dances,
And drudges at a notion-counter through her days . . .

They who scorn to waste their time so foolishly,
Yet are themselves so ill content
With wisps of song, or phrases dug from musty books—
Who can pretend their time is better spent?

Claudia M. Adams,
433 S. Warren-av.

IT'S A LONG ROAD

It's a long road we travel,
With many a twist and turn;
We never follow the straight path,
'Cause by experience we learn.

This road slopes up, around, and down,
Over the hills, mountains, and dale;
And you always know you're coming,
To the end of a life long trail.

Oh, for the life of a wanderer,
A vagabond in this world of plenty
To live and learn off the fat of the land,
And never work for a penny.

—Grace Proctor

SIGNS OF SPRING

A saucy robin, pert and bold,
Hunting for worms in the soft,
moist wold;
Many salesmen at your door
With gadgets you never saw before;
Children playing in glad content
Happy because the winter is spent;
Cars passing by, bedecked with poles
And headed for favorite angling holes.
But the very most certain sign of all
Is miladv. Her heart has heard the call
And out she steps in her perky new hat—
A very wondrous creation, that Set at an angle quite so—Makes her mistress of all she surveys, you know.
For new hats are a tonic you will find,
When miladv's steps tend to lag behind.

DISCIPLINE

Sing your little songs, O foolish woman:
Burn your little candle in the sun:
Weep your silly tears for love soon ending!
Know that all stars burn out one by one.

I'll sing my little songs, O bitter
Life:
I'll guard my little candle in the sun;
With tears I'll lay the dust of broken dreams
And sing of love when all the stars are gone.

Gertrude Weaver (Mrs. C. L.)
367 Derrer-rd.

WHITE PRIMROSES

Fragile white primroses
Blowing in the breeze,
You seem to be so happy there
Beneath the orchard trees.

Your petals are like moth wings
Fluttering in the night,
Or tiny sails on fairy ships
Gleaming softly white.

Or the wistful ghosts of hawthorn bloom
That blossomed late in May;
Smiled in the sun a little while
Then faded and passed away.

Rosemary E. Gooch,
511 Columbian-av.

THE HOMECOMING

I saw them all that day,
And shook their hands,
Beneath the trees, where as a girl
I played.
Some forms were bent,
And snowy was their hair;
They passed before me in a strange parade.

Are these the ones I knew
When life was in its spring?
When light of heart, we danced
the "Money Musk,"
The same old friends.
Oh, those were happy days,
We live them over, in the gathering dusk.

Myrtle Bennett,
146 Columbian-av.

FROST

A thief came to my garden in the night,
But in a fair disguise, a bright
Cloak that for a few short hours
Holds in living death the lovely flowers,
Flowers beneath a mantle of white lace
Lift sparkling faces to the sky;
As they grew and lived in beauty,
Caught in loveliness they die;
Their leaves a fairy fretwork
green and white,
Weave a last dream in morning light.
If we could thus hold up our heads to fate,
Our passing might be fair to contemplate.

Mabel Nader Jones,
75 N. Ogden-av.

THE PATH OF YESTERDAY

I would not stroll again adown
The path of yesterday,
For fear my wayward, wandering feet
Might somehow go astray.
I would not, could I, live again
The scenes to memory dear,
For they might not as happy be
As in the yesteryear.

For could my youth come back to me;
My heart with rapture swell,
I would not chance it all again
(Fame is an empty shell)
I much prefer to dream it over
And know that all is well.

Ada May Dyer,
272 S. Hague-av.

BEAUTY

I stored my cares away, to dream
And write with beauty for my theme,
I searched for it with earnest
lore
Far from the confines of my door.
To palaces across the sea—
From landscape plots—my fixed decree.
Pegasus brought me home again
To Ohio's gardens, and then
I found it in her flowering yards,
Her wooded hills and boulevards.
So near my door, from God's earth-loom,
Beauty biding in clover bloom.
Pressed deep in her youths of today;
Molded temples of living clay.

Mary Rutan Byerly,
346 S. Harris-av.

OUR POEMS

A poem is a picture of the soul
Of him who writes. A sorrow or a joy,
A sacred hope that haunting doubts alloy,
With urge resistless oft his song control;
Of dream of love his meter must extol.
Oft disappointments sad his verse employ;
Or message sweet to someone false or coy.
These pass the mind; of heart they take full toll.

Too sacred all are these for public gaze;
Reserved at most for a selected few.
When from the fount of love his best is said,
The poet then to one his homage pays.
Some things are laid not bare,
oh friend, to you;
To you our sweetest poems are not read

EACH DAY

I love and enjoy each God-given
day
Whether lashed by storm or cheered by sun.
For behind the clouds I sense a ray
Of everlasting dawn after night has gone.
And the rains and winds bring treasures
That I enjoy and feel
As the sun-tinted mists await new pleasures
And I see and know that God is real.

HAPPINESS

Happiness isn't something given
To a special chosen few;
Not a matter of chance or fate,
In fact, it may come to you.

Happiness isn't a synonym
Of wealth, or fame, or power,
But instead it is a blessing
Which may be yours this hour.

You then can find this great treasure
Of which you so want a part,
If in your search you lose yourself
And find another's heart.

—Jean Elaine Ett,
176 North Warren Ave.

AMERICANS

I am an American, and so are you.
I am proud of America; you are,
too.
Never would we do anything
To disgrace our land—
We love America;
We think it grand.
You and I,
As good Americans, should Do everything we can
For our country's good.

Boy Scout Troop 181,
125 Clarendon Avenue

BEAUTIFUL STATE OF OHIO

Ohio has no ocean blue
To pound against the shores,
To rave and storm and cause much grief
And drown us with its roars.

We raise our crops as best we can.
And work to make a living.
Characteristics of the Ohioan,
Trading receiving, giving.

Ohio is rich in minerals,
In crops and people too,
I like to live in Ohio.
And to our state be true.

To me, Ohio is the state
That's best of all the forty-eight.

Beautiful Jesus, Joy of my soul,
When tempests rage and billows

Beautiful Jesus the Glorious

The Door of Salvation is Jesus,

Beautiful Jesus, Lamb of the Blessed Redeemer, joys untold.

Hark, listen, God's voice is waft-

"This is My Beloved Son in Whom I'm well pleased."

Beautiful Jesus, Father, Son and

Of those whom I love, the God
Head I love most.
My love with these I equally

Beautiful Trinity doth my soul

I WOULDN'T COME BACK

I know nothing of any planet—
Nor how far they are away,
Whether limestone, clay or granite—
I'd go there without delay.
I would leave this hemisphere
And go where they do not fight.
Gun smoke's in the atmosphere;
I'm restless day and night.

Great mysteries I would unravel;
Find a planet in the breeze
And immediately start to travel—
One way, if you please.

WHAT IS YOUR LIFE?

Luke 12:15

What is this life we so much prize?
What is its mission here?
To simply seek what satisfies
Of earthly things that we hold
dear;

Is life just vanity and show,
A shadow or a cheat?
No life is real, we should know—
To each one life is sweet.

For food and clothing we have need
Our Savior never denied
But first to God's command take heed;
All else will be supplied.

For me, to live is Christ.
To live and serve mankind;
To help and answer each and all,
Life's mission there we'll find.

—Rev. P. W. Drumm.

DEAR BILL

Now that you are leaving me
A thought I'd send with you:
Whatever you do, wherever you go,
To thyself be true.

When at last you have arrived
And look around and see How Bill stayed with you all the way,
How happy you will be.

He stays when all the rest
Have found in life a place.
When they no longer know your [redacted]
Or even know your face.

When all looks dark and gloomy
Look in the glass and say
"Bill, you and I have things to do,
Come on and lead the way."

HANDS

Beautiful hands so full of grace,
Painted, tapering finger tips,
Soft and white as duchess lace
Gallantly raised to adoring lips.

Withered hands that speak of toil,
Hardened and worn with care
Rough and reddened by work and soil
Yet to her children, fair.

THE BACHELOR GIRL

I've no dishes to wash; no dusting to do;
No household budgets enslave
me;
I've no husband to ask what became of the dime
Which, last month, he so generously gave me.

I don't have to mend trousers overalls, socks,
Pajamas, ad infinitum
Or "tremble with fear" when he makes with a frown
(Some wives are so meek, I could bite 'em!)

I've no husband to scowl if the roast's a bit black
Or to tell blonds I don't under-

Once I almost had one, but he got away.
Though I did my darndest toland him.

SORROWS MASQUERADE

The sunny smile or merry jest
May not bespeak a carefree breast;
They are, perchance, a painted screen
That keeps an aching heart unseen,
You see the joys we seem to feel
Know not the sorrows we conceal;
The laugh that speaks a lack of care
May hurl defiance at despair.
So thank the friend who does not tell
The heart-sick hours he knows so well,
Else views to you where sunbeams rise
Would often turn to clouded skies.

George E. Wagner.

WONDERING

I wonder if sunshine like molten gold
Is falling on a sea of apple bloom,
And if bird choirs are trilling matins there
Through the still air heavy with perfume.
I wonder if on the horizon's blue
A fleecy cloud drifts lazily, alone,
And if with the soft humming of the bees
There mingles low a lover's tender tone.

I wonder if the rippling brook still sings
The glory and the wonder of the spring—
I wonder if, when apple orchards bloom,
Across the years you are remembering.

Ola Runyan,
126 S. Wayne-av.

CRYPTIC LOVE

In the quiet of my room at night
I see you standing there,
Your hands, your lips, your laughing eyes,
To me they are most fair.
If I but speak, you disappear,
But this not for long;
Soon you return more beautiful
Than any poet's song.
If I could tell you of my love
And thus relieve my plight
Which overcomes me in the day
And haunts me in the night,
Perhaps some day you'll understand
And know the meaning true,
For from the day that we first met
My love, my all—is you.

IN RETROSPECT

Chicago, what is your beauty of face but the paint of a harlot?
Chicago, the jewels of concrete and stone at your heart are great tombstones.
Beneath all refinements the maggots are writhing.

Clarence Lahr Weaver,
367 Derrer-fd.

APPRECIATION

Morning mists are clearing,
All is peaceful rest.
The poplars only—never motionless—
Tremble and dance in breathless ecstasy
And seem to whisper with my throbbing heart
What I can never tell, the wonder of your care
And gentleness with me.

Edith Gortner,
437 S. Chase-av.

WOUNDED

Into your keeping, I had given my soul
With a blind trust. Grasping this dust of gold,
You danced your way with gay, ecstatic tread
Across the pathway of my soul that I had spread
Under your feet. You could not know
A soul is fragile, white and wounded so.

Barbara G. Littman,
719 Racine-av.

John Burroughs PTA Has Aided School In Many Ways

On Jan. 13, 1922, a few interested parents, Miss Daisy I. Charters, the principal of the newly-opened John Burroughs school, and a corps of 17 teachers met and organized the first John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. O. C. Montgomery; first vice-president, Miss Daisy I. Charters; second vice-president, A. A. Naltner; secretary, Miss Edna Baird; treasurer, C. J. Knisely.

Fifty-two members joined that night and by June, 1922, the membership was 92.

As soon as the parents of this section of the Hilltop realized the worthwhile purposes of the organization, the membership grew steadily until in 1934-35 the John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association had the largest membership in the state of Ohio.

In 1922 the grounds around the new school were clay fields, so the Parent-Teacher association, under the guidance of Miss Daisy I. Charters began to beautify them. Since then the Parent-Teacher association has made beautification one of its objectives.

Since 1922 welfare work has been one of the major activities of the John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association. Each year finds the organization extending its welfare program. Time and space will not permit the mentioning of the many worthwhile services given to the school, and the community by this organization.

Many members can vividly recall the first benefit picture show sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association in 1925. The Rivoli was the only theatre on the Hilltop at that time, so parents, friends, children and teachers walked to Broad-st to patronize their first movie. Since then the benefit picture show has been an annual affair.

Parents and teachers of John Burroughs school soon recognized the need for a closer relationship between them. They began to plan annual banquets, noon luncheons, and informal teas, where parents and teachers could have the opportunity to become better acquainted. Another annual social activity at John Burroughs school is the farewell party given in honor of the 6A classes by the Parent-Teacher association. This school party is enjoyed and looked forward to by all the 6A boys and girls.

In 1930 the Parent-Teacher association assumed the responsibility of donating funds annually for the purchase of books for the room libraries. The first donation was $30, but soon the organization saw a greater need for purchasing more children's books and raised the amount to $200 annually. This donation makes it possible for the boys and girls to become better acquainted with a greater selection of outstanding fictional and informational books, covering a wide range of interests and age levels.

The Hilltop had the opportunity to enjoy the first Mothersingers' minstrel show in 1935. Since that time the minstrel show has been an outstanding feature of the organization. The Mothersingers organized in 1931 with Mrs. Helen Kirkpatrick as musical director. They have always taken a very active part in the activities and projects of the school and community. Mrs. Bartha Masters is the present director of the John Burroughs Mothersingers.

In order to understand and guide children, the Parent Study club was organized in 1930. The membership has increased to such an extent that the club was divided into two units, one called the North Study group for the parents living north of Sullivant-av, and the other, the South Study group for those living south of Sullivant-av. The smaller groups provide more opportunity for the discussion of problems which affect children at various levels of growth.

The first Parent-Teacher association bazaar was held in December, 1933. This gave the parents an opportunity to plan, share and enjoy a community project. The Christmas bazaar is still an annual affair at John Burroughs school.

The John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association has always had the promotion of child health and welfare as one of its chief objectives. In 1930 they began to serve milk to the children. The underweight children are furnished free milk if they are unable to pay for it. The mothers take turns in serving milk to approximately 200 children, who receive milk daily.

Another example of the Parent-Teacher association's interest in child welfare was the purchasing of paper slippers and stockings for the children to use on rainy days.

Frequently the John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association has financed and sponsored educational films for the children. Under the guidance of E. B. Graham, the present principal, this organization has helped to purchase much modern visual educational equipment, thus giving the school the opportunity to build up a very progressive and worthwhile visual educational program.

The program committees of the John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association have always been on the alert to secure the best available speakers and authorities on the vital subjects pertaining to their objectives.

Today the John Burroughs Parent-Teacher association under the leadership of its president, Mrs. James C. Camp, is fully conscious of the great responsibility that rests upon this organization and is striving to be of greater service in promoting the democratic way of life.

After The 1913 Waters Subsided

After the waters which roared down the Scioto Valley in 1913, taking with them scores of lives and homes, subsided, the above picture was taken.

Most of the individuals in the group did rescue work during the castrophe.

Sitting on the edge of the boat, fourth from the left, is John Bentz. Sitting to the right of him are his brothers, Frank and William Bentz.

The gentleman standing in the water, holding what appears to be a frayed oar, is John Wade. To the right of him is Mart Vogel. At the extreme right is Sidney Wright.

The colored man standing in the boat is named Washington. The name of the tall policeman in the back row is Mathison and the man immediately to the left of the other police officer is named Mason.

According to Fred Donley, who does not appear in the picture, Washington and Wade should have had medals for bravery during the flood. "They didn't hesitate to go right out into the worst of it," he said. "The three Bentz brothers also risked their necks more than once," he added.

The picture was taken at the corner of Princeton and Sullivant-ave looking east. In the background a box car, which had been placed on the viaduct to hold it down, lays crosswise in the street. The photo was loaned by Miss Mary Bentz.

I Remember

About 22 years ago, when I was just a small girl of nine, I recall the first airplane ever to land on the Hilltop. I saw it circling around Sullivant-av, and everybody said it was going to land, so, immediately, my sister and I started running, and shouted to everyone we saw on the way. Instantly they started following, people were running from all directions, and when we finally reached the place it was around Hilltonia-av (that was before F of Sullivant was built up).

There were so many people and so much excitement, I'll never forget the thrill of seeing that first airplane.

Seiller Store Advertised In First Issue of Record

M. W. Seiller

"Let's go to Seiller's" has been a household phrase on the Hilltop for a great number of years. In fact, back when the Record first made its appearance this was one of the first advertisers in the paper.

The Seiller department store, largest of its kind in suburban Columbus, has been selling clothing and dry goods to the Hilltop citizenry for 32 years.

This store was founded in 1909 by L. M. Seiller, in the building which now houses the Economy Variety store. In 1911 Mr. Seiller purchased the lot adjacent and built the present store building.

M. W. Seiller, who had worked as a traveling salesman for a dry goods concern and operated his own store at Crestline, O., came to the Hilltop in 1919 and went into a partnership with his brother, L. M., and the store was known as the Seiller Bros. store.

In 1921 M. W. Seiller bought the entire concern and business continued to increase. In 1923 an addition was built on the back of the store. In 1929 the large room to the west was added, and in 1939 a basement store was added.

The store was incorporated under the name of Seiller's, by M. W. Seiller, Jack Merriman and Paul Leighninger, on Mar. 15, 1940.

A large stock of men's, women's and children's ready-to-wear clothing is handled by the store, as well as haberdashery, household furnishings, draperies, and a complete line of rugs and floor coverings.

Mr. Prince was born and raised in Iowa, where the corn grows tall and the corn stories grow still taller. Most of his life has been spent as a retail furniture dealer, which probably accounts for his interest in homes. His chief avocational interests are horses and golf.

Mr. Prince and family have recently moved from Algonquin-av to their new home facing Holton park, which has attracted much attention among those who prefer a medium-priced compact home. Plans and construction are by Ken-Dickerson, Inc.

Edna Richmond Active In Insurance

Edna A. Richmond

Miss Edna A. Richmond, who has lived on the Hilltop at 81 S. Harris-av for 18 years, is an authority on the value of life insurance, especially its value to modern women. Recently she addressed Altrusans at the Neil House on the subject, "What Life Insurance Is Doing for Women."

A Canadian by birth, Miss Richmond is now a citizen of the United States, has attended both Rochester and Chicago universities and has been a school teacher. For more than 20 years she has been engaged in her present work, always with the same company.

Formerly secretary of the board of the YWCA, Miss Richmond is at present a member of Columbus Life Underwriters and has been for a number of years a member of Midland's Leader club. She was also formerly vice-president of Columbus Altrusa, largest Altrusa in the world.

Miss Richmond has performed many helpful services for residents of the Hilltop area through her connection with Tice & Jeffers, for Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co.

In 1932 she organized Unit No. 23 of the Salvation Army Auxiliary, serving as chairman of that unit in 1932 and in 1939-40.

Her hobby, antique furniture, has led her to secure some very fine early American pieces for her home.

Councilman

One of the best known of Hilltoppers is Councilman Wyatt L. Millikin who operates a hardware store at Eureka and Broad. He has been instrumental in bringing many needed improvements to the community in the many years he has been in council.

I Remember

I remember the 1913 flood and the experiences are still very vivid in my memory as I started down town that morning at eight o'clock to fill an engagement with my dentist. When I got to Central av. the water was rising rapidly. The Broad St. car stopped and could go no further, so every one started back to the Hilltop, walking. Anything to reach safety!

When I reached home all the gas fires were out and seven people were in the house. My daughter was home and all stayed with us for two weeks. As we had no fire, we had to go to one of the neighbors to cook on a coal stove.

The men that had gone to work in town did not get back to their homes until three days later by going around north of the city. We were certainly glad to see them.

McVays To Celebrate Silver Wedding Anniversary In New Home June 15

There's one thing uppermost in the mind of Ray McVay these days.

He's building a new home on Alkire-rd, and he's pushing it for all he's worth to have it completed and moved into by June 15 for on that day he and Mrs. McVay will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. Sons Ray and Don and daughter, Agnes, will join in the celebration. The family now lives at 453 S. Warren-av.

Ray is owner of the Bauch Coal Co., 217 W. Main-st. Henry Bauch, 383 Hilltonia-av, is associated with him in the firm. He has been in the coal business since 1922 and has a large number of Hilltop customers. The firm handles all high grade coals, specializing in Monarcoal and Sambo, both West Virginia coals. They also sell Berwin briquets, Semet-Solvay coke and stoker coal.

Ray is a past commander of Camp Chase Post of the American Legion in 1937-38. He is a baseball enthusiast, having managed the State hospital team for eight years.

He also operates the Ray McVay Co., 217 W. Main-st, selling coal and doing all kinds of concrete construction work. They are fully equipped to do all kinds of concrete work, including sidewalks, curbs, foundations, etc. Son Ray "Bud", jr. is preparing to become active in this business when he graduates from school.

Minnix Offers Building Service

C. W. Minnix has been a citizen of the West Side and the Hilltop since he came to Columbus from Pike county in 1903.

As a young man he worked as a cabinet-maker for the Columbus Casket Co. and the Sun Manufacturing Co. In 1924, he became a general contractor, doing most of his construction work on the Hilltop.

Minnix lives at 583 Nashoba-av with his two daughters, one son, and wife.

He estimates that he has built about 100 dwellings, most of them of the "real home" type. Minnix states that most of the buildings which are being built now, are wooden with some stone in the front walls. The basements of the newer houses are being used as dens and recreation rooms instead of laundry rooms and junk piles only, due in large to the use of more compact heating units.

Delivered Poultry Here Years Ago

E. N. Hart, proprietor of the Powell Avenue Poultry, remembers delivering and selling poultry in downtown Columbus when there wasn't any Hilltop, at least there were no houses to speak of here. He has been in the poultry business for 40 years and "knows his chickens."

Powell Avenue Poultry handles all kinds of poultry, which are dressed and delivered to the customer without any additional charge.

Hart's assistant is William Jones, who has been in the local poultry business for a number of years.

Old Mr. Whosis went to the car to take his family a ride,
But when he got there the gas tank was bare,
And then his small daughter sighed.

You should have filled your tank last night with Bill Coon's Texaco.

George Matson Likes New Job

George Matson

After George Matson was elected county commissioner in November of last year, he didn't just sit around and wait for his term of office to commence.

Instead, he went down to the court house, dug down deep into the dusty files, read books on county government, talked with old-time officials, took notes and by Jan. 1, was prepared to take up his new duties with some conception of what the job was about.

"In the four months that have elapsed since we, the commissioners, took office, said Matson, "we have built up a solid foundation from which we can progress. Like the housewife shopping for the family, we have made the rounds of the markets.

"We have a large family to please," he added, "and we want all the members of the family group to say, 'that was a good piece of work'."

Matson was chief building inspector for the city between 1936 and 1940. A building contractor all his life, he built the St. John's Lutheran church, the Hilltop Church of God, the West Gate Masonic temple and many other structures in the vicinity.

He has lived on Warren-av since he came to the Hilltop in 1911.

Matson is a member of the HBMA, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church, West Gate Lodge of Masons, Shrine and K. of P.

He is married and has two sons, George Jr. and Dave, of whom he is sincerely proud.

Mrs. Huff Gets Newest Styles

For the past eight years, Harriet Huff, operator of the Harriet Huff Beauty shoppe at 2154 Sullivant-av, has served as president for the Ohio unit of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association.

Back in 1916, Harriet Huff was a beauty operator; no schools of cosmetology in existence at that time, she served as an apprentice at the work and now 25 years later, she has operated her own shop since 1927.

Believing in the theory that "beauty is the development of a potential quality within one's self," Harriet aids in giving expression through outward care.

Twice a year, as the only Ohio delegate so chosen, Mrs. Huff travels over the country attending the national beauty shows and from these trips she returns full of new ideas and enthusiasm for the latest styles.

Assistant in the shoppe is Mrs. Tesselene Ohlinger who has held this position with her sister for the past three years.

Milton P. Hain Is Legion Chief

M. P. Hain

With all of the work that the American Legion has to do today, Commander Milton P. Hain of the Camp Chase post No. 98, does not have much time to spend with any organizations, he states.

A resident of the Hilltop for the past 17 years, at 113 Whitethorne, Hain associated himself with the local Legion post in 1931, two years after its institution, and has been very active in it since that time. In 1935, he was elected adjutant, in 1940 first vice-commander, and is now commander of the post.

He served as chairman of the relief committee for two years, and was the originator of the Thanksgiving drive for donations, which are distributed to the poor.

Hain was born in Franklin county in June, 1886, on the Canal Winchester road and received his schooling at the Madison county high school. He went to the old Hartsough Business college in Columbus, worked for the Columbus and Hocking Coal Co., an oil company in Minneapolic, an insurance company in West Virginia, and then was appointed inspector for the same insurance company.

After eight years, he enlisted in the army, and after returning from France, he started a real estate and business brokerage business which he ran from 1920 until 1924, when he became associated with the state liquor control board.

He is married and has one daughter, Betty, who graduated from West High in 1936.

Don Cox Has Shell Station

The Shell Service station at the corner of Powell and Broad, one of the most modern on the Hilltop, is operated by Don Cox who took over the new station, Nov. 13, 1937. Before coming to the Hilltop, he was associated with the Shell Oil company for seven years, becoming well qualified for his job of running a service station.

Cox is married and has one child. His hobby is golf, and it is related that he shoots a "mean" game.

The station carries a complete line of accessories; tires, batteries, and other extras for the car.

Cox is assisted in the business by Carl Liston.

New Finance Plan Offered

A. J. McCann, insurance agent in Columbus for the past 35 years has announced two new finance plans to his friends and clients.

The first is a finance department to loan money on new cars at the low rate of 3% on $100 per year. The other is a department to finance fire auto fleet, and other forms of insurance premiums over $50, payable on a monthly basis, in many cases as low as 1½% on $100 annually.

He believes the above to be the lowest carrying charges on record for these forms of financing.

McCann, who was born in Perry county, came to Columbus at the age of 13 and was formerly a resident of the West Side.

More Uplifters Needed In Public Life Is Claim of Mrs. Westlake

Mrs. Elsie Westlake doesn't like to talk about herself—but that's Mrs. Westlake. For her there are things of more surpassing interest than personalities and to these she is determined that the conversation be confined.

An assiduous student of the Bible, she can quote passage after passage which can be applied to problems of everyday life in this ultra-modern twentieth century world.

Mrs. Westlake is also interested in civic affairs and community life. She feels that there is as much need for missionaries in politics as there is in the foreign field.

"What we need in public life today," she said, "are fewer leaders and more uplifters." There is plenty of leadership, she feels, but much of it has not been directed into the right channels.

Undismayed by the wars and hatred which are spreading like fire over the world, Mrs. Westlake prays for the day when finally the "pen will be mightier than the sword."

Mrs. Westlake talked mostly of Mr. Westlake, whose memory is ineradicable in her mind. He served his community and city many years as councilman and county commissioner.

The couple first came to the Hilltop in 1894. Mr. Westlake had lived in Bellaire on the Ohio river, which section was frequently inundated by the swirling river waters.

"This was the determining factor in our moving to the Hilltop," said Mrs. Westlake. "He (Mr. Westlake) wanted to live on the highest spot in town."

The Hilltop was not considered a very desirable place to live in those days. It was too closely connected with the memories of Camp Chase and its reputation for horrors.

Mr. and Mrs. Westlake traveled all over the state by horse and wagon, selling a souvenir line of glassware at the various county fairs. At this time many of the old canals were still in use. Mrs. Westlake cited particularly the one between Troy and Piqua.

Mr. Westlake died in January, 1939. "He was a man," said his widow, "who knew what he wanted and then went after it." Mrs. Westlake resides at the home, 2499 W. Broad-st.

Wake Up-Feed Baby-Don't Forget-Joe Palumbo Offers Unique Service

One of the most interesting features of the Radio Cab Co., which is managed by Joe Palumbo 3015 Crescent-dr, is the telephone "wake-up" service. Anyone who wishes to be awakened at any time in the morning needs but call the company, give their telephone number and the time they wish to be awakened, and at that time, the next morning the phone will ring—until it is answered.

Other uses are made of this service; some mothers find it convenient to have the Radio Cab operator call them every two or three hours, when it is baby's feeding time or any time that they want to do something that they might forget.

According to Palumbo, about 600 calls are made each day by the operators, in the mornings, with scattered calls throughout the day. On Sunday mornings, he stated, the company awakens about 200 newspaper carriers.

Palumbo started the Radio Cab Co. on Labor Day, 1933, after he had left the Safety Cab company, in which he had been part owner for the preceeding four years.

Joe is noted for his great interest in the Columbus Red Birds baseball team, and he says that this year's team, "looked better to me in Florida than last year's team looked in Columbus in June." He was elected to membership in "Swamp Rabbit" club, an organization of Columbusites who trek to the south with the Birds each spring during training season. Another of his hobbies is golf, which he "plays at."

Interested in ocean travel, he has taken a number of cruises, one this year to Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands Haiti, and Cuba.

He is married and has one daughter, Jody, who is a junior at West High school.

Cleanliness is important to the customers, he states, and that is the reason that the Radio Cabs have clean white seat covers which are replaced with other clean seat covers every day.

The Hilltop Record

Beginning Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Volume 25 | Section B | THE HILLTOP, COLUMBUS, OHIO | Number 1

Community Cooperation Has Made The Hilltop

The Hilltop community is a curious result of a complex of factors through 80 years of development. It took a war to establish the first community here at old Camp Chase, and not even a small pox epidemic could stop the development. Then came a flood, which sent thousands to the top of the hill in 1913.

Isolated by a mile or more of state land from the rest of Columbus, the community has had many difficulties to overcome in its development into one of the outstanding residential sections of Columbus.

But through the years, this very isolation has led to an effective spirit of cooperation, seen today in almost every community effort. The business men, the pastors, the school leaders, and home owners—all have put their shoulders to the wheel for every improvement, for every activity—the Hilltop even votes independently on civic issues.

That community cooperation is the reason why people say: "We live on the Hilltop."

The Nature Trail

By John Wolfe

At the time you are reading this little piece, southern Ohio woods will be splattered with wild flowers, some at the heighth of their season. The flowers of early saxafrage, trillium, spring beauty, anemone, trailing arbutus, wild ginger, violets of a dozen species, Greek valerian, crow foot, hepatica, rock cress and a host of others will represent what hibernating naturalists affectionately characterize "the first flush of spring."

But as I am writing, it is early March, and superficially at least, the woods and fields are still marked conspicuously with plant remnants of an earlier year, and except for the ever present mosses, lichens, liverworts, a few evergreen ferns and a number of evergreen flowering plants like wintergreen, mountain laurel and the pines, all appears quite dull and lifeless, with the first signs of spring, yet far in the offing.

For a dozen years, burdened with the plebian notion that the advent of spring is marked by wild flowers, returning birds, awakening snakes and mammals, I've attempted to get some picture of just when and how these things occur. Always I've been out early, long before the first skunk cabbage had pushed into view, long before the tiny white and purple flowers of salt and pepper had made their appearance weeks before the perfect white of the trillium decked the limestone ledges. Then with a suddenness that amazes, all these things seem to appear at once, followed by dozens then hundreds of others, and in the "flood of life," me, my notes, my organized picture of the vegetation, is drowned.

Buds Form Early

But this past winter I was fortunate to be in the field twice and three times weekly and I decided it might be of some interest to investigate these things before that final splurge got under way.

It was not long, I can assure you, before my preconceived notions of "the great spring resurrection" of the temperate climate had to undergo a thorough Hitlerian blitzkrieg. For once again I had to learn the lesson that you can't learn from the experts or the books the experts write. You've got to dig it out for yourself.

To find out about this amazing business of spring development in the plant world, I found that I had to observe the plants in July, August, September and on through the winter.

On Nov. 17 I found dozens of spring beauties, the leaves and flower buds fully formed. From that date until January, the stems and leaves elongated, and while covered with a blanket of snow for two weeks in January, their growth exceeded two inches. For months now, spring beauties below the leaf mold have been ready to bloom, inhibited only by temperature, availability of moisture, or light perhaps.

Plodding into an old swamp into which I have waded each spring for 15 years, I chopped through a heavy cover of ice in mid-January. "I want to know," I thought to myself, "just when this skunk cabbage begins to grow." Earliest of our flowers, I had seen it in 1935 on Jan. 28. Once again, I was too late. Scores of flowers had been in bloom and shed their pollen, scores of others were almost at maturity, unnoticed because of the ice. To observe the formation of flowers of skunk cabbage, one must, I am convinced, start looking sometime this June.

I now have some data on the winter behavior of more than 100 plants. Backed up with these observations, I asked a quartet of my colleagues to visit a limestone ravine north of Columbus with me. It was mid-February, but I told them that we'd collect some flowering specimens of the har-

Ownership Important To Average Man

The importance of owning property to the average man and the degree of sacrifice he will make to retain the property are substantial supports in the maintenance of a sound home-investment market.

This importance is attached more to the owner who occupies his home than to an investor or a speculator, whose motives deserve separate analysis.

Most borrowers will subject themselves to more sacrifices in the maintenance of a home than in any other obligation.

Sentiment Involved

A home is an investment that involves more than dollars and cents, that agency points out, and since it has sentimental attachments it cannot be measured entirely with money. These sentimental attachments may vary. For example, it may be the family homestead, or the property may represent the borrower's first investment.

The architecture and design may have a particular appeal or the advantages offered in the location of the property may include historical significance, early associations, proximity of relatives or friends, desirable social environment, or accessibility to daily necessities and conveniences.

Prestige Gained

Another factor of importance in the ownership of property is that the owner derives a measure of prestige from the ownership

Park Improvements And New Homes Beautify Hilltop

Pictured here are five new homes, representative of the many which have been constructed on the Hilltop in the past year. Long recognized as the "home section" of Columbus, the Hilltop in recent years has added much to that reputation with the construction of homes such as these. Additional beauty has been developed in the residential sections with extensive improvements at the three city parks. Pictured (top) above is one view of Westgate park, one of the finest in Colombus.

Few communities in the state can boast such fine parks as those that the people of the Hilltop are privileged to enjoy.

Three fine parks, Westgate, Holton and Glenwood, are conveniently placed for service to the maximum number of people in the community.

The city recreation department, the division of parks and forestry, and many

Many New Homes Are Being Built

Twenty-five years ago the Hilltop was little more than open pasture land dotted here and there with isolated-looking houses. Since that time the community has grown and developed at an astounding pace.

The mud-rut streets have been paved and lined with the substantial homes of substantial people. New businesses came to the Hilltop—to stay. The community, today, is one of the most enterprising in the country and continues to develop apace.

The prospects for building development in the future are more than encouraging.

The year 1940, according to officials in local real estate and building and loan offices, was the biggest residential building year since 1929, a peak year.

And from all indications, 1941 will be a boom year in the building business.

The clear, wholesome atmosphere and surroundings on the Hilltop have induced people working in all parts of the city to take up residence in this community.

Streets, for the most part, are lined with attractive, shade-giving trees. Due to a prevailing wind from the southwest, the smoke and grime of the city seldom reach this section.

There is an abundance of large and beautiful parks where children and adults, alike, can pass many pleasant hours during the summer months. And the schools are among the finest in the city.

The needs of the home can be supplied by the local merchants who have ample stocks to meet any ordinary requirement. The community is practically self-sufficient in this respect.

Potential home purchasers place great stress on such factors as these.

Local real estate agents attribute the recent upturn in residential building to a number of other factors. There is a very real housing shortage on the Hilltop, it is said. This condition is due partly to an upturn in business.

It is also said that, due to a general feeling of insecurity arising from the national and international situations, people are searching about for sound investments and consequently are putting their money into homes.

The popularity of the Hilltop as a place of residence is no fig-

Fred Raether Has Been In Business Here 24 Years

Fred Raether

They had to talk long and loud to get Fred Raether to take over the Economy Variety store way back in 1918. Fred was a salesman of big stuff to big concerns—kitchen equipment and the like. How in blazes could a man make a living selling things for a dime or a nickel?

But he finally bought the store at 2402 W. Broad-st, only a year old then, and being operated by Brown Turner who had been caught in the draft. Since then he's been selling items at a nickel and a dime and making a living and having a heck of a good time doing it. Fact is, he's had to enlarge the store room, and seven or eight years ago he bought out Rankin Variety store near Hague and Broad. Just recently he's installed a complete new set of counters and shelves, adding greatly to floor space and display room.

Fred was born in Woodville, O., near Toledo, where he lived long enough to get through three years of seminary work. But wishing to be neither teacher nor preacher, he left home and landed in Columbus where he ultimately became associated with Schoedinger-Marr in the capacity of salesman. Prior to that job he had been associated with the Livingston Seed Co. and the Columbus Merchandise Co. He took over the Economy Variety in February, 1917, and has been supplying Hilltoppers with pins and buttons, flower pots, pictures, hair brushes, tooth paste, clothes pins, nail files, screwdrivers, fly spray, oil cloth, ash trays and petunia seeds ever since.

He's been active in affairs of the Hilltop Business Men's association, was once a trustee of the group, but his chief concern is his store from which he occasionally takes time off to travel a bit, or fish.

Fred Raether drinks a quart of water each morning; smokes cigars the day long; occasionally chews a bit of scrap, which his wife didn't find out for 20 years, has three daughters and a couple of granddaughters (most Raethers are girls), and is contented as a tom cat in a dairy in his new home at 204 Huron-av.

Homes Built On Historic Site

West High school and most of the homes in the Westgate Addition occupy historic grounds in that old Camp Chase, comprising 173 acres, was once located in that section.

The only remnant left of that camp is the cemetery on Sullivant-av, where 2260 Confederate soldiers were buried.

Hilltop Shows Huge Increase In Population

While the entire city of Columbus, during the period 1930 and 1940, has shown approximately five per cent increase in population, the Hilltop shows an increase of over 24 per cent.

According to figures issued recently by the Bureau of the Census, the population of Columbus jumped from 290,952 in 1930 to 304,923 in 1940, a considerable increase to say the least.

But according to the same set of figures, the population of the Hilltop fairly leaped forward during this period. It increased from about 25,000 in 1930 to 33,000 in 1940.

Needless to say, a tremendous amount of home construction has accompanied the increase.

Story of Hilltop Development Begins With Civil War's Camp Chase

The first institution of any moment on the Hilltop was Camp Chase, the notorious prison camp of Civil War days.

At the time of its construction in 1861, the surrounding territory was barren except for an occasional farm house here and there.

The National Road, constructed years before, struck a lonesome note of modernity for a section which was destined to grow into one of the most modern and enterprising communities in this section of the state.

The camp was constructed in April, 1861, and occupied in June.

Named for Salmon P. Chase, then secretary of the treasury of the United States and former governor of Ohio, the camp was constructed in April, 1861, and occupied in June. The first Confederate prisoner was received on June 29.

There are no available records to show how many prisoners were interned during the war, but it is known that there were over 3,400 there at the time of Lee's surrender at Appomatox.

The only remaining vestiges of those days are the officers' headquarters at what is now 57 S. Hague-av and the cemetery on Sullivant-av, where 2260 Confederate soldiers lie buried.

Something is known of the life of the prisoners incarcerated there during those hectic war years. Over their heads hung clouds of suffering and fear. Torture and persecution had a place in the picture.

A contemporary newspaper described conditions as "horrible." In the prison was a detested dungeon. It was an air-tight affair built over a dank mud hole. A series of small holes in the floor permitted enough air to enter to keep the occupant from suffocating.

The health of the prisoners thrown into the dungeon was usually permanently impaired.

Those who attempted escape were suspended for hours at a time by the thumbs or shot in the legs. One prisoner described conditions at camp in no uncertain terms: "I have no words at

Activity Increases At Airport

Things are definitely looking up at the Sullivant-av airport this spring. Due to a large amount of favorable publicity on aviation and the stimulus given to the profession by virtue of the national defense program, people old and young are learning to fly.

"And why not?" muses Eddie Arn, manager of the local airport. "After all, modern airplanes are so fool-proof that they nearly fly themselves."

Eddie "took over" from Gomer Jones, former air-field proprietor, in September, 1939, and has been there, living on the grounds, ever since.

Learning to fly in 1936, "just as a hobby," Eddie soon became fascinated with the game and decided to make a profession of it. It is evident that he is enjoying a considerable amount of success in the new business.

Altogether, there are 11 planes at the airport harbored in the large 60 by 90 foot all-steel hangar. Six are privately owned, while the others are student ships belonging to the airport.

Included among the student training planes are two Aeronca tandem trainers, one Cub, one Aeronca Chief and one 105 horse power, spin-proof Stinson. The last-mentioned ship is equipped for blind flying.

Recently installed at the airport is a new 50,000 candle-power flood light for night flying.

The landing field contains 100 acres of "the most level land in the city" and since the recent spring thaws it is being rolled "as smooth as a golf course green."

Plans are under way for making much more hangar space available and for increasing the

O. H. Craft Describes Hilltop Development, Makes Predictions

By O. H. Craft

Land is the basic element of our existence, and the controlling factor of our maintenance. That is not new, but we should never forget it. Yet without the brain and brawn of man, land fails to produce either crops or communities. Hence our narrative begins with that area of land we call the Hilltop, approximately 3 miles east and west, and 2 miles north and south, containing approximately 3,600 square acres of land.

Mr. Craft

Within this area, we have two state institutions, the insane asylum on the north side of Broad-st, which contains 341½ acres, and the feeble minded institute on the south side of Broad-st, containing 197 acres.

Time and space, available statistics do not permit of our tracing too far back, but a good view in retrospect may be had by observing the highlights of the past 25 years.

Hilltop In 1915

The population of the Hilltop area in the year 1915 was in an approximate range of 12 to 15 thousand. The territory south of Sullivant to Mound-st and west of Hague-av to the present city limits was largely farm land. Great open spaces existed in the northwestern section of the Hilltop to the Pennsylvania railroad, and in the southwest corner, between Broad and Sullivant, and west to Hague-av. Many new homes were under construction in this latter section.

Due to restrictive use of basic building materials, during the first World war, residence construction slackened, and real estate remained low and inactive, until shortly after the close of the war. 1919 saw a resumption of building activity and costs began to rise. Action became feverish, assuming boom proportions, with prices rising rapidly, reaching a peak during the years of 1928 and 1929, with a process of leveling off setting in about 1930.

During this 15-year period, the territory west of Hague-av, both north and south of Broad-st, was diverted from farm lands to platted lots and city streets. The same development took place south of Sullivant-av to Mound-st, Central-av to Crescent-rd on the west.

From the best information available the population in 1930 stood at approximately [illegible] which meant that we had an increase of 10 to 13 thousand in 15 years, with a building program during this period of 3500 to 4000 units.

Adjustment Period

The decade from 1930 to 1940 represents a severe adjustment period, with little building activity, excepting during the two or three latter years of this period, however a rather substantial increase in population is noted. According to the census bureau figures completed in 1940, the Hilltop area has a population of 32 to 33 thousand, or an increase of seven to eight thousand in 10 years, which gives evidence of substantial new construction, during what might be called generally an unfavorable period.

We thus find our 25 year growth to be in an approximate number of 18 to 20 thousand, quite substantial, consistent and satisfying to community pride, and it is quite interesting to take time out and observe what comes in the wake of such development and growth.

There are 22 churches, three public grade schools, two Catholic schools, one junior high school, one high school; a prosperous and growing banking house, a building and loan association; a public library that serves an ever growing demand; one enterprising newspaper; three movie houses; three splendid parks; and

Characteristics of Sidewalk Materials Are Discussed

Walks are among the useful improvements which add to the appearance of a property.

The materials most commonly used for walks are flagstone, brick, and concrete, and each has individual characteristics. Flagstone lends itself to walks of an informal nature. Brick walks are colorful, and the brick can be laid in a variety of patterns. Concrete walks are especially appropriate in cold climates since they can be easily cleared of snow and if well built will withstand freezing and thawing.

The width of the walk will depend upon its location and use. Main walks are usually four to five feet wide; rear yard or garden walks are from one and one-half to three feet wide.

Advice for Flagstone

Flagstone walks may have a bed of either sand or concrete. When laid in sand, a four-inch gravel or crushed stone fill and a two-inch sand bed should be provided. Stones one and one-half to two inches thick should be used, and they should be laid with joints from three-quarters to two inches wide. This type of walk is subject to displacement by frost. Flagstone set in concrete should have a six-inch gravel, cinder, or crushed stone fill, a four-inch gravel concrete slab, and a one-inch mortar bed. Stones may be thinner than when laid in sand but should be at least seven-eighths-inch thick.

Brick may be laid either flat or on edge for walks. A three-inch concrete bed should be provided, and the brick should be laid in about an inch of sand, using sand for the joints. If the soil is not porous the concrete slab should be laid on a four-inch gravel, cinder, or crushed stone fill to assure good drainage. For climates where severe freezing does not occur a bed of tamped sand three or four inches thick will be satisfactory.

Advice for Concrete

Concrete walks can be laid directly on the earth if the soil is well drained. If not, a four to six-inch base of cinders or gravel should be used. Four inches is considered a satisfactory thickness, and the full thickness of the concrete should be placed at one time. Expansion joints are necessary every four or five feet in the length of the walk.

Walks should be finished with a wood float to produce an even gritty surface. This should be done several hours after the concrete is placed, when it has become quite stiff but is still workable.

Concrete should not be troweled to excess. This has the tendency to bring cement and water to the surface and produces a finish which is apt to dust. The concrete may be cured by covering with moist sand or earth as soon as it has become sufficiently hard to resist marring, and it should be kept moist for about 10 days.

Worn Roof Lowers Value of Home

Is your roof doing its duty? Or has it outlived its usefulness and become a source of worry and expense with a succession of leaks and necessary repairs?

A dilapidated roof can quickly lower the value of a home. It is unsightly and detracts from the beauty of the neighborhood, and many times it is also a dangerous fire hazard.

Lawn Offers Planting Test for New Owner

Owners of new homes, facing their first season of gardening activities this spring, have a problem which is intensely interesting but one likely to contain difficulties for the inexperienced.

Seasoned land owners acquire a knowledge of local soil conditions, fertilizers, plants, and care of lawns through experience often gained largely through trial and error.

Good Topsoil Needed

Good topsoil is the secret of a successful lawn and the healthy growth of trees and shrubs. If good topsoil existed on the original site, it should have been stripped and placed in piles and respread over the ground after the construction is completed and the subgrading done with earth excavated from foundations.

The layer of topsoil should be about six inches in depth.

Soil Preparation Important

A lawn will yield more permanent satisfaction if the ground is properly prepared prior to sodding or seeding. Fertilizer should be added to the soil in the spring and a temporary lawn made by seeding with clover or other leguminous cover crop. This will kill out many of the spring weeds.

The temporary growth is spaded under in early fall and the permanent lawn grasses seeded.

Experiences of Others Valuable

Another suggestion is to get the experience of other home owners in the neighborhood as to the best methods they have found for obtaining a good lawn. No general rules can be laid down because of the variability of soil conditions.

Individual preferences most often are the guides to shrub selection, although impractical choices often result. It is preferable to plant shrubs along the boundary line and on the front lawn so as to give blooming flowers in the summertime and berry and bright twig effects in the winter.

Suggestions for Shrubs

Most shrubs should be planted about three feet apart so that they will not crowd each other and should be arranged about the house so as not to give the impression of the house being set down in a wilderness of planting. The foundation of the house should appear in certain places. Shrubs should be pruned so that they will not become obstructions to the view and will retain their natural character.

Better Homes; Better Living

By the Housing Editor

This nineteenth century doorway, the upper of the two illustrated, is common to many old New England houses and is still to be seen along the old Boston Post Road through Connecticut. It is an excellent example of the dignity which may be obtained through the use of the old classic style of architecture known as the Roman Doric Order.

This design may be used effectively with either masonry or frame exterior walls. When applied to masonry walls, it is sometimes desirable to provide a deep recess for the door. This permits a deeper shadow and also provides some protection for the door against the elements.

The typical Colonial doorway design, illustrated in the lower drawing, may be found in old Massachusetts homes built back in the eighteenth century. Its elliptical transom generally necessitated higher ceilings and was therefore generally found in the homes of the more well-to-do. Although the elliptical arch suggests its use in connection with masonry construction, it is commonly seen applied to frame exteriors.

The delicate curved covering, with its sides of lattice as illustrated here, tends to give the doorway a setting found generally in the cottage-type house. Doorways similar in design but without the covering and lattice work are obtainable in different sizes from the manufacturers of millwork.

Radiator Venting Improves Heating

A common contributor to faulty heating is the accumulation of air in radiators.

In steam-heating systems, air is normally expelled through automatic valves. A steam radiator that cannot be fully heated may indicate a defective relief valve which should be replaced.

Where hot-water systems are used, there is usually a small hand-operated valve on each radiator through which accumulated air is released. It would be worth his while for the home owner to open these valves at regular intervals or whenever a radiator does not heat properly. Shut off the valve as soon as water begins to appear. If the valve key is kept in a convenient place, it will be found an easy chore to keep radiators free from air and in proper operating condition.

Site Protection

When a neighborhood has been solidly developed in accordance with accepted good housing practices, such a development alone usually constitutes good protection from adverse influences.

Sidewalks Provide Safety For Children,

Sidewalks such as this provide convenience and safety for all the residents of a neighborhood. Children skate and coast in the street, in competition with automobiles and trucks, in neighborhoods where no sidewalks exist.

Sidewalks are more than just a convenience for the individual. They are a neighborhood asset.

Sidewalks provide a dignified, comfortable, and safe thoroughfare for walking to the shopping centers, to bus stops, and to other neighborhood objectives.

Experts believe that wider roadways—the usual alternative to sidewalks—are a poor substitute in that they are neither so attractive nor so convenient.

The safety factor looms large in consideration of sidewalks, since children can enjoy far more safety in going to and from school if they have a sidewalk on which to move rather than a roadway. Although most residential neighborhoods attempt to control the speed of traffic, hazards are always involved when pedestrians and vehicles use the same thoroughfare.

Another point in favor of sidewalks is that they offer a place for children to operate their wheeled toys in safety. Many of the serious traffic casualties have resulted from children skating or coasting into automobiles or trucks.

Spring Is Season For These Repairs

Among home improvements which are usually carried out in the spring are:

Landscaping.
Driveways.
Fences.
Walks.
Painting.
Repair of roofs, gutters, flashing.
Installation of screens.

Proper Cellar Ventilation Eliminates Dampness

Dampness in the basement and undesirable odors resulting from dampness normally can be eliminated through proper ventilation.

Basement windows often must be placed partially or almost entirely below the ground level and outside areaways used to obtain the desired natural light and ventilation.

Areaways for basement windows are often made too small. To provide effective light and ventilation, the width of the area should be at least equal to its depth. Its length should not be less than the width of the masonry opening of the window. The bottom of the area should be about six inches below the top of the masonry sill of the window. The use of deep areas from which leaves and snow cannot be readily removed should be avoided.

Brick, poured concrete, concrete blocks, and corrugated galvanized iron sheets may be used for areaway walls. When built of masonry, area walls should be eight inches thick. When concrete is used, the walls may be six inches thick. The walls should rest on firm ground, and to prevent damage due to frost action the bottom of the walls should be carried below the frost level experienced in the locality.

Efficient drainage of the areaway is important. Good drainage may be obtained by covering the area bottom of the walls should be carried below the frost level experienced in the locality.

Efficient drainage of the areaway is important. Good drainage may be obtained by covering the area bottom with a layer of cinders, broken stone or gravel, or with brick laid in sand and with open joints. When the soil is porous no other special provision for drainage will be needed. If the soil is of a type that does not permit rapid drainage, it is advisable to provide for drainage of the areaway by use of a pipe installed to carry water away from the building.

Carelessness Is Major Cause of Teeth Decaying

Bad teeth, bane of the lives of the army's examining doctors who have been forced to turn down scores of selectees because of dental deficiencies, are caused by lack of care rather than from any universal dental weakness, according to a statement issued Saturday by the Columbus Dental society.

"Despite the dental health education of the last decade," said J. N. Hanson, secretary of the association, "we find that too many Americans risk dental deterioration by failing to seek care except when in pain."

It was pointed out in the national survey of 85,000 patients by more than 11,000 dentists, including members of the land group, that "those who do seek care regularly cut down the cost of their dental repair and postpone the time when they must resort to artificial dentures."

Doorways Often Make the Home

Modern doorways enhance the beauty of any home oftimes to the point of making an otherwise drab home take on an attractive appearance.

Pictured above are two popular door styles recommended by architects for homes somewhat above the average price.

National Transfer Offers Expert Moving Service

Ralph Rapp, proprietor of the National Transfer Co., has had 25 years of moving experience and has been in the transfer business on the Hilltop for the past 22 years.

His business was formerly located at 205 S. Wayne-av. The business was operated here between 1919 and 1938. Since that time it has been located at 2365 Sullivant-av.

The Sullivant-av location is thought to be a better one for service to the Hilltop public.

The employees of the company are all experienced movers. There are four modern trucks used in the business which offers rapid and efficient transfer service at low cost.

Equipped with the most up-to-date moving devices, the company is prepared to do any type of moving to any point.

Grandview Lumber Company Founded 1904

The Grandview Lumber Co., located at 1400 W. Goodale-st, was founded in 1904. According to the manager, J. C. McNally, it has now grown to the point where it can adequately serve the community at lowest possible costs.

The company is equipped to do all kinds of special mill work and the use of kiln dried framing lumber is advocated.

On the lumber company grounds there are a large mill, a lumber shed and a separate office. All building material is kept under roof.

my command with which to describe the horrors of the Yankee prison at Camp Chase. One would have to follow Dante in his descent to hell . . . to find an approach to it."

The camp occupied a 166-acre tract of land and, due to the exigencies of war-time, was rapidly built up.

At first, rations were not sufficient for the soldiers, who began plundering the nearby farms of their produce. On occasion the hungry men mutinied. Mutinies were rigorously suppressed.

Columbus newspapers launched vitriolic attacks on conditions at the camp and early in 1863 several reforms were put into effect.

Larger prison quarters were constructed and the camp was given a thorough cleaning from top to bottom.

In March, 1863, a group of prisoners arrived at the camp and among them were several of Morgan's raiders. A cry for blood was raised. The general consensus was that these captives should be treated severely. A local newspaper demanded that they be "shot down like dogs or be made to stretch hemp on the scaffold."

An epidemic broke out in 1863 and prisoners died like flies. Their remains lie in the Confederate cemetery, which is visited each year by hundreds of persons from all sections of the South.

Women Stockholders In Industrial Field

The important role of women as stockholders in the nation's corporate structure is amply illustrated in "Primer for Americans," the new 77-page book on the what, why and whither of Americanism just released to women's study groups by the National Association of Manufacturers.

A study of 53 corporations shows that out of 3,700,000 stockholders, 43 per cent are women. Here are the figures for three of the largest American corporations:

American Telephone and Telegraph corporation has the largest number of stockholders—453,496—of whom 51 per cent are women.

United States Steel corporation has 193,627 stockholders, of whom nearly 39 per cent are women.

Women comprise 40 per cent of the 305,400 General Motors stockholders.

A few minutes a day spent in washing window sills, window frames, baseboards, and other dust-catching wooden surfaces with soap and water are worth hours of work crowded into a single day. Keeping things clean rather than making them clean is one of the secrets of an orderly, well-run home.

Everybody Has Them Now

The first man known to have built private bathrooms in his living quarters was a king of Crete who lived more than 4000 years ago. The king's bath was in a room that adjoined the throne room and the queen also had a bath in her suite. A good water supply and drainage were installed in the palace. They had all the comforts of bathing, excepting two of the most important—soap and clean towels.

H. F. & E. J. Kunzi Partners In Hilltop Van & Storage Co.

H. F. and E. J. Kunzi, brother-partners and managers of the Hilltop Van & Storage Co., were born and raised on their father's farm, some two miles west of Columbus.

After returning from the war, H. F. Kunzi organized a dairy business on the Hilltop for some two years, after which he and his brother decided to go into the transportation business.

Since its conception the company has rendered efficient service to Columbus and vicinity and is the agent for one of the five major transportation companies operating at present in the United States.

Six moving units are maintained by the company today, with a type for any sort of moving that would require special equipment, although the moving of households is one specialty, the employees being trained to understand the problems of moving with special regard to the property of the shipper.

In the same place of business for 22 years, the Kunzi brothers have seen the development of a prosperous Westgate and Broadview from vacant lots to highly desirable residential neighborhoods.

H. F. Kunzi resides at 3133 Ellis-av and E. J. Kunzi makes his home at 456 S. Westgate-av.

Fire Protection Begins In Cellar

Most fires in homes start in the basement.

A basement ceiling of fire-resistant materials reduces the fire hazard by delaying the spreading of fire to the upper stories, according to officials of the Federal Housing administration. Such a ceiling also improves the appearance of the basement and helps prevent the passage of dust from the basement to rooms above.

Before installing the ceiling any openings between wall studs and the first-floor joists or around pipes and registers should be closed or, in builders' terms, fire-stopped. These openings, unless closed, become flues through which a fire in a basement may be drawn into the walls and floors above.

Openings to be satisfactorily fire-stopped should be tightly closed with wood blocking or an incombustible material such as fire-retardant insulation.

Any one of several materials may be satisfactorily used for basement ceilings. Gypsum board or asbestos board which come in sheets may be nailed to the bottom of the joists. Or, if desired, cement plaster can be applied on metal lath or gypsum plaster lath.

Basement ceilings are an improvement which may be financed with funds obtained from private lending institutions approved by the Federal Housing administration under its Modernization Credit plan.

For Family of Conservative Taste This Small Home Costing Under $6,000 Offers Many Advantages

FLOOR PLAN

For the family that desires spaciousness with economy and flexibility, a home such as this will give great satisfaction.

In the dignity of its design and the unaffected construction, this house is reminiscent of the charming and livable homes built along the byways of old New England.

The large living room connects with the dinette and through to the efficiently planned kitchen. Up a few steps are two good-sized bedrooms with ample closet space and cross ventilation. The bathroom is easily accessible to both.

This property was financed with a mortgage of $5,000 insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Monthly payments on a mortgage of this amount, over a period of 25 years, average about $30, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance.

Home Accidents Cause Many Needless Deaths

"Few people realize that home is not the safe place it is credited with being," according to D. K. Finley, manager of the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce today, "and few people realize that in the majority of communities, home accidents cause more deaths than accidents involving the motor vehicle."

Analysis of these mishaps in the home reveal the cause of these accidents, and emphasize the fact that they could have been prevented by the exercise of reasonable care and common sense. For instance, 16 persons lost their lives as the result of burns — three from smoking in bed, two using turpentine and gasoline for cleaning purposes, eight from clothing catching fire from open grates, heaters and stoves, one from the explosion of fumes from a can of paint remover, and two were undetermined.

Falls as usual took a larger toll than any other type of accident in the home. There were 29 deaths attributed to falls—14 of them from falls down stairs. Loaded firearms accounted for two deaths; two persons died from drowning; two were overcome by carbon monoxide gas in the garage, and one youngster died from drinking coal oil by mistake.

Of the 56 violent deaths resulting from those accidents, not a single one can be classed as unavoidable—all of them could and should have been prevented by the exercise of reasonable care and ordinary common sense.

Smoking in bed is not a safe practice; cleaning materials with gasoline and other volatile fluids is distinctly dangerous; if heaters, grates and stoves are properly protected, clothing and other inflammable materials can not come in contact with the flames and ignite; stairs provided with hand rails will eliminate falls on the stairs; small rugs can be made skid proof, and boxes and chairs are never a safe substitute for a sturdy step-ladder. Loaded firearms should never be permitted in the home; motors when run in closed garages will generate enough carbon monoxide gas in a few minutes to cause death.

Local Decorator Reports Increase In Decorating Service

W. R. Bussey, decorator, reports a steady increase in his business and attributes it to satisfied customers who are pleased with his work and tell their friends and neighbors about it.

Mr. Bussey lives at 385 S. Richardson and has worked on the Hilltop for many years. He has a complete home decorating service which is now under the F. H. A. payment plan. This makes it easier for anyone who wishes to do decorating this spring to pay. He suggests it pays to follow the advice of a decorator who is thoroughly experienced in his field as his knowledge may prove invaluable to inexperienced home owners who are not quite sure of how to proceed.

Also, in many cases he may detect defects in design which would escape the eyes of the average layman. He employs professional workmen and carries insurance on his men for property owners protection.

Nothing will bring your home more up to date than the latest styled distinctive wallpaper and in many cases a touch of color will add light to dark rooms.

Good outside protection is needed because alternate rain and scorching heat will accelerate depreciation more rapidly than anything else unless protected by good paint.

Mr. Bussey advises practical advice to help solve your problems and no job is too large or too small for him to do. A call at RA. 6345 will receive courteous attention.

Building The Hilltop

There has been a lot of romance involved in the building of the Hilltop. It is typical of those substantial American communities that go to make the backbone of this great country.

Every home that has been built here has involved hours of planning, weeks and months of work in building and years of toil in paying for it. But they have all gone into the process of making homes.

These homes are the castles of the Hilltop.

And we are justly proud of the part we have played in this community building movement.

To all who have patronized this old Hilltop firm we say Thanks.

To those prospective home owners and builders we invite you to allow us an opportunity to help you with your problems in a most friendly manner. We are just home folks . . . living right here on the Hilltop with you and we assure you we will have your best interests at heart at all times.

We are prepared to give you estimates on all your building needs . . . anything from a door to a whole new house.

Jim Cooper

The modern, streamlined version of the arm-chair philosopher is "your friend and my friend"—neighborly "Genial Jim Cooper," whose newscasts go out from his Belvidere-av home over the airwaves four times a day.

From the white house behind the hedge at 522 Belvidere-av, Mr. Cooper tells his thousands of friends the news of the city, state, nation and world. His broadcasts are interspersed with a cheery word, a Biblical quotation, or a homely little bit of every-day, common sense philosophy.

Installed in the home are four teletype machines on which is recorded the latest news as flashed over the wires.

"Jim" is approaching his eight thousandth broadcast over the same station (WBNS) and for the same sponsor (the Gas company). Every day brings him many more friends and admirers.

Recently "Jim" has been making the rounds of the various schools in the city, giving talks on traffic safety. In his early morning broadcasts, particularly during the winter months, he gives a cheerful salute to the children, at the same time cautioning them to observe the elementary rules of safety.

Residing at home with him are his wife and daughter, Patty Lou.

Ownership

which often enhances his position or that of his family in the business and social worlds.

Another characteristic which contributes to the soundness of the home-building and home-financing markets is that an owner may be inclined to strain his ability to meet the expenses attendant with home ownership to a greater degree than he would in paying rent for comparable quarters.

In analyzing the degree of importance a property may hold for an owner, the FHA believes it reasonable to suppose that he will attach more importance and undergo greater sacrifice for a home used as a permanent residence than he will for a temporary shelter used only during certain periods of the year.

Questions and Answers

Q. I plan to landscape a small Cape Cod cottage this spring. What size shrubs should I use?

A. Select shrubs which will not be too large. Low shrubs add to the apparent size of the house. Taller shrubs may be planted around the doorway to accent this feature. Use care in selecting the type of shrub since some require constant trimming and pruning to keep the size down to that desired.

Q. Can you tell me the purpose of cross-bridging between wood joists? How should bridging be installed?

A. Bridging provides a means of laterally bracing wood joists. It also assists in distributing the weight or load imposed on one joist to the joists on either side of it. Joists should be bridged at least every eight feet. One-inch by three-inch material is usually used, the end cut at an angle to fit solidly against the face of the joist. To be effective, cross-bridging must be securely nailed in place.

Q. What is the purpose of a storm window?

A. Storm windows create a dead-air space in front of the permanent window sash. This air space tends to reduce heat loss through the glass area and the infiltration of cold air. Storm windows are especially helpful in preventing the frosting of windows, since they reduce the possibilities of condensation on the inner windows. To insure good protection, storm sash should fit tightly. When hung from the top on hinges or other hangers, a device should be provided so that the window may be held open when ventilation is desired.

Stucco Is Popular In Home Construction

PLAN

This large stucco house follows a general exterior style traditional for this type of architecture. It contains three bedrooms, a large living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, bathroom, and garage. This house was financed with a mortgage of $4,300 insured by the Federal Housing Administration. Exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance, a 25-year mortgage of this amount when financed under the FHA plan requires average monthly payments of approximately $25.

Jones Lumber & Coal Co. Supplies Materials For Building

W. Haydn Jones

Abe Jones

Started in 1928 when building on the Hilltop was going on in an accelerated tempo the Jones Lumber and Coal Co. has enjoyed an ever-growing business since that time. W. Haydn Jones is manager of the firm; Abe Jones is sales manager.

Approximately 150 Hilltop homes have been constructed from materials supplied by Jones Lumber and Coal Co. in addition to numerous other building projects all over the city and surrounding environs. A planing mill employing three persons is kept busy cutting out and milling supplies for builders. Fourteen employees are on the payroll of the company at the present time.

In the interest of prospective builders a national plan service including many types of construction is available. From these plans the prospect may pick out the home he prefers and get an estimate of the cost of materials. Salesmen specialize in making suggestions for modernizing the home from basement to attic.

Builders and contractors in the community appreciate the convenience of having lumber delivered in the quantities as needed instead of having whole orders delivered at one time. This insures protection against rains and bad weather while the job is in progress.

Throughout the winter months Jones' trucks are kept busy supplying coal coke and stoker coal to hundreds of Hilltop homes and business places. During the past season Berwind Briquets have become a popular choice of many coal burners. It has the advantage of ease of handling and lack of dirt and muss in handling.

More than two acres of ground are needed for coal yards and the four supply buildings and office that house the company's supplies. Two railroad switches provide shipping facilities for coal and lumber.

Pat Jones is auditor and bookkeeper and Harold Green is salesman for the company.

Passing of Mrs. Pemberton Marked the End of An Epoch

On the fourteenth day of January of this year, one of the Hilltop's oldest residents, Mrs. Catherine Pemberton, passed away. She had almost become an institution on the Hilltop and her home was a landmark of days gone by.

Mrs. Pemberton was 94 years old at the time of her death, having lived in the community for 37 years. Mr. and Mrs. Pemberson came to Columbus from Newport, Ky., and five years later Mr. Pemberton died. He had been city work house foreman and an inventor of various wire gadgets and the round mouse trap.

From that time on Mrs. Pemberton lived all alone except for the company of a dog and several cats. She was very fond of these pets.

Unusually active to the end, she could be seen on almost any day in the summer time mowing her lawn or weeding the garden. She made daily trips on foot to her grocery and played the piano with the touch of the artist.

The story of the venerable lady's Hilltop home is only slightly less notable than that of its occupant. Mrs. Pemberton lived at 37 S. Hague-av. The house is unpretentious as compared with modern structures. But it is the last of the 160 buildings which once dotted the grounds of old Camp Chase.

Union army officers had their headquarters in the building during the Civil war.

The passing of Mrs. Pemberton seems to mark the passing of an epoch. She seemed to be the very embodiment of the historical tradition of the community.

Parks--

local groups have combined in sponsoring park improvements, thus making the three local parks objects for justifiable pride.

Westgate

Westgate park is considered one of the most beautiful city parks anywhere. Work was begun on it six or seven years ago.

Skirting the north edge of a majestic virgin woodland is a large and beautiful lake, 700 feet long and 125 feet wide. Maximum depth is three feet.

At the west end of the lake is a graceful spray fountain. In the summer-time several white ducks glide beneath the fountain's mist

Shrubs and flower beds are in evidence throughout the grounds.

Westgate has one of the few tiled athletic fields in the city. There are six enclosed tennis courts, a full line of playground equipment, and volley ball, soft ball and horseshoe courts. Last year, adidtional flower beds and evergreens were planted around the lake. One of the finest coasting mounds in the city has been constructed.

Summer band concerts were well attended and there has been a noticeable increase in the numbers of picnic and reunions held on the grounds.

Plans for the future look to the construction of a sanitary sewer system, two new comfort stations and several permanent benches and tables

The terrace along Parkside-dr and Westgate-av will be regraded shortly. It is thought that an additional caretaker should be assigned to the park during the summer months.

Holton

Holton park was laid out about seven years ago. Along with Westgate, it was built by city funds with the aid of WPA labor.

A clear, cool stream enters the park from the northeast, meanders diagonally across the grounds, and emerges at the southwest after flowing under a rustic stone bridge.

Near the point of entrance, the stream is faced with attractive stone block.

In the park there is a large circular wading pool, three tennis courts, ample playground apparatus and a comfortable shelter house.

According to city officials, this park should have supervision. Irresponsible persons have destroyed some of the park property. It is said that a care-taker should be assigned to the park, at least during the summer months.

Plans are under way for installing new drinking fountains and for constructing permanent benches and tables.

Glenwood

The oldest recreation center on the Hilltop is Glenwood park. Here there is a juvenile playground, three tennis courts, horseshoe and volleyball courts.

The large, enclosed shelter house offers facilities for indoor sports and handicraft classes during the cold months of winter.

During the past year the grounds surrounding the shelter house were re-seeded; the shrubs were pruned and cultivated; and all dead trees were removed.

Additional flower beds were planted and a "Glenwood Park" design was planted on the northeast terrace.

The steps leading to the shelter house from Broad-st were repaired.

A new tennis court has been constructed near the rear of the building. The shelter house heating system has been completely overhauled.

In the future, it is hoped that the wading pool will be rebuilt, drinking fountains installed, and a southwest terrace wall constructed.

It is also hoped that low-growing trees or tall shrubs may be planted in the rear of the grounds as a screen from the state institution grounds.

Be Seated

Need Shade Trees

Builders of new homes will find it advisable to set aside a small sum of money for a sizeable shade tree, land planing officials say.

It is suggested that the home owner go to a reputable nurseryman and select a tree of a hardy, long-lived variety which will add permanent value to the property. The owner should avoid one that will grow so rapidly as to be seriously injured by the first wind or ice storm, or one whose roots will come to the surface and injure lawns or will clog sewer lines. Some hardy trees are naturally low-branched or cast dense shade and, if used, should be placed where they will not interfere with lawns, driveways and walks.

At present, there are approximately 30 "dual" students taking flying lessons at the airport, while nearly 150 others are being instructed as "solo" flyers in preparation for obtaining pilot licenses.

The airport offers station wagon service to students from the bus lines to the airport which is located at 3869 Sullivant-av.

The former proprietor, Gomer Jones, is still associated with the airport and has charge of gasoline sales and storage facilities. Other former operators include Tom Stauch and H. A. Lee.

The grounds were originally occupied by the Columbus Municipal airport but were abandoned after the construction of Port Columbus.

It is said that flying conditions at the local field are ideal. Prevailing winds are southwest; smoke is blown away from the district and, consequently, visibility is excellent.

binger-of-spring, whereupon the expedition was enthusiastically labelled "Wolfe's Folly."

I wouldn't be telling you the results, I suppose, if I hadn't ridden back home with four silent companions. We found seven plants, in full bloom, but we had to dig for them under the leaf mold and in the frozen earth just below. But they were there, the corolla fully expanded, the floral organs easily observed. They were even frozen, but that amazing condition has no ill effects on their later flowering, as was evidenced by the fact that the plants we brought into the greenhouse continued to grow and were in full leaf in a few days.

Of course, not all of our plants actually grow in the winter. Some require a period of low temperatures before they resume growth. But probably there are many more that do grow, than we suspect.

The field of winter botany is wide open, and though I shall continue to get genuine pleasure from the show of pink and blue and white and yellow through the early spring woods when the plants begin to flower, there is a deeper fascination to me in the wide array of problems associated with their year-around activity. This I want to know more about, and in that knowledge, perhaps the clouds of trilliums that stand shimmering in the sandstone gullies, the colonies of pink moccasin flowers that mark the pine woods, and the deep fragrance of trailing arbutus on the rocky ledges will then furnish still a greater pleasure, deeper interest, and fuller stimulus to work with living things.

Home Owners--

ment of the imagination. Recently compiled facts and figures prove it.

Recent statistics compiled by the United States census bureau show the number of occupied and vacant dwelling units in cities by wards. According to these figures, there are 4,696 dwelling units in the ninth ward. Of these, 4,527 are occupied and 136 are vacant. Vacancies amount to 2.9% of the total number of units. Population of the ward is 17,481.

There are 4,679 dwelling units in ward 10, of which 4,564 are occupied and 109 (or 2.3%) are vacant. Total population of the ward is 21,401.

Ward 10 contains the largest population in the city.

In ward 11 there are 5,090 dwelling units, of which 5,003 are occupied. Only 84 units or 1.7% of the total are vacant. Ward population is 17,680.

The greatest number of new homes in the community are being built in the Westgate and Wiltshire sections west of Hague-av. There is also considerable building in Valleyview and sections south of Sullivant-av.

The majority of the new homes are valued between $5,000 and $10,000, although there are a few in the $15,000 to $20,000 class.

Much of the financing is done by arrangements with the building and loan, and the Federal Housing Authority. Several fine apartment buildings have been constructed in the community during the past few years, which offer all the conveniences of the modern home.

The pride that residents take in their homes and community is demonstrated by the large amount of money spent in the past and being spent at the present time on various types of home improvement, decoration and landscape work.

It is a truism that the permanence of a community depends on the pride taken by home owners in their homes.

In a thriving community building operations are not confined to homes alone. As people have moved to the Hilltop new business establishments have sprung up to satisfy their needs. Over the years many of the old business houses have been replaced with larger, more substantial and modern buildings.

Business proprietors, taking justifiable pride in the affairs of their community, offer quality merchandise and most reasonable prices. Perhaps their stake in the progress of the community is largest of all. They are motivated by the idea of service and there is no doubt that a large part of the credit for the success of the community is due them.

In addition we have our very own annual minstrel, and musical choruses that are nationally known. Businesses and professions are well represented. Twelve years ago you could scarcely find a place to eat—now count the restaurants. Five and ten stores have come to stay.

Building material yards are substantial and prosperous. Ice plants and servicing institutions are ample to the needs of a growing community.

A Look To The Future

Statistics may not be exciting. But hold on to your seats, we're speculating a bit on the future. We have taken time out to add up our accomplishments, and these represent our assets. Imagination, courage and industry will do even greater things, and it would not be immodest to engage in some predictions.

During the current decade, 1940 to 1950, we should build no less than 1500 to 2000 new living units, and increase our population by five to seven thousand. This increase will represent what is usually considered a city within itself. The needs and turnover in merchandise and services for this new population will be quite substantial. The opportunities and responsibilities are self evident, for those who are alert and alive to take advantage of the possibilities.

Many improvements may well find their way to realization, under the guidance of the proper leadership, and a limited number of such occurs to us at this time, that seem to be worthy of consideration.

Loop transportation service, connecting Sullivant-av and Broad-st; the opening of Grandview-av to Broad-st, hospitalization facilities, a public auditorium, additional grade schools and better recreational centers and facilities, grade crossing elimination, police facilities adequate to the needs of a growing community.

Let's go, time's a wastin'. We may have wars, political campaigns, epidemics, catasshepotr paigns, epidemics, catastrophies, but individually or collectively, we must align ourselves with living forces in a moving world.

S. W. Renner Recalls Past

S. W. Renner, proprietor of the Renner Paint Shop, 2820 W. Broad-st, was born on his father's farm near Hilliards and has lived around the West Side all of his life. He states he can recall hauling hundreds of wagons of hay and corn in from the farm past the vacant fields which are now Westgate and Broadview.

His mother, who worked at the historic old Four-Mile Inn, is now 89 years old and resides at 109 S. Burgess-av.

Renner has played an interesting part in the growth of business, or businesses, on the Hilltop. In 1915 he started a garage, one of the two garages on the Hilltop at that time.

After selling the garage in 1916, he started the Hilltop Transfer Co. and operated it for several years despite the fact that he was with the A. E. F. in France during part of the first World war. On returning, Renner again decided to go into the garage business. He relates that in one month he sold over 16,000 gallons of gasoline from his one, side-walk, hand operated gas pump.

"In those days," he reminisced, "we never wined windshields, checked oil, water, or air, if we didn't get paid for it."

Renner built the second business house west of Hague-av on Broad, the Powell store being the first business building in that section. The rest were farmhouses which were scattered along the national highway.

In 1930, he built the Hilltop post office building and started his paint store in the same year. The store occupies half of the building. This is the present location.

Mrs. Renner assists him in his business.

A complete line of Pittsburgh Plate Glass paints and wallpaper is handled at the store, 2820 W. Broad-st.

Built-in Shelves Supplant Libraries

There is no room in the modern small house of today for an old-fashioned dignified library as a separate interior. The combined study-sitting room or bookish living room has replaced the old-time separate library.

In a study-sitting room, bookcases have a decorative as well as a practical value, and the artistic effects possible in such a room are many. Bookshelves in a living room, placed in proper relation to a fireplace, give an impression of height and dignity to the whole room.

Built-in bookcases and bookshelves will add charm and color to a living room or a sitting room.

Millikin Recalls Cow Pastures On Hilltop

"When I first came to the Hilltop 40 years ago," said Wyatt Millikin, "there was nothing across Broad-st from my place but cow pasture. I could see everything that was going on over on Sullivant-av."

Mr. Millikin has been in the hardware business on the Hilltop over 37 years. His store is at 2420 W. Broad-st.

He has seen a lot of water flow over the dam since establishing himself here. He has seen the Hilltop grow and prosper. "There was a time," he said, "when I knew every person and chicken and dog in the community."

In 1895, the year Mr. Millikin moved here, West Broad-st was paved and the street car tracks were extended out to Hague-av.

A lot of people have moved over the threshold of the Millikin store since that time. In fact, they were out one floor and have made a good start on another.

"Wyatt" was first elected to city council in 1920. "I don't know why I ran," he said. "I guess it was because people like 'Doc' Hamblin and Sam Willis pushed me into it."

During his first day in council Millikan introduced legislation for putting Columbus on Daylight Savings time and this eventually resulted in bringing this territory into the Eastern Standard time zone.

"Wyatt didn't run for council after the expiration of his first term, but in 1932 decided to take another whirl at it. He has been in council ever since.

It has always been an amazing thing to him why people keep electing him. "I never campaigned, never spent any money to get elected, and never asked anybody if I could run," he said.

Millikan was born in Madison county. He spent part of his youth on the farm and moved to Columbus to go to school.

He now lives with his wife at 53 S. Warren-av. Son Arthur, who is married, lives in Milwaukee.

Among his many services to Columbus and the Hilltop, Mr. Millikin introduced the ordinance which eliminated the Big Four crossing on W. Broad-st and the Cleveland-av crossing.

His resolutions have resulted in bringing more territory into the City of Columbus than those of any other councilman. He was responsible to a large degree for the legislation which brought about the construction of the O'Shaughnessy dam and the improvement of the river channel.

As Old As the Hilltop

Back at the time when most of the Hilltop was nothing but a cow pasture Millikin's Hardware began doing business. From that time on it has continued to meet the hardware needs of a rapidly growing community.

Some of the oldest families on the Hilltop were and have continued to patronize this business institution. Year after year the changing ideas of the hardware business have been met with an ever present pledge to sell only high quality lines of merchandise.

Accidents Prevented By Constant Care

Constant watchfulness on the part of the home owner will aid in large measure the protection of his investment. And consistent vigilance will also safeguard him against the danger of accidents occurring on his premises.

Adequate inspections, made periodically, will prevent casualties that may result through falling of bricks, stone trimmings, and other materials loosened through age and weathering.

First Federal Has Had Rapid Growth

Approximately 2500 Hilltop "houses", one-fourth of all on the Hilltop, have come to be "homes" in the past 20 years as a result of financial facilities made available through the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, an institution founded on the Hilltop, it was revealed by H. G. Deems, secretary, this week.

H. G. Deems

This growing institution, with offices at 2369 W. Broad-st and 53 E. State-st, has come to be an integral part of a growing Hilltop community. During the past two years, according to Deems, approximately 1100 homes were financed, one-third of which were for new construction. In addition, during the past two years, the association has helped its patrons save $275,000 in Christmas funds through its Christmas Savings Clubs, $110,000 of which went to Hilltoppers. In all, the association is now serving approximately 10,000 people.

Founded in 1922 by a group of Hilltop men, the organization was originally known as the Hilltop Building and Loan Association. In April, 1935, it was federalized and became the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Columbus. The downtown office was established at that time. In 1937 the Hilltop office was purchased and remodelled and today represents one of the most modern Savings and Loan institutions in the state.

Willard C. Eidson

Savings of investors are insured up to $5000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the United States government. Original capitalization was one hundred million dollars.

Present assets of the First Federal are approximately $6,000,000. It has no real estate on hand and holds no judgments against any individual. Personnel has increased from three persons to 10. Such has been the growth of the First Federal over almost 20 years.

Known as "the friendly institution," it specializes in financing of new construction, on homes being built, repairs and remodeling of homes, and the purchase of properties already constructed. Only first mortgage loans on improved real estate are made.

Officers of the association are: President, Willard C. Eidson; vice-president, E. H. Stauch; treasurer, Dr. T. R. Fletcher; secretary, H. G. Deems; cashier, Paul Solomon; assistant secretaries, Lucille Glick, Helen Tannehill; attorney, Morris Lopper.

Directors are W. C. Eidson, Dr. Fletcher, E. H. Stauch, Dr. T. S. Fox, John H. Lucas, W. L. Millikin, Dr. G. B. Nessley, Judge Cecil Randall, Charles Walton and Dr. Howard Whitehead.

Personnel at the Hilltop office includes Secretary Deems, assistant cashier, James Blower, and Margaret Fletcher Fox.

Simplicity

Simplicity in exterior design is considered by most builders to be one of the basic principles of planning small homes for livability and low cost.

West Side Lumber Silos Provide Familiar Landmarks

One of the familiar landmarks of West Columbus is the group of five large concrete silos at the West Side Lumber Co., which were constructed in 1916. The five towers have a storage capacity of 900 tons of coal, or about 18 railroad carloads.

Willis Slyh

Albert Jordan

The company was founded in 1909 as a coal-yard by Chris Michael, who was bought out by the Columbus Planing Mill Co. The company then moved to the present location at the Big Four R. R. and Broad-st. Later the Doddington Lumber Co. bought the yard and it has been known as the West Side Lumber Co. since that time.

At the institution of the company, some 33 years ago, no streets west of Eureka were paved more than one block south of Broad-st and most of them were just muddy ditches, where lumber had to be delivered by horse and wagon. The company "motorized" partially in 1915 with one of the first Ford trucks but continued to use horses until about 1920.

Ray Percy

Five employees of the company, who are all classed as old-timers on the Hilltop, have a total of 121 years of service with this firm, or an average of over 24 years each. They include S. W. Slyh, manager; R. A. Percy, estimator-salesman; Albert Jordan, bookkeeper; John Fisher, yard foreman; and Edward Thomas, mill superintendent.

The plant of the West Side Lumber Co. covers two acres of ground and includes one of the finest mills in central Ohio and the main mill of the Doddington Co.

A line of Johns Manville roofing and insulation, DuPont paints, interior and custom millwork, coal, and builders' supplies are handled by the company.

Wm. J. Trott Has Been Plumber For 30 Years

William J. Trott, proprietor of Trott Plumbing Service, 1837 Sullivant-av, has been in the plumbing business for approximately 30 years.

He was formerly associated with the Esswein Plumbing Co.

Trott has facilities for doing any kind of plumbing job, including new work, remodeling and repair. He also installs steam and hot water systems to order.

Only the highest grade, nationally known plumbing fixtures are used.

Married, Trott has lived on the Hilltop for the past 17 years and his plumbing business has served the community for the past 10 years.

Shade Tree Is Held Desirable

The rooms of a house should be located in relation to the view, the sun and prevailing winds planning authorities declare.

The living room, they say, should be bright, cheerful and have plenty of sunlight and, if possible, the best view from its windows.

Morning sunlight is generally desirable for dining space. The kitchen should be located to avoid as much direct exposure to the sun as possible.

Bedrooms should have sunlight some time during the day and be favored by exposure to the prevailing summer winds at night.

Subflooring Advisable

Subflooring is not always required but its use is generally considered advisable.

BUCKAROO TEAMS IN DRIVE FOR TITLES

Here Is Happy, Healthy Cross Section Of America

Much ado is made of the Hilltop's vast number of home owners, its churches, schools, improvements of various kinds, but in its recreational facilities and sports programs is also reflected a substantial American community.

Few communities the size of the Hilltop can boast of the wide array of facilities for baseball, football, basketball, shooting, golf, tennis, bowling. Even minor activities, from handball to horseshoes, can be participated in with little effort and no expense.

Those facilities, plus organized play in leagues of various kinds for all ages, indicate a healthy, happy, thriving community, not possible in these days, anywhere else in the world—save America.

For this opportunity for clean, wholesome recreation, the Hilltop may well be thankful.

Sports Notes

By J. W.

Notes of a fan: Just what right has any sports writer anywhere to classify a trio of football losses by one of the largest universities in the country as "sordid defeats," we do not know. Such was the description dished out by one downtown sports scribe as Ohio State's 1940 gridders failed to attain the stature he and other "experts" thought they would during the campaign last fall.

In the first place, these experts don't now any more about pre-season predictions than anybody else. Most of the stuff they write is second handed balderdash, because it just isn't possible for them to watch more than two squads from week to week. Where they get their information may be explained—I don't know—but when some bird who has as little connection with an institution like Ohio State as has the sports writer who starts babbling inanely about "sordid defeats" in public prints, we think he needs some adjustment somewhere.

Our acquaintance with football fans doesn't run too far into the loafers and hangers-on at various corners in Columbus, but the people we know don't classify the loss of a football game as "sordid." Likewise, most of the folks we talk to retain sufficient perspective to observe that Michigan, Cornell and Minnesota turned in a pretty good account of themselves—for them, it was a trio of glorious triumphs. They did not detract from these with any childish prattle about sordidness—and that's no hooey!

George Williams, affable West High athletic director and head coach, is completing his third year at that position with the current baseball campaign. A brief summary of his performance reveals that he has a high percentage of victories, running over 60 per cent, not including the handsome list of triumphs the present baseball aggregation is turning in.

His complete record, since supplanting Harold Wise at the Buckaroo stronghold, follows:

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Football '38	2	6	1	.250
B'k'tball '38-39	7	13	0	.350

Stadium and Defeat

The new steel stadium at West High school was dedicated in November of 1931 at the Newark-West game. Only sore spot of the day was West's defeat at the hands of the Newark eleven with a score of 13 to 7.

27 Athletes To Graduate In June

Twenty-seven West High athletes will close their schoolboy athletic careers come this June, probably the largest one year loss in the school's athletic history.

Most of the 27 have finished competition, with only the spring sports participants still in action. Those who are expected to receive diplomas in June are:

Buck Coach

George B. Williams

A city baseball title (1940) and district diamond championship (1939), the runner-up position twice in football and once in basketball—that's the record compiled by West High's George B. Williams in his less than three years as head coach and athletic director at the local school.

In compiling a winning percentage of over .600, exclusive of the excellent record his baseballers have made this spring, Williams-coached squads have gone through only two campaigns wherein they failed to break even.

Genial George, only coach in Columbus High school history to come up from the ranks of junior high mentors, has "a way" with the boys. That "way" is difficult to put on paper, but you feel, as you watch him work, that he'd rather be coaching those boys out there than anything else in the world. Somehow, when those boys are playing, you know that they'd rather be playing for George than any other coach in the world.

Stadium Bonds Are Rede'med

By Jean Louise Young

Through the medium of school bonds, donations and gifts West High school is slowly decreasing its share of paying for the school stadium.

West's Share, $8000

West's share is $8000. In May 1939 the student body started collecting tax stamps to redeem bonds. Money from tax stamps applied on bonds from May, 1939, until December of that year was $320.27; from January of 1940 until December of that year was $785.54; and from January, 1941, to date, $147.99 has been collected. The total amount comes to $1244.99.

The average of money collected per month from tax stamps is $77.80.

Bond Drawing

On Apr. 7 there was an assembly held at West in which there was a bond drawing to pay back $300.

Those to whom bonds have been redeemed are Clifford Rice, J. E. Arnold, J. A. Kaufman, Marg. Harding, James Matheny, Fish Shop, Inc., Carlisle Dollings, Dr. C. E. Brady, Norma McCoy, C. E. Haines, O. C. Montgomery, A. E. Armbruster, Subcliffe Co., Sol Rising, Lisle Timmons, Gumpo Albertine, Dr. W. Mathews, S. S. Stephens & Sons, W. H. Jones, Leo Uridil, R. O. Kadd, C. Howdy's Jallopy Is Of 1913 Vintage Resurrected from the junk heap and dubbed "Honey," the snappy 1913 Ford roadster number (pictured here) has served her master, Howard "Howdy" Schubert, 175 S. Westgate-av, well and long.

The signs plastered over the chassis only serve to add grace and charm to her already surpassing beauty, according to "Howdy."

In the picture on the left, the girl friend prepares to "skate" home—an improvement over the traditional arrangement.

In the pictures below "Howdy" performs a major operation before drawing off the country lane and settling down to the business at hand (see picture below).

Yes sir, "Honey was a good Ford as far as Fords go, and as far as Fords go, she went." So spoke Howard "Howdy" Schubert recently about his picturesque, unique, ramblin' college jaloppy now hibernating in his backyard at 175 S. Westgate-av.

In the past few years this relic of the mad twenties has become a familiar sight around Columbus, especially on the Hilltop and in the university district.

Howard inherited "Honey" (for $15) while attending Ohio State university in 1938, thus fulfilling a four-year dream during which time he prepared for her coming by collecting ideas and sayings for her decoration in addition to horns, lights and other ornaments to grace her body.

Howdy's decorated and somewhat bizarre "Model T" is almost too old for conscription, being of 1913 vintage. In spite of all the 28 years she is practically a new car, comparatively speaking, since it is estimated that she hasn't traveled more than 25,000 miles.

As was customary with horseless carriages, this remarkably undignified gas buggy has more than her full quota of horns. To list some of the noise-makers besides the cut-out and compression whistle, there are six bells ranging from cowbells and jingle bells to electric door bells.

In addition there are eight vacuum horns, three electric, two old-style, hand-operated klaxon horns and numerous ornamental and indifferent horns. That is, they just don't give a hoot. There is also a late model auto radio built in the trunk.

Face Heavy Schedule For Next Month

With the Buckaroo baseballers reaching the half-way mark in their vigorous campaign for a second straight city title next Tuesday afternoon, Coach George Williams was concentrating this week on how to shuffle his pitchers to the best advantage for the busy month ahead.

Tuesday the Bucks cross bats with the formidable East High Tigers on the local field, and to keep their present position must take the long end of the score. Friday, South's Bulldogs will come to the Hilltop while the Cowpunchers will trek to Central the following Tuesday for their third game in eight days.

These battles will probably crystallize the pennant race, but Williams has additional worries with the coming of the Central District Tournament at Ohio State university's diamonds on May 9-10. It was a similar heavy schedule prior to the event last year which left the locals with an overworked pitching staff and they were eliminated from the tournament which they won in 1939.

Showing strong defensive play and getting excellent mound work, West bounced through Greenfield, Zanesville, Marion, Springfield and four of the city teams with a respectable share of triumphs. Plate power has been conspicuous by its absence, but some of the lads are getting their sights adjusted and no one will be surprised to see the home boys cop a couple of flags ere the perfect days of June. West closes the city league race against the Tigers at East May 23.

Veterans Richards and Swisher have been doing most of the mound work in effective style, bolstered by some fine crooked arm tossing by Dick Hoover, a

Bucks Face Tough Gridiron Sked; 7 Veterans To Return

With seven returning lettermen from last year's gridiron squad, and about three dozen additional tiny and inexperienced prospects, football coach George B. Williams at West High School is looking forward to a vigorous vacation in the open air and golden sunshine. He'll need to build up a strong resistance to headaches, big and brawny shoulders to carry a heavy load, for prospects are dull.

Last year's eleven, after a slow start, banged down the home stretch in a blaze of glory, but the main cogs in that machine which finally got going, will not be available.

Spring drills which ended a month ago, found 45 candidates reporting, including the seven vets. Outstanding asset of the situation seems to be spirit. With that, and perhaps the addition of a little meat on lean bodies this summer, things won't be so dark after all.

The Buckaroos will face nine opponents next fall, opening the campaign Sept. 19 at Newark in a night tilt. Four more games on the road are scheduled before South invades the Cowboy ballwick for the local opener. This battle will probably be the season's opener and homecoming game in one, for the Hilltoppers travel again the following Friday to Dayton, The Central Pirates on Nov. 7 and Aquinas on Nov. 14 will wind up the season.

The complete schedule:

Sept. 19—At Newark (night).
Sept. 26—At Middletown (night).
Oct. 3—At East.
Oct. 10—At Lima South (night).
Oct. 17—At North (night).
Oct. 24—South.
Oct. 31—At Dayton Roosevelt.

Spring drills, which lasted two weeks, were given over to drills in fundamentals, with most of the action taking place out of doors. A few indoor sessions were held, in which some plays were outlined and practiced.

Returning veterans include ends Snyder and Laughlin, tackles Fosnaugh and Tucker, Weidner, a guard; Wisdom, who'll probably be stationed at center; and Bineham, a blocking back.

Hobbs, an all high performer last year, is now enrolled at Central, and may not return to the Hilltop school next fall.

Broncos To Meet Crestview Tuesday

West Junior High School's Bronco baseballers, yet in the running for the title, will tangle with Crestview Tuesday afternoon in the second official engagement of the five game schedule. George Collins, guiding the Broncs this spring, has a rather formidable array of talent at his disposal and the juniors have looked good in early engagements.

The remainder of the West Junior schedule:

May 6—Everett here.
May 14—Indianola here.
May 20—At Barrett.

Beacon Light Golf Course Is Sporty 9-Hole Layout

With a number of fine improvements completed, including a new club room, Beacon Light Golf course, the "sportiest nine hole layout in central Ohio," is the scene of increased activity as fair days become more frequent. Beacon Light is located on the Rome-Galloway road just south of the national highway.

With L. E. Kidwell in charge again, and his famous golfing son, Jack, caring for the greens, the course is in its finest condition since its construction.

Besides the club house improvement, extensive work has been done on the course proper. Toward the close of last year's season, a lake was constructed which measures 75 by 20 yards, lying across the dog leg on No. 4 fairway. It cuts off the green and the drive must now carry the

Collins, Rose Switch Jobs

George Collins, senior high assistant coach, and Dale Rose, junior high mentor, have traded some of their duties this spring. Collins is in charge of junior high baseball, while Rose has taken over both junior and senior high track. In addition, Collins will continue to supervise senior golf and tennis.

Rose was a former track star at Ohio Wesleyan.

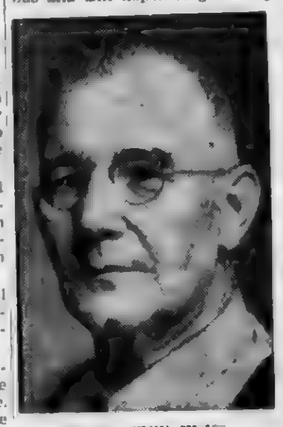
Golfers Play Saturday A. M.

West High's golfing squad will take to the links for its fifth round of competition in the city league next Saturday morning to complete the first half of the spring schedule.

With five members of last year's third place squad available to Coach Collins, a veteran squad has high hopes of one-two-three position ere the final match on June 7.

Veterans include Vita Del Ciello, Charles Snyder, Tony Oddi, Wayne Johnson and Bob Susie.

The annual district golf tournament is slated for May 17 at the Ohio State university course. Qualifiers will compete in the state meet May 24.



Bill Wolfe Is Proud of His Kid Bowling Classes

William (Bill) Wolfe, proprietor of the Hilltop Bowling Alleys, is proud of his boys. Young lads they are, some only in elementary school, but each Saturday morning they're down at the bowling alleys, learning to bowl. Bill has worked hard with about 40 boys this winter, one of whom, George Phillips, won a trip to the ABC in St. Paul recently.

From his proteges, a team has been selected which, during the past season, rolled six matches, losing none, and winning 17 of the 18 games.

Next year, at the ABC scheduled for Columbus, 36 teams will be selected from all over Columbus and Bill hopes to get a representative number of Hilltop boys on the various squads. They're already practicing for the event.

Clearview Gun Club Is Active

In September, 1937, a group of Hilltop trap shooting enthusiasts got together and formed a gun club. Located on Sullivant-av about a half mile west of the airport, it is known as the Clearview Gun club.

Members of the club (membership is now about 70) endeavor to meet for shooting purposes about twice a month during the winter and at least once a week during the warmer months.

President of the club is Harry Moellencamp, 496 Belvidere-av; vice-president and secretary, William Acker; and treasurer, Walter Davis.

Thinclads Ready For Relays

With high jumper Daugherty, pole vaulter Schubert and hurdlers Ballenger and Miller, plus promising sophomores Crosy and Tiller as a nucleus, Dale Rose's West High track team is making final preparations for the Newark Relays scheduled next Saturday.

The following week, May 10, the district meet is slated at the Ohio State university stadium, with qualifiers in that meet eligible for participation in the state event May 17.

Three Veterans On Tennis Team

Ucker, Phillips and Anderson are veteran tennis squad members at West High this spring, forming the backbone of the team which will compete in the district tournament at Ohio State May 17.

Colorful George Hardy Is Versatile, Energetic Leader

George K. Hardy, glass salesman, semi-pro athlete and manager of numerous athletic squads, president of the West High Alumni association, packs as much color as an old-fashioned garden and absolutely none of its quietude. For where George is, there will be noise—but noise accompanied by action. Things will get done.

A born leader, George does things with enthusiasm, and to win. He's what they call a "winning player," and when his team has lost a ball game, you can be sure that everything that could have been done to win, was done. One wonders sometimes how they ever got him to let the hero win the fencing duel in "Monsieur Beaucaire," his senior class play, but the hero won and we'll bet George is sorry to this day that he followed the script on both performances. That's the only time he gave quarter; he's never asked for it.

Hardy is a versatile fellow, likely to get into anything. A year ago he decided he'd like to tap dance. He took six lessons, and danced in the Hilltop Minstrels. But the big event in that show was his unintentional slip, when he plunked thunderously onto the stage, back of lap first. Nothing got more applause. This year, he and his daughter, Jackie, went through a routine. He

Recreation Facilities Good

Among the many features that make the Hilltop a desirable place to work and live are the numerous facilities for wholesome recreation.

In the community are three fine moving picture theatres, the Ritz, the Rivoli and the Westmont, which are attended nightly by large crowds.

The airport out Sullivant-av, which is operated by Mr. Eddie Arn, offers facilities for pilot training and just plain excursion riding.

On Sullivant-av also is the Clearview Gun club where many men in the community while away happy hours shooting away at the clay pigeons.

Just off N. Hague-av in the Valleyview addition, there is a large swimming pool which attracts people like flies during the sweltering summer days. The owner (as we already know) is "Charlie" Cruea.

During both the winter and summer months the kids pack into the three fine Hilltop parks, Holton, Westgate and Glenwood. Swinging, sliding and just plain playing are in order in the summer. On bitter cold winter days the park ponds are frequented by many ice skaters.

Soon after the first snow of winter falls, the Glenwood park hillsides are worn smooth by sled runners. The shelter house offers facilities for basketball and other indoor sports.

The city recreation department sponsors sewing, painting, design and music classes in the shelter house for children and adults.

Church organizations, lodges and social clubs sponsor plays and other forms of entertainment which are enjoyed by hundreds annually.

The rapid growth of scouting on the Hilltop has widened the scope of educational and recreational opportunities for the boys

Valleybrook Riding Academy Has Four Miles of Bridal Paths

On the north side of N. Hague-av, out beyond the city limits, there is a 125-acre tract of land, fresh and green with the verdure of spring.

Here, a crystal clear brook winds lazily through a deep and shady ravine.

Four miles of bridal paths twist and turn up and down the sloping banks of the stream and then across smooth pasture lands and back again.

This is the site of the Valley Brook Riding academy, operated by Charles Clifton. Each year hundreds of Hilltoppers benefit from the relaxation and exercise afforded here.

At the academy, which Mr. Clifton has operated for over three years, there are 17 well trained riding horses. A horse lover all his life, Clifton for many years was in the business of buying and selling horses.

"With the rapid development of the automobile," he said, "the day of the horse dealer has all but passed."

Horses, like people, have personality traits, according to Clifton. Some are ill-tempered; others are lazy; and still others are spirited.

Large, fiery eyes in a horse may tell something about a horse's spirit that one might not otherwise suspect.

"You can't always tell about a horse by looking at him, though," commented the local horseman. "He may appear to be clumsy as an ox and have a narrow chest and pig eyes, but he might be able to run like a streak."

Besides his riding horses, Clifton keeps four race horses which he runs at Beulah park. With his wife he lives in the house on the premises. The address is 1295 N. Hague-av.

Open-Mindedness Is Home Planning Need

Enough emphasis cannot be placed on the fact that the prospective home builder should maintain an open mind on every point during the course of the planning of the house.

The home owner as a rule does not adequately understand the many factors that must be considered and the many technical details which must be settled. For that reason the architect and the builder should be given every opportunity to use their ingenuity and their technical knowledge.

Harris Ave.

Harris-av was so named in honor of the man who paved the first block on the street.

Holton Park Is Inviting

Playground apparatus is also seen in the picture.

According to officials in the city division of parks and forestry, much of the park property has been damaged in the past year by irresponsible individuals. It has been suggested that part-time supervision be provided for the park.

Allen Boosts Local Sports

Noble L. Allen

Long recognized as a sport enthusiast on the Hilltop, Noble L. Allen, local funeral director, has in the past sponsored several basketball teams in the junior athletic league, one being a championship team.

Noble, himself, was a sportsman. He was a trackman at West high school in 1920 and 1921 and was on the track team at Ohio State during his freshman and sophomore years.

Last year he assisted in the training of the track team at West High.

Active in school affairs, for the past two years he has been president of the West Jr.-Sr. PTA.

W. E. Jones Has Been Hilltopper Since 1905

Although William E. Jones, local realtor, was not born a citizen of the Hilltop, he claims to be a native as he arrived in town in 1905, at the tender age of two years, from Indiana.

Jones was raised and educated in Columbus, attending Mound and Trade High schools. He married Charlotte Kraner, a West Side girl, and moved to the Hilltop where he has resided since that time. He resides with his family of three boys and two girls, at 174 S. Eureka-av, which territory, he states has not changed much in the 15 years that he has lived there.

He has always been interested in salesmanship and has been actively engaged in the real estate business for the past 15 years. During this time, he observes, there has been a decided trend in home building in favor of the one floor plan, with many new construction ideas.

Jones believes that with world trends as they are, real estate will be the last thing the government will socialize.

Other members of the W. E. Jones firm are: Sidney V. Everett, associate, 107 N. Roys-av; Fred U. Kraner, property management and rentals, 50 S. Eureka-av, and Miss Jacqueline Peden, 253 Brehl-av.

The company, which is conveniently located at Broad and Hague, main crossroads of the Hilltop, features general appraising service, as well as complete home service, which includes sales, trades, rentals, new constructions and general insurance.

Famous Landmark Razed in 1913

The old Four-Mile House, so-called because of its location from High-st was a spacious country tavern; it was finally razed in 1913.

Established by Timothy Biglow, the tavern became known as an excellent stopping place for travelers over the national pike.

It was located on the north side of W. Broad-st at what is now Chase-av. During the existence of Camp Chase it was a favorite hang-out of soldiers.

The tavern was composed of a lobby and 14 or 15 rooms. The Four-Mile House was known far and wide for its fine meals.

Red Booster

John Roan

If you see a man wandering about the streets around World Series time with a fiery gleam in his eyes, that's probably John Roan, owner of the dry cleaning the corner of Hague and Broad.

Although John was an enthusiastic supporter of the Cincinnati Reds last year, he says he isn't particularly partial toward any American or National league team.

Needless to say, he follows all the games with a hawk's eye. Roan resides at 73 S. Princeton-av.

Sports Storage Closet Useful

A closet or small room given over to the storage of winter sports equipment will be appreciated by the home owner during the summer months.

National Pike Through Hilltop in 1836

Reaching from Wheeling, W. Va., to Indianapolis, Ind., the national road passed in its construction through Columbus in 1836. Shortly after that year, it came through what is now the Hilltop.

Frank Richey

Pictured above is Frank Richey, 538 S. Terrace-st, who, by popular concensus, was one of the best football players in the annals of West High school football history.

A junior at Ohio State, his prospects for play at the university this fall are good, it is said, since the new policy at State admits brains as well as brawn.

Home Value Lowered By Unsightly Roof

A dilapidated broken-down old roof can quickly lower the value of a home. It is not only unsightly and something of a disgrace to the neighborhood but many times it is also a dangerous fire hazard.

Flood Stimulates Growth of Hilltop

After the high waters of the flood of 1913 had subsided, there was an immediate rush for lots on the Hilltop. Homes were placed under construction immediately.

Confederate Prison Housed Slaves

Senatorial investigation in 1862 revealed the presence of 50 Negro slaves at Camp Chase brought there as servants for the Confederate soldiers.

Of Our Unsurpassed Dry Cleaning Service!

It has been aptly said that "good work is its own reward." This has apparently been true in our case. It is gratifying that many, many Hilltop residents who demand the best in dry cleaning have been with us consistently from the beginning. Naturally we are proud of their preference. In the years to follow as in the years that are gone we shall improve our service if a better method than ours of today should be developed. Again, thank you for your preference.

Lauer's Cleaners Business Grows

"Duke" Lauer

One of the expanding businesses of the Hilltop is Lauer's Dry Cleaners. Started by "Duke" Lauer, May 18, 1938, at the corner of Ogden and Sullivant-avs, it was moved on Feb. 28, 1941, to Warren and Sullivant-avs. In June, 1940, another store was opened at 2289 W. Broad-st.

The shops specialize in quick pressing and also have a pick-up and deliver service. This is more easily facilitated by the use of a motor scooter which enables faster service of this type.

The shop on Sullivant is easy to find because of the 15-foot neon sign, which, according to "Duke" Lauer, is the largest sign used by any dry cleaning firm in the city and one of the largest signs of its kind on Sullivant-av.

"Duke" was born and raised on the Hilltop, attending Highland-av elementary, John Burroughs, Highland-av junior high, and West High and Central high school.

He was associated in business with his father, who managed a tire and battery shop at 1345 W. Broad-st. Later he worked with the Life Insurance Co. of Virginia, and then with the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co.

Employed in his shops are Misses Selma J. Welker, Dorothy Bedard, Leota Thompson and Marion Hathaway.

Lauer resides with his wife, the former Irma Williams, and their daughter, Joanne, age 11, at 2680 Sullivant-av.

Not an outstanding athlete himself, he nevertheless played football and basketball at West High. But he's managed numerous teams in and around Columbus and probably has copped more titles than any other manager hereabouts. His teams at Hoge Memorial won three church league titles and went on to the city championship twice. Last winter his basketball team went undefeated in the local league.

He was president of his class at West High from which institution he graduated in 1928. Two years ago he was named alumni prexy and last year was re-elected. Will he run for a third term? Well, the membership was increased 400 per cent during his two terms.

One of the other features of "Howdy's" decorations is an eight-foot rope attached to the radiator cap and ending with a heavy horse weight which "Howdy" religiously puts out on the curb whenever he parks her.

Another interesting gadget is the nickel slot machine on the side with a sign above it, "Please drop your nickels here." A red fire bucket hanging on another side has written on it "For emergency use only."

Howard graduated from West High and then studied mechanical engineering for four years at Ohio State university.

At the present time he is employed as a chemist assistant at the Columbus sewage treatment works. As a hobby, he is teaching ballroom dancing to approximately 250 students in the I. M. A. dance classes at Ohio State.

Each year, about the first of March, Colley heads south for a survey of the baseball training camps. It sounds like a vacation, says Colley, but it's really a tough job.

Horses, Horses -- Doc Likes 'Em

A guy who is absolutely "nuts" about horses is Dr. W. L. Durflinger. He owns four horses of his own and would like to have as many more.

Dr. Durflinger says his whole family is "horsey." So, whatever it is, it must run in the blood.

His grandfather won a dozen sweepstakes in Madison and Fayette counties. "Now there was a man," said Dr. Durflinger, "who bought and sold a lot of horses in his day." On one occasion he traded a single three-year-old for a house and lot and $400 to boot.

Dr. Durflinger likes horses all right, but horses don't always like him—or, more specifically—they don't always like the members of his family.

Mrs. Durflinger was out riding one day. She had a broken arm which she carried in a sling. The horse shied. Mrs. Durflinger fell off. She broke her ankle in three places.

Among the doctor's favorite horses is Cherokee Rose who is "some jumper" and who has been shown and hunted at first class events.

Another "pride and joy" of Dr. Durflinger's is a colt out of Cherokee Rose and by Ahira, an Arabian stud valued at $75,000.

For a couple of years, Dr. Durflinger has gone in for jumping, a sport which is becoming increasingly popular among horse lovers everywhere. Moreover, he is one of a small group that is starting a hunt club.

In May Dr. Durflinger plans to go south to witness the Preakness, Maryland Hunt Cup and Gold Cup events.

One of the greatest thrills that the local horse lover ever got was when he saw Greyhound win the Hamiltonian in 1935 after closing up 12 lengths in the back stretch.

Dr. Durflinger resides with his wife and children, Tom and Jerry, at 201 N. Warren-av.

Beacon Light is one of the toughest little courses in Ohio, with par having been broken but a few times in the past several years. One of its masters is Jack Kidwell, pictured above, who was the 1940 City Public Links champion. Jack is one of the best golfers in this portion of Ohio, having first won recognition in 1937 when he copped the state high school individual title. Since then he's been heard of frequently in amateur circles. In the last 22 amateur-amateur matches, he has won nine times and finished in the money on five other occasions.

Highland Growth

With a registration of 215 pupils, Highland-av school occupied its present site on Nov. 21, 1895. The Camp Chase annex as well as the Sullivant-av annex were under the supervision of Mr. Mead along with the Highland-av building.

In 1902, Miss Daisy Charters was appointed principal and when the junior high was moved from the building, the elementary school was left in charge of Mr. E. N. Littleton.

Later, when Mr. Littleton was placed in charge of the Junior High school at Bowling Green, Miss Ruby MacMahan succeeded him. She was followed by Miss Mathilda Stuart. The present principal is Miss Helen Kennedy, former teacher at West Junior High school.

McGurer In Garage Business 19 Years

Ed McGurer has been in the garage business for 19 years and first started in the old High-Livingston garage back in the days when no engineering training was necessary even to run one of the gas buggies.

For several years after 1922 he was associated with the Potter-Gager Ford garage, then later moved to Florida and became a service manager of a Ford garage in that state.

Back to Columbus in 1928, Ed sold his services for a time to the Rodenfels Chevrolet people.

In 1933 he went into business for himself, opening a garage at 20 S. Wayne-av, where he has been located ever since. Ed is the Hilltop's United Service representative.

With his assistants, Alvin Schlaegel and John Hangsen, Ed says he can repair anything from a kiddie-car to an airplane.

He is married, has one child, and resides at 2398 Apple-st.

Dr. Bates Spends Spare Time Training Horses To Jump

Dr. M. W. Bates is a veterinary surgeon and he likes horses. But it seems that his becoming a horse fan didn't particularly have anything to do with his profession.

He just happened to buy a horse one day from a cavalry post to see what he could do with it. He must have done something with it, because he has had horses on the brain ever since.

About four years ago Dr. Bates inherited a 385-acre farm near Washington C. H. Here he spends his spare time training his horses to jump. At present he has seven horses and a couple of colts.

As much as Dr. Bates likes his horses, he is now trying to sell some of them off. This is not because his interest in the various equestrian arts is beginning to lag but because he expects to be called into army service at any time.

He is a member of the Reserve Officers corps. If and when he goes into the army he will probably do some kind of work in connection with meat inspection or sanitation.

The horses have appeared in various horse shows in the vicinity. Dr. Bates has had several entries at Ohio state fairs.

Trained as hunters or jumpers, Dr. Bates' horses have been ridden on various hunt courses, particularly at the Rocky Fork Hunt club.

Dr. Bates described the horse training procedure as follows: "First I train them to jump over logs. Then they are taught to jump over higher obstacles by gradual stages. Often they are roped to a stake and run in a circle where hurdles are placed. After they have learned to jump without mounts, they go through the same procedure once again with a rider."

Dr. Bates was born in Fayette county. He graduated from the veterinary college at Ohio State in 1932 and has been practicing on the Hilltop for the past eight and a half years. He resides with his wife and three children at 661 Binns-blvd.

Copy of Record Sells For $1.00

Back in September, 1928, the first issue of the Hilltop Record off the newly installed press was sold to George Pekras, manager of the Rivoli theatre, for $1.00. Mrs. R. D. Hastings framed the bill and has it in her possession at the present time.

State Asylum Bought for $35

The 187½ acres of land lying west of Central-av and south of Broad-st extending to Sullivant-av, on which is located the State Institution for the Feeble Minded, is one of the most beautiful areas in the community and is said to have been purchased for the paltry sum of $35 per acre.

Highland Garden Club Seeks To Beautify Homes of Community

A house isn't a home unless it has a garden and the task of home beautification often falls to the woman.

Therefore, it is not at all unusual to discover in the community a group of women whose chief aim is to make us more garden-conscious, thereby stimulating that ever-lagging element in our natures called aestheticism.

On Apr. 5, 1938, a group of 14 garden-minded women met at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hamilton, 1390 N. Hague-av, and organized a garden club. Mrs. C. E. Sharp was the first president; Mrs. E. D. Myers, vice-president; Mrs. Ray Hauntz, treasurer; Mrs. J. T. Nutting, secretary; and Mrs. James M. Shepard, corresponding secretary.

Because this community is situated on high land, the name, Highland Garden club, was adopted.

Interest in the work of the club grew apace and it was soon found necessary to restrict membership. A waiting list was formed.

Meetings are held on the third Monday of each month throughout the year except during August.

Special events on the club's calendar include Guest Day, Christmas meeting and the annual luncheon.

Members endeavor to make club programs as consistently entertaining and instructive as possible. A speaker, who is always an authority in his or her field, is provided for each meeting.

Each season, one or more garden tours are arranged by the chairman of tours, Mrs. Kenneth Bates.

Under the supervision of Mrs. J. Earl Taylor, two successful benefit bridge parties have been given.

The Highland Garden club is an affiliate of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs and the Franklin County Council and also assists in the maintenance of the Garden Center, located in the Columbus Chamber of Commerce building.

Two representatives of the club, Mrs. Charles Coburn and Mrs. Herbert Gibson, serve as hostesses at the Garden Center, where garden books, catalogues and general information regarding plant culture is available to the public, free of charge.

Recently the garden clubs of Columbus and Franklin county united in one big event, a benefit bridge party at the Southern hotel for the benefit of the Garden Center. Mrs. J. Earl Taylor was general chairman.

The hope of every Garden club member is that, in the not-too-far distant future, they may have a permanent structure to house the Garden Center, where any person, whether or not a member, may go for information on garden problems.

The present officers of the Highland Garden club are Mrs. E. D. Myers, president; Mrs. C. E. Sharp, vice-president; Mrs. Chas. Coburn, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Hauntz, secretary; and Mrs. D. H. Latham, corresponding secretary.

Club members hope that more and more people in the community will become garden-minded and that the following motto, which is the motto of the club, will be generally adopted:

"Plant lilies and lilies will bloom;
Plant roses and roses will grow;
Plant hate and hate to life will spring;
Plant love and love to you will bring
The fruit of the seeds you sow."

of the community. Campfire groups, also enjoying a healthy growth, have done the same thing for the girls.

Hundreds of bowling enthusiasts congregate each week at the Hilltop Recreation bowling alleys to participate in that increasingly-popular indoor sport. Bill Wolfe is proprietor of Hilltop Recreation.

In the years past several baseball and basketball leagues for both men and women have been organized under the auspices of the local churches.

These church league games have elicited enthusiasm r have elicited enthusiastic response from members of the community.

Bill Wolfe--

Selections for the teams are based on their bowling ability, grades in school, each of which count 40 per cent, and general conduct, which counts 40 per cent, and general conduct, which counts 20 per cent.

Bill Wolfe likes boys. He should, having nine of his own, plus two daughters. There's Herman, 38; Harold, 36; Lawrence, 28; Joe, 26; Richard, 24; Ed, 21; Tom, 20; Jim, 18; and Bill, 14. Carl, another son, was fatally hurt in an auto accident in 1925. The two daughters are Mary, 30, and Rita, 12.

Bill started to work at the age of 12 in the Perry county coal mines. He came to Columbus in 1905 and worked with the Pennsylvania Railroad until 1920, when, not wishing to participate in the strike, he quit and started an ice and coal business. In 1939 he purchased the local bowling alleys. Those are all the jobs he ever had.

Coming to the Hilltop in 1917 after the flood, he's lived at 2386 Plum-av ever since.

Ten leagues are in operation at the local alleys, comprised of 78 teams. The bowling season, now drawing to a close, has been highly successful, with Don Shafer carrying off most of the high scoring honors.

Highest game of the season was rolled by Fred Kuhlman who smacked out a 279. Shafer turned in a 278 and Clark Smith a 276. High three game total was Johnny Murnane's 738 with Shafer counting 710. High team total was a 1115 scored by Ed Stauch's Five Cent Towel Supply.

Shafer's 202 average tops all local bowlers. He is trailed by Lou Krueger with 196.

White Rose Offers Complete Laundry Service

The White Rose Laundry Co., organized in 1925, by Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Scott, has been in continuous service at the original location, 814 McKinley-av.

At the initiation of their service, the company's equipment consisted of two or three washing machines, and damp laundry service was all that was offered to the public. Now the management states they will clean anything "from a pocket handkerchief to a circus tent."

One of the interesting facts about the White Rose laundry is the large percentage of its original employees still affiliated with the company today. L. C. Schatzman, 1303 Sullivant-av, has served in the company for 11 years, and plant foreman, Andrew Gregory, 123 N. Princeton-av, has been with the company since it was instituted.

The West Side representative of the laundry is Thomas Spillman, who resides at 1006 Harrisburg-pk.

The laundry, which features efficient pick-up and delivery service, offers the public complete family laundry service and dry cleaning facilities.

Wright Has Seen Many Changes In 31 Years

When W. H. Wright first came to Columbus from Coshocton, where he was born, he found the Hilltop much different than it now appears. In his 31 years of living in this community, a pageant of the growing city has occurred all around him.

After coming to the Hilltop, Wright worked as an apprentice with M. I. Beaver, in the small shop he operated, where the Hilltop Sandwich shop is now located. At this time he lived at 48 S. Eureka-av, which street was always hub-deep in mire, and

Horse and Buggy Salesmen

Sherm Edwards recalls when he first had his store at Hague and Broad that salesmen called on him in horse and buggy.

Wright reported that by looking out of his dining room window he could watch the cars running along Broad-st, although they came only to Highland-av at that time.

The original Wright shoe shop was located across Broad-st from its present location. Later it was moved into the present location, then to Harris and Broad, for 10 years, to Eldon and Broad, and back to the present location, where it has been for five years.

The memory of the old house that stood in the W. Broad-st school yard and the Eldon Smith home at the Corner of Eldon and Broad was still clear in the cobbler's mind, as was the big Millikin barn that stood on a terrace at Eureka and Broad, and the little barber shop at the corner of Harris-av.

In his job of "saving the soles" of thousands of Hilltoppers, Wright states that he always tries to treat the customers right and give the best materials and workmanship possible. He uses as few nails as possible and does a considerable amount of cement work.

Pavement Began

W. Broad-st was the first street paved on the Hilltop; Highland-av was the second.

Glass From Hilltop Factory Is Shipped All Over the World

The Hilltop is known as a community of homes and is not an industrial community in any sense of the word—that is, in all but one sense of the word.

There is a factory here—a glass factory. It is small, but it is compact and mighty. It makes shipments to every state in the union and before the war it shipped items to Europe and South Africa.

The factory belongs to W. R. Westlake and is located in the rear of his home at 3294 W. Broad-st.

The business is housed in a substantial concrete block building. Contained therein are three brick kilns which are fired by an intensive gas flame, grinding tables, washing tubs, storage bins and modern office equipment.

Novelty ware for distribution to state fairs, carnivals and gift shops all over the country is manufactured here. Items include cream pitchers, sugar bowls, children's drinking mugs, candlesticks, glass baskets, jewel cases, salt and pepper shakers, vases, pitchers, fancy paper weights and ash trays.

Mr. Westlake owns the molds in which the items are pressed, but the glass is pressed by another concern. The work of the local shop consists chiefly of "ruby flashing" the crystal items.

The ruby color is given to the glass by a special process. Those parts of the glass item which are to be given a ruby color are coated with a special kind of "mud." The item is then subject to an intensive heat treatment in a kiln.

During the heat bath the glass takes on a burnt amber color. The item is then subject to a similar treatment in another kiln and the amber glass turns a brilliant ruby shade.

On many pieces, attractive designs are cut into the glass by means of cutters. The beauty of the piece is often enhanced by gold enamel work.

The spring and summer months are the busiest parts of the year for the local glass concern. During this time Mr. Westlake packs up his glass items (and also his family) and then is off to the various state fairs in the middle west.

These sojourns through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas combine business and pleasure for the Westlakes. "There is a little bit of the gypsy in all of us," said Mr. Westlake, "and these trips certainly bring it out in us."

The business is purely a family affair. Mr. Westlake is the general superintendent. His wife takes care of the office and son, David, age five, helps out here and there, when he is not romping with his pet dog, "Pepper."

Mr. Westlake was born on the Hilltop. Here he attended Highland-av, West Broad and West High schools. With his father, the late Milton W. Westlake, he started in the business before he finished school.

The business has enjoyed a steady growth and last fall it was necessary to erect an additional building because of limitations of storage space.

Mrs. H. Burnside Active Worker In Many Clubs

Club woman extraordinaire, queen of card parties, benefits and lawn fetes is Mrs. Harley Burnside of 466 N. Hague-av. Since 1924, when she moved to Columbus, she has been exceedingly active in societies and clubs in all sections of the city.

Her affiliations run from such homey and innocent-sounding groups as the Friendship circle to the impressive and oriental Baloo Temple of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan of Columbus Santha of the Nomads of Avrudaka.

For the past 16 years she has been active as a charity worker and has been instrumental in furnishing fuel, food, clothing and bedding to thousands of needy families.

During the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons her phone is kept busy night and day with "charity" calls. "My home is turned into a veritable office at such times as these," said Mrs. Burnside.

"It is not at all unusual," she continued, "for people to call me up at 2 o'clock in the morning, telling me that a baby has been born and has no clothing, and asking me if I can do anything about it."

An inveterate organizer, Mrs. Burnside has organized two circles for the Florence Crittenden home as well as many other groups.

In 1936 she was awarded a lifetime, paid-up membership to the Buckeye Republican club for work done in a membership drive.

She is serving her fourth term as Franklin Township Republican committeewoman.

In August, 1940, Mrs. Burnside was elected committeewoman for Valleyview. She was chairman of the Valleyview jubilee held in September and is also welfare and publicity chairman for the entire village.

She was highly instrumental in furnishing badges and uniforms for the village police force, which includes a marshal and four deputies.

In recent years Mrs. Burnside has been affiliated with 23 separate organizations and many others are bidding for her favor. Included among the societies and clubs with which she has had membership and served in various official capacities are the following:

Highland Garden club (charter member), Daughters of America (Liberty Council), Florence Crittenden circle, Friendship circle, Jeffry auxiliary of the American Legion, Patriotic Booster club (Daughters of America), Carnation club, Buckeye Republican club, Ohio Association of Garden clubs.

Damona Temple No. 46 (Pythian Sisters), Women's Republican Club of Ohio, Young People's Republican club, Willkie Republican club, Nomads of Avrudaka, Women's club of Valleyview, Dames of Malta, Royal Neighbors of America.

Indianola Rebecca lodge, Mother Garfield circle (G. A. R.), Western Riding club, West High PTA and the Hillcrest Baptist church. She has been a member of the Townsend Plan since its beginning.

Besides attending to her numerous club activities, Mrs. Burnside has found time for a very interesting hobby. She is a collector of salt and pepper sets and items in her collection come from nearly every state in the Union.

"The thing of which I am most proud," says Mrs. Burnside, "is that with all my social work I have been able to hold a husband and make him a good home for over 20 years."

She has also raised her niece, Ruth Carol Burnside, from infancy. Ruth Carol is a student at West High school.

Mr. Burnside is district manager for the Vanti-Pa-pi-a corporation, associated with the Hecker Products corporation.

This Is Tops Of Prize Contests

The Hilltop Business Men's association has long been famed for its numerous contests but none has surpassed the one held in December of 1928 at which time the prize was a new Ford sedan. Winner was a man who had made but one purchase; 25c worth of cigars!

Daugherty Shade In Business For 18 Years

Charles Daugherty, 97 S. Roys-av, is the owner of a shade shop at 2288 W. Broad. A home owner, he has been in business on the Hilltop for the past 18 years.

He does any kind of blind business and specializes in Venetian blinds. Shade cutter for the business is Hada Godden.

Tempus Fugit

The board of education passed a ruling in 1845 forbidding any boy over 10 years of age from attending classes taught by a female teacher.

Phys. Ed. for Girls

Physical education for girls was first permitted as a regular course at West High in the year 1921.

S. W. Six First Hilltop Merchant

Oldest merchant on the Hilltop is Mr. S. W. Six who started in business at the corner of Highland and Broad-sts 47 years ago this year.

Mr. Six started a feed store and later added groceries, making his own deliveries in a push-cart.

A real veteran Mr. Six has watched the Hilltop grow from the time of the first electric car that came up the Asylum Hill to the present day thriving community and he has enjoyed every minute of the active part he has played in its growth.

Hilltop Minstrel First Held in 1930

The Hilltop Business Men's Association held its first minstrel show in February of 1930. George Painter, Dick Becker, Paul Hubbard and C. Carlton Hartley were the end men. Director of the production was Harry Freeman.

Break-Up of Camp Chase

Following the Civil war, Camp Chase became marked by its emptiness. In February, 1866, all military documents and records were moved to Columbus and on July 14 the prison property was sold and was immediately torn down and a portion of the lumber was used in the soldiers home at Dayton. A single building of the old Camp Chase stands today. Located on S. Hague-av, it was the officers' headquarters; it has served many years as the home of the late Mrs. Pemberton.

Smuggling At Camp Chase

Smuggling forbidden articles into the prison camp was a great problem. Cans labaled "canned peaches," milk cans with false bottoms all contained the forbidden fire-water. Once whiskey was found hung in bottles under the protective coverings of a hoop-skirt!

E. H. Brown Found "A Good Place To Live"

E. H. Brown, Hilltop resident for the past 17 years, first lived on Hague-av, in 1923, when he saw the first house constructed in Westgate.

Brown was born in Athens county near Athens, in 1895. He went to Detroit, where he resided for two years before the last war. When America sided with the Allies, he enlisted and was overseas for 19 months with the A. E. F. After returning to Detroit for a year, he decided to come to Columbus to live, and "began to look for a good place to live, so he chose the Hilltop."

In 1928, after he had learned the plastering trade, he started doing contract work, and he states that in the 16 years that he has been in the business, there has been a very noticeable trend to painted plaster walls and away from the conventional wallpaper.

Active in community affairs, Brown has been commander of the Camp Chase post, American Legion, and is a member of the Westgate lodge. He resides at 299 N. Burgess-av with his family. Son, William, attends the Ohio State university; Robert is a student at West High; and daughter, Jean, goes to school at West Broad.

The sweltering days yet to come find scenes like this at the Hilltop swimming pool located in the valley of Valleyview just off N. Hague-av.

The pool is owned and operated by Charlie Cruea, 155 N. Hague-av. In conjunction with the pool, Cruea operates a skating rink.

Both these places are favorite recreation centers for hundreds of Hilltoppers.

Hilltop Riding Academy Has Galaxy Of Good Riding Horses Available

Drive down Terrace-st past Sullivant-av to Eakin-rd and you'll run smack bang into one of the neatest little riding clubs in these parts.

This is the Hilltop Riding Academy (2547 Eakin-rd), operated by John Davis, 583 S. Wayne-av. Stabled on the premises are 65 to 70 first class riding horses, which have been especially selected for the purpose.

In the academy grounds there are about 200 acres of land. There are many shade trees and no road crossings.

A fine line of equipment is kept on hand, including rack after rack of English and Western saddles. Since it is being continually exchanged, most of the equipment is new.

Special rates are granted to groups who come out to the academy en masse.

Often men and women in groups of 25 or 30 come out to spend the day riding about the premises. In the evening they may have a steak roast around a roaring bonfire.

The academy has facilities for transporting horses to other parts of the country where horsemen and horsewomen like to ride.

Besides the local academy, Mr. Davis has the Ridgeway barns located on the Scioto river in the vicinity of Griggs dam.

A livestock man all his life, he still does considerable business auctioning cattle and hogs.

Davis has had something to do with horses ever since he was a boy. He came to Columbus in a horse and wagon. "You can't get away from the business once you get in it," he said, "it gets in the blood."

Born in Columbus, Davis was raised in Dayton, and came back to his place of birth in 1909. He spent many years traveling about the country, gypsy style, trading horses.

A Hilltop resident for the past 15 years, Davis is married and has one daughter.

In Army Now

Woody Owens

Woody Owens is now in training at an army camp in Oregon. He left Columbus in February, and although he was a little homesick at first, he is proud of the opportunity he has for being of service to his country.

Woody is a sports enthusiast if we ever saw one. For the past 10 years he has been training kids' teams on the gridiron, on the diamond and on the basketball floor.

Half of the West high athletes have trained under his leadership at one time or another. Besides coaching, Woody has played with several semi-pro outfits in and around Columbus.

Denison Star

Jack Bellar

Fine arts and football are not usually classified together but Jack Bellar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Bellar, 326 Algonquin-av, is adept in both of these fields.

A junior at Denison university, Jack has for two seasons been an outstanding performer on the varsity football team there. His college major is commercial art and after graduation he plans to take further work in this field at the University of Cincinnati.

Jack is a graduate of West High school and made for himself a brilliant record on the gridiron while attending the local institution.

Fair Season Brings Out Horses

Nearly 85 years ago the need of transportation to the fair was so great that local farmers had to rent their horses out to the streetcar company.

Westway Post Has Very Worthwhile Program For Local Chapter

The purposes of the Westway post No. 3441, VFW, are, and have been fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational; to preserve and strengthen comradship among its members; to assist worthy comrades; to perpetuate the memory and history of our dead, and to assist their widows and orphans; to maintain true allegiance to the government of the United States of America, and fidility to its constitution and laws; to foster true patriotism; to maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom, and to preserve and defend the United States from all her enemies whomsoever.

Instituted Feb. 15, 1936, the post charter was closed Apr. 15 of that year with 69 charter members and since that time membership has increased steadily.

George Chambers was the first commander, followed by Edward J. Miller, Ray L. Boord, Leslie Stevens and the present commander, R. G. Wilson.

Ladies' Auxiliary

On Apr. 28, 1936, the Ladies auxiliary was instituted with 27 members; Mrs. Alice Wolfe served as first president followed by Mrs. Margaret Phelps, Mrs. Herbert Kunzi, and the present president, Mrs. Geneva. Suvor.

A Junior auxiliary was established in 1937.

Activities of the post and auxiliary have been centered around hospitalization, welfare work and youth activities.

We are justly proud of our work and there have been many instances which show the willingness and readiness of our post and auxiliary to be on the job when a fellow needs a friend. Each year many baskets containing necessities and toys are distributed to the needy of the Hilltop.

Not only at Christmas time but throughout the entire year our post and auxiliaries are doing humanitarian work in assisting sick and disabled veterans and their families.

This work is carried on without any outside help on solicitations; the VFW also financially helps all charity and welfare agencies working in the city.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States make only one public appeal each year for the raising of funds, this being the Buddy Poppy sales, all the proceeds from this sale going for local relief but three and one-half percent is being prorated to the maintenance of the VFW National Home, Eaton Rapids, Mich., and for liasion work at Washington on behalf of disabled veterans.

In conclusion Westway post, No. 3441, VFW, has always sought harmony and cooperation with all organizations and peoples of this community.

A Copy of The Hilltop Weekly News Carried the Following Ad:

". . . within the next few days we are going to open up on the Hilltop one of the nicest and best equipped Optical Parlors in the city, where we will be able to render service second to none, since we will be equipped with the latest and most scientific instruments for properly fitting the eyes. In connection we will install a complete plant for the manufacture of spectacles, which will enable us to do all our work in which our many years of experience has made us most proficient. Low rent and no middleman's profit will enable us to give our customers far better prices than can be obtained on High Street. Come in and make us prove the statement."

During the years we have lived up to this original statement. Today as The Hilltop Record starts its 25th year, we are serving in our 42nd year.

We hope to be able to continue to serve long and well.

Summer Health

How Much Is It Worth To Your Family?

NO ONE could set the price of Good Health too high.

In early spring it is important that every precaution be taken to maintain body resistence at its highest point. Even the slightest sign of fatigue or illness should be quickly investigated.

In order to safeguard Good Health, the body must be supplied with the necessary vitamins and minerals that build resistence. Allen Milk does this because it contains all of these in abundance and is necessary in every diet. Serve it daily.

We specialize in a truly Soft Curd Homogenized Milk, nothing taken out and nothing added but safety. Also special Guernsey Milk and delicious Creamed Buttermilk. Try a package of our old-fashioned country style Cottage Cheese. When you buy Allen Milk you are buying from a Hilltop institution, owned and operated by Hilltoppers. We are proud of our community and our every opportunity to serve our Hilltop friends and neighbors.

On this, the beginning of the 25th year of service of The Hilltop Record, we extend our greetings and in like manner express our pride in having served this community for 30 years.

We invite you to drive out and inspect our modern plant.

We are tops in modern equipment. We also want to stress that every cent spent with the Allen Milk Co. is respent in your community.

It's a Great Spring

. . . So Live It and Enjoy It!

IT'S funny how all of a sudden Spring is here and every little gurgle of the stream or soft blossom scented breeze becomes the prime interest in our lives. And have you noticed that with the coming of Spring you invariably adopt a complete new outlook and attitude? This proves that even though we are complicated, "multi-worried" humans we're still a part of Nature's plan . . . that we too blossom out under the caress of a luxuriously soft Spring sun.

Spring puts us in the mood for fundamentals . . . makes us more aware of the things that are close to us. We want to put on fresh clothes and take long walks, slow walks through sun-flecked woods and sun drenched meadows. It's Spring and it's time for us to get all the pleasure we can out of the things that are closest to our hearts.

Take a look around you and just see for yourself if the Hilltop isn't a fine place to be in the Spring! Take a good look at the trees, the homes, the gardens, then browse around in Hilltop stores and see all the special things they have for Spring. And especially we invite you to come into SEILLER'S and see all the lovely Spring merchandise for every member of the family and new articles galore for the home.

It is a distinct pleasure to send our regards and congratulations to The Hilltop Record on the start of it's 25th year of service to the Hilltop.

Seiller's store was an advertiser in the first issue of the Record and regular weekly messages of the firm are carried in the Record. Watch for our ads each week.

WHEN the Record was started by S. J. Westlake years ago SEILLER'S store was seven years of age. The Hilltop was a young community then. Corn fields were common sights as far east as Harris-av.

Today we present a Metropolitan store. The largest suburban department store in Columbus . . . equipped to serve an enlightened following . . . to anticipate its wants and to provide the wants of our local people. The fashions you read about in todays magazines are here while you read about them.

It's a big job to chart such a course and stick to it . . . a course that holds true to the best practices and principles of modern trade. To be dependable . . . and to be recognized as such . . . to sell only the best and sell it at a fair price . . . to be just and generous to those we serve and to those who serve us. That is our creed and a good one, too. It will be followed closely in the years to come.

LOCAL MEN ACTIVE IN PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Hilltoppers Help Steer Majestic Ship of State

By their works ye shall know them—and by their deeds you shall long remember them. These apt phrases can well be applied to Hilltoppers who have served long and with distinction in public office and in the affairs of their community.

The Hilltop is proud to have such capable representation in the vaulted halls of city, county and state.

Recent years have seen a large number of residents of this community enter the service of the public either by appointment or by the express will of the electorate.

The work of these Hilltoppers has brought them into close contact with other communities but to all of them the Hilltop is still "home." To the men and women of this community who have gained eminent repute in public office and at the same time served their community, this section is dedicated.

Politcal Slants

By John Hess

Ever since we have been writing for this paper, we have wanted to talk about things to you which have no immediate bearing on community affairs —in short, we would range far and wide and talk about momentous things in the world at large.

This is our chance and we welcome it. Also let it be said at the outset that all this is our opinion and does not necessarily represent the views of our publisher.

Peace To War

Within the period of a few short, exciting months America has moved rapidly from a position of peace to one where we are, all but in name, participants in the wars which are raging on three continents.

We should certainly pause now and ask: "How far shall we go?"

The issues at hand are clear. The war is being fought between the forces of aggression and lawlessness and those of democracy and law.

On the surface, this is all there is to the matter, and our duty to civilization is clearly outlined.

But this isn't all there is to it, by a long shot. The causes of wars in general and this war in particular are complicated and involved. The roots of the disease run deep into the international organism. They must be discovered and eradicated before true and lasting peace can be established.

The German people would not have followed Hitler in his mad dive into hell unless there had been underlying forces at work in the whole world's political and economic structure.

Bitter Draught

The German defeat in the World War was a bitter draught for a proud race to take. The treaty at Versailles and its aftermath only served to make matters worse.

Absurd reparation payments were demanded of a people who could never be convinced that the war guilt should rest on their shoulders and their's alone.

But even this could probably have been swallowed if the country had been allowed to enjoy a moderate degree of economic prosperity.

Germany is a great industrial nation. Its economy is way out of balance and the country is not self-sufficient in any sense of the word.

Import-Export

In order to survive, Germany must export the products of its mines and mills and, import foodstuffs and other vital materials in turn.

During the past decade, nations, without exception, have resorted to abortive tariff restrictions in order to guard their own manufacturers.

Nations which were not self-sufficient (probably the only two in the world that even approach this happy state are the United States and Russia) turned longing eyes toward forbidden markets and sources of raw materials.

Germany felt that she must have access to these things or perish. This state of affairs has been greatly exaggerated by Hitler and his ilk, but none-the-less represents a single nation's reaction to a very real situation.

"Rule Britannia"

Obviously, the German people could never see the justice in a situation where a nation of 46,000,000 people (England) was allowed to rule the waves and a large portion of the earth's surface to boot.

Bombarded on all sides by the fanatic argumentation of a fanatic and mentally-unbalanced clique, the German people succumbed and took the road to war.

This is just one small phase of the greater world problem. The race feelings, the chauvinism, the super-patriotism that abounds in Europe and is rapidly getting a grip on us is not conducive to international understanding and peace.

Director Sherwood Tells Story of Hilltop Institutions

By Charles L. Sherwood
Director, Ohio Dept. of Public Welfare

On the eastern fringe of Columbus' west side, commonly referred to as the Hilltop, lies a community within a community.

This "community within a community" to which I refer, is composed of three state institutions which for years have played an important role in the development and growth of the Capitol City's west side.

With three of its 23 institutions throughout the state centralized on the Hilltop, the State Department of Public Welfare has become a definite part of this community.

The far-reaching effect which these three institutions—the Columbus State hospital, the Columbus Institution for Feeble-Minded, and the Bureau of Juvenile Research—have had on the community can best be illustrated by the fact that their combined payrolls for 1940 totalled more than $500,000.

With over 600 employees in these institutions, a majority of them are residents of the Hilltop and for years have played active roles in community organizations designed to further the progress of this section of Columbus.

Not only have they been actively engaged in furthering he welfare of the community, but it stands to reason that a good portion of the $500,000 in annual wages which these employees receive, is important to the commercial aspect of the Hilltop because of the vast purchasing power involved.

Let us now go behind the scenes of each of the three institutions which have played important roles in the development of one of the city's most alert communities.

Occupying 340 acres on the north side of Broad-st, the Columbus State hospital, with a patient population of 2,584 is the largest of the three welfare department institutions grouped on the Hilltop.

This hospital originally was located on the east side of Columbus but in the fall of 1868 a fire swept the institution, causing sufficient destruction to necessitate moving a major part of the patients to other hospitals.

In 1870 the legislature appropriated funds to buy land and construct the Columbus State hospital on its present site. On July 4, 1870, the cornerstone of the new structure was laid but it was not until seven years later, Aug. 23, 1877, that the building was completed and the first patient admitted. About 815 patients were quartered there during the first year.

Each passing year witnessed an increase in population until the hospital grew to be one of the largest among the welfare department's institutions.

At present heading the Colum-

Hilltop 'Ham' Operators Stand By

By Harold Mers

Some twenty-odd Hilltoppers, who at work are preachers, doctors, lawyers, students, form in their leisure time, an invisible net over the West Side. But this invisible net is no group of fifth-columnists; on the contrary, it is one of Uncle Sam's aces in the hole, should internal sabotage ever go to the extreme of demolishing commercial electric and telephone lines.

These men are amateur radio operators, all of whom have passed stringent examinations at the hands of government officials and have indicated their capability of operating a radio station. Some are licensed to use the C-W key, and others, the microphone. Some hold privileges for the use of both.

HERE'S THE PROGRAM---LET'S GET BUSY

Serve In 3 Branches of Gov't

When the Hilltop was an adolescent community, experiencing its first growing pains, there were no representatives from here in the legislative chambers of city, county or state, neither were there judges sitting in the courts or law, nor was there a single person from here holding a responsible executive position in any branch of government.

Members of the community soon came to resent this situation, which goes far to explain that cohesive element, called community spirit, for which this section of the city is noted. They stood together as a people excluded.

Today, the Hilltop has ample representation in all three branches of government.

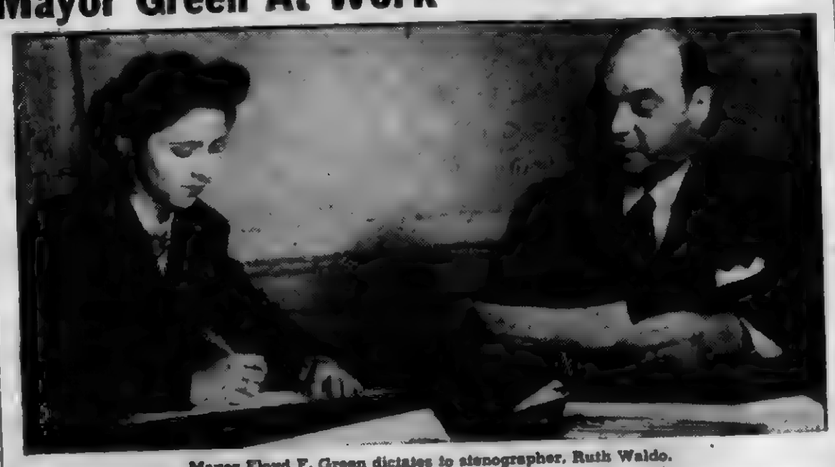
The first mayor of Columbus from west of the river is Hilltopper Floyd F. Green. He was elected in November, 1939, and was opposed by the Republican incumbent Myron Gessaman.

Since assuming the duties of office, Green has appointed several Hilltoppers to positions of public trust in the city government.

Leo Phillips is chief of detectives and Dr. Fred Sulzberger was appointed member of the civil service commission. Lieutenant-Colonel George Ward served as Green's right-hand man in the position of safety director until he took up his duties with the Ohio National Guard at Camp Shelby, Miss.

In city council, the Hilltop has capable representation in the persons of Wyatt Millikin and Ray G. Hauntz. M. W. Westlake served the community several years in council prior to his death in 1939.

For the past decade Judge Cecil J. Randall has served on the common pleas bench of the county and Judge Edward C. Turner served two terms as attorney general of the state and is now sitting on the supreme court bench.



Judge Randall was twice president of the Columbus board of education and was largely responsible for securing a new high school for the community.

Newton Thatcher is serving his second term as county auditor.

Representing the Hilltop at present on the school board is Robert Marvin Draper. Draper "rolled down from the Hilltop"

Mayor Green At Work - - -

Mayor Floyd F. Green dictates to stenographer, Ruth Waldo.

Floyd Green, a son of the Hilltop, is now mayor of one of the nation's greatest cities. To his many friends in the community, however, he is still the man with the happy smile and the genial handshake.

The handshake has come to be a very special thing. Many are the icy individuals who have melted under its magic influence.

Politically, it has stood him in good stead. Yet the technique was developed, we are told, long before "Floyd" had political aspirations of any kind.

"Floyd" was born in July, 1896, on the East Side of Columbus. He is the son of William H. Green, who for many years was an engineer for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Young Floyd Green got his first job at the age of nine in a Columbus department store. Here he was known as the little boy with the big brown eyes who was always grinning and who made friends with everybody.

As a boy, "Floyd" sold newspapers, swept floors, ran errands and did many other odd jobs—anything to earn a few extra shekels. And he was attending school all the time.

After completing his high school work, he worked for a time as a shop messenger for the Pennsylvania railroad. He got a better job with a local manufacturing concern as a bill clerk and 18 months later was made manager of the service department.

Later Green became a salesman and it was in this work that he made for himself a considerable reputation. His last job before entering the campaign for mayor in 1939 was with the Portland Cement company where he was district sales manager.

"Floyd" got his first taste of political life in 1926 when he suddenly decided to enter the race for city council. He was elected —more to his own astonishment than any one else's.

Here he served four successful years. While serving in council he became chairman of the airport commission which planned and built Port Columbus, one of the country's finest airports.

His enthusiasm for the airport has never waned. His part in the recent negotiations which brought the new Curtiss Wright plant here was a considerable one.

Floyd resides with his wife, the former Esther Morris, and his daughter, Irene, at 3048 Crescent-dr. Irene is a student at West High school.

Business Men Stress Community Service

HBMA Sponsors Beneficial Civic Projects

Community cooperation! This is the slogan of the Hilltop Business Men's association. And in its hands the slogan has become much more than an empty phrase and takes on real meaning.

It is generally conceded that there is no more active or progressive organization of its kind in Columbus or in Ohio.

Composed of the business and professional men of the community, the organization sponsors many beneficial projects which could not be carried on by individuals acting singly.

The construction of the superhighway from the city limits and the elimination of the Sandusky-st bridge and railroad bottleneck are representative of the things for which the group is striving.

The extension of W. Mound-st from its present terminus cross country to Derrer-rd, and the construction of a Hilltop boulevard down McKinley-av into town via the Sandusky-st bridge are other proposed projects in which the business men are interested.

On several occasions they have conferred with city, county and state officials in the interests of ironing out kinks in the traffic flow from the Hilltop and West Side, down Sullivant-av and into town.

The annual Hilltop bean dinner, the spring dance and the Hilltop minstrel are gala affairs sponsored by the business men which furnish much entertain-

Judge Turner Sits On High Court Bench

Judge Turner

There is always one person in a community who has been into more things, been more places, and known more people than anyone else.

If Judge Edward C. Turner, who resides at 4308 W. Broad-st, is not this person, then he at least rates a position high on the list.

He has seen the world from top to bottom, has carried on an extensive law practice in Franklin county for years and even found time (and incidentally found much support) to run for Community Urges Hilltop Boulevard Construction

Seeking alternate outlets for Hilltop traffic, which is now carried down W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av into town, various public-spirited persons and groups in the community are proposing the construction of a Hilltop boulevard.

The construction of the new Sandusky-st bridge, which is now still in the paper stage, but, according to city and county officials, is an assured thing, will serve as a vital link in the proposed Hilltop artery.

Besides a new bridge on Sandusky-st, the long-range plans would include a new road forming a "Y" with McKinley-av and continuing west with an underpass at the Pennsylvania railroad to join Valleyview-dr which now ends at Harper-rd.

According to the plans, the dangerous double-jog underpass on McKinley-av would also be eliminated.

Any large-scale improvement along these lines would also provide for widening and repaving the road with the possible construction of a parkway between the east-going and west-going lanes.

Upon the realization of such a program, a free-flowing traffic artery would carry motorists from cross streets on the Hilltop, down the north fringe of the community into town via the new Sandusky-st bridge and Spring-st.

According to officials in the county engineer's office, it is expected that work on the bridge will begin before the end of the year.

Required expenditures for this phase of the larger project are estimated at $870,000. The immediate program involves the construction of a new bridge over the river, relocation of the New York Central tracks at the south end of the present span, and the extension of McKinley-av from Souder-av to Sandusky-st.

The extension will do away with the double-jog at Davis-av.

Seek Name Change For Local Park

One of the many proposals recently mentioned by many members of the community is the one to change the name of Westgate park to Westlake park.

The name change would serve to honor the late M. W. Westlake, who represented this community for many years in city council, it is said.

SWEPT WATER FROM DOORSTEPS

Before sewers were installed on Broad-st, merchants had to sweep away the water from their doorsteps to prevent it from running into their stores.

Political Slants--

The Way Back

In view of this dilemma, we have two suggestions to make. In the first place we have, to date, no assurance that things will be done in the post-war world of tomorrow that will eliminate the necessity of ever going to war again to save the world from aggression and barbarism.

It is surely not too early to ask England for a statement of her war aims. If she will agree to a general, impartial and rational post-war plan of international reorganization, we, for one, are willing to go the limit to see her stand.

There must be another revision of boundaries. Only this time it must be in accord with ethnic lines and economic units. There must be no recriminations against Germany. Tariff barriers must be scaled downwards and armies must be disbanded.

An effective international law must be established and enforced through some such organizations as the late League of Nations.

Peace Without Victory

One final observation: From 1914 onwards President Wilson asked for peace without victory. With prophetic understanding, he realized that the hatred engendered by war and defeat only served to sow the seeds for more war.

At the present time, it is safe to say that Hitler would not be amenable to any kind of "just" peace terms. However, it is conceivable that this time may come. There is no reason why we shouldn't begin to think of putting out peace feelers when the time is ripe.

Such a procedure might conceivably result in the saving of thousands of young lives. Perhaps we should not let the goodness of the sun be blotted out for these without at least making an effort.

Judge Turner--

governor of the state in 1928.

Elected in November, 1940, to the supreme court of the state of Ohio for a term of six years, Judge Turner is the first person from Franklin county to sit on that bench in more than 60 years. He was elected by a majority of 806,000, the greatest in the state.

Judge Turner took time off from his various duties and activities from 1936 to 1939 to "see the world." He visited Hammerfest, Norway, the furthest north city in the world and Punta Arenas, Chile, on the Straits of Magellan, the furthest south city in the world.

He has motored through Mexico and has been in most of the countries of Europe.

After graduation from the Ohio State law school in 1901, Judge Turner immediately entered the practice. He was elected prosecuting attorney for Franklin county in 1910 and during his term of office prosecuted the famous legislative bribery

He was elected attorney general of Ohio in 1914 and served one term. He was elected common pleas judge for Franklin county and served in this capacity until he was summoned to the supreme court bench.

Married, Judge Turner had one son, Carl, who is a first lieutenant at Fort Hayes.

Of the Hilltop Judge Turner said, "It is the finest home site in or around Columbus."

Car Tracks Should Be Removed

One of the matters to which Hilltoppers are giving increased attention concerns the remaining street-car tracks on W. Broad-st.

Trolley bus service was substituted for the cumbersome streetcars early last year. Shortly afterwards, the rails were taken up to the bottom of the Broad-st hill.

According to officials of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., the tracks on the Hilltop will not be removed this year and quite possibly not next year.

Of necessity, the track-abandonment program is a slow one, say company officials, since the removal of the tracks must be confined to the few frost-free months between spring and fall.

Furthermore, they say, there are other sections of the city where the track conditions are far worse than they are on W. Broad-st, and these must be removed first.

According to many members of the community, the tracks are a traffic hazard, particularly in wet weather, and every effort should be made to have them removed as soon as possible.

Carl Karn Owns Rome Garage

Carl G. Karn is the proprietor of the Rome garage, Rome, O. Located there for the past 14 years, he specializes in all types of acetylene welding, and does body and fender repair work, general repairing and painting.

The garage can supply all kinds of automobile batteries and a complete stock of auto accessories.

Karn also has the Ford agency which he runs in conjunction with the garage. His assistants are Harold Abdon and Ralph Karn, a brother.

A Hilltop man, Karn resides at 268 Powhatan-av.

Service Is Ray's Motto

Ray Hauntz

"Service"—in big black capital letters — that's the everyday working motto of Ray G. Hauntz, whose activities in behalf of the Hilltop and city have been large in number and conspicuously important.

If a man told you his motto, or if he had a blazing sign across the entrance to his place of business, you probably wouldn't write about it. But the record speaks for itself. Sometime Ray has been president of the Hilltop Business Men's association, chairman of the southwest district Boy Scouts of America, member of the board of directors of the same organization, on the Columbus school board for eight years and its presiding officer thrice; chairman of the emergency food committee, American Red Cross, just to mention a part of what he does. These are jobs that require time, and more time, yet furnish no financial compensation.

But Ray keeps getting into them, being currently a member of city council, director of the National Association of Retail Merchants and vice-president of the Columbus Auto club. It seems he gets busier year by year, but he thinks it will be a long time before he beats his 1935 record when he headed the board of education, Asparagus club, an international grocers' organization; and the Lion's club — all this while planning his new food market at Powell-av and W. Broad.

Hauntz has been a food merchant on the Hilltop since 1917, when he started business on the southwest corner of Hauge and Broad. In 1936 he moved to his present modern establishment, one of the finest in the entire city.

One wonders how he's had time to supervise the market and get into these other activities but he does with such a little commotion. In his spare time he's been in a flock of Hilltop Minstrels, taken a trip to Mexico, and reared a pretty daughter.

The Haunts's live at 44 Binns-blvd.

Radio Is Floyd Martin's Business

A printer by trade, Floyd Martin, 1970 Sullivant-av, has run the linotype machine for the Hilltop Record, but his heart belongs to radio.

At his home at 1970 Sullivant, he builds and designs custom-made radios and sound equipment. He helped to install the sound system which was recently put into service in the West High auditorium. Martin was born in West Virginia, but moved to the "big city" at the age of four and has been a Columbusite from that time forward.

He recalls the first time he came out on the Hilltop the streetcar went out Hauge-av, which was nothing but a big ditch, and every house had its own private bridge from the road to the yard.

He resides with his wife and three children, Floyd jr., and Richard, who attend West High and West Junior, respectively, and Virginia, a graduate of West High.

Hilltop Is Served By One Fire Engine House - - -- Needs Another

Jumping in and out of your boots is a hypothetical kind of imagining for most people but for firemen it is a reality.

When members of the fire-fighting force of Hilltop engine house No. 17 retire for the night they make sure that their trousers and boots are "standing" at the bedside ready for immediate occupation.

When the fire alarm sounds the men are out of bed, into trousers and boots and down the shiny brass pole into the engine room before the last notes of the alarm die away.

The system of getting away from the fire station to the fire has been so minutely perfected that not a fraction of a second is wasted. According to Captain J. L. Kidd of the local unit, a minute lost may mean the difference between a successful and unsuccessful extinction or rescue.

The present fire station serving the thousands of Hilltop homes and establishments was erected in 1913. While it was still in the process of construction, the building was used as a morgue during the great flood of '13. Twenty-three dead persons were brought into the station at that time.

Captain Kidd, who now resides at 175 Midland-av, was stationed at the fire house in the bottoms. The entire force and the equipment of that unit were transferred to the state hospital barns for the duration of the flood.

For the many years before the construction of the present station, residents of the community had to depend for fire protection on a chemical unit which was located at the corner of Whitethorne-av and W. Broad-st.

At the present time the Hilltop is dotted with fire hydrants, none of them more than 300 feet distant from the next one. There are also 55 fire alarm boxes in the community.

The station equipment includes a triple-combination pumper containing a 125-gallon water tank, pump and hose and a service truck, which carries 255 feet of ladders.

Though firemen are usually big husky men, capable of handling heavy hose and ladders, they must also be domestically inclined. Living as one big, happy family, the men working at the local engine house must scrub floors, wash windows, cook their meals and make beds—and like it.

Members of unit No. 1 include Capt. J. L. Kidd, M. F. Moseley, C. R. Jones, W. Caplinger and R. E. Raike, who constitute the pump company, and Lieutenant J. B. Logan, W. E. Neal, H. C. Barber, A. N. Lanthorn and A. R. Miller, who compose the truck company.

On the pump company of unit No. 2 are Capt. T. M. Stringer, I. D. Martin, G. R. Weatherman, H. W. Clover and J. D. Ell. Members of the truck company for the second unit are Lieut. H. C. Bryson, B. F. Wander, B. C. Finnerty, H. H. Moore and C. D. McDonald.

Legion, Auxiliary Have Service Programs

By D. C. Finneran

In the spring of 1929 a handfull of World war veterans gathered in a vacant storeroom to form a new American Legion post. The name selected for the post was Camp Chase Post No. 98.

The name commemorates three wars, Camp Chase after the Civil war camp which was located on the present site of the Hilltop, No. 98 for the year of the Spanish-American war, and American Legion, the World war. Today Camp Chase post has grown from that mere handfull of veterans to a membership of well over 300, and from that vacant storeroom Camp Chase has advanced to its spacious and well-equipped club rooms located at 2184 W. Broad-st.

Community Service

From its inception Camp Chase post has been dedicated to service to the community. Outstanding among its activities is the annual Thanksgiving Day drive for food and clothing for the needy residents of the Hilltop. This drive originated in 1932 under the leadership of George M. Ward, who was at that time commander of the post, and his relief chairman, Milton P. Hain, who is the present commander.

The Legion members spend their entire Thanksgiving Day each year gathering these supplies which have had a total value of over $20,000.00 and which have been distributed here on the Hilltop with the post assuming the financial responsibilities of the distribution to assure the donors that their donations will go 100 percent to charity.

"Man of the Year"

Another activity which has taken its place in the hearts of the Hilltop residents is the annual "Hilltop Man of the Year" award which is given to the one person who, in the opinion of the judges, has made the greatest contribution to community service.

The 1936 winner was Rev. B. Talmadge Magann; 1937 winner was Ray G. Hauntz; 1938, Dr. J. Fremont Bateman; 1939, C. Carlton Hartley, and the 1940 winner was Charles H. Campbell.

In the field of child welfare and junior activities the post sponsors one of the leading Boy Scout troops in the central Ohio district. Troop 161 has won the governor's citation twice in succession. Other activities are the junior baseball team, school awards, essay contests in the high schools, and the sending of outstanding boys as delegates to the Buckeye Boy State.

Service Programs

The post has many other active committees all working on their programs of service; among these committees is the emergency disaster committee which was organized during the Ohio river floods in 1937. This committee, under the direction of Past Commander Ray McVay, is orginazed in such a manner that over 100 men trained in their respective jobs can be mobilized in a few minutes in event of a disaster of any sort in our community.

Other standing committees are the permanent home committee, the safety committee, relief, employment and public relations committees.

The present officers of the post are Milton P. Hain, commander; Vernon C. Fiscus, vice-commander; Clarence Lytle, second vice-commander; Robert C. Hitchcock, finance officer; Elmer A. Young, chaplain; Larry G. Scales, historian; Frank H. Morgan, sergeant-at-arms, and D. C. Finneran, adjutant. The executive committee is composed of M. H. Austin, Jay G. Bowser, R. A. Billups, Harold I. McClure, Dr. A. C. Myers and W. E. Sprenger.

Past commanders are: 1929-30, Claude V. Hasson (deceased); 1931, Edgar G. Planck; 1932, Moss M. Williams; 1933, George M. Ward; 1934, Dr. A. C. Myers; 1935, James F. Hurd; 1936, William H. Rogers; 1937, D. C. Finneran; 1938, Ray F. McVay; 1939, Arthur J. Bellar; 1940, Ernest H. Brown.

The post meets first and third Fridays of each month.

Camp Chase Post Ladies Auxiliary

By Mrs. E. H. Brown

"Community service work is an actual expression of the ideals and principles in which the women of the auxiliary are united.

"Our activities consist in the betterment of conditions in our community, such as beautification, recreation, health, library facilities, safety, hospitals and many other activities which are of service to the community."

Thus, the women of the Camp Chase American Legion auxiliary, Post No. 98, give their conception of community service.

Soon after the organization of Camp Chase post, Legionnaires desired an auxiliary unit to the post. An invitation was extended to the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of all members.

Charter Granted

On June 6, 1929, at the K. of P. hall, at the corner of Burgess-av and W. Broad-st, 30 ladies responded to the invitation. The charter was granted on July 20 with 72 members listed on the membership rolls. The unit now has a membership of 212.

The auxiliary was organized for the single purpose of serving. The purposes and aims of the organization lie outside itself and are of greater importance.

The rehabilitation work of the auxiliary is the great task of caring for the World war disabled. The auxiliary establishes and maintains contacts between veterans in hospitals and their families. It assists the families of ex-service men who are unable to work.

Child welfare is a very important work of the unit. Any child of a World war veteran who is in need of care and protection will receive that care and protection.

In the unit's legislation program, we urge every American citizen to participate in government through the privilege of the ballot.

There are three new studies in the work of the auxiliary this year. These are pan-Americanism, Colonial America and emergency voluntary service.

One of the important tasks of this year will be making a complete registration of unit members who are willing to give voluntary service in time of emergency.

The future development of the auxiliary lies with the junior organization. On the shoulders of every parent rests the responsibility of instructing and influencing their children in matters of citizenship.

Unit Officers

The present officers of the auxiliary include Mrs. E. H. Brown, president; Mrs. G. B. Myers, first vice-president; Mrs. William P. Lind, second vice-president; Mrs. J. G. Bowser, secretary; Mrs. T. R. Millikin, treasurer; Mrs. Larry G. Scales, chaplain; Mrs. Ella Bostwick, historian and publicity; Mrs. C. W. Wagner, Mrs. R. H. Rogers and Mrs. Robert Clark, executive committee; Mrs. H. J. Swain, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Robert Hitchcock, sergeant-at-arms.

Past presidents of the unit are Mrs. Helen Hoar, Mrs. M. M. Williams, Mrs. J. C. V. Richardson, Mrs. C. W. Wagner, Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Mrs. R. H. Myers, Mrs. A. J. Bellar, Mrs. Edgar Planck, Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. D. C. Finneran and Mrs. Helen Kirkpatrick.

Dems. Have New Political Organization

Recently organized on the Hilltop was the Eleventh Ward Men's and Women's Democratic club, headed by Gene Hays, president; Mrs. Stella McCarthy, first vice-president; Robert Draper, second vice-president; Mrs. Ella Bostwick, secretary; William Daubenmier, treasurer.

The organization, which was instituted the first week of March, 1941, is governed by a board of directors consisting of Mrs. Ralph Jacobs, Wyatt Millikin, Grover Amrine, Mrs. Martha Merriman, Harley Sapp, Rev. Raymond Bauschard and Albert Scales.

The purpose of the club is to promote a bigger and better community, a better community spirit, and better working conditions, it is stated.

Dr. Fred Sulzberger, local optometrist, is Democratic committeeman for the eleventh ward.

When Burt Young Kept Store - - -

Pictured above is the Burt Young grocery store which was located at the corner of Whitethorne and W. Broad "in the dear, dead days" almost beyond recall. "Burt" (the handsome young blade) is pictured on the extreme right.

Mr. Burt Young is a Hilltop veteran if ever there was one. He came here, 64 years ago, when the Hilltop was little more than a frontier station in the undeveloped Middle West.

At the age of two he came here with his parents from Clyde, Ohio. His father was a railroader and was assigned to the "Little Miami" railroad crossing in the rear of the state hospital grounds. The old B and W Railroad Co. built the family a house near the crossing where Young lived for many years as a boy.

When he was 18 years old, Young went to work at the "Little Miami" tower as a telegraph operator. He held this position for 12 years.

While tending his duties there, he saw one of the biggest wrecks ever to occur in this region. Thirty-eight freight cars piled up so high that they broke down the high telegraph wires.

There is an old cave near the crossing, where the Young family used to store their milk and also the target signal lamps.

Young Burt used to have a small three-wheel speed-car on which he rode out to the various signal poles. He climbed these and hung the target lamps.

He vividly recalls the time when a fast train came roaring along the tracks and swept his speed-car into oblivion before he could remove it from the tracks.

After working about 12 years as a telegraph operator, Burt went into the grocery business for himself. His store was located at the corner of Whitethorne and W. Broad.

Here he built up a thriving business and at one time employed five clerks. Deliveries were made by horse and wagon. Young was in business at this corner for 17 years; then moved to the corner of Clarendon and Broad and held forth here for another 16 years. After retiring he lived on here on the premises.

Mr. Young possesses a rich store of memories of the Hilltop in its infancy. When he was 12 years old, a great fire broke out in the state hospital buildings. Fire-fighting equipment was brought here from Cincinnati and unloaded near the "Little Miami" crossing.

A high board fence (10 or 12 feet) surrounded the institution grounds. The grounds were covered with hickory nut trees. The fence proved no obstacle to the young blades who were bent on getting a hatful of the lucious hickory nuts.

In the valley behind the institution grounds, there was a large lake, covering approximately 12 acres, and backed up by a large dam.

Ice was cut from the lake in the winter and stored for the use of the state institutions on the Hilltop. The fishing on the lake was "plenty good," according to Young and the young folks used to go boating here in the summertime.

Hilltop Improvement Ass'n.

Mr. Young was one of the organizers of the Hilltop Improvement association, predecessor to the HBMA. Chief activity of the association was to charter interurban cars on summer Sunday afternoons and take excursion trips to Buckeye lake.

Mrs. Young was born in Madison county (near West Jefferson) in a little log cabin on Hunter-rd. The couple were married in 1895.

Burt Young worked for 12 years as a telegraph operator in the old tower (pictured above) at the little Miami crossing in the rear of the state hospital grounds. Burt is 66 years old. He was a lad when the picture was snapped.

Club Members Devoted To Republican Party

According to officials of the group, the Eleventh Ward Republican club, Inc., is the oldest Republican club in the ward.

Members say that the local organization is devoted to furthering the interests of the Republican party, both locally and nationally.

Meetings are held once a month at which time a prominent speaker is on hand. Many non-political subjects are discussed at these sessions. Traffic safety talks have been of particular interest to members in recent months.

The club, which is composed of the workers who do "the actual political work in the ward," has its meeting place at the VFW hall, 2393½ W. Broad-st.

Officers are Lawrence Roach, president; C. M. Gibboncy, first vice-president; Charles W. Dolby, second vice-president; John Howell, treasurer; and Adra Harper, Mose Williams, Arthur J. Bellar, Thomas R. King, and Horace Swain, trustees.

Hi There, Chub

Smiling, amiable "Chub" Coyle is a guy who never worries about a job, and, incidentally, is never without one. At present he is bailiff for Common Pleas Judge Cecil J. Randall.

For years he served in the city auditor's office. He resigned that position in 1939 to become a candidate for city auditor.

Prominent in war veteran associations, he is now serving as Chef de Guerre, Voiture 15, of the "40 and 8."

A Hilltopper through and through, Coyle resides with his wife and son at 51 Nashoba-av.

Hilltop Lodge Is Named "Little Eagle"

By Chas. W. Snyder
Auditor and Historian

Early in November, 1935, a letter was received by the writer from M. L. Brown, state secretary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at Springfield, O., advising that there would be, on the following Thursday night, an organizer from the state organization department in Columbus for the purpose of forming a lodge of Eagles on the Hilltop in Columbus, and requesting the aid of the writer in the formation of the new lodge.

The meeting was held with the organizer, Harold Nafzger by name, and particulars discussed at that meeting resulted in a meeting of some 25 or 30 men in the basement of the writer, Mr. Charles Snyder, of 619 S. Eureka-av.

From this body of men and through their labors the new lodge was formed. Weekly meetings were held in Snyder's cellar by these men and their friends. On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 12, 1936, Deputy Grand President James H. Kellner instituted the lodge.

At the next meeting of the lodge, which was held upstairs over what is now the Corner cafe on Sullivant-av, several names were up for consideration. Brother Joseph Mittendorf, since deceased, suggested that we, due to the fact that we were the youngest lodge in all Eagledom, adopt the Latin name for "Little Eagle." The name of "Aguila" was provided by a friend of Bro. Mittendorf and a professor of languages at Ohio State University, and the name forthwith adopted and accepted by the Grand Aerie.

The next meetings of the new lodge were held in the rear of "Pat's" barber shop, next to Todds drug store, also on Sullivant-av, where we continued to meet until August of 1936, when a committee headed by Bro. Chas. Hughes finally reached an agreement with Frank Powel for the lease and remodelling of the old Powell homestead on the corner of Chase and W. Broad-sts.

On Oct. 5 of 1936 the Aerie moved from the barber shop into their new quarters at the Powell homestead. A large celebration was held on that date.

State Vice President Edward Poss, U. S. marshal for northwest Ohio, made the dedication address at the new club home.

Since that date the Aerie has gone about its various businesses always ready to aid in any civic duties and ever willing to render charity where it would do the most good. Numerous school children on the Hilltop can testify to the charity of the shoe fund of this lodge. This fund is maintained for the purpose "that no child, regardless of race, color, or creed shall be forced to remain out of school because of lack of proper footwear," and has done exceedingly fine work to that end.

Early this year the lodge moved into its beautiful new home at 2356 W. Broad-st. The new headquarters is one of the finest equipped and furnished club houses in the city of Columbus and members can well be proud of their new lodgings.

Ham Operators--

On the Hilltop alone, there are twenty-odd transmitting stations; in Franklin county, there are 200 stations, and in the United States, there are over 15,000. These stations are organized into many networks all under the supervision of the federal government, so that they may serve as emergency communication systems, in times of necessity.

Most of the Hilltop "hams" are members of the Columbus Amateur Radio association which has about 30 other members in the city, and many are associated with other nets.

Al Strete, 131 N. Brinker, who is a radio man at Port Columbus, is the editor of the CARA News, and is affiliated with POP, national police net, and the American Amateur Radio system, both of which are prepared to do emergency work at a moments notice.

One of the greatest needs of the amateur radiomen in Columbus, he states, is access to gas driven generators, which could be hooked up to most of the stations, should commercial lines be out of order. Due to the rather high cost of the generators, few amateurs can afford to buy their own, but in several other cities, civic organizations have purchased the equipment and made it available for the amateurs, who hold test "emergency" drills several times each year.

The transmitters owned by Hilltoppers have inputs that run from 10 watts to 1,000 watts; the average power is about 125 watts. Recently one local "ham" contacted all of the 48 states, using only five watts of power.

Those licensed to operate amateur radio transmitting stations on the Hilltop are: Raymond Barber, station W8PEA, Briggsdale; J. F. Buehler, W8OHB, 233 S. Eureka-av; Edward Bonnett, W8OVG, 539 S. Eureka-av; Roy Callihan, W8DCS, 1309 McKinley-av; E. E. Cline, W8RXF, 172 S. Ogden-av; Phil M. Dunson, W8RVG, 191 Binns-blvd; R. A. Finneran, W8OUY, 48 Midland-av.

Reverend B. T. Gates, W8TJD, N. Burgess-av; Thor Holt, W8OLO, 464 S. Central-av; Edgar J. Killian, W8RBZ, 612 S. Harris-av; Patrick McClure, W8QDY, 268 Brehl-av; Harold McGiffin, W8JCW, 2480 Valleyview-dr; L. E. Michaelis, W8IVI, 151 Eldon-av; C. N. Page, W8CAJ, 89 S. Richardson-av.

Lawrence D. Potts, W8FOH, 2970 Wicklow-rd; A. B. Ray, W8LAB, 100 N. Warren-av; Vaughn E. Seeds, W8ABO, 134 N. Eureka-av; Allen W. Strete, W8EQV, 131 N. Brinker-av; Earl W. Zuck, W8QXZ, 258 Nashoba-av, and Howard Young, W8TO, 319 Eldon-av.

bus State hospital is Dr. J. F. Bateman, who for the past 15 years has been associated with state institutional work.

After attending Ohio university and Cornell university, Dr. Bateman entered the University of Cincinnati Medical college. He began state work at the Longview State hospital where he was clinical director for seven years. In January of 1937 he was made superintendent of the Columbus State hospital and from Oct. 1, 1938, until July 1, 1940, served as state commissioner of mental diseases.

Charles L. Sherwood

With a competent medical staff, augmented by 14 consultants in the various branches of medicine and surgery, the Columbus State hospital for years has been using the newer methods in the treatment of the mentally ill. Each Monday from 2 to 4 p. m. the hospital conducts an out-patient clinic for all persons seeking advice relative to mental illness.

During 1940 a total of 330 persons comprised the staff of the Columbus State hospital whose annual payroll amounted to about $264,000.

Directly southeast of the State hospital, across Broad st, is located the Institution for the Feeble-minded which on Mar. 1, 1941, listed as patient population of 2,141.

Almost 200 acres comprise the grounds of this institution which was opened in 1868, four years after the legislature had made a $25,000 appropriation to purchase the present site. New buildings were added from time to time until several years ago there were 30 buildings on the grounds with a total valuation of more than $1,500,000.

Heading this institution is a veteran of 34 years' experience in state service. Superintendent F. L. Keiser, a graduate of the Ohio State Medical school, came to the Columbus Institution for Feeble-Minded in March of 1907 and served there as an assistant physician for 17 years. On Feb. 1, 1924, he was promoted to his present position of superintendent.

A member of the Hilltop Business Men's association in addition to being affiliated with numerous medical societies of local, state and national character, Dr. Keiser has stressed education and training in caring for the feeble-minded entrusted to his care.

With a staff of 232 employes, he has carried on his work of trying to improve, through careful supervision, the patients committed to his institution.

Located directly west of the Columbus State hospital is the Bureau of Juvenile Research which began to function on July 1, 1914, and since 1920 has been located at its present site.

The present director of the bureau is Dr. C. H. Calhoun, who has been connected with the bureau since 1021 and who in 1930 was made its directing officer.

Since the establishment of the bureau, about 33,000 persons have been examined individually and many thousands more have been contacted in group surveys. Each year the bureau receives for observation about 600 children from the ages of six to 18. Most of the children at the bureau are committed by juvenile courts, but some are received from children's homes, public schools, social agencies, and parents.

A diagnostic and advisory center, the bureau is not a place where youngsters are sent for treatment or "cure." It is the purpose of the bureau to make thorough examinations of children and investigations of their environments with the view of formulating a plan for placement, or both, which can be carried out in the community from which the children were referred.

The bureau employs 48 persons, which includes psychologists, physicians, nurses, social workers, diagnostic teachers and attendants to care for the children.

George Matson is well into his fourth month as county commissioner. Before resigning his position to enter the political arena, he was chief building inspector for the city.

Joseph C. Nailor, a Hilltopper by adoption, is serving his third term as a member of the state legislature. Between 1911 and 1923 he served several terms as city councilman and for two years was president of council.

C. H. Campbell is a member of the city board of health; Jack Crompton, chief building inspector; George Sinclair, secretary to Mayor Green; Hulit Bancroft deputy service director, and William Crowe, secretary to the safety director.

Cremation

We are now prepared to complete the service of cremation, entombment, inurnment, or interment. Contrary to what some persons would have you believe (that there is only one crematory in Columbus, or that cremation is limited to one firm), any funeral director in this city may offer access to those who desire it.

Just west of us, Memorial Park is completing a crematory and columbarium, where with dignity and respect final disposition of the remains may be made.

The service of cremation is just as close to you as your funeral director and at no extra cost to you.

Completely Air-Conditioned

We have installed an air-conditioning unit to serve every room in our funeral home. Here you may rest in comfort during the summer season, with the temperature regulated to your desir5. We do not just cool the air, but we cleanse and humidify it according to the rules of good health. Our home is pledged to every convenience necessary to minister to public well-being.

Modern, Dignified Funeral Parlors With The Atmosphere Of A Private Home Conveniently Located

THE thought and inspiration behind the planning of the Jerry Spears Funeral Home has always been that, although modern in every particular, it should preserve the atmosphere of a private home. Our years of experience have varified the wisdom of that planning, and the confidence the public has reposed in us by committing their loved ones to our care has reflected a reciprocity most gratifying.

Our Hilltop long since has become conscious of the funeral home that not only is arranged to meet community needs, but really maintains an adeqhate staff, the personnel of which is trained in the technique equal to any in the city or elsewhere.

Our Reasonable Service Charges always reflect "Sympathetic Understanding."

Police Escort

Our home was the first in Columbus to employ for all funerals the police escort. Now, practically all aggressive funeral directors use that service.

Ladies Lounge and Rest Room

The ladies lounge is arranged for privacy and comfort on the second floor of our home. This room may be used by the family if they desire. Our amplifying system permits those in these rooms to hear the entire service.

Organ, When Desired

We have installed a beautiful, modern organ in our parlors and have an organist who is trained in the art of sacred music to serve when it is the desire of the family. Vocalists may use their own accompanist when they prefer to do so.

Entrance to the Building

Two cars abreast may approach the main door to our side drive. The driveway has three entrances that connect with the parking plaza, lending easy access to the parlors for those who may not prefer the main entrance at the front. Frequently persons have come to attend a funeral in a wheel chair or on a reclining cot. Regardless of the circumstances, we have arranged for a cordial, friendly reception for those who for any reason may visit our parlors.

Private Parking Space

Ample parking space is always in reserve for those who visit our parlors. Funeral processions are formed on our own premises so that the traffic hazard is reduced to the lowest minimum. A police officer always escorts us into the street and to the cemetery.

Churches, Schools Promote Neighborliness On Hilltop

Despite the fact that it sprawls over the most of the west of Columbus and contains about 40,000 people, the Hilltop community is probably the most friendly, sociable and happy section of the city.

There are good reasons too, why this neighborliness should prevail. Relatively few homes on the Hilltop are as much as three short blocks away from some church; and the 10 schools of the Hilltop are judiciously located.

Here are the two great forces which bring people, young and old together. Community gatherings in the schools, and a wide range of social gatherings at the churches, bring people together for social, business, spiritual enrichment. That's why the Hilltop is such a fine place to live. People come to know each other.

Rings In The Pool

By Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell

I read the other day where a jury up in the state of Wisconsin had a very difficult case to decide. It is one of the most interesting cases of which I have heard in a long time. The automobile of a man (whom we will call Mr. Smith) had been in an accident, which was proven to be the fault of the other driver involved. Mr. Smith was not only in any way to blame for the accident, and the other driver was instructed to pay the damages to his car.

So far the case was normal, but that was only the beginning. On the night after the accident occurred, Mr. Smith had a nightmare, in which he dreamed the whole accident over again. He became so frightened in his nightmare that he jumped through a window in his home, cutting himself severely and permanently injuring one of his hands.

But here is the interesting part:

Mr. Smith sued the driver of the automobile which had caused the original accident for the damage done in his dive through the window, claiming that the driver was not only responsible for the accident, but for his nightmare as well. What is most important, the Wisconsin jury agreed with him and awarded him $1000 as a result of the nightmare.

The reporter of the article has fittingly labeled it Distant Consequences.

Regardless of the legal aspects of the case, the story has this in it for our thought: not only accidents, but every sinful act, or every righteous act as well for that matter, does not end with its immediate consequences. It reverberates all around society, touching, either for good or for evil, countless people who had nothing to do with the original incident, much as the bump of the railroad engine on the end freight car reverberates through and shakes up every car on the string.

Society today is an intricate web, bound together and connected. We have no way of knowing how far reaching our every act may be, and who may be involved before the thing is finished. The war in Europe does not confine itself to the killing of a few soldiers or the conquering of a small nation—it is very vitally affecting the life of every person on every continent.

A tragic story in one of our popular magazines tells of a woman who came into a community and enticed the husband of another woman to fall in love with her. The story goes on to trace the effects of that illicit relationship into the many homes of the community. One father lost his job, a company went out of business, a third home was broken. Although written as fiction, it is tragically true.

We may well be sure that our Heavenly Father to whom we must answer for all our actions holds us responsible not only for our acts themselves but for their far reaching consequences as well. We speak a piece of slander, and perhaps forget the words we say. Other people don't. These words travel on to do the harm of some good person. No jury can trace the festering trail of that ill-spoken word, but there is One who does. Anyone who influences a boy to evil today and starts him on the downward trail is partly responsible for the sins of his manhood.

Good or evil that we speak travels on. Good things we do inspire others to goodness, and evil examples set others on the downward path. Like the rings on a pool when a stone is thrown in, so our every action spreads and touches the lives of people whom we do not know.

Take a broad look at everything you do and say. If it hurts one, it may hurt countless others; if it helps one, you do not know how many others it will help indirectly. That knowledge should be the restraining hand on our hurtful intentions and a stimulant to our best efforts. Remember this, that everything we do for good or evil is bigger than the immediate action—that every action has its distant consequences.

Three Hilltoppers Have Served As Board Presidents

Three Hilltoppers have rendered service to local schools as members of the Columbus board of education. These are Judge Cecil J. Randall, Ray G. Hauntz and Robert M. Draper.

Both Randall and Hauntz have served as president of the board. Draper, present representative of the Hilltop on the school board, is now serving his first term as president.

Board Prexy Is Hilltopper

Robert M. Draper

A great boon to forlorn school boys is Robert Marvin Draper. The president of the board of education, Draper has attained the highest post in the Columbus school system.

Now, he confesses that he spent three years in the seventh grade. He didn't fail but his family moved about quite a bit and each time he entered a new school, only to be put back a grade.

In spite of all of that he graduated from West High school at the tender age of 18.

Born in Rosewood, O., Draper has lived in Columbus since 1910. As a youngster he lived in many places, including Tacoma, Wash., and Washington, D. C.

His father was an army man, later played the saxophone with the Barnum and Bailey circus, and now, retired from the Columbus police force, makes his home in California.

Draper attended Highland-av school and graduated from West

Five Have Perfect Marks Thru High School Careers

Pictured above is the cream of the 1941 crop in brains and leadership at West High school, and amazingly enough, a full quota of beauty.

Four senior class officers plus the six outstanding students of the graduating group of more than 300 represent just about everything that's happened at the school during the past four years. Every activity is represented by these 10, from cafeteria cashier to football.

Sinclair Class Prexy

The leadership is represented by Sinclair, 109 Powhatan, president; Miss Rohr, 275 Binns-blvd, secretary; Miss Burkett, 2469½ W. Broad-st, treasurer, and Adams, 277 N. Ogden-av, vice-president. All are high on the scholastic ladder, but tops in scholastic achievement has been recorded by the six others in the layout.

All A's in their courses through all their high school years have been registered by Betty Dunson, Don Mathews, Vivian Swain, Betty Pickering and Luana Wagner, while Camille McKee missed a perfect score by the slim margin of two B's in two minor elective courses.

All six are members of the "L" society and the Otto H. Magly chapter of the National Honor society. After citing these honors, the likenesses between the six come almost to an end. A list of their activities as a group would quite fill a column. Prac-

Increase In Enrollments Is Predicted

With enrollment at the eight Hilltop public schools having leveled off during the past few years, gradual increase for the next several years, was predicted by school officials this week.

The present school enrollment on the Hilltop is 7,792, but post depression increase in birth rates will become observable in the school system next year, it was reported.

Most crowded school in the community at the present time is West Junior High, where there has not been room to take in all new 7B students. For the past two years, 7B classes have been held at John Burroughs.

Decrease in elementary enrollment is illustrated by attendance figures at John Burroughs school, where 1,120 were enrolled six years ago. Present enrollment, exclusive of 7B's is 884.

Enrollment is reported by the various principals are: West senior, 1,342; West junior, 1,265; Starling junior, 1,148; John Burroughs, 941; West Broad, 630, and Highland Avenue, 486.

West Alumni Association Has Membership of 500

The West High Alumni association, 500 strong and growing, led by the energetic "General" George K. Hardy, '25, is rapidly becoming an important organization associated with the local high school.

In the past two years, a helping hand has been extended by the association in a number of ways to a number of organizations and individuals at the school. The Debate club, unable to obtain funds, has been almost entirely supported by the Alumni, while the school band is another organization receiving financial aid.

Geo. Hardy

Each year members of the senior class are guests at a reception sponsored by the Alumni. This spring's event was held last night at the K of C hall.

Inaugurating a drive for new members soon after his election two years ago, President Hardy has brought the organization to its largest membership. He began his second term in office last year, having won by a landslide count.

Annual homecoming at the school has been a bigger event of recent years, with the cooperation of the Alumni. Hardy, an athlete himself while attending West, is already looking forward to a big homecoming program this fall.

Other officers are: Vice-president, Paul Fulton; secretary, Dorothy Hartley; treasurer, Evelyn Griffiths.

Headed West Hi For 28 Years

Otto H. Magly

Otto H. Magly, for 27 years principal at West High school, and for whom the Magly Athletic Field was named, returned as a visitor to the school recently to renew old friendships and talk over old times.

He was kept busy for more than four hours, after which he visited with a dozen or so of his old students now in business on the Hilltop. Mr. Magly retired from West High in 1936.

Two Catholic Churches Serve 925 Families

The Hilltop is served by two Catholic churches, St. Aloysius and St Mary Magdalene.

Together, they serve approximately 925 Hilltop families.

Besides a church, each local parish contains a school. At St. Mary Magdalene, both the church and school are combined in one modern building.

Supt. Roudebush Extends Greetings To Hilltop Record

It is with real satisfaction that I welcome this opportunity to express to the management of the Hilltop Record congratulations and best wishes on this the beginning of the twenty-fifth year of service to the people of this community.

People alone do not make a community. Institutions through which people serve and are served make important contributions. Among these are churches, schools, business, and the press. The spread of information is of vital importance in a democracy which puts its faith in voluntary cooperation and not in force. Schools and the press, therefore, have a common interest and a common task.

I am happy to take this occasion to express my great appreciation and to give assurance that the schools stand ready to cooperate for the preservation and strengthening of all those things necessary and worthwhile to your community and city.

In the years ahead may you enjoy good will and prosperity in your service to the people.

Pastors Assn. Fosters Community Welfare

By Rev. A. J. Wold

Organized in 1920 and designed primarily to foster closer co-operation between ministers and churches of the community, the Hilltop Ministerial association has become an organization indispensible to the harmony and strength of the spiritual and moral life of the Hilltop.

Local pastors, through their organization, like the business men, the lodges and other social organizations, strive to maintain the traditional good-will and community co-operation which has made the Hilltop known as a strong and closely-knit community.

The earliest secretarial records of the organization date back to 1923. The association began to function while planning for co-operative services during Thanksgiving and Lenten seasons.

This early beginning was typical of similar movements throughout the nation toward inter-church cooperation.

Studies Community Welfare

The local association also has undertaken to study community welfare from various angles.

It maintains active contact with the local schools and has backed every progressive move to improve educational standards. Its interest in moral and spiritual welfare has helped safeguard and promote better moral and social conditions in the community.

Through its committee on civic relations it is keeping in contact with law enforcement agencies to curtail illegal dispensing of liquor to minors, eradicate illegal gambling devices, and through its constant vigilance and appeal to the State Liquor Board, discourage the issuance of liquor license to places of business operating in close proximity to the public schools.

The association has recently been called upon to assist the personnel of the Bureau of Juvenile Research to provide a program of religious instruction and character building for the boys and girls in that institution. A committee to study the type of program suited to their needs has been appointed.

The present organization is made up of the following officers and committee chairmen: Rev. L. S. Wilkes, Hilltop Church of Christ, president; Rev. J B. Shellhaas, Glenwood M. E., vice-president; Rev. A. J. Wold, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian, secretary; Rev. H. A. Handy, Highland Avenue Friends, chairman of committee on civic relations; Rev. C. P. Mitchell, Hilltop Lutheran, chairman of committee on united promotion.

Stated business meetings are held monthly at the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church.

Columnist

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell

Rev. Mitchell is the Record's guest columnist this week, his comment appearing in this section. His Hilltop Lutheran church is observing its twenty-fifth anniversary this year.

23 Churches On Hilltop Represent 13 Denominations

Twenty-three churches, representing 13 denominations, are located on the Hilltop, with the total membership running well over 50 per cent of the community, a query to local pastors has indicated.

Figures on church attendance and church membership are difficult to obtain and often fragmentary. Nevertheless, data compiled by the Record recently shows that the local community was well above average for the United States in matters of church membership and church attendance.

The Lutheran denominations have four churches here, including St. John Lutheran and Bethlehem Lutheran, affiliated with the American Lutheran church. Concordia and Hilltop are affiliated with the United Lutheran church.

One of the reasons for the large number of congregations on the Hilltop is the fact that a number of churches have split at some time in their history.

The Baptist church is represented by Hillcrest, Oakley Avenue and Immanuel; two Methodist churches include Glenwood, the community's largest congregation, and Wheatland Avenue. Hoge Memorial is the only Presbyterian church. United Brethren churches are Burgess and Hilltonia; Evangelical, St. Paul and Westgate; Catholic, St. Aloysius and St. Mary Magdalene. Others are: Hilltop Church of God, Hilltop Church of Christ, Hilltop Community, Valleyview and Warren Avenue Nazarene.

A complete directory of Hilltop churches is published elsewhere in this issue of the Record.

The Parks' residence, located at 3540 W Broad-st, was at one time a Quaker church.

31st Class To Graduate

With May Day only a few days away, more than 300 West High school seniors are looking forward this week to a month of multifarious activities which mark the close of their respective scholastic careers, the climax event, of course, being the graduation ceremonies at the State Fair grounds coliseum on Wednesday, June 11.

Class Play May 9-10

Besides the usual extra-curricular parties, picnics, and the like, the first big event is slated for the evenings of May 9 and 10 when the senior class play, "Ladies of the Jury," will be presented at the school auditorium.

Mrs. Hilda Leach, who has replaced the drafted Roy Bowen in the dramatics department, will direct the three-act comedy.

The Occident annual will be due late in May, and reports are that it is one of the finest editions ever published. Eldred Miller is editor in chief.

The senior prom is scheduled for June 6, baccalaureate services June 8, class night on June 9, with concluding ceremonies slated for June 11 when the West class will lead the parade of high school graduates at the coliseum. The local school will furnish the instrumental music at the ceremonies.

Thirty-First Class

Last night, at the K of C hall, the Alumni association extended felicitations to the graduating seniors in the form of a dance.

The class, thirty-first in the history of the school, will be the fourth class to graduate since Dr. H. H. Reighley assumed the principalship.

With 42 of the 300 odd students already named to the Otto H. Magly chapter of the National Honor society, six of these were named this week by Dr. Reighley as outstanding students. They are: Don Mathews, Betty Dunson, Vivian Swain, Betty Pickering, Luana Wagner and Camilla McKee.

Sinclair Is Prexy

High in his praise of the class, Dr. Reighley this week said that about one-third of the group planned to attend college next year.

Officers of the class are: Robert Sinclair, 109 Powhatan-av, president; DeWayne Adams, 277 N. Ogden-av, vice-president; Marilyn Rohr, 275 Binns-blvd, secretary, and Lucille Burkett, 2469½ W. Broad-st, treasurer.

Class committees are headed by: Bob Hess, Eldred Miller, Jacqueline Cleveland, Betty Dunson and Janice Bright.

1,000 To Be Graduated At Local Schools

More than 1,000 Hilltop students will be promoted at graduation ceremonies at eight local public schools in June, it was estimated this week by the various principals.

Largest class will be West Junior High school, with about 320 slated to move into the senior high school, according to Vance Smith, principal. West senior high will graduate 316, Dr. H. H. Reighley announced.

Smallest class will be Highland's, where about 40 will be promoted to the 7B grade at West Junior High, Miss Helen Kennedy said. Seventy or 75 are in the 6A class at West Broad, where Miss Mathilda Stewart is principal.

At John Burroughs, E. B. Graham announced that 118 6A's will be honored at June commencement, with 50 7B's slated to move into West Junior High. For the past two years, due to crowded conditions at the latter school, John Burroughs has had 7B classes. In all probability the 6A students will continue at John Burroughs through their 7B work.

At Starling, Edgar House reported a class of slightly under 220, a large share of which will repeat to West senior high next fall. Many will attend Central High.

Hilltop Male Chorus Has Gained Wide Renown

By C. H. Campbell

The Hilltop Male chorus was organized on Oct. 26, 1931. Eight men attended the first rehearsal. W. Haydn Jones was chosen director, C. J. Kohn, president, and C. H. Campbell, secretary-treasurer.

New members quickly joined and on Dec. 27, the chorus made its first public appearance, giving a Sunday afternoon concert at the Little Theatre of the Columbus Art gallery.

On Feb. 22, 1932, the Hilltop chorus engaged in its first contest, entering the Northern Ohio Eisteddfod at Marion. This contest was won by Lima but the Hilltop singers served notice to all competitors that they were to be respected in future contests.

Since that time this group has competed in nine eisteddfods and on only three occasions has it failed to land a prize. This splen-

Ically every extra-curricular activity at the school has found one or more of them making the wheels go around.

In Many Activities

Dunson and Pickering are on the senior class committee; Mathews, McKee and Swain are on the Occident and the Occident annual staffs, the former being sports editor; Mathews and McKee are president and secretary of the Latin club; Wagner is president of the French club; Pickering is in the Glee club; Mathews and McKee are on the student council, the former holding the office of president; baseball, basketball and football are included in Mathew's list of activities; Dunson, Swain, Wagner and Pickering are members of the Girls' Athletic association; Pickering and McKee are members of the Library club. This could go on and on!

In addition, there's a vast amount of work done by the students which is just a part of the work of living together. Ushering, monitor work in hall and library, checking of sales tax stamps, cafeteria work, not to mention a large program of activities goes on in each home room which must be planned and carried through. This is also done in part by these people.

Proud Principal

They should be rather proud of their records, but one can well doubt whether they or their parents are one whit prouder than Dr. H. H. Reighley, their principal during the past four years. We sat for an hour in his office one afternoon. One by one, he listed them, recalled their abilities, spoke in superlatives of their achievements, predicted successful years ahead for each. They just don't know how he feels about them, and I suspect he'll never tell. Just take it from us, though, he's "proud ta bustin'."

Four of the six plan collegiate work for next fall, with Misses Dunson, Pickering and McKee having selected Ohio State. Mathews is undecided, while Misses Swain and Wagner will follow secretarial pursuits.

Miss Dunson lives at 101 S. Burgess-av; Miss Swain at 629 S. Oakley-av; Miss Pickering at 165 S. Westgate-av; Miss Wagner at 178 Guernsey-av, and Mr. Mathews at 3080 Fremont-av.

Board Proxy--

High school in 1924. He received a degree in law at Ohio State university in 1930 and later did graduate work in the college of education.

He began practicing law in 1932, when he became a member of the firm of Duffy and Duffy. Later he become a partner of B B. Bridges, where he held forth until August, 1939. Then he began independent practice. His offices are on the 35th floor of the A. I. U. building.

On Jan. 7 of this year, Draper was 36 years old. On that day, too, he was elected to the presidency of the board of education. He has been a member of that body for a year and a half.

While attending West High school he met Ruth Pearch, who for some time past has been Mrs. Draper. She was a faculty member at Capital university where she taught music for a number of years.

Draper is keenly aware of the responsibilities of his position on the school board. A representative of the public on the board of education, he feels, should be a buffer between the public and the school administration and should see to it that every tax dollar appropriated should be put to the best possible use.

Members of the board receive no compensation for their work. Draper feels that the privilege of serving the community is compensation enough.

Active in many ways in community affairs, he is a member of the Masons, the Eastern Stars, the Athletic club and the Columbus Bar association.

A horticulturist by fancy, his flowers have taken many "firsts" at recent state fairs. He is an enthusiastic baseball fan and by his own admission is the world's worst golfer.

Dr. Bateman Is Hospital Supt.

By Jean Louise Young

Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the State hospital, decided to become a physician while in the seventh grade of school. His teachers would have to tell him to study something else beside physiology.

From the beginning of his medical career Dr. Bateman was interested in mental cases. "The mental cases at the State hospital are declining. Four year ago there were 2,954 cases enrolled here, now there are 2,587," said Dr. Bateman.

The physician was born in Columbus. He was educated in Ohio, Cornell, Northwestern universities and the University of Cincinnati. Before coming to the local institution in January, 1937, Dr. Bateman practiced at the Longview hospital in Cincinnati.

"My hobby is improving mental health of individuals," exclaimed Dr. Bateman.

After a long, hard day at the hospital Dr. Bateman relaxes when he goes home by listening to the victrola and enjoys Italian broadcasts. He likes to do anything the boy of 13 does. Oftentimes he flies kites with his two children.

When asked if he had a special message to the people of the Hilltop, Dr. Bateman replied, "we, that is the employees of this hospital, feel that we're very much a part of the Hilltop and we would like for the Hilltop to consider us as members of the community."

Dr. Bateman lives on the grounds with his wife and two children, George and Marg, 11 and 10, respectively.

Log Cabin

Among the old houses of the Hilltop is one that has been recollected by many of the old timers, as the little log cabin, which stood beside 2213 W. Broad until about 1910. It was over 100 years old at that time.

The three room cabin was the residence of the McGill family, who raised a group of 13 children in the little log house.

Old Fire House

About the turn of the last century there was a fire engine house at the corner of Hawthorne and Broad. (Hawthorne is now called Whitethorne). The equipment was managed by colored firemen, who won for themselves, the reputation of real "smoke-eaters." Each day, they could be seen pacing their horses up and down Broad, from Highland to Hawthorne.

FIRST SPADEFUL OF EARTH

The late Milton W. Westlake broke the ground in September, 1918, for comfort stations in the state house grounds. Mr. Westlake was author of the bill that granted the city the ground and the provisions for the stations.

DOCTOR SUFFERS ARM FRACTURE

In September, 1915, Dr. Howard Whitehead received the sympathy of his many friends because of a broken arm. While cranking his auto, preparatory to making a morning call, the doctor broke the bone in his right arm.

INSPECTOR SULZBERGER

Fred Sulzberger, in September, 1918, passed the examination for assistant inspector of ordnance material and gunfire control instruments with a score of 83.

Trust Your Physician!

Every conscientious doctor prefers to aid you in preventing serious illness rather than treat you over a period. His years of training, plus a natural aptitude, make him the greatest of humanitarians. His desire to aid you—not just because you are unequipped to aid yourself—is born of an innate consideration for the well-being of others.

His first thought is of keeping you well, and this he can do if you will only seek his counsel at regular intervals, then follow implicitly his advice. If you do not do so you are disregarding the first and greatest law of nature, self-preservation.

Self-medication for self-preservation is a dangerous and seldom successful method of dealing with an unknown cause. Only a qualified doctor can determine the cause of illness. Let him prescribe when treatment is necessary.

You will also find that it is wise to carefully choose the pharmacist and the well equipped drug store when having prescriptions filled.

Just step behind the scenes of our Prescription Department for a few minutes. Immediately before your eyes you will see one of our experienced pharmacists at work. First of all, he studies the prescription. Next, he takes one of the numerous bottles from the shelves and carefully weighs or measures the required amount of the medicinal product. Next, you see him write the direction label and carefully check every step that has been performed in the compounding of the prescription to insure absolute accuracy.

Almost every section of the world has contributed to the stock that you see before your eyes. All of the useful drugs have been brought together and made instantly available to you and others when the occasion arises.

The pharmacist who handles these potent medicines must have a full knowledge of them. It has taken years of study to master the details of this intricate science. The pharmacist cannot, for a minute, relax in his studies if he expects to keep pace with the latest developments of pharmacy and medicine.

The cost of the average prescription is very little—usually the charge is less than a dollar. This is a very modest fee when considering the years of experience that the pharmacist has had who compounds the prescription; a very modest charge in view of the tremendous task of bringing together, from all the four corners of the earth, the drugs used in prescription work.

I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me Let Us Go Into The House Of The Lord

Psalms 122:1.

LET us resolve that we shall go to church regularly. Let us learn to get the most out of going to church. Let us remember that if we go to church to worship, to meet with God, we can always find what we seek.

Furthermore, we can do ourselves a favor by adopting an intelligent attitude toward material of worship. We have somehow come to feel that the sermon is the most important part of the worship service, and that the hymns, the prayers and the Scripture reading are only preliminaries, something to be gone through with. But the real purpose in going to church is to listen to God and seek help in His nearness. Therefore, no element in worship is to be belittled by being looked upon as a preliminary. Every hymn, every song, every prayer has its part to play in making God real, and the man who comes late robs himself of that much of his opportunity.

The churches of the Hilltop greet every citizen, from every walk of life. To the people of the Hilltop the churches extend their friendly welcome and cordial invitation to visit with them during their hours of fellowship and worship.

Harry Zulauf Has His Hands Full Being School Treasurer

Harry Zulauf is a man who does a whale of a lot of work. He didn't say so himself but the facts speak for themselves.

He teaches mathematics and physics at West High school but these are only small drops in the bucket. In addition he is business manager for the entire school, treasurer of the athletic department and treasurer for the journalism department.

In his capacity as business manager he supervises all expenditures of all departments of the school. He is in charge of the business classes which draw up and sell advertising space for all school publications.

Not content with this he has to supervise the sale of all tickets for all functions including athletic events, plays and operettas. Any kinds of selling, of course, involves promotion and Mr. Zulauf is a promoter extraordinaire.

Born in Morrow county, Ohio, he graduated from Mt. Gilead High school in 1916, from Ohio State in 1923, and took his masters degree in 1934.

He has been a Hilltop resident for approximately 14 years and is serving his fourth year as a teacher at West. Previously, he taught in the junior high schools at West and Highland.

Harry Zulauf

A World war veteran, Mr. Zulauf saw action in France with the 308th ammunition train. He served in the Argonne campaign and was a member of the army of occupation in the Rhineland.

He is a member of Westway post, VFW, and of the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian church.

Among his hobbies he lists foremost, "reading."

He resides with his wife, a son, Robert, and a daughter, Mary Jane at 136 S. Roys-av. Robert is a sophomore at Ohio State and Mary Jane attends West.

West Journalism Teacher Is Also Collector of Antiques

The man who keeps a hundred and a half journalism students at West High school in tow—or at least tries to do that thing—is Myron Seifert. He began teaching at West five years ago. Before that time he taught at Starling where he held forth for nearly eight years.

His journalism is not entirely of the pedagogic variety. While working his way through college he worked on the editorial staff of the Columbus Citizen and from time to time has contributed to the Journal and Dispatch.

For the past several years he has been indexing newspaper articles for the Columbus Dispatch, chronologically and by subject matter. In his files he has references to every article that has appeared in that paper since 1871.

Myron T. Seifert

Mr. Seifert was born in Bremen, O., attended the Bremen schools and in 1924 graduated from Ohio State university. He received his M. A. from the institution in 1928 and has taken considerable work in addition.

Married, he lives at 46 S. Westgate-av. He is a member of the Glenwood M. E. church and is a thirty-second degree Mason, affiliated with the Westgate chapter.

The Seiferts, by Mr. Seifert's admission, have fairly gone mad on the subject of antiques. Every couple of weeks they go down into the Ohio hills, scouring the country for traces of antiques.

They have a "couple of garages full" of curios and haven't the slightest idea where they will put any additional aquisitions which they might bring home in the future.

Mr. Seifert supervises the work of the West students who write and edit the Occident.

NEWS NOTE

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ferguson of 311 Clarendon-av arrived home Sunday after a pleasant visit with her aunt, Mrs. Frank Walker of Newark, O. Founder of Apostolic Church

Rev. W. T. Witherspoon

Pastor and founder of the Apostolic Gospel church is Rev. W. T. Witherspoon, who organized the congregation more than 23 years ago.

The original congregation consisted of only a half-dozen families. Since that time the congregation has outgrown two buildings. The tabernacle at 1074 W. Broad-st now has accommodations for 800 people.

In recent years Rev. Witherspoon has become chairman of the board of foreign missions and his position has required considerable travel in foreign countries.

In 1939, Rev. and Mrs. Witherspoon visited Palestine and the surrounding countries. They have also made several trips to the British West Indies and are now in Hawaii.

Assistant pastor of the church is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Witherspoon, Mr. A. W. Witherspoon, who received his appointment recently.

Serves First Year on Hilltop

Rev. Sain

Pastor of the Westgate Evangelical church is Rev. R. A. Sain. He has been pastor there since last August.

Before coming to Westgate, Rev. Sain served pastorates in Fairfield county, in Baltimore, Findlay, and other Columbus district churches.

Between 1923 and 1924 he served as presiding elder of the Columbus district. He has been a member of the conference board of trustees for 28 years.

Besides his public school training, Rev. Sain had four years of theological work.

Rev. Ashburn Here 24 Years

On Mar. 23, 1941, Rev. Jacob Ashburn completed his twenty-fourth year as pastor of the Oakley-av Baptist church. At the beginning of his pastorate, church membership was extremely small; now it stands at about 400.

Rev. Ashburn received his ministerial training at the Virginia Theological seminary and college, Mt. Union college and Hillsdale college.

For a number of years he taught Greek at Virginia seminary and then accepted a call to become pastor of the local church, where he has remained to the present.

In his work at the church he is assisted by his wife who is also a graduate of the Virginia Theological seminary and college. The couple has three children, Evelyn Eudora, Richard Reginald, both students at Ohio State, and Jacob Julian, student at West High school.

Bond Cleaners Offer 1 Hr. Service

Complete one-hour cleaning and pressing service, the only shop offering this type of service on the Hilltop, is maintained by Bond Cleaners of 2492 Sullivant-av. Owned and operated by Charles O'Connor, the firm celebrated its second anniversary on Apr. 24.

The band box system of dry cleaning is employed with all work being done in the company's own plant. It is the only cleaning plant on the Hilltop. The system is said to be absolutely odorless. The fluid used restores original color to the fabrics being cleaned and each garment is cleaned individually. All clothing is germ-free after going through the system.

Bonds maintain a free pick-up and delivery service to the entire community. Drapes, slipcovers, hats and all types of clothing are handled. Two presses, electric steam irons and complete cleaning facilities are kept in operation for quick service at all times.

Ed Leach is associated with O'Connor in the business.

New Public Address System At West High

By Jean Louise Young

West high school has installed in its auditorium a 40-watt Bell sound system. The apparatus is set in the walls on either side of the stage. It is operated by remote control.

For quite a while the school has contemplated buying a public address system since it has always been difficult to hear a person on the stage from the rear of the auditorium.

The committee which selected the Bell sound system included O. C. Montgomery, chairman; Herbert Hutchinson, of the music department, and Don Mathews, president of the Student Council.

Contributions for the payment of the set are being made by the following organizations: the June class of 1940; January class of 1941; June class of 1941; the Student Council of 1940, and the Hilltop Business Men's association.

The system was used for the first time in an assembly program of orations, Mar. 19, and for the annual HBMA's minstrel show, on the 19th, 20th, and 21st of March.

The cost of the Bell sound system is $400.

Church Founders Met In Storeroom

The pioneer founders of the St. Aloysius church first met in the store rooms of the building on the corner of Clarendon and Broad-sts. In 1905 they built a combination school and church, and this served until 1929, when the congregation grew so large that the old church would no longer hold it. The new church on the corner of Midland and Broad-sts was erected in 1929.

Among the women who were instrumental in the building of the first church were: Mrs. Isaac Clark, Mrs. Monett, Mrs. Bopley and Mrs. John Murnan.

Most Hilltoppers can't remember when the old open Air Dome theater was flourishing under the management of Henry Moon, at the corner of Wayne and Broad, where the Ohio Nations Bank is now located.

Hilltop Camp Fire Girls Have Nine Active Groups

Health, Manners, Morals, Character Are Objectives

The Camp Fire girls groups on the Hilltop, an organization devoted to the building-up of health, morals, manners and character, have experienced a phenominal growth within the past year.

Much credit for this rapid development, according to Camp Fire officials, must go to Miss Matilda Stuart, principal of West Broad school, who has been untiring in her efforts to promote the various local units.

All in all, there are nine Camp Fire units on the Hilltop. Two of these are Blue Bird groups which are composed of girls between the ages of eight and 10. The local Camp Fire groups proper include girls between the ages of eight and 15.

Six of the nine units have been organized since September, 1940.

Tewahna Group

The Tewahna group, Mrs. Ardis Hawthorne, guardian, received its charter in January, 1938. Officers are Pauline Kaufman, president; Louise Yost, vice-president; Dorothy Hingst, secretary; Jane Roush, treasurer; and Jane Hawthorne, scribe.

Okiciyapi Group

The Okiciyapi group, Mrs. Ruth Granville, guardian, received its charter in October, 1938.

Officers and members are Rowena Self, Jean Hilton, Dorothy Bowyer, Marqueen Stone, Audrey Southern, Betty Southern and Dorothy Miller.

A group of Hilltop Camp Fire Girls, including representatives from all local units, are pictured above. In the lower photo, the guardians and their assistants are pictured.

One of the newer Camp Fire units on the Hilltop is the Tandakota group. This group received its charter in 1940. Guardian is Mrs. Lillian Adair; assistant, Miss Marjorie Benton.

President of the group is Jerri Sherwood; vice-president, Virginia Herbert; secretary, Doris Evans; treasurer, Vivian Bishop; scribe, Aleta Schwender; song leader, Phyllis Howard; and game leader, Lillian Walker.

Other members are Phyllis Jean Adair, Mary Jane Hedgen, Bettyann Kendel and Vera Thomson.

Shish-Ta-Wa-He

The Shish-Ta-Wa-He Camp Fire group, organized in the fall of 1939, received its charter in January, 1940. Guardian of the group is Mrs. Robert Reed, who is assisted by Mrs. Clara Borland. The group was organized under the guidance of Mrs. Ardis Hawthorne.

Minn Learned About Autos In Record Bldg.

Howard Minnameyer although born in Toledo some 33 years ago, claims to be a native of Columbus, and the Hilltop. After all, he states, when a fellow moves into a community before he's one year old, he might as well say he was born there.

Anyway, Howard had his education at West Broad-st school, Highland Jr. High, and Central High School.

The Minnameyer family settled on Cypress-av after moving to Columbus, but moved to the Hilltop as did many people, after being driven from their homes by 4th famous flood of 1913.

Working for J. W. Burkett, at the site of the Record office, Howard learned about machines and their "innards." He was with Mr. Burkett from 1924 until 1931, when he went into business for himself.

He also traveled through most of the states in the east-central part of the country as a mechanic for several race drivers, and relates that he had many interesting experiences while traveling, about the race-tracks in Florida, New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

He is the owner of Minn's Garage, located at 3281 W. Broad, where complete auto repair service is available, and which specializes in motor rebuilding, electrical work, and brake repair and adjustment.

REGISTRATION IN 1918

738,036 men registered in Ohio in the Sept. 23rd 18 to 45 draft law. The ratio of Columbus, including Franklin county, was 35,-369. About 20 percent of the registrants were inducted into military service; the youths to complete their education, and the older men to be kept at occupations deemed essential.

Dr. Leaman Is Also A Sculptor

Dr. L. R. Leaman

Dr. Louis Robert Leaman is one of the Hilltop's leading dentists, with offices at 2757½ W. Broad-st. He has practiced at this location for the past five years; is married and lives at 3033 Crescent-dr.

Dr. Leaman was born at Nelsonville and was educated at Ohio university at Athens and Ohio State university.

His hobbies are football; baseball; golf and bowling. He bowls with the Chamber of Commerce team. He is a sculptor of no mean ability, making small statues from clay, putty and plaster. He assures us that if his two first names were reversed he still would not be a poet, a fact which will not be held against him.

He would not elaborate on his golf game, but did confess to a weakness for steak.

Shroyer Operates Funeral Homes on Hilltop, West Side

"I've worked as an undertaker for most of my life," stated Wylie S. Shroyer, and the fleet of seven Packards and the best of modern equipment used by the Shroyer funeral homes indicate his great interest in his work.

Shroyer was born in Logan county and attended the Logan county schools.

He started in the undertaking business in Bellefontaine, after attending embalming school in 1918. Coming to Columbus in 1924, after 17 years in Bellefontaine, he established his own business in 1927.

Fishing, bowling and hunting are his main hobbies, and he sponsors nearly a dozen amateur athletic teams each year. One of his teams recently won a city championship.

Shroyer is a member of the Westgate Masonic lodge, the Westwood K. of P., Woodmen of America and the Order of Odd Fellows.

His son and daughter are both associated with him in business, at the home at 1278 W. Broad and the Hilltop home, at 2553 W. Broad.

Rev. Bauschard at Mary Magdalene

Rev. Raymond Bauschard organized the congregation of the St. Mary Magdalene church and has been pastor there since 1929, when the church was founded.

Born in Erie, Pa., Rev. Bauschard attended the public schools in that city. He graduated from Niagara university in 1919 and was ordained for the ministry there in 1922.

Before coming to the Hilltop, he taught for 10 years at the St. Charles college, E. Broad-st.

Clarence Story Has Been Dry Cleaner 12 Years

Clarence Story, local cleaner and presser, has been in the cleaning business for the past 12 years at nearly the same spot on the Hilltop. He recalls the time when his father built their house in the Hillcrest addition and there were only two other houses in that territory.

Born in Middleport, O., in 1899, he received his education at a country school, eight miles from Pomeroy.

Story came to Columbus and the Hilltop and has lived at the same address since that time.

His hobbies are fishing and hunting; he takes a trip to Michigan each year, and likes to hunt small game around central Ohio during open season.

Married, Story has two children, Don, age 11, and Marilyn, age 6. They reside at 208 N. Terrace-av.

Don attends the Columbus Boys' Choir school, one of the few institutions of its kind in the United States. Marilyn goes to school at West Broad elementary.

24 Hour Service At Lawrence's

Twenty-four hour service with competent attendants always on hand is a regular feature of Lawrence's Sunoco service, corner of Dana and Broad-sts. Managed by Jack Blackledge, the station handles a complete line of products sold by the Sun Oil Co., including the Nu Blue Sunoco motor fuel.

Just recently a new cabinet model chasis lubricator was installed at the station to aid in more thorough lubrication work on every make of car. The new equipment is said to be the latest on the market at any price.

A complete record is kept of the lubrication needs of every car serviced. This aids attendants in keeping each moving part lubricated at just the proper mileage required by makers of the car.

Mr. Blackledge studied chemical engineering at UCLA and was trained in lubrication work by the Texas company and the Sun Oil Co. He resides at 2765 Cleveland-av.

The cry "get a horse" didn't mean much to the old Hilltop firemen who used to get stuck in the mud when going to a fire, if it happened to rain. The horses just couldn't do much about it until the firemen dismounted and put their shoulders to the wheel and helped to dislodge the stranded fire-wagon.

Rev. Dean is also employed at the Ransom-Randolph dental laboratories, where he has been superintendent for more than 23 years. Born in Alton, he has been a resident of the Hilltop for approximately 35 years.

At the present time the Hilltop Community church is in the midst of a building program. The foundation of the new church has been laid on N. Huron-av and members of the congregation hope to have basement quarters, at least, by the middle of the summer.

Rev. McCutcheon In Fifth Year

Rev. Albert McCutcheon is serving his fifth year as pastor of the Valleyview Church of Christ in Christian Union. Before this time he engaged in evangelistic work and for a while held a pastorate at the Dexter Avenue church in Columbus.

He received his training for the ministry through the Chicago Evangelistic institute, Moody's Bible school and the Cleveland Bible school. He resides at 2726 Baughman-av.

Rev. Dissette At Immanuel Church

Rev. Dissette came to the Immanuel Baptist church last October from Oberlin.

He has served as pastor in Toledo and other Ohio cities, and in Michigan, Washington and other states. He was born in Medina.

Rev. and Mrs. Dissette live at 357 Midland-av and are the parents of three children.

Rev. Dissette's hobbies are music and reading, and he is an accomplished pianist.

The Immanuel Baptist church is located on Belvidere-av and is one of the newest churches on the Hilltop, having been dedicated in 1939. The congregation has grown since Rev. Dissette's arrival. The new baptistry was dedicated at special services on the evening of Easter Sunday.

Bopley Had First Factory

The first factory on the Hilltop (there has been only one other) was the Bopley shoe factory, which was organized by Joseph Bopley and son in 1903. The factory, which was located in the rear of 2213 W. Broad-st, the present home of Mrs. Joseph Bopley, was built by Mr. Bopley, who also built the house which is now nearly 50 years old. The lower floor of the two-story factory is still standing and is in use as a garage.

Mr. Bopley specialized in custom made shoes, and made special types for crippled persons. When the factory at 2213 W. Broad was running on full schedule, 200 pairs of children's shoes, sizes one to 12, were being turned out each day. Later, the factory was moved to the Slater building, 1057 W. Broad.

When the World war No. 1 was declared and Joseph jr. shouldered a gun to march off to France with the A. E. F., the Bopley's decided to give up their shoe factory, which terminated the activity of the first and only shoe factory of the Hilltop.

Rev. Shellhaas At Glenwood M. E.

Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas

The pastor of the Glenwood M. E. church is Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas, who came to the local church in September, 1939.

He was born near Troy and has pursued theological and philosophical studies at Garrett Divinity school, Chicago university, Washington college, Ohio State university, Chicago Theological seminary, Wit-Marsum seminary and Wittenburg college.

Residing with Rev. and Mrs. Shellhaas is their son, Glenn William, who is a student at Ohio State.

Rev. Shellhaas has served churches in the following communities: Bladensburg, Md., St. Johns, Elida, Carey, Wapakoneta and Bellefontaine, O.

Rev. Seesholtz At St. Paul's

Rev. W. E. Seesholtz is pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational church and has served there since September, 1939. Once before, during the period from 1920 to 1926, he was pastor of the local church.

Rev. Seesholtz has held pastorates in Cleveland, Lancaster and Canton, O. For eight years he was presiding elder of the Western Conference of the church.

Before entering the ministry, he taught for 10 years in the public schools of Hocking and Fairfield counties.

Rev. and Mrs. Seesholtz and a daughter, Margaret, reside at 24 S. Warren-av.

Blauser Store In New Home

West Jeffersonians are proud of their new building on E. Main-st, which houses the R. I. Blauser modern furniture store.

Of brick construction, the store is one of the most up-to-the-minute in central Ohio. Two stories high, the building is fire-proof throughout.

The first floor is attractive with its display of living room and dining room furniture and stoves. A glass-enclosed office is located in the rear of the first floor display room.

Fifteen model rooms displaying living room and bedroom furniture are situated on the second floor.

The building itself, is the last word in cream-faced brick.

R. I. Blauser, proprietor, keeps abreast of the times by going each season to the Chicago Furniture Mart, where he purchases many of his home furnishings.

Associated in the business are sons, Francis and Guy Blauser. People from the Hilltop are invited to drive out and inspect the quality merchandise on display at the store.

Scout Work Is Activity Of Jantzens

Herman Jantzen, Mrs. Jantzen and their two sons are all interested in the Boy Scout organization. Mr. Jantzen is Scoutmaster of Troop 181, of the Hillcrest Baptist church; Mrs. Jantzen is a Den Mother of a Cub Scout troop and the two sons are Eagle Scouts and assistant Scoutmasters. They live at 819 S. Terrace-st.

Mr. Jantzen has been Scoutmaster of Troop 181 for the past three years and in that time has seen five of its members become Eagle Scouts. He has also had charge of the development of Camp Hettuck, the new Scout camp southwest of Columbus. The camp consists of 10 acres of mostly wooded ground and is a game refuge. Under Mr. Jantzen's supervision the members of Troop 181 have planted trees and shrubs, built bridges, cabins, feeding stations for birds, and they hope to make many improvements at the camp this summer.

Mr. Jantzen is a repair man at the central office of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. His hobbies are Indian lore and studying old records of Franklin county, though of course his chief hobby is Scouting.

58 Enrolled In West Side And Hilltop Bicycle Club

Daisy, Daisy—you look sweet on a bicycle built for two—or a bicycle built for one or just a bicycle. We all look "sweet" on a bicycle to Bert Ray, proprietor of Ray's Bicycle shop, 2518 W. Broad-st.

Ray's interest in bicycles is not entirely motivated by pecuniary reasons either. Eight years ago he organized the West Columbus Wheelmen, a group of bicycle addicts. It was the first bicycle club in Columbus.

Membership includes boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 73. At present there are 58 members enrolled.

The group rides on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and all day Sunday. Their trips take them to surrounding villages such as Darbyville and Hilliards. One of the favorite rides is up along the west side of the Scioto river to the dams.

Longer trips are taken on Sundays when the Wheelmen may ride to such remote points as Circleville or Chillicothe. Riders aim to keep to the back roads, out of traffic and off the main highways.

This summer the group plans to arrange its trips so that stops can be made at the various bicycle hostelries which dot the area.

Purpose—recreation and exercise—or "just plain fun."

Hilltop Chorus--

did record makes it central Ohio's most outstanding group of competitive singers, and it is one that can be counted on to do its best work against the stiffest competition.

In addition to its work in competition, which requires a great deal of diligent and painstaking rehearsal, this chorus has furnished the musical background for each year's Hilltop Minstrel, and has given many concerts both in and outside of Columbus. Many of its programs have been broadcast from various local redio stations.

This hard working group of men meets each Monday night from the beginning of September 'till the end of May and spends one and a half or two hours in rehearsal. Before contests and minstrels as much as three rehearsals are held in one week. These men sing because they love it and extra rehearsals are always cheerfully attended.

W. Hayda Jones, the first director of the group, led them through eight seasons after which ill health and press of business responsibilities forced him to relinquish the position.

In the autumn of 1939, Prof. Dale V. Gilliland of the department of music at Ohio State university accepted the position of director and the work of the chorus in the past two seasons is a fine tribute to his capable leadership.

The Hilltop Record

Beginning Its 25th Continuous Year Of Community Service

Vol. 25, No. 1 | Section F | THE HILLTOP RECORD | Number 1

More Than Type and Press In Publication Of Paper

Production of a community newspaper on the Hilltop requires the personal contact of the newspaper staff with the people it serves. That is why The Hilltop Record is closer to the people of the Hilltop than any other newspaper or news or advertising medium that goes into these homes.

And so it is that we must visualize our paper as the paper we wish it to be and strive with courage toward that goal.

We must concentrate on building a paper . . . not just making a living. We must cultivate broad mental and spiritual horizons.

We must throw our influence on the side of all things which work for the common good. We must keep in tune with living and with the highest of ideals.

These are the things that are back of the type and printing press in publishing The Hilltop Record.

RECORD STARTS IT'S 25th YEAR TODAY

RECORD IS PRINTED IN IT'S OWN COMPLETE SHOP

Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow

By C. C. Hartley

Yesterday

When S. J. Westlake founded the Hilltop Record twenty-four years ago he saw the great possibilities of serving a fine community like that of the Hilltop. Westlake was that kind of a man.

And the years that the Hilltop Record was under the direction of Mr. Westlake found the Record serving an ever increasing number of Hilltop homes. It was well accepted and grew more and more popular with each issue.

When the Record was started 24 years ago much of the Hilltop was cornfields. People living north or south of Broad street could look out across the fields and see the Broad street cars wending their way far up and down the street. It took but a few hundred copies of the Record to cover the territory.

Every year more and more homes were being built on the Hilltop and more and more copies of the Record were needed to cover the territory.

In 1926 when the management of the paper was taken over by R. D. Hastings there were 6500 copies being printed weekly. Under the direction and guidance of Mr. Hastings the Record was enlarged and grew further in popularity. The mechanical equipment of the Record plant was improved, and in 1928 was moved to 14 S. Oakley-av, where a web perfecting press was installed to further facilitate the production of the paper.

In 1926 it was my good fortune to become affiliated with the Hilltop Record in the capacity of reporter, later becoming editor and advertising salesman. I am deeply grateful for the fine experience I received under R. D. Hastings.

Today

This issue of the Record is going into 12,000 homes. Of these, 10,000 regularly receive the paper every Friday. Last year about 300 more homes received the Record than did the previous year. It is expected that another 300 to 400 will receive it this year over last.

Today it is a great satisfaction to know we have maintained the confidence and self respect for the Record that was so well established by the two previous owners of the paper.

We have constantly striven to improve the service of the paper, to make it ever more popular with Hilltop folks. We have been especially interested in developing a newspaper with a definite editorial policy for the good of the community.

We have put forth every effort and spared no cost to make the paper a NEWSpaper and not a shopping guide. Our aim has been to make this the finest possible community newspaper.

With very few exceptions we have been able at all times to carry complete and detailed announcements and stories concerning every local event by local groups or organizations. The paper has in every sense been a true spokesman for the Hilltop.

Tomorrow

And while each of the years past has found an increasingly large number of Hilltop Records delivered to Hilltop homes each week we fully anticipate an increase in the number next year and in years to come.

The sole revenue of the paper is from the advertising contained in it each week. Every week the cost of producing the Record continues to grow. But every week the revenue of the paper does not increase in keeping with the cost of production.

During the last world war prices of newsprint and all materials in the production of a paper soared to new highs. Today prices are beginning to advance and they will no doubt continue to a much higher level.

This presents a real problem for a free distribution newspaper.

Paper Was Started By S. J. Westlake

With this issue The Hilltop Record, the oldest of community newspapers, is beginning its twenty-fifth year of service to the community.

On Apr. 27, 1917, S. J. Westlake, printer, "peeled" the first paper from his hand press. Since that day, without missing a single issue, the Record has served the community.

The first paper was a four-page affair, measuring nine by 12 inches. The front page, practically devoid of headlines, was sprinkled with a smattering of advertisements.

Front page news consisted chiefly of church news and social items. Among the advertisers in the first issue, which was distributed to the few-and-far-between Hilltop homes, was one for the hardware store of W. L. Millikin.

The L. M. Seiller Dry Goods Co. had a choice position down in the right hand corner of the front page.

Hand Fed Press

The first few issues were printed downtown but later the work was done in Westlake's own shop. The press was fed by hand and only two pages could be printed at one time.

News in those first issues contained notes about those in the service of the U. S. army. Mr. and Mrs. John Aitkin of Wilson-rd enjoyed the distinction of having four sons in the armed service, all at one time.

Glenwood church held special services in connection with the burning of the new church's mortgage.

A letter to the editor from Philip Robinson told that he was "with the AEF, near enough the front to hear occasionally the big guns."

General Pershing admonished, through the medium of the Record, "let everyone who has a loved one on this side, write, write, write."

Hastings Owned It

Through the years from 1917 onwards, the paper grew and increased in popularity. In 1926, R. D. Hastings took over the management of the paper and two years later headquarters was moved from 2354½ W. Broad-st to 14 S. Oakley-av.

The Record remained in the latter location until late last year when it was moved to its present and permanent address, 2463-65 W. Broad-st.

Hastings continued to publish the paper until January, 1936, when C. Carlton Hartley took over the direction of the enterprise.

A former editor of the paper, Hartley had left in 1929 in order to manage the Greenfield Times which he had purchased and which has since been changed into Highland county's only daily newspaper.

Contained in the first issue of the Hilltop Record was an editorial which read in part: "We have no great predictions to make concerning the future of the Record, but we promise to do our best to make it an interesting newspaper devoted exclusively to the Hilltop and vicinity."

And down the years, the publishers have sincerely tried to fulfill this initial pledge.

Largest Edition Ever Published By Record

This issue of the Record is the third large, special edition of the paper. In the summer of 1936 an historical edition was published depicting the historical background of the community from Civil war days. It was judged the best special edition in Ohio at the newspaper show that year. It contained 40 pages.

In 1939 a Progress edition was published in tabloid form with 60 tabloid pages. This is, by far, the largest and most complete ever published by this organization.

Clintonville Booster In Ninth Year

The Clintonville Booster, community newspaper serving Clintonville, is in its ninth year of publication. The paper serves the territory from Arcadia-av north to Worthington and from the Olentangy river on the west to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks on the east.

Circulation is more than 8200. Publisher of the Booster is Rand Hollenbeck. Hollenbeck's father was a printer for more than 40 years and had his shop on the site of the AIU citadel. Altogether, the family has been in the printing business for 40 years.

The Booster is the successor to the old Northern Star. Hollenbeck is both publisher and editor. He resides at 3124 N. High-st. Assistant editor is Ruth Riley, 182 W. Tulane-rd.

Gahanna Paper Has 10th Birthday

The Tri-Community News, Gahanna, O., celebrated its tenth birthday Apr. 10.

In the past 10 years this weekly newspaper has grown from a small five-column sheet to a completely streamlined seven-column production.

The Tri-Community News is published by Charles A. Pegler, who started the paper in 1931. Bob Waldron was employed in 1932, and has since become assistant editor.

The paper was originally intended to serve the communities of Shepard, East Columbus and Gahanna—hence its name — but its circulation has spread so rapidly to the east and north, in the vicinity of Blacklick and New Albany, that the title now generally refers to Mifflin, Jefferson and Plain townships.

Printing was done in Johnstown for more than eight years, but in December, 1938, Mr. Pegler opened his own modern plant in Gahanna.

Prestige of the Tri-Community News is evidenced by the fact that it was one of only six weekly newspapers in Ohio which were mentioned for general excellence at the 1940 Ohio Newspaper Show.

Tri-Village News Serves 3 Communities

To the north and west of Columbus are the tri-villages—Grandview Heights, Marble Cliff and Upper Arlington, three connecting municipalities which, though their residents have an equal share in inter-community affairs, have remained in the control of separate governments and have prospered through a spirit of cooperation to be admired by everyone.

Two of the three, Grandview Heights and Upper Arlington, have recently become cities, having reached a population of more than 5,000, and will henceforth be operated under a city government plan. Marble Cliff, oldest of the three villages, has also shown considerable growth during the past two years and will, in all probability, reach its peak in new home construction during 1941. Total population of the villages is now about 12,000.

Growing up and improving through the years, along with the three villages, is the community's official news publication, the Tri-Village News.

Published each week on Friday, the paper has played an important part in the development of the northwest section and has furthered the cause of every worthwhile community project. It has served as the official publication for all churches, schools, clubs and civic organizations and has taken an active part in charity work through the publication of its annual Charity Edition, which is co-sponsored with the Northwest Kiwanis club and released in December of each year.

Perhaps the most widely read publication reaching the northwest section, the paper is mailed to its approximately three thousand regular subscribers each Friday, thus is read in more than 3,000 of the community's 3,500 homes.

Annual subscription campaigns are conducted in October of each year by students of the Tri-Village schools and proceeds of the campaign are used to further athletic department projects. The Grandview Heights football stadium has received full benefit from the fund since its erection in 1938. In Upper Arlington for the past two years such funds have gone toward the purchase of uniforms for the school's outstanding marching band.

Most of the "News" staff are real Tri-Villagers, having been raised in the community and educated in Tri-Village schools. C. F. Ricketts is publisher of the paper. Its office is at 1389 Grandview-av.

Yesterday--

While it is nearly impossible for the newspaper to increase advertising rates sufficiently to take care of the increased costs it stands to reason some other course of adjustment must be followed.

We have concluded that but one road is open to the free distribution paper that wants to maintain a high standard such as that set by the Record . . . the paper must be put on a subscription basis with each family paying a minimum yearly price for the 52 issues.

Whether such a course is followed will depend on the turn of events of the war and the consequent resulting price levels of our materials and labor.

But one thing is uppermost in our mind . . . we believe the Record is looked forward to by all its readers and we want to keep the quality of the paper up to its present level. We believe people of the Hilltop would have it that way.

And so on the beginning of our twenty-fifth year, as we look forward to serving you tomorrow and tomorrow we express our thanks for our pleasant relationships with the Hilltop community of yesterday and today and will be looking forward to many more years of such service.

DEER LICK HERE

In the late '50's Mr. Lucas Sullivant, who was the owner of nearly all the territory west of the river, including the Hilltop, owned and harbored a number of elk, also buffalo, which were in a large pen located south of the National Road and near where Ogden-av now is.

It is also said that Mr. Sullivant had a "deer lick" where Glenwood park now is and two fine springs provided the animals with a quantity of good water.

Linden News Serves N. E. Columbus

The Linden News is the community paper serving the Linden community in Northeast Columbus.

Circulation of the paper is approximately 6200 and distribution covers the territory north on Cleveland-av to the city limits; south to Eleventh-av; east to the Pennsylvania railroad including East Linden; and west to the Big Four railroad.

Established in 1925, the paper is owned and managed by Carlton C. Berry and De Vere Kerr. Kerr handles the advertising and Berry is in charge of the editorial department.

The News is the first community newspaper in the Linden section. It began as a small 8-column paper with a circulation of less than 2200. As the community grew (it has a population of nearly 36,000) the newspaper grew with it.

Both Berry and Kerr have been in the newspaper and printing business all their lives.

According to Co-Publisher Berry, "A community newspaper renders a distinctly different service. The news coverage of local events, such as civic affairs and religious news, is far more complete in the community newspaper than it is in the downtown papers. The people of the community do not fail to show their appreciation for the news service that the paper renders."

New Equipment at Columbian Clrs.

One of the newest businesses on the Hilltop is Columbian Cleaners, 410 Columbian-av. Although Roberta Boyhan, manager, started the cleaning and pressing service on Dec. 16, 1940, she has been in the dry cleaning business for the past 18 years. She left the Correll Cleaners to open her present shop.

The Columbian Cleaners, she states, offers to the women of the Hilltop a special hand-finished service on ladies' dresses and garments, which is superior to the ordinary "flat" pressing. They will also continue to do quality work on men's clothing.

All of the equipment which went into the shop is new, stated the manager, and this enables them to do more satisfactory work.

The Columbian Cleaners have pick-up and delivery service for the convenience of their patrons.

North Side Herald Distributes Paper To Families of North Side

The following letter is from Marie Eddington, publisher of the North Side Herald:

It must be gratifying to you to look back over your files of the Record and see the part it has played in the Hilltop's progress as a community. As your paper has grown the community has prospered until today the Record is the voice of a city within a city.

The North Side Herald was founded by Carleton Berry in 1922 under the name "Northern Star" and was distributed to 3,000 homes and business places between Goodale and Fifth-avs. Several years later Mr. Deiss (now an elevator operator on one of the Columbus dailies) bought the Northern Star and published it as the "North Side News" until a slight ailment forced him to retire from the publishing field and sell the paper to Mr. Shields. In 1937 Norman N. Katz and Irwin Barkan owned the paper, then first known as the North Side Herald and distributed 5,000 copies weekly.

When I joined the paper's staff as advertising manager in 1937, the Herald was distributing 10,000 copies; I bought the paper in 1939 and have brought distribution up to its present total, 11,000.

My objective for the North Side Herald is to see that it truly represents the North Side community; that it remains a proper medium for news of the churches, schools and business organizations; that it can be received into the homes with confidence because its buying messages can be believed. In a word, that it shall be not only a successful paper but a community SERVICE.

The Hilltop Record, as the oldest established community paper in Columbus, serves as a splendid pattern for the North Side Herald.

Congratulations and good luck!

Sincerely,
Marie Eddington,
Publisher.

Who Asked For Better Paints?

We have them and here's why . . .

Paint chemists agree that oil shrinkage (in dried paint) is one of the major causes of paint failure. The paints we carry are made with oils that are actually pre-shrunk, before being mixed with the other ingredients. Pre-shrunk Oils are an exclusive O'Brien feature, fully patented. They make house paints wear much longer. They make wall paints stay washable!

When you buy paint you might as well get a properly toned, pleasant color as a poor one. It costs no more. O'Brien Paints are made in new Keyed Colors. These are clear, happy colors. Moreover, each Color is scientifically "Keyed" for proper harmony with the furnishings you now have in your home, and with the other Keyed Colors. Another exclusive O'Brien feature!

Daily, 3 Weeklies and Magazine Are Hartley Newspaper Publications

The Hilltop Record is one of the five Hartley Newspaper publications owned and operated by C. C. Hartley.

First of the papers acquired was The Times at Greenfield, in October, 1932, now a daily. Second was The Hilltop Record in January, 1936. Third was the Fayette Times at Washington Courthouse in June, 1938. Fourth was the Fairfield Times at Lancaster, started in December, 1938. All are printed in their own plants in their respective cities.

Latest addition to the list of publications is The Ohio Woman magazine, edited by Hazel Shinn Krumm, with Mrs. C. C. Hartley as business manager. It is published six times yearly and is sold from Columbus news stands and by subscription.

The Daily Times at Greenfield is managed by E. F. Hartley, father of C. C. Hartley, with Pat Shrock of that city as editor. It is the only daily paper in Highland county. The Times plant is considered one of the finest small town plants in southern Ohio, with all new and modern equipment.

The Fayette Times at Washington Court House is a weekly with a wide farm circulation. Jerald Fortney is manager of the paper.

The Fairfield Times at Lancaster is a weekly with Adrian Fuller, well known editor and radio commentator, as manager.

Plenty of Room For Expansion

The present building occupied by The Hilltop Record and the lot on Broad-st between the Todd Drug store and Shank & Saunders real estate office were purchased two years ago by C. C. Hartley for use in an expansion program for The Record.

The large brick building has been completely remodeled and contains more than one-third more space than the former headquarters of the plant on S. Oakley-av. Present plans call for a building program some time in the near future to provide additional office space on the unoccupied lot facing Broad-st.

Record Manager From West Va.

Manager of The Hilltop Record, Paul Wichterman, is a graduate of West Virginia university where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

He joined the Record staff about four years ago and has since become active in numerous Hilltop projects.

CLASS BANQUET

Held in Honor of the Two Victorious Basket Ball Teams of Glenwood Sunday School

The Baraca Bible Class of Glenwood M. E. Church banqueted last Tuesday evening, both the Senior and Junior Basket Ball teams of the church. Both teams either were champions, the Juniors winning four out of fifteen games played, while the "Big Team," as the boys called it, had the remarkable record of winning all of their games in town, and only loosing two out of four games won.

The Junior team had to play Como at E. for the Junior Championship of the city, and after loosing their first game of the season, on Como's floor, 16-13, they came back strong and beat Como, on the Glenwood Presbyterian floor, by the score of 24-11. Then a third game had to be played and West Market Hall was chosen as the most neutral floor, and Glenwood won for the second time by the score of 23-12. This final game decided the championship.

Record of Senior Team.

The Senior team started their season by beating West High School, 25-21, and from that time on all eyes were upon them. For the season the team scored 708 points in their twenty-five games as against 382 points of their opponents, or, figuratively speaking, four points more than twice as many points as their opponents.

Glenwood won the West Side Championship, hands down, for they beat West Park M. E., who finished second, by the score of 69-7, then they were entitled to play for city honors and the scores were as follows:

City Championship Series.

Glenwood 32, Trinity 13—Central League.

Glenwood 21, St. Marys 18—South League.

Glenwood 17, St. Patricks 12—East League.

Glenwood 14, Grace M. E. 11—North League.

The next chart shows the number of baskets made and games played by each player. Stinson, star center of the team, had the remarkable record of playing in all but the last game.

Former Teacher Sends Greetings To Publisher of Record

Following is a letter to C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Record, from R. R. Brinkerhoff, publisher of the Utica, O., Herald. Mr. Brinkerhoff was Hartley's first teacher of journalism in Huntington, W. Va., High School in 1923.

Dear Carlton:

Eighteen years is a long time in prospect but not in retrospect. Along about 1923 I remember a young fellow coming around to see me down in Huntington and suggesting that the school paper was nothing more than an antique and should be replaced by a weekly and what were we going to do about it.

I doubt if either of us thought at that time that some years later we would both be publishing newspapers in the Buckeye State. But here we are and you are soon to celebrate the 25th anniversary of your community newspaper, The Hilltop Record.

Perhaps you would like to know that it is with considerable pride I have watched your steady forward progress as a newspaper publisher. Every time you won a prize at the annual Ohio Newspaper convention I have said to myself, "That's my boy!" Of course, I deserve practically no credit aside from encouraging you at the right time 18 years ago and I think that the teacher of 18 years ago learned as much that first year as the pupil but it was good for both of us.

In these swiftly moving times, twenty-five years is a rather lengthy period of time, especially in the community weekly field where the competition is tough and the going sometimes not to smooth. Therefore, let be among the many who will congratulate you on your 25th anniversary and on the present success of your enterprises in Columbus and elsewhere.

In the words of the Chinese who are reputed to be clever folk, "May your shadow never grow less, and may good fortune continue to make her home within your doors.

Best wishes for every success from the one time teacher to his star pupil.

Your old friend,
R. R. Brinkerhoff

Ray Hauntz Sends His Greetings

The Hilltop Record,
C. Carlton Hartley, Pub.
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hartley:

Congratulations on the beginning of the twenty-fifth year of the Hilltop Record. I, with thousands of others, know that the Hilltop Record has done more to make this Hilltop community what it is today, the finest community in the country, with its friendly feeling, and community cooperation that is outstanding.

The Record has backed and pushed all the fine civic improvements and community welfare that we have. The unbiased news has kept us all closer together.

Best wishes for continued success.

Sincerely yours,
Ray G. Hauntz

Westlake Has Been Printer Since 1881

S. J. Westlake is a printer. Off his hand press in April, 1917, came the first edition of the Hilltop Record, if it could be properly called an edition.

It was a four column paper and sheets were printed one at a time. Mrs. Ina Dodson, 249 S. Burgess-av., was the first employed press feeder.

Mr. Westlake's little paper came to enjoy considerable popularity and in response to increased demands another press was installed. From the new press a six column paper issued forth.

Pages were still printed one at a time, however, and each sheet had to be folded before being placed on the press.

Business continued to increase and a cylinder press was installed. On this a seven column paper was printed.

Mr. Westlake, who retired in October, 1940, spent more than 60 years in the printing trade. He started business on the Hilltop in 1908.

At that time, according to Westlake, there were only two business establishments on the south side of Broad-st between Oakley and Hague-avs. Highland-av and W. Broad were the only paved streets in the district. All the rest were mud roads, rutted by wagon wheels.

Mr. Westlake could stand in front of his shop on Broad-st and watch the trolley cars bump along Sullivant-av. An occasional house or two broke the monotony of the wide open spaces between.

The founder of the Record entered the printing trade in 1881 as an apprentice. He worked five weeks, 10 hours a day, for nothing. Then he got a raise to a dollar a week, same hours. Every day he carried water from the town pump to feed the steam engine which operated the press. His wearing apparel consisted of a hickory shirt, a pair of cut-down pants and a "Buckeye" hat.

"It's a far cry from the day when the linotype machine was looked on as the ridiculous contraption of a crack-brained inventor to the present day," says Mr. Westlake. He has seen a lot of water flow over the dam during that time.

Now retired, Mr. Westlake lives with his wife, daughter and granddaughter at 1184 Whittier-pl.

W. R. Bussey Is Decorator

W. R. Bussey, 385 S. Richardson-av. has worked as an interior and exterior decorator for many years on the Hilltop. His complete decorating service is available to the public on the FHA plan.

He states that the inexperienced home builder may not be able to detect certain flaws in building design, and should therefore consult a professional decorator, who has experience along that line.

Bussey hires professional workmen for his contract work, and states that all of them are insured by him to protect the interest of the home owner.

I'M Convinced! Rains Service Is Better!

20th Annual Scout Show Slated For May 10 At Ohio Coliseum

Local Troops Plan To Participate

The twentieth annual Scout-O-Rama will be held at the coliseum on the Ohio State fairgrounds on Saturday, May 10. Over 5,000 Scouts and Scout Cubs will be in this show whose theme is "A Democracy We Cannot Buy." All the troops and packs of the Hilltop will be very much in evidence.

The public is urged to attend. Tickets may be secured from any Scout or Cub.

To Award Prizes

Four fine prizes will be awarded to Columbus Scouts for ticket sales to this event. The registered Scout in the central Ohio area council who sells the greatest number of tickets will be awarded a round trip to Washington, D. C., in company with his scoutmaster.

A bicycle will be awarded to the Scout who sells the next greatest number of tickets.

Third prize will be a free 13 day period at the Scout reservation near Delaware.

Fourth prize will be a midget radio.

Practically every troop in the Hilltop area will be represented in the show.

Scouting In 31st Year In U. S. A.

The idea of Scouting was conceived and organized by Lord Baden Powell. Scouting was started at Brownsea Island, then carried to England in 1907. While on a visit to England, Mr. William D. Boyce received a courtesy from a Boy Scout and was so impressed that he brought the idea back to America in 1910. It was organized that year and granted a charter by Congress in June of 1916. Only three other organizations have been granted a charter by Congress, the Near East Relief, the American Legion and the Red Cross.

Scouting celebrated its thirty-first birthday in February of this year. During these years the program has been developed to include boys from nine to citizenship. The Cubbing program for boys from nine to 12. Scouting for boys from 12 to 15 and over, and Senior Scouting for boys 15 and over. Scouting is now recruiting a number of its leaders from men who have been Scouts.

Scouting is a volunteer movement. There are 1,400,000 Scouts and about 350,000 adult volunteer Scouters in the United States. The total professional Scouters in the United States number less than 1200. In other words if the Scouts were placed in lines of four at arm's length apart, they would reach from New York City to San Francisco, and there would be a volunteer Scouter at every fourth row of boys.

A Typical Cub Pack Goes Into Action

Like To Join The Scouts? Here's How To Do It!

Many boys would like to enjoy the fun of Scouting—here is how it can be done!

If the church or school to which the boy belongs does not have a Scout troop, it is possible through pastor or principal to organize one. P. A. Campbell, 44 Whitethorne-av, or the Scout office at 26 N. Grant-av will cooperate in doing everything possible to organize a troop.

If the prospective Scout would rather join one of the existing troops, all that has to be done is to visit a meeting.

The following is a list of troops in the southwest district.:

4—West Broad Presbyterian. L. M. Seiple, Scoutmaster. Meets at the church on Monday, 7:30 p. m.

7 — Urbancrest P. T. A., G. C. Feaster, Scoutmaster. Troop meets on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.

300 Volunteers In Scouting In Dstrict

There are more than 300 men giving time to Scouting in the southwest district, according to officials of the central Ohio district. The 1000 Scouts and Cubs of the southwest district are led entirely by men who volunteer their time.

The efforts of these men are coordinated by a district committee of the following men:

C. M. Riggs, 172 Guernsey-av, district chairman; P. A. Campbell, 44 Whitethorne-av, organization chairman; H. G. Miller, 229 Binns-blvd, district commissioner; C. C. Hartley, 124 S. Brinker-av, advancement chairman.

Most boys would like to be Scouts, and there is always a constant demand for new organizations, but the biggest problem is finding men who are willing to give of their time to help boys, according to leaders in the movement. Volunteers are always welcome, they say.

MEMORIAL ROCK

A government job of 1890 was to move a huge boulder from what is now Westgate park to the region of the Confederate cemetery. It took a team of eight horses to move the rock that stands in the cemetery.

White Way Ldry. Is New Firm

Associated with the laundry and dry-cleaning business since he was "knee-high to a duck," Clarence Killian just decided to go into business for himself last October, when he founded Clarence's White Way Laundry and Dry Cleaning. The many friends that he made while associated with another firm have found that his service is first quality. He reports that he is doing a fine business at his location at 1357 W. Broad.

Killian was born in Columbus and attended South High school. He came to the Hilltop in 1920, and at that time lived at 281 N. Warren-av. He reports the district was very sparsely populated at that time.

Clarence's White Way Laundry offers both thrifty and deluxe service; wet wash or completely finished work. Customers may use the pick-up and delivery service, or the cash-and-carry plan, which offers the patron a noticeable reduction.

Boy Scout Reservation One of Best

A few of the Hilltop Scout troops have their own camps, but the majority make use of the Lazarus Scout reservation which is located on Rt. 23, five miles south of Delaware, O.

This camp has 300 acres for the boys to roam, and is as finely equipped for a happy camping experience as any camp in Ohio. One of the main attractions is the swimming pool.

The camp is run on two week periods, and 11 troops of the southwest district made use of it during the summer of 1940.

Camp opens on June 25 this year and most of the troops are planning on at least one period during 1941.

Two other local publications are regularly printed in the shop of The Hilltop Record. They are the West High School Occident, published about 10 times per school year, and the North Side Herald, with 11,000 circulation every Thursday.

PROGRESS

Time Marches On---And The Hilltop Continues To Progress

America is young and sturdy and forward looking. Not so many years ago, not beyond the recollection of our still-living grandfathers, America pushed its own frontier westward and forward to the sea.

That's progress. In step with the great land of which it is proud to be a part, the Hilltop has progressed. Its stores and streets and buildings are part of the beauty of progress—many of them are new with that "tomorrow" look that is part of the progress of America. Its people live in good homes and drive automobiles and smile and are happy. It's a community of which we can all justly be proud.

So this edition is devoted to the progress of the Hilltop. Its pages contain pictures and stories of its men and women, the men and women who helped to build the Hilltop and helped it progress. Many of the ads are run by stores and firms whose progress is a testimonial to the progress of the Hilltop. We hope that you'll keep a copy of this Anniversary Edition of The Hilltop Record.

Extra copies of this edition may be obtained at the Record office, 2465 W. Broad St., at 10c per copy.

Orange Shirts Deliver Records

Startring in the distributing business while still a student at the University of Nebraska, W. A. Storing organized the Orange Shirt Distributors in Columbus in 1937. The Orange Shirt Distributors is a service of the F. Altman and Son Co. in Columbus.

Storing states that the orange-shirted messengers positively identify them and make possible a higher degree of efficiency of delivery than is possible without the uniformity of dress.

The idea of having the messengers wear orange shirts came about when Storing asked a storekeeper why he had just painted the front of his store "such a loud orange," and was told that orange was the color most easily seen, and longest remembered.

Storing lives with his wife and two children at 2550 Home-rd.

Your copy of the anniversary edition of the Hilltop Record was delivered this morning by one of the Orange Shirt distributors.

Donley Firm Organized 1914

The Donley Brothers Plumbing Co. was organized in 1914 by Fred and Clarence Donley, at the present location of the store, 2086 Sullivant-av. Originally the company did only plumbing contracting, but more recently, heating contracting and plumbing and heating sales have been added to the services of the company.

Fred and Clarence Donley, both of whom reside on the same street on which they were born, live at 345 and 373 Wrexham-av respectively. Both attended Highland-av school and learned the plumbing business before opening their own store.

Charles Baker is manager of new construction for the firm, Miss Naomi Donley is bookkeeper; and Edward Baker is the credit manager.

The firm sells hot water heating plants, automatic hot water systems, electric water pumping systems, and all of the latest types of bathroom fixtures. They also do new and repair plumbing work.

D. E. Jacques

D. E. Jacques, president and general manager of the Jacques Furniture Co., 619-635 W. Broad-st, has been selling furniture and home furnishings in the same square for the past 31 years. The first 18 he spent with a previous concern.

Mr. Jacques started in business for himself in 1927 at 606-608 W. Broad-st with a store of only 2400 square feet. The next five years it was at 665-607 W. Broad-st, with a floor space of 4800 square feet and on Jan. 1, 1933, it was incorporated and moved into the larger building now occupied with a floor space of 44,000 square feet. It has 115 feet of show windows facing on Broad-st.

During this time the establishment, due to management of Mr. Jacques, has become one of the leading furniture stores in the city. The prospects for continued growth and progress are very good.

The store has gained a reputation for service and quality merchandise. In building the business to its present position of leadership, Mr. Jacques has been assisted by Myrtly M. Jacques, his wife; James R. Whitehead, son-in-law; Guy R. Hayman, brother-in-law; Mrs. Dorothy Jacques Whitehead and Mrs. Marylove Jacques Pfaltzgraf, daughters; and Joseph C. Reisel, the only employe aside from the family.

Hilltop News Folded Up 1917

The Hilltop News, the first venture in newspaper publishing in this community, "folded up" on Feb. 9, 1917.

After two years of publication a two-column story on the front page told the sad story:

"Owing to the fact that every article entering into the making of the News has advanced to such a degree that it is practically impossible to continue publication without an actual deficit each week, we have decided to suspend the publication with this issue.

"During the entire time we have been in charge of this publication, we have never allowed an opportunity to boost the Hilltop go by . . . "

Bookbinding Has Been Life-Long Profession of Hoffman

For A. J. Hoffmann 49 N. Guilford-av, bookbinding has been a life-time profession. Not only is it a profession, but it is an art—an art that has rapidly given way before the onslaught of the machine age.

Today said Hoffman, machinery can do the intricate work on book-bindings that was previously done by hand. In his younger days Hoffman spent as much as three to six months doing artistic work on a single volume.

The Hoffman book-binding shop is located at 106 S. Hague-av. Here the old craftsman has the facilities for doing all types of book-binding — phamplets, books, magazines, or what have you.

Before locating on the Hilltop, Hoffman kept shop in the Friedenberg Cigar Co. building, Front and Town-sts, on the site now occupied by Lazarus.

Previous to this time, he was foreman of the book-binding department of Nitschke Bros. He worked in this capacity for over 30 years.

Hoffman learned the trade from his father who, years ago, was in the same business in Cincinnati.

As a youth the local bookbinder worked variously for lithograph and paper firms in Ohio and Kentucky.

Book work seems to run in the Hoffman family. Sons Harry W. and A. J. Hoffman jr. are both pressmen. The former resides at 370 Ogden-av; the latter at 49 N. Guilford-av.

Hoffman's brother is in the same business as he is in Akron.

The local craftsman has more than enough work to keep him busy. For the past 11 years he has "done" the license books for the City of Columbus and each year does work for the board of education on the teacher's registers.

Hoffman, who vigorously maintains that he has never been sick in his life, seems to be in the pink of health. He has good sight and hearing in spite of his numerous years and says he will "probably die in the harness."

Vogelsang Bakery In 25th Year

Dave Volegsang, proprietor of Vogelsang's Hilltop bakery, Eureka and W. Broad-sts, celebrated his fifth year in the bakery business on the Hilltop this month.

He has been a baker for 32 years, altogether, and formerly operated the baking establishment at the Jeffry Mfg. Co.

Assisting Vogelsang in the sales department are his wife, Mabel, and saleslady, Lena Carroll.

Assistant baker is Melvin Carlyle Shannon. The plant, which contains the most modern of baking equipment, produces fresh baked goods every day.

An advertisement in the Hilltop News in October, 1914, read: "We are still selling bread at 3c a loaf."

Hilltop News Preceded Record

Predecessor to The Record in these environs was the Hilltop Weekly News, which made its debut in this community on Mar. 6, 1914.

The directing genius consisted of Eugene Hensel, as editor, and Estella Burnside, as circulation manager.

Blazoned across the front page of the first issue was an announcement of a meeting of the Hilltop Improvement association.

First words of the first editorial read: "Ever since the invention of printing, the press has been recognized as the voice of the people—the forum in which the public interests have been discussed and debated upon.

"No community of any size or importance has ever been considered complete which has not possessed itself of the means by which to express its opinions."

As a prod to prospective advertisers, the following quip was inserted: "Who does not advertise simply because his grandfather did not, ought to wear knee breeches and a queue."

The paper contained advertisements of L. M. Seiller, R. A. Blair, Empire theatre, L. W. Johnson, Spence and Rawn, Wm. J. Dunn, W. L. Millikin, F. H. Umbenhauer, Draper and Cussins, Decker Bros., M. J. Beaver, Hilltop Undertaking Co., J. R. Lohr, Hilltop Bakery S. A. Sillman, Budd and Williamson, C. A. Henderson, W. S. Rider, Eva J. Burnside, Bopely's Shoe store, Kellar and Pfaltgraf, and Champlian Press, printers of the paper.

Murphy Offers A to Z Service

After living on the Hilltop since September, 1938, when he took over the Sunoco station at Westgate and Broad, Morgan C. Murphy says, "I'm definitely sold on the Hilltop and expect to make my home here for the rest of my days."

Murphy was born in Columbus, attended and graduated from South High school. He lives with his wife and 19-months-old daughter at 198 N. Oakley-av.

The independently owned and operated Murphy's Sunoco station carries a complete line of Sunoco products, U. S. tires and batteries, and the complete "A to Z" car service.

Life In Army Was Described

Recently, readers of the Record have found much of interest in the letters written to the editor by various young men who are experiencing "life in the army."

Over two decades ago Record readers were perusing the columns of the newspaper for news from local boys stationed "over there."

One letter printed in the edition of Aug. 1, 1918, read: "I cannot say so much of the French railways and other means of transportation . . . the French motorcycles don't seem to have been constructed with any idea of being capable of negotiating these hills . . .

"One evening we saw an airplane fight—that is, we could hear reports and see the puffs of the guns . . . it was much like a fight between wasps . . .

"At our first billeting area we had our first taste of what war really means. Several nights there were bombardments of a small city some miles away."

The letter was signed Pvt. R. L. Roe.

Miller Station In 12th Year

On June 14 Miller's Sohio Service, corner of Clarendon and Sullivant, will have completed 12 years in business, according to Percy Miller, owner of the station.

During this time a good neighborhood business has been built up. Modern facilities are available for servicing all makes of cars. The complete line of Standard products is handled. At present most motorists are concerned with having their cars changed over for summer driving. Three service pits are available for this work at all times.

One of the outstanding features of the station is the Christmas display installed each year. It is one of the most attractive business displays on the Hilltop.

Assisting Mr. Miller are Walter Krueger and Howard Lewis.

According to a newspaper article of Nov. 20, 1914, "Attorney General-elect Turner has named as his first assistant Henry S. Ballard, 204 Midland-av.

Seely Hardware In 45th Year

Russel Seely

Founded in 1896 the Seely Hardware store, 1186 W. Broad-st, has completed 45 years of business, establishing itself as the oldest and today the largest and most modern hardware store west of the river. Russel Seely, 608 Racine-av, a son of one of the founders of the business, is now the manager of the business.

Four years ago the store was more than doubled in size and was completely remodeled with an all glass front installed in black and yellow. At present a complete line of quality hardware is stocked. Hanna paints have been sold since the beginning of the business. In recent years a large stock of electrical household appliances are on display.

At present the new models in Westinghouse and Kelvinator refrigerators are being shown. Other appliances include RCA Victor, Zenith and Philco radios, Westinghouse electric ranges, Detroit and White Star gas ranges, Easy, Westinghouse and Blackstone washers. Sweepers, toasters, clocks and other small appliances in several lines are sold.

Seely's have always maintained their own finance plan of paying for appliances. A small down payment and convenient monthly payments can be arranged with the store without going through outside financing institutions.

The biggest business on the Hilltop is the State of Ohio, which pays out over $500,000 each year in salaries. This is divided between the State Hospital for the Insane, the Institution for the Feeble-minded, and the Bureau for Juvenile Research, all of which are located together, along Broad-st.

Umbenhaur's Store Started 35 Years Ago

When the original Umbenhauer's confectionery was started by Mr. and Mrs. Umbenhauer, in its present location, some 35 years ago, the Hilltop looked different than it does at present.

According to Mrs. Umbenhauer, there were only two paved streets on the Hilltop, excluding Broad. They were Highland and Harris-av. The Broad street cars ran on a single track with passing sidings at that time.

In 1906, and for many years, the Umbenhauer drug store was the only one of its kind on the Hilltop. The store, originally housed in a wooden frame building, outgrew its first home and in 1929 the present modern brick building was erected, without once stopping business.

Back in those days, stated Mrs. Umbenhauer, drugs, cigars, tobacco, candy and ice cream constituted the main article of sale, and there were comparatively few brands of each to choose from. Things have changed much since that time.

Always having a large business in ice cream and fountain concoctions, Umbenhauer's had a small wall fountain (probably most of the present generation have never seen any of these old fixtures) and a small ice cream room, "where the couples used to come after calling." The present confectionery boasts one of the most modern and attractive soda fountains on the Hilltop. Lunches are also served at the fountain.

The reliable prescription agency is one of the most active departments at Umbenhauer's, where one may also obtain cosmetics, patent drugs, etc.

Al Liles Is Laundry Mgr.

The Liles Laundry, which was organized by P. M. and J. F. Liles about 1905, as a linen supply company, has added to its linen service, complete laundry and cleaning facilities.

Al Liles, son of P. M. Liles, is the present manager of the company. He became associated with the laundry after returning from the war, in 1919. He is married and lives with his family at 238 Bakota-av.

Liles offer complete laundry service, in addition to clean linen supply, and their trucks cover all of the city and some of the surrounding territory.

Hilltopper Is County Auditor

Newton A. Thatcher

Newton A. Thatcher, who has served almost continuously in the county auditor's office since 1923, feels, that auditing and accounting "once you get into it" is as interesting and fascinating as any other profession or occupation. Verily, there is romance in those big, complicated-looking accounting sheets.

"Just as printer's ink gets into the newspaperman's blood and sawdust gets into the circus trooper's blood, my kind of work gets into the auditor's blood," he said.

In 1936 Thatcher was elected to fulfill the unexpired term of his father, the late Arthur J. Thatcher, and in November, 1938, he was elected to serve a full term.

Born in the "Irish Broadway" on Naghten-st Thatcher started school in the old Twenty-third-st school on Mt. Vernon-av. In 1904 his family moved to the Hilltop. Here young Thatcher attended Highland-av school and graduated from West High in 1915.

He started out at Ohio State in the school of journalism but through some trick of fate ended up in accounting. For a time he worked as a police reporter on the Monitor, a daily newspaper located at the corner of Chestnut and High-sts. The paper "folded up" while he was working here, but Thatcher maintains that he "had nothing to do with this calamity."

While attending State, Thatcher hob-nobbed with such notables as Elliot Nugent and James Thurber.

As a boy, Thatcher had a paper route on the Hilltop. He had 13 customers and these were spread out all over the community.

During the rainy seasons he had to wear rubber boots while delivering the papers, because in those days a small creek crossed Highland and Hague-avs.

Married in 1939, Thatcher lives with his wife, the former Violet Moss, at 2966 Crescent-dr. They are both members of the Hilltop Lutheran church.

Of the thousands of varieties of wild and cultivated roses growing throughout the world, not more than 51 are fragrant.

Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, came of Welsh ancestors.

Thanks!

We have been extremely well pleased with the fine reception accorded our 56 page Anniversary Edition of last Sunday

Comments by telephone and by letter as well as those who have expressed themselves by calling at the office have been most gratifying We regret we do not have space to list them all

One lady was kind enough to call our office and advise that the distributors had left her seven Hilltop Records. But when we explained that the paper was but seven sections that made a paper even times the normal size of the Record she was somewhat surprised

Additional copies are available at the Record office

Independence Do We Have It?

One evening this week I had an opportunity to sit in on a meeting to listen to a discussion of independence And the thought comes to my mind that it is a time for every person who loves this thing called independence to give it some very serious thought

Every day events are taking place that are giving us cause to wonder if our independence can and will be taken away from us And the answer is in the very fact that every day more and more of our independence is being surrendered

Today there needs to be a more vigorous presentation of that Yankee spirit we've always felt we had when we've said to the world "It can't happen here." But let's not fool ourselves. Maybe it is happening here. Maybe it is being allowed to happen here just because the little folks back home, you and myself, haven't been willing enough to go to bat for the things we thought were right

Today as the country is on the verge of entry into the war, a step that most certainly is to be taken by the administration, the incidents of the past few days have caused us to think more and more of this matter of our independence

Bear this in mind You have lost all your independence and all those things that have made this country great when freedom of speech and freedom of the press have been taken away from you. Such a program was the beginning of the downfall of Europe and today is the strongest weapon in the hands of the dictators

If these are critical days they are just as certainly days that we should not sit back and accept every move of a domineering national government We must remember that we are the government And those in power must be reminded forcefully that even in this crisis they are our servants

The constitution of the United States begins with the words, 'We, the people." Small but well organized minorities have been able to make big noises and sway officials. But what of the multitudes? Why not make your opinions heard? You have that right Speak out!

The weight of the people back home can be heard in Washington only if your representatives hear from you

If you feel the president is right in his policies, express yourself accordingly If you feel any participation in a war on European soil will result in no lasting good then too, you have a right to express that opinion Write your congressman or senator If he is carrying out the duties of the job he was elected to do he will heed your message

I have admired the president's foreign policy but have never felt he was sincere in saying he was attempting to keep us out of war I believe, if we were able to see the plans for the future, we would determine that he knows the next steps we will take into war Too many of his moves have been merely build ups for another step to come

True enough the public is behind their leader But the type of criticism he has thrown back on those who have dared to differ with him has not strengthened his program with the people

Independence . . do we have it? Only in so long as we demand those things that rightfully belong to us only so long as we make it known in no uncertain terms we are and intend to be independent independent of forces within or outside

We cannot have free speech or a free press throttled and remain independent

Hilltop Girl Scouts Are Active In Many Endeavors

According to the registration records at the central Girl Scout office, the first troop was organized on the Hilltop in January, 1927, and met at the Hilltop Church of Christ under the leadership of Mrs. E. H. Epperson and Mrs. O. E. Cassidy.

Members of this troop included Grace Cassidy, Bertha Dunlop, Margaret Colburn, Martha and Emily Schoenberger, Ruth Epperson, Anna Roese, Dorothy Hubbard, Frances Munnameyer, Phyllis Dew, Esther Downs, Louise Thompson, Edna Ruth Rector, Aileen Lanthorne, Mary Shears, Dorothy Kinder, Celia and Rose Von Schultz, Mary Burns, Ruth Lelker, Margery Hubbard, Mildred Mertz, Madge Bishop and Clara Seeds.

Not long afterwards, in December, 1927, a troop was registered at the Hoge Memorial church under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Dewhurst. The leadership of that troop was taken over in May, 1933, by Mrs. Myrl Powless, who had the troop until May, 1937. Mrs. Powless is still active in Scouting as she had just finished giving a course in First Aid to a group of Girl Scout leaders.

The next troop organized on the West side was at Briggsdale in June, 1929. That troop is still active and is under the leadership of Miss Wanda West, Miss Lucetta Fredendall and Mrs. Walter Gemperline.

There has been a troop at the Burgess Avenue U. B. church since May, 1930, when Miss Margaret Mitchell organized Troop No. 7 there. After this original troop was disbanded in 1934, Troop No. 29 was organized at the church by Mrs. Alva Strait. Mrs. Strait kept these girls until the latter part of last year when she and her family had to move south. By that time most of the girls had graduated from high school In 1939 Troop No. 29 was divided and the older girls took the troop number of 27. The younger girls had several different leaders in the following two years, and are now under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Woltz, 782 S. Terrace-st, and Mrs. Walter Spanable, 486 S. Ogden-av.

In a copy of a troop newspaper printed in 1935 by the girls of Troop No. 29 was the following suggestion: "Do a good turn daily and in 40 years you will have done 14,600 good turns." This troop had an annual pot luck dinner in March which was very popular, and in the fall cooperated with the Boy Scout troop to give an evening's exhibit of the year's activities, including a play in which both boys and girls took parts. Last year these same girls (then troop No 27) prepared and acted a 15-minute radio program over WOSU called "Alice in Cookieland."

Troop No 34 which now meets at the St. John's Lutheran church under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Howell, was first organized in 1936 by Mrs. A. R Bachman. The troop really is a step-child of Troop No. 19 which met at the W Broad-st school and was organized in 1932 by Mrs. Clara Kimmel. When that troop disbanded, several of its members formed the nucleus for Troop No. 34.

Troop No. 4, which now meets at the home of the leader, Mrs. George Tiller, 196 N. Chase-av, by that same family tree, is the step-grandchild of Troop No. 19, as it was formed from the older members of Troop No 34 in 1938.

At present there are four Girl Scout troops on the Hilltop, which includes 82 girls and seven leaders. A new development has been the formation of mothers' clubs. Both Troop No. 34 and Troop No 29 have active groups which are continually cooperating with their daughters in the Scouting program.

Presidents of the clubs are Mrs P. C. Edwards, 81 S Ogden-av (Troop No 34), and Mrs. L. C. Cozad, 546 S. Richardson-av (Troop No. 29).

Mrs. A. W Lemmon, 654 Wiltshire-rd, is a member of the Girl Scout council and also of the program committee of that council. Mrs. Carl Junker, 327 Algonquin-av, is also a member of the program committee.

The day camp committee and the organization committee also soon hope to have members representing the Hilltop.

Red Cross Roll Call Is Success Locally

A goal of $400 was expected to be passed this week as workers completed the annual roll call of the American Red Cross on the Hilltop today. Reports submitted up to Wednesday noon indicated that less than $20 was needed to "go over the top" in the canvas. Generous support was given in almost all business firms, workers reported.

The quota set for this area was doubled from that of other years and the entire drive was placed in the hands of one committee instead of dividing between business men and a committee for house-to-house solicitation. Mrs. P. B. Benton, 65 S. Westgate-av, is chairman of the group. Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, 235 Guernsey-av, is co-chairman of the drive.

Hilltop merchants who complied 100 percent, submitted by press time, were Detrick Market, 2847 Steele-av; Columbian Cleaners, 410 Columbian-av; First Federal Savings and Loan, 2369 W. Broad-st; Jones Lumber and Coal Co., 51 N. Sylvan-av; Broad-Hague Hardware, 2788 W. Broad-st; Seiller's Department Store, 2404 W. Broad-st, and The Hilltop Record.

The Railway Express Agency, Inc., employs approximately 200 men in Columbus and 25 percent of these are located on the Hilltop

The organization is nation-wide in scope and handles express matter by train, truck and airplane throughout the United States and South America.

West Nine In Tie As First Round Ends

At the end of the first round of league play, the gallopin' Cowboys from West High found themselves in a two-way tie for first place honors with the Aquinas Terriers, who handed the locals their only defeat of the season.

The Terriers, who surprised the "experts" by downing their first four league opponents, were set down 8 to 2 by the South Bulldogs, who will meet the West team for the second time this season in a game scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon at Magly Field.

Bucks Win 3 Straight

Since their lone defeat at the hands of Aquinas, the Cowboys have exhibited some improvement in the hitting department although there is still room for more of the same.

In a "crosshal" game with North last Friday, the Westeners corralled the Polar Bears by a score of 3 to 1. Swisher pitched for the West squad and allowed the Bears four hits. North was ahead for five innings but the Cowboys, led by Don Rogers, big batter for the day with three safeties, shoved over two runs in the sixth and one in the ninth to win.

George Ours turned in a nice piece of twirling when he shut out the Washington C. H. team 1 to 0, in a Saturday morning game at Washington C. H.

In the final game of the first round, the Cowboys downed the East Bengals 13 to 5, looking like the harder hitting West ball club that was expected at the opening of the season. The Cowboys garnered 12 hits from two East pitchers, while Richards held the Bengals to six bingles. Baird, West left fielder, had a perfect day at the plate with three walks and a single. Every Cowboy who started the game had at least one hit, which makes the prospects for a good second round look brighter.

Clyde Moore Brings Mirth; Is Amateur Luther Burbank

By Esther Weakley

Clyde Moore's column "Clyde Moore Says" which appears daily in the Ohio State Journal has been read and chuckled over in locker rooms; over back fences; in street cars, and served up with the morning coffee—and, since 1929. People have been known to leave Dick Tracy in burning buildings or tied to railroad tracks while they read what Clyde Moore had to say, which is popularity if ever we saw it. One day Mr. Moore is going to receive a bill from this menage for all the toast he has caused to be burned

He is quite unassuming, and not much excited over his popularity but says he is glad if his column helps folks forget war, depression and other worries, and makes them laugh. As he says, "One laugh is worth ten thousand groans." He admits that sometimes it is hard to figure just what will make people laugh, and the paragraph he thinks might be a hit turns out to be a dud, and vice versa. However, we know there are a lot more hits than duds. His column has often been quoted from the pulpit, and this last Easter a local minister mentioned Mr. Moore's paragraph about folks who attend church only on Easter Sunday.

He frequently "tells us off," but since his bawlings-out are sugar-coated we don't mind too much. He gets the ideas for his column by reading, listening, and from current events; also from memories of his experiences in lumber camps, factories offices and other places where he has worked. Sometimes he writes his daily stunt in thirty minutes and sometimes in two or three hours.

He reveals that he was born "in southern West Virginia, in the Alleghanies where the chief resources are scenery and solitude, and where for days nothing passes your house but the road."

He is also popular as a speaker and has spoken before many organizations throughout the state. He has lived on the Hilltop since 1920; is married and has two sons—Jack 14, and Billy, five and one-half. The Moores live at 236 Binns Blvd., where for years Clyde has tried unsuccessfully to raise tomatoes in his back yard ranch.

He laments that if the plants are not trampled by dogs or cement-mixers, they just grow and never produce. He claims to have developed the fastest-growing, non-producing tomato plants in the world, and this year he intends to carry the experiment further and is going to sprinkle the plants with Lydia M. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see what happens. (The maker) of this medicine are welcome to this free advertising.)

Mrs. Moore was the former Miss Marguerite Carter, a Hilltop girl. She is well-known as an organist.

"Lord, breakfast food, Amen."

He reveals that he was born "in southern West Virginia, in the Alleghanies where the chief resources are scenery and solitude, and where for days nothing passes your house but the road."

He is also popular as a speaker and has spoken before many organizations throughout the state. He has lived on the Hilltop since 1920; is married and has two sons—Jack, 14, and Billy, five and one-half. The Moores live at 236 Binns Blvd., where for years Clyde has tried unsuccessfully to raise tomatoes in his back yard ranch.

He laments that if the plants are not trampled by dogs or cement-mixers, they just grow and never produce. He claims to have developed the fastest-growing, non-producing tomato plants in the world, and this year he intends to carry the experiment further and is going to sprinkle the plants with Lydia M. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see what happens. (The makers of this medicine are welcome to this free advertising.)

Mrs. Moore was the former Miss Marguerite Carter, a Hilltop girl. She is well-known as an organist.

Paging General Mills

The Melvin Griggs were teaching son Douglas a prayer to be said at the table preceding meals. Douglas had mastered the words of Grace with this phrase at the end:

"Lord, bless our food. Amen."

Two-year-old sister Myrna, ever eager to take advantage of brother's learning, was having some difficulty with the closing sentence. Her version sounded something like this:

"Lord, breakfast food. Amen."

Has Made Ice Cream 30 Years

John Georgiton has been making home-made candy for over 30 years and is still turning it out at Georgiton's, Eureka and W. Broad-st, where in addition to a complete line of high grade home-made candies, he has one of the Hilltop's favorite soda fountains and sandwich grills.

All of the ice cream which is used at Georgiton's is also home-made. In fact it is stated that John Georgiton started the first independent ice cream manufacturing store, in competition with the larger companies.

Georgiton employs three people, including his son, who attends the Ohio State university.

Linvilles Have 34 Years' Experience

Dr. L. O. Linville and his wife have furnished Hilltoppers with "specs" for the past 34 years. Previous to that time, Dr. Linville was the shop foreman for the White-Haines Optical company, where he had 16 years of experience in almost every line of work related to optical manufacturing, including the making of lenses and frames.

Married 45 years, Dr. and Mrs. Linville have two children and four grandchildren. The couple reside at 325 Eldon-av.

Dr. Linville was born in Cable of Champaign county in 1869 in a log cabin. He attended school in the "little red school house" before going to the National Normal school at Lebanon, O. From National Normal, he went to the Neely Institute of Optometry, St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo. He has been in the optical business since that time, making him one of the oldest active opticians in the city.

His hobby is shooting—pistol and hunting with the shotgun. Says he, "I'm just waiting for the season to begin." (It begins Nov. 15, 1941).

He specializes in examination of the eyes, in making of glasses, and filling of prescriptions.

Magician To Photographer Is Cornwell

Magician, circus trouper, movie-maker, photographer — no, that isn't an enumeration of four people but a description of the varied activities of one Dave Cornwell, of the C-K Photo shop.

Dave was born in Columbus and attended school at the old Rich-st school, which later became the interurban station at Rich and Third-st. He also went to the Sullivant school, and old Central High, when it was located at the corner of Broad and Sixth.

After graduating, he joined the Rutherford Greater Shows with which he trouped through Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. Later he organized a magic act and was in vaudeville for a number of years.

He then associated himself with the Renfax Musical Movies, which organization was making sound movies some 30 years ago, according to Dave. One of the other employees was Cliff Reid, present big-time Hollywood producer, with whom Dave made a seven-year tour throughout the South and Middle West. "At Kansas City, he turned west and I came back to Columbus."

Cornwell, one of the oldest projectionists in the city, states that he "is the projectionist at the Rivoli theatre for the present and runs the photo shop for the future."

I Remember

I just wonder how many people of the Hilltop have ever heard of or eaten Never Fail Cup-Cakes. The spectacular ones made and delivered by Irene Green, daughter of Mayor Floyd Green, and myself, Mildred Jordan.

We opened our intriguing business on a nice sunshiny Saturday morning in the latter part of July, 1937. Our business really grew fast, but in September of the same year our hearts weakened and we drew all the profit out and went out and had a good time. So, thus ended our cup-caking business.

All of our customers were limited to the Hilltop. Among our best customers were the following: Mayor and Mrs. F. F. Green, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Deems, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Curliss, Mrs. W. H. Deems, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jerman, Mrs. D. H. Latham, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Richter, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimmel, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jordan.

We received compliments from all of our customers and each week they bought more so they must have been satisfactory.

In the beginning Irene and I delivered all of them, but as our business grew we hired Dean Barnes as our delivery boy, and he proved very good.

Once we forgot to add baking soda, so we had to eat that batch ourselves, but all in all we had a good time, and our customers seemed to enjoy it too.

West Side Camera Club Is Active

Organized two years ago, the West Side Camera club is devoted to the taking of "bigger and better" pictures. There are no restrictions as to camera subjects which may include table-tops, portraits, scenic pictorials or what not.

The club is composed of amateur photographers who get together periodically to discuss the various technicalities of the photographic art, discuss subjects for photographing and to hold print contests.

During the summer months trips are taken to such points as Cedar Point, Niagara Falls and many Ohio cities in order to find interesting and unique subjects.

Prints are submitted to various salons and members enter their pictures in various central Ohio contests.

Headquarters for the camera club are in the C-K Photo shop, 2785 W. Broad-st. Present officers are Herbert Howard, president; Lloyd Harrison, vice-president; Walter Richey, treasurer; and S. J. Ventola, publicity chairman and historian.

Linville Hardware Co. Is 41 Years Old

The Linville store has been in existence for 41 years, one of the oldest institutions of its kind on the West Side. It was started at Sandusky and Broad by O. J. Linville, who is still actively associated with the company.

The first store handled furniture and dry goods exclusively, and later rugs were added to the line of merchandise when Linville moved to 952-4 W. Broad in 1915. In 1930 he bought out a hardware store and moved to 960-2 W. Broad where the store is located at present.

O. J. Linville lives at 33 Eldon-av and his son, Joseph, manager of the store, resides at 83 S. Eureka-av.

The firm announces that anyone who will stop in at the Linville Hardware Co. will receive free of charge, a refrigerator water cooler, without any obligation.

MODERN POETRY

Edited By Esther Weakley

In strength and quietness . . . these have the tone
Of organ music when white stars are sown
Across blue fields of sky; tranquility
Of early dawn beneath a flowering tree.
They have the beauty of red roses
Beside a wall; a trumpet echo, blown
From some far distant valley where, alone,
We faced defeat and won the victory
In strength and quietness.

If what I build down through the years, my own
High citadel of dreams . . . bulwarks of stone
To hold ideals beyond reach of the sea
That breaks and surges at my feet, should be Less lovely than I planned, let it atone
In strength and quietness.
Virginia Eaton,
in Verse Writers' Guild Anthology.

UNTO THE LEAST OF THESE

Love gives, that hungry ones may eat;
Love will put shoes on naked feet.
Love meets every urgent need—
Will never fail in word or deed.
And He who watches over all—
Who notes each common sparrow's fall,
Will whisper softly as He sees,
"Inasmuch . . . unto the least of these."
Ethel Titus Worthen.

TWILIGHT

Over the city suddenly there fell
New silences to lay a pleasant spell;
Loud voices faded to an undertone
While all the outlined edges we had known
Merged into one vast peace where softly curled
Mellowing twilight through our evening world.
Grace S. Minck,
in Quickening Seed.

I Remember

Over 30 years ago, my family moved to the Hilltop because we were told of its beauty and health promoting atmosphere.

We moved next to Kohn's Funeral Home which was then a farm house surrounded by acres of fine land.

Mr. Smith, the owner, was a dairyman, who supplied milk to the State hospital and elsewhere. He was a typical farmer and lover of the soil and fine chickens and cows. His home was spacious and immaculately kept by his daughter, Miss Armintha.

The son, Eldon (after whom Eldon-av is named), lived in a large home adjoining the father's country home.

The lawns of the Smith homes were beautifully cared for and extended to Webber's Confectionery, erected in front of the old Eldon Smith home.

The real estate men then told of a modern church to be erected on Eureka-av, namely Hoge Presbyterian, as an inducement to purchase lots there.

Glenwood M. E. chapel had visions of their new church also.

The Catholic community had dreams of their future lovely church.

The Hilltop was spiritually alive, I can assure you.

No saloons or gambling were allowed to thrive as restrictions were rigidly enforced then.

Later we moved to 28 Midland-av where we have lived almost 29 years. Imagine our home being the model home of the Westwood Heights addition! It was open for inspection and many, many homes were duplicated after this plan. Believe me, it was substantially built according to plans of those days!

It has, among other old features, places in the curbing to hitch horses. The street even is narrow as it was built for horse and buggy days.

The old real estate office of the promoters in this addition serves as our garage.

Hilltop has grown since we came here! Yet I love the old-fashioned beginnings but adore the present modern improvements seen everywhere.

—Bessie Groves
11 Midland-av

Boss — Do you know what counts in the taxicab business?

THE TREASURE

Some wistfully seek fragile china,
Some cherish their crystal or lace,
The pale clouded jade from old temples,
Or the art of a vanished race.
But she collects memories of sunrise
I wonder who gave her the thrill
Picture to cherish forever,
Filling her soul with a thirst
For gallery on gallery of glories,
Amber, crimson, and gold.
Was it a mother's wisdom
That gave her the sun to hold
For a brief unforgettable moment,
That started her endless quest
Across the years, for the magic
That burns in the ardent west?
It is not an intangible treasure,
This illusive collection of skies.
Her spirit is aureoled in splendor;
Their glory shines deep in her eyes.
Dorothy P. Albaugh, in Dream Shop.

SUPPLIANT

Bowed with age and decrepitude
The lonely pine at the edge of the wood
Begs with gnarled and outstretched palms
Every passerby for alms.
Mabel Parrish,
in Quickening Seed.

UNSUNG HEROES

One lone drop never made a shower,
One wave never made a sea,
One minute never made an hour,
One leaf never made a tree.

One man never made a nation,
For behind his history
Are many of lowly station
Who aided him gloriously.

For thousands of unsung heroes,
The bravest of all the brave,
Have since the time of the Pharaohs
Filled many a nameless grave.
Jacqueline Louise Pfeifer.

SILENCE

Silence is a steel blade
Thrust into my throat.

Silence is a fine-spun wire
Tangling word and note.

Silence is a jailer who
Bound my soul in chains.

Would a song Gargantuan
Break these muzzling reins!
Clarence Lahr Weaver,
in With All My Love.

Market Has Profit Share Plan

Every day low prices are in effect at the Wheatland Market, 2331 Sullivant-av, according to Harry Shkolnik, owner of the business. The store has been open for business almost a year.

Boyd Pinkerton, Ray Fiscus and Lyvonne Fiscus are employed in the market.

Says Mr. Shkolnik, "Quality considered, we are not undersold. In appreciation for the fine patronage we have received we are offering our profit-sharing plan."

The market is operated on a self-serve basis.

Music Is Side Line of Dr. Miller

Dr. C. O. Miller with offices at 2484 W. Broad-st has been located on the Hilltop since the beginning of his practice of optometry. Aside from his professional practice he has been a member of the Hilltop Male Chorus since its organization and been active in the Hilltop Business Men's association.

Dr. Miller graduated from Ohio State University in the school of optometry with a bachelor of science degree. Later he did postgraduate work. He was then associated with Dr. P. W. Pheniger and later with C. O. Haines.

Since opening his own office he has it equipped with the latest instruments of the profession constantly bringing his equipment up to date as new methods are introduced.

He is married and lives with Mrs. Miller and their four children at 2022 Doren-av. Victor, the oldest, is a sophomore honor student in the college of engineering at OSU; Dorothy, a senior at West, will assist her father in business upon her graduation in June; Alice is a tenth grade pupil at West, and Pauline is in the fifth grade at Highland Avenue school.

Tour Winner Manages Store

A store with a long historic significance is the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, which was founded by the father of the Hartford Brothers, present owners of the corporation.

One of the modern branches of the A. & P. and a far cry from the original store is the self-serve super market at Chase and Broad, which is the site where the famous old Four Mile Inn once stood.

Franklin D. Sparks, manager of the store and a Hilltop resident for the past 10 years, won the typical family contest sponsored by one of the daily newspapers, and with his son Eddie, daughter Betsy Ann, and his wife, went to the New York World's Fair on an all-expense tour.

The store at 2872 W. Broad boasts a large produce department, and offers a complete line of meats, groceries and dairy products. Free parking is provided for customers.

Miniature Race Cars Operate Speedway On N. Hague-av

A unique and interesting organization which has its home on the Hilltop is the Columbus Miniature Race Car Club. The track, located just west of the Hilltop swimming pool, is the scene of much action every Sunday afternoon, and later in the season the little gasoline propelled racers will whiz around the track each Wednesday evening.

The club was organized in July, 1940, and is headed by Chuck Mooney, president; Jack Boyer, vice-president; Ed Duff, treasurer, and Russell Renner, secretary.

The only organization of its kind in Central Ohio, the Columbus Miniature Race Car club has 20 members at present, but it has been indicated by the officers that new members will be accepted upon application. Meetings are held at Gearhart's Hardware store, 2387 Sullivant-av. Visitors are invited.

The members have assembled their "spin-dizzies" from kits which were purchased for $50 to $60. The little cars will screech around the one-twenty-fourth mile track at speeds of over sixty miles per hour. The world's record stands at about one hundred miles per hour.

Non-members may race their cars on the track by paying a small fee. Club members hail from all parts of Columbus.

Gearhart Learned Hw. from Scratch

When W. N. Gearhart came to Columbus and started in the hardware business 12 years ago he admits he didn't know a six penny nail from a screw. As a matter of fact he says he had been in hardware stores only a few times in his life before.

He had been a superintendent in a shoe factory in West Virginia and decided when he came to Columbus he didn't wish to follow his trade any longer. The hardware business looked interesting to him and he worked hard to master the fine points of the business.

Since 1929 he has built up a nice trade at 2337 Sullivant-av. During that time he has doubled the size of the store and taken on many lines of merchandise not previously handled.

One unusual item sold to hundreds of Hilltop boys is model airplane supplies.

Jack Boyer and Ben Miller assist Mr. Gearhart in the store. The red and white delivery truck with Ben at the wheel is a familiar sight on the Hilltop.

Real Estate Is Stevens Business

James M. Stevens & associates, 1434 W. State-st, corner of State and Central, have been in the real estate business for the past 21 years, and before 1919, Benjamin Franklin Stevens, father of the present owner, was a well-known Columbus builder-contractor and real estate man.

Stevens & associates has a staff of 14 salesmen, who specialize in Hilltop and West Side property. They buy, sell, rent and exchange properties, including small farms close to the city.

The company is associated with the Columbus Real Estate board and the West Side board of trade.

James "Jimmy" Stevens, graduated from old West High, now Starling Junior High, where he was a stellar football and baseball player. He resides at 92 S. Central-av.

Westwood Lodge Organized 1916

In the late winter and spring of 1916, several meetings were held in Mitchell's barber shop for the purpose of organizing a Knights of Pythias lodge on the Hilltop.

The labors of the organizers were not in vain. Their charter was secured and the lodge was instituted on July 6, 1916, by Grand Chancellor George L. Behrens, with the various ranks being conferred by Franklin lodge No. 5.

For a number of years Westwood lodge met at 2367½ W. Broad-st, later moving to the corner of W. Broad-st and Burgess-av, where meetings are now held.

The lodge was instituted with a membership of 80, of which only 13 remain. The original officers were: D. B. Ulrey, C. C.; E. W. Martindale, V. C.; Cecil J. Randall, Prelate; C. W. Ruffing, M. of W.; Ray Hauntz, K. of R. & S.; T. C. Mitchell, M. of F.; John W. Hauntz, M. of Ex.; Wm. Mayer, M. at A.; R. E. Waldo, I. G.; Wyatt L. Millikin, O. G., and W. E. Dolby, Harry L. Combs and Frank L. Bishop, trustees.

August W. Weber, a member of Westwood lodge for several years, is now Grand Prelate of the Grand lodge of Ohio.

Arrangements are being made by Albert V. Rhinehart, the present Chancellor Commander, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the local organization in July of this year.

Other officers at the present are: Elmer Jahn, V. C.; J. Walter Bonh, Prelate; George Rings, M. of W.; O. E. Spencer, K. of R. & S.; Bliss A. Brown, M. of F.; Ralph E. Beiber, M. of Ex.; Howard Lea, M. at A.; Clarence Schuman, I. G.; Wm. Smith, O. G., and Carl B. Dilsaver, H. A. Lear and Don G. Lear, trustees.

Old Letters Reveal Many Interesting Facts

Alfred Mace's father was in the Civil War; he was mustered into the army at old Camp Chase on the Hilltop; marched to the old Ohio canal and was transported to Cincinnati by canal boat; and rode the cattlecars out of Cincinnati to camp.

Mr. Mace, who resides at 25 Clarendon-av, has several letters in his possession (which he cherishes highly) written by his mother to his father who was away someplace with the fighting ....

Life On Home Front

The letters describe vividly life on the home front in those days. The mother was left with two small children and with meagre means for getting along.

The family had a cow which she was forced to sell in order to get bread for the children. Later on, she was compelled to sell a wagon and a plow in order to get money for meat.

Born in Hocking county, Mr. Mace came to the Hilltop in 1913. "The flood drove me out here," was his comment. He had previously lived on W. Park-av.

High and Dry

He came up the hill in a horse-drawn wagon and stayed for nearly a week in the Highland-av school building. While he was up here he bought two adjoining lots on Clarendon-av and to this day he doesn't know why (since he was a railroader and of necessity had to be near his work) unless it looked so fresh and clean and high and dry in comparison to the flooded bottom lands.

Quitting school at the age of 15, Mace then worked three years for the B. and O. railroad. Later he worked as a miner in the Sunday Creek valley district (near Athens).

Grew Restless

Growing restless, ("I always had an itchy foot," he said.) the retired railroader took a year off and "just loafed." He "bummed" about the country stopping for a time in Iowa, Minnesota, and the state of Washington.

Finally ridding himself of the restless streak (well, temporarily, at any rate) he went to work for the old Toledo and Ohio Central as a fireman. In 1909 he was promoted to engineer. He left the service of the roalroad in 1925 due to an injury. Before that time he moved into his property on Clarendon-av (in 1921) and has been a Hilltop resident ever since.

Since Retirement

Once again, after retirement, the travel but got into his system. Since 1925 he has been in every state in the Union except two. He thinks the scenery in the country is probably unsurpassed anywhere and a few years back took a trip through the Canadian Rockies to see how they "stacked up" with our own western ranges. They didn't stack up.

At 66, Mr. Mace has never been sick enough to go to bed. In all his life he has never taken a drop of medicine for sickness. We can't refrain from editorializing: "That's some record."

Big Thing Is To Get Started Is Opinion of Orval Atkins

"You can do anything for yourself, if you set your mind to it. All it takes is a little bit of determination. The big thing is to get started."

Coming from anyone else, such statements would be trite and commonplace, but coming from Orval Atkins they are like revealed truths—revealed by a man who has lived this philosophy.

Mr. Atkins has been paralyzed from the waist down since he was five years old. But by sheer determination and plenty of hard, work he carved himself a niche in life.

When we talked with him recently he hadn't been outdoors since New Year's day. But when he isn't working on the lawn mowers that are brought into him, he is busy at something else.

One day a friend brought him a little model dog carved from wood. Since that time Mr. Atkins has been carving dogs, horses, bears and what have you.

The shelves of his workshop are lined with miniature cockers, scotties, sheep dogs, bears and horse heads. All have been artistically stained with paint or India ink.

Mr. Atkins likes the great outdoors—but only in the summer. When the first buds of spring burst from the tree branches he is up the river with pole and tackle.

He has a boat from which he fishes and in which he sometimes "just rows" for pleasure.

No job is too big for the local repair man. Two years ago he started to build a house trailer, which is now approaching completion. "I've never done anything like that before," said Mr. Atkins, "but I bought the blueprints and got to work."

The thing, without a doubt, is a monument to his innate skill. When the trailer is completed he plans to install his lawn mower repair machinery in it, hook it to his specially-equipped auto, and "hit the road."

Never having done much traveling, he has a yen for seeing the country—"Texas, Florida, every place"—and our bet is that he will see it.

"One of the biggest thrills I ever got," Mr. Atkins mused, "was when I learned to swim." Due to his affliction, he thought perhaps he never could. But he tried it and did. Now it's his favorite diversion."

Born in Mt. Sterling, O., Mr. Atkins was exposed to infantile paralysis when he was a child. Two sisters died a week apart of the dreaded disease. The doctors gave the verdict. Young Adkins would be lucky if he ever reached the 12-year mark. He fooled them.

The Franklin-American Laundry & Zoric Dry Cleaning Co. is located at 577 N. Fourth-st. This laundry was established in 1908 and has been under the present management since 1928. They also owned and operated the Franklin laundry on W. Broad-st.

In 1930 the Franklin plant was moved to Fourth-st and combined with the American, therefore, the name Franklin-American. This laundry, known as the Ivory soap laundry, has an exclusive business of family work. They do no hotel or wholesale work, specializing in work from the individual or family only. They are also the original Zoric dry cleaners in Columbus, having purchased this garment cleaning system in 1930.

The company also has a curb service, which will allow the person who delivers and picks up his own laundry, a 10 percent discount from the regular cleaning charge.

Kimballs Known In Garage Work

The name Kimball on the Hilltop has been identified with the garage and auto business since 1933 for it was in that year that Bob Kimball started in business on Hague-av just around the corner from Broad. The following year after getting out of school his brother, Erwin "Bunny" joined the business which had already gotten a good start.

In 1939 the present building now housing the garage and automobile agency was erected at the corner of Chase-av and W. Broad-st. Modern in every way, the building is 60x110 and offers every garage service. Shortly after the new building was constructed the DeSoto-Plymouth agency was established for the sale of new cars.

Today Bob heads the sales organization and Erwin is general manager of the firm which now regularly employs nine persons in addition to the owners. Ruth Burkett is office manager and bookkeeper.

Circus manager—There's a fat lady outside who wants a job in the side show.

Circus owner—Well, tell her she can't barge in here.

C. C. Henery, Veteran Resident Recalls Past Hilltop Events

The Hilltop has always been noted for its abundance of community spirit but in the days before the community grew up according to C. C. (Chet) Henry, veteran Hilltopper, people living here spared superlatives in describing their community to outsiders.

People Liked Community

"People really thought a lot of the Hilltop in those days," said Henery, "especially in the days following the 1913 flood."

"The flood scared the people of the West Side to death," he continued, "and afterwards they moved up here in droves. In fact, the building boom in this section didn't begin until that time."

An automobile mechanic Henery moved to the Hilltop in 1913 (he had lived here previously for a short time with an aunt) and established one of the first garages in the community.

"Pink" Renner opened his accessory store at the corner of Broad and Powell about the same time," he said.

Henery was a member of the old Hilltop Improvement association, predecessor to the HMBA. The sole purpose of the organization was to promote the community of which the members were truly fond. "It wasn't a business association in any sense of the word," he said, "because there were very few business establishments up here at that time."

Took Interurban To Lake

Every Sunday in the summer time, members of the association would rock [illegible] (and also the ride and [illegible] each the interurban to [illegible] lake. Here [illegible] the afternoon [illegible]

He [illegible] the following [illegible] Hilltop in its infancy [illegible] Sundays [illegible] through the shady [illegible] carriage or taking rides on the [illegible] street cars—[illegible] to the fields north and west of Eden-av, except for an occasional farm house—the section south of Broad between Eureka and [illegible] was called the Bronx—[illegible] customs of peat moss were taken from the ground in the Lechner and Belvidere-av districts [illegible] because of the bog these streets sank three or four feet after they were paved.

Open Air Theatre

In 1913 about the time the movies were first introduced, there was an open air theatre on the site of the Ohio National bank [illegible] a blacksmith shop stood on Broad-st near Powell [illegible] west of Hague-av, the road was limestone pike [illegible] at the corner of Clarendon and Broad there stood a shoe factory.

In those days according to Henery if a man wanted to hunt, all he had to do was to walk away from his house and he was in good hunting territory.

The Westgate addition was paved and lighted years before it was built up.

Henery started his first garage business in an old livery barn on Highland-av.

Out of Bed at 4

Webb Davis and Marvin Millikin were among the first grocers here to have delivery trucks. "Many were the times" said Henery, "when these men would get me out of bed at three or four o'clock in the morning to operate on their balking Model T's so that they could go to market and buy produce."

One On Fred

Henery received the one about Fred Sulzberger with considerable relish. It seems that Fred had an old Rickenbacker that was always getting hot.

Time after time Sulzberger came into the garage with the complaint that the gas buggy was running a temperature. Garage man Henery found nothing the matter.

One Fourth of July the Sulzberger family approached the verge of suffocation while driving the old Rickenbacker. Thoroughly exasperated Sulzberger brought the car to the garage once again.

It was finally discovered that the car was equipped with an manifold heater [illegible] for warming the feet [illegible] occupants of automobiles.

The heater had been running wide open under each summer. Fred didn't [illegible] the difference.

Recently Henery bought a farm near Hilliards. He resides there at the present time.

West Side's Oldest Dry Cleaners

George Ewald, proprietor of Ewald and Son Dry Cleaners, has been in the cleaning business on the West Side since 1905.

His establishment has been in the same location, 937 W. Broad-st, since 1913.

Born in Germany, Ewald came to this country in 1888 when he was 23 years old. He first entered the dry cleaning business at Kenton, O.

His son, William, has been associated with him in the business for the past 13 years. He has one grandson, William jr., who is a student at Bliss college.

The Ewald shop specializes in all kinds of cleaning, repairing and altering.

It's Wrong To Start At the Top

Yes, we were a little startled, too, when we read that head-line, until we found that it referred to the matter of washing walls. Since the advice comes from the Ohio Laboratories, Inc., who manufacture Smiling Scot, which is so universally used in washing walls, we pass the advice along to you, thinking it will help you do a good job when you wash that kitchen or bathroom wall.

In washing walls, start at the bottom. Dip a sponge or soft cloth into a light pink Scot solution (see directions on the package on how to make it) and wring as dry as possible. Work on a section about five feet wide and wipe up and down over the surface with long straight strokes. Clean this section to the ceiling and then start a second section and so on, always starting at the bottom. Be sure to turn the sponge or cloth so that a clean side is presented to the soiled surface at each stroke. Wash the sponge or cloth frequently in the Scot solution and squeeze almost dry. This is important. When washing walls, save time and energy by washing the woodwork at the same time, from the same Scot solution and with the same sponge. Wash the ceiling last. This method will insure a minimum of streaking and is remarkably fast.

"How the cannibals' wives saved me from their wife-trading chief." An explorer's wife tells how the Papuan headhunters wanted to swap seven pigs for her, the first white woman the tribe ever saw, but the shrewish, bossy women of New Guinea went to the rescue. Electric Kitchen Installed In Hicks Home

Linville Hardware, 960 W. Broad-st, recently sold Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Hicks, 7 S. Roys-av, a complete Hotpoint Electric Kitchen, which they will install in their home.

The Hotpoint Electrasink is the latest model of that appliance, which eliminates the garbage can and the dish cloth. It is provided with the well known Hotpoint Kitchen waste exit, which shreds the garbage and flushes it through the sewer. It is odorless and self cleaning and provides the most sanitary solution to the garbage problem.

The other part of the Electrasink contains the automatic dishwasher, which features "The Biggest Little Button in the World." Dishes are washed and dried automatically by simply pushing the button. The dishwasher holds 57 pieces of china and cutlery and washes, rinses and dries them without any attention.

As the housewife's hands do not come into contact with the water, it is possible to use very hot water. This, combined with the use of Calgonite, washes the dishes cleaner, and sterilizes them, ready to be put back into the china closet.

The Hotpoint refrigerator selected for the Hicks' kitchen has an eight cubic foot capacity. It has seven food storage zones, including an unrefrigerated bin in the bottom, and the butter conditioner which keeps butter in a spreadable condition.

The Hotpoint Tiffany range is equipped with the famous Calrod heating elements. It is complete with measured heat, automatic oven, deep well cooker, warming unit, twin venetia lites and illuminated switch dials.

All of these appliances are matched in design and when installed make a most attractive kitchen, not to mention the labor saving and sanitation features that make it most appealing.

Whitie Clips 'Em

Carl "Whitie" Looker has been "clipping" the public for the past 37 years and has never had any trouble doing it. Reason—he's a barber.

Looker came to the Hilltop in 1920 and has been turning out tonsorial operations left and right, ever since. His shop is located at 2363 W. Broad-st.

He is married and has two children, both of whom have graduated from West High school. He lives at 126 Highland-av.

Whitie's main hobby is bowling, and he is the secretary of the Hilltop Recreation Bowling League.

Insure Anything Says McCullough

"I'll insure anything from a bicycle to a fleet of trucks," advises Bryan McCullough, 2855 Elliott-av.

He has sold insurance since 1922. Auto and fire insurance is a specialty and more recently he has sold numerous hospitalization policies.

His daughter, Wanda, will be graduated from Capital university this spring, having majored in speech arts. She has been active with the school debate team.

"I AIN'T MAD AT NOBODY"

The sign above you see at my station
When you are passing this way
There are similar signs over the nation
The president has one on display
Only a slogan—but an exhortation
To refrain from trouble and strife
Silently pleading, a good fortification
That will save money and life.

Longfellow's words, coined long years ago
For one of his characters in love
Who cast his eyes to the mountain of snow
And quoted the words above
It is literature of purest ray [illegible]
If obeyed would save any nation
Abolish battleships and the submarine
Avoid bloodshed and stagnation.

Silently pleading for arbitration
And never resort to force
But friendly words of explanation
And never the profane discourse
Only a slogan—but a good fortification
Absolutely free from price
I Ain't Mad At Nobody, will save the nation
If we practice that game nitwits.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

I'm Looking For A Man

With the following qualifications:
Who lives or wants to live in Westgate. Knows values. Doesn't like to be hemmed in by other homes. Likes spacious grounds with lots of trees and shrubbery. Wants to buy a $16,000 home for $12,500.

The above home is on 4 lots on best corner in Westgate, which on today's market are worth $5000. There is over $1000 worth of trees, flowers and shrubs.

Upstairs there are 3 nice light bedrooms and bath and large den or study with fireplace which is finished in knotty pine. Downstairs is large living room with woodburning fireplace and opening onto screened porch. Extra large dining room, modern kitchen and breakfast room. Basement has laundry room, complete bath, recreation room, furnace room with automatic gas heat. Being completely insulated, heating costs are very low. Also 2-car garage with overhead doors.

Ordinary 6-room homes on an ordinary lot selling from $7500 to $10,000 jammed between other homes adds to my conviction that the home is one of the best offerings I have had this year. Owner says any reasonable offer will be considered due to very poor health. Might take cheaper or income property in trade. A call will give you address without obligation.

REMEMBER SHADY LANE?

An article contained in the issue of the Hilltop Record dated Sept. 12, 1918, read:

"On going back and forth over town one often wonders what the double row of trees at the foot of the hill going north from Broad-st, known as "Shady Lane," was used for.

It was the driveway to the residence of William Sullivant, which stood near the point where the front entrance of the state hospital building now is."

Cowboys And Aquinas May Settle Title Battle On Tuesday

Meet East In Tourney Play This Afternoon

West High's Magly Field will be the scene of the big ball game of the year in the City League when the Cowboys meet the Irish of Aquinas in their second encounter next Tuesday. Both West and Aquinas have a league record of six wins and one loss and the outcome of this game, which starts at 4 o'clock, will be most important in determining the 1941 city champs.

In their first game with the Irish, the Cowboys suffered their lone defeat of the season, being set back 3 to 1. Since that time, however, the Westerners have found their batting eyes, witnessing the 37 points scored in the last three league games, and should be much harder on the offerings of Bruf McQuade, who will probably start for the Irish, than they were in the first round.

After the loss at the hands of Aquinas, the Cowboys settled down to work and have six straight wins, in which they scored 47 runs to their opponents' 14, under their belts.

Due to the injury of star pitcher and second baseman, Jake Richards, who broke his wrist sliding into second, either southpaw Dick Hoover or right-hander Bob Swisher will open on the mound for the Cowboys.

To Meet East In Tournament

In the district baseball tournament, the West High squad drew East as its opponent and will meet the East-siders this afternoon at 4 o'clock on diamond number four at the Ohio State University. West defeated East once this season, 13 to 5.

Cowboys Make It Six Straight

Showing definite signs of the hitting power that was dormant during the opening few games of the season, the West Cowboys have been battering opposing pitchers for about 10 hits per game in their last six games.

In a second game with South, the Cowboys had little trouble hitting the offerings of the pitchers. The Buckaroos smacked out 14 hits, led by Dick Smith who got three for four. Bob Swisher held the Bulldogs to five hits and struck out eight.

Advanced Training Is Essential

It is welcome news to Columbus public school teachers to have the Board of Education give them another 2½ percent restoration in their salaries.

This pay check increase comes at a time when Columbus schools need many things. A more comprehensive program of building repairs and improvements is essential. Right here on the Hilltop several hundred children are being housed in the Highland Avenue school that does not have a proper heating plant. Many of the buildings need fire proofing improvements. Numerous other needs face the Board of Education when trying to get the most for the very inadequate amount of money provided for operation of the schools.

But the restoration of teachers' salaries comes at a time when there are advances in living costs brought on by the war. And so the board took a normal course in making the decision it made.

But it is hoped that teachers receiving this increase will make every effort to get something from it that they in turn can pass on to their students in coming years.

Of the 1800 Columbus teachers some 300 took some advanced work in college or made special studies last summer. On the other hand there are teachers in the Columbus public school system who have not had advanced training in many, many years.

The answer is simple. A teacher of history or science is no longer a teacher in the true sense if he or she has not made every effort to keep up with the subject being taught. This rapidly changing scene makes regular study an essential. Likewise new methods of teaching are available for the asking. The Columbus Board of Education should make it a requisite that any further advances in salary would depend on proof that teachers are giving their students the best in teaching.

Honor Mother On Her Day

Have you remembered Mother?

Sunday is her day. It is fitting that this one person above all others who has given you so much should be suitably honored on the one day of the year set aside for the observance of the part mothers have played in the building of the great American nation.

Today thousands of mothers in the land have sent their boys to training camps, given them up to a cause meant for the preservation of a system that provides and makes possible a continuation of the honoring of American motherhood.

It is among the many things held sacred in a world today where few things are held in high respect. Let's keep it so.

CORRECTION

The Hilltop Record regrets an ethical error in last week's issue in which was carried a story concerning a local funeral home in which it was stated the owner of the firm was formerly associated with Jerry Spears. This error is acknowledged in view of the fact that most business firms regard it as unethical to associate former business partners or employees when mentioning changes of business in a news story or advertisement.

The Record did not intend to convey the idea that this was the only firm that has or uses up-to-date equipment.

Fur Store Mgr. Once Was Trapper

E. P. Park, 132 N. Hague-av, manager of the C. F. Seeger Fur Co., 188 S. High-st, has been a resident of the Hilltop, as has Mrs. Park, for nearly 24 years.

Mr. Park was associated with the Dunn Taft Co. for a number of years in charge of their fur department before going to the Seeger Co.

When a small boy he trapped many fur bearing animals near his home along Rocky Fork Creek, Plain Township between New Albany and Westerville; thus earning his own spending money. He later became a buyer of raw furs.

In his many years in the fur business with downtown firms, Mr. Park has worked as cleaner, nailor, operator, cutter, designer, buyer and manager.

The C. F. Seeger Co. with whom he is now associated carries a line of dependable fur garments giving quality and style at low rent prices. They also feature custom made fur coats at no extra cost.

Scientific storage and cleaning of furs are now offered at substantial savings, also expert repair and remodeling.

Yost Florists Grow Most of Their Flowers

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis R. Roberts, 303 Belvidere-av, have been the owners and proprietors of Yost's Florists for the past three years. Prior to this time, Roberts was associated with Emil Yost, who had owned the business for 12 years.

Most of the flowers sold by Roberts are raised at the Belvidere greenhouses, making Yost's the only florist on the Hilltop to raise most of his flowers. Some types that do not grow locally are imported and are available at Yost's.

All kinds of cut flowers, potted plants, bouquets, corsages, wedding flowers and funeral sprays are available at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts invite visitors to their recently remodeled floral display room, which is equipped with fluorescent lights and the latest type inlaid linoleum floor.

Recently installed in the greenhouses were five cement benches for growing flowers. Four of these benches measured 80 feet by 4½ feet and one is 150 feet by 4½ feet.

A staff of five is maintained to care for the flowers and plants at the greenhouses.

Yost's Florists offer free delivery service to any part of the city.

WEST COWBOYS—

Behind Jack Kulp's five hit twirling and a home run by Dick Smith with two men on, the Cowboys edged the Marion Harding squad, 6 to 4, despite the fact that only three hits were garnered from Eddington, Harding pitcher.

Central's Buccaneers were scuttled and sunk by the bombardment of hits from Cowboy bats as the Westerners defeated the Riversiders, 10 to 1. Dick Hoover turned in a fine mound performance by striking out 12 men. Dick Smith led the batting with two doubles and a single. Dave Wills got a home run and a single, Bill Albert, a triple and a single, Roy Meloney, a double and a single, and "Hank" Baird got a single and hit a long double but forgot to touch first on his way around. Don Mathews, who is doing a nice job filling the spot vacated by Richards at second, jumped into the air to spear a hot liner and doubled the runner at first in the last inning of the game.

The West-Grandview game, which was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon and postponed because of rain, will be played at a later date, according to Coach George Williams.

Holiday Safety Plea

The editorial staff would greatly appreciate it if all citizens planning to take a few quick snorts of firewater before getting into the car to drive to Grandma's or the football game would first stop by the office and leave a few notes on their obituaries. This thoughtfulness will do away with the necessity of our having to chase around hospitals and undertaking establishments Thanksgiving night trying to find out who you were before you tried to turn two curves where there was only one. —Texas Parade

Miles of Meals

Passengers along the skyways of the world measure their meals by the mile. Soaring above the Atlantic on the big Clipper planes, one's breakfast takes from 50 to 75 miles; if "three-minute eggs" are ordered while the plane is two miles above the ocean, you can add another 60 miles because of the extra time required to boil water.

Luncheon and dinner require about the same mileage—75 to 100 miles for a full course meal, including one cup of coffee; an extra cup adds 25 miles. It takes 10 to 15 miles for soup, 40 to 45 miles for the main course, 15 miles for salad and about 15 miles for dessert.

—Sherman B. Atlick in N. Y. Sun

Workers who obtain jobs through registration with any of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation offices are not required to pay a commission for the service.

"THE BAGGAGE CAR AHEAD"

The limited mail had traveled fast
And stopped for orders that day
A young tramp was breathing his last
No parson on hand to pray.
He had no money for transportation
Outside was stealing a ride
This is his story in the way station
A few minutes before he died.

Send no word to father or mother,
Kindly turn up the lamp,
I wouldn't tell my sister or brother
That I was dying a tramp.
I have no papers of identification
And I will not tell my name
I'll die out here in this way station
And they won't know of my shame.

I rode too far on that baggage car
And I got cold and wet
The pearly gates are standing ajar
My muscles are beginning to set
I would not cause my people sorrow
Don't look for them, he said
Post these words on my grave tomorrow
Found dead, in the baggage car ahead.

Resist that urge to move to far places in search of work in defense industries, warns the Ohio State Employment Service. Register first at the nearest Employment Security Center. Your particular talents may be needed in your own community.

In their campaign to uncover hidden talent for mobilization in industries listed as essential to national defense, Ohio State Employment Service officials have been heartened by the fact that scores of workers now engaged in pursuits less vital are responding.

Rev. L. S. Wilkes

The Hilltop Church of Christ, located at Burgess-av and Olive-st, was organized on May 15, 1916. Meetings were first held in a hall on the second floor in the building located at 2354½ W. Broad-st. This hall was used as a place of worship for five years, until 1921, when the building at Burgess-av and Olive-st was erected.

When the church was organized and the charter granted there were 84 members. The trustees to whom the charter was granted were T. C. Mitchell, Frank Mell, Herbert L. Baker, Henry E. Barker, Thomas Johnson, E. F. Bigham and C. W. Beeson.

First pastor called to serve the church was Rev. Thomas Plunkett, who served the church until 1917. The congregation then called Rev. J. N. Johnston, whose ministry continued for 16 years. Under his leadership the present building was erected, and the property south of and adjoining the church was purchased.

From the beginning the church fostered an active missionary program. At present the amount given to missions and other outside causes approximates 25 percent of the amount given to current expenses.

The church has an active membership of approximately 345 members. The Sunday school has an enrollment of 376. Homer Womer is the general superintendent of the church school.

All church property is clear of all indebtedness. The organizations of the church are the church school, Woman's Missionary Society, Young People's Fellowship and Ladies Aid. A number of the Sunday school classes are well organized and carry on a very active program.

The vested choir consists of 20 members, and is directed by Mrs. L. S. Wilkes with Mrs. D. E. Smith as organist. The church board consists of 49 members, of which J. P. Miller is the chairman.

The present pastor, Rev. L. S. Wilkes, was called to the church in February, 1933. He is a graduate of Eureka College at Eureka, Ill., and of the Yale Divinity School, Yale University.

The church has followed a constructive program and is now well established with property in excellent condition, and clear of all indebtedness, and a membership looking toward the future, with a program of enlargement of the church's facilities. The church has ample ground for expansion of its building, and when completed will front up to Burgess-av.

I Remember

I remember—when the Hilltop Record cost 50c per year. Once a year we had a woman caller who asked us to subscribe. We did.

I remember—when the houses across the street had a flooded basement every spring, and we listened to stories of washing machines floating in deep water and gas under heaters and furnace fires going out. We wondered why we were fortunate enough to have bought our house on the "dry side" of the street.

I remember—the opening night at the Ritz theatre, when Corrianne Bailey sang several songs, and was cheered or booed as the youthful audience saw fit.

I remember—when old Bill Allen, was the motorman on the street car that I took to work at the same time every day. "Old Bill" said to a passenger one day: "Stay on your porch when it's raining. I'll stop for you." I rode with him on his last day before retirement and there were painted signs in front of homes on Sullivant-av reading: "Goodbye, Bill, Good Luck, etc.

If his street car jolted the whose-its off the what-nots in the homes on Sullivant-av it was Old Bill making up his lost time.

— Letters — To the Editor

Editor Hilltop Record:

This is a trifle late, but had I known that you were going to publish a history of the Hilltop I would have furnished you with a picture of one of the first of the many stores, now on the Hilltop.

My father, the late Rev. C. M. Hartman, and his partner VanCicle, owned and operated the little brick store at the southeast corner of Hague and Broad-sts; this was before any cars were run on Hague-av, it was a mud road.

We lived above this store which was later turned into a kindergarten school, taught by Miss Findlay who lived on N. Hague-av, about where the booster station is now located.

I will never forget this store or school, as I attended the school and loafed in the store, going with my father to buy eggs and produce at such towns as Mudsock, Galloway and many of the small outlying towns.

We later moved into the big brick house of Billie Harris soon after it was built, now Spears Funeral Home, and my youngest sister was born in the old brick, which has been torn down many years.

Harris-av was named after Billie Harris, who was a fine man, a Quaker who was respected by all who knew him; Warren-av was named after his son, Warren.

We later moved to the old Camp Chase post office when that part of the city was all farming land. The rural mail was carried by Mr. Curtzhaltz out of that office.

Later we moved to a little red brick house south of W. Broad, at Haliday-av, and we had the pleasure of helping, as kids do, haul the rocks and stones that went into the home of Lewie Haliday. We often wonder what became of the Halidays, Binns, Stouts, Scotts, Sites, Scoles, Biglers and many more of our childhood friends.

When the first interurban car was run on Hague-av, I was seated in the center of the track and just barely got out of its way, as it sneaked up so quiet that I didn't hear it.

I know that my old pal, Jerry Case well remembers the old side track that went between our home and his, it was located just south of the little white cottage with the picket fence around it where my mother passed away, just south of the first alley, south of Broad on Hague, east side of the street.

It was there that I learned the powers of electricity. At that time they were using a locomotive to haul ballast and track materials with, and soon after the power lines had been installed, this locomotive backed a car on this siding and broke the pole off at the end of it, letting the wire down. I saw an engineer stand on a dry board and put this trolley wire with his finger, and kid-like I thought what he did I could do also, but picked out a cross tie that was damp.

I carried the Citizen on the Hilltop when it was necessary to go clear to Col. Briggs home to deliver 100 of them. I wonder how many people remember the dinkey that connected the Broad-st car line and went from Sullivant-av to the Big Four tracks.

This little four-wheeled car was operated by our old friends, Bill Allen, Charley Plymel and Bill Sullivan, and we well remember the woman that was killed by it, near the Old Four-Mile House. Jack Richardson should remember that.

How many of you can remember when we used to skate on S. Hague-av, in the swamp next to Huckins home. I believe this was about where Wicklow or Fremont is now located.

Wonder if any of the gang that put the salt barrels at the end of the Broad-st car line, then greased the rails so they couldn't stop the car, have ever been caught up with by Bill Scoles. It was his salt, taken from in front of his store.

When we first moved to this city hundreds of bicycle riders would ride out W. Broad-st on Sundays and I had the misfortune to try and dodge a big colored boy and didn't quite make it, on one occasion.

One of the first Hilltop business men in the cycle game was Charlie Fippin, his original home has been remodeled, but it was one of the busy places at that time.

It was located one-half square south of Broad on Warren-av, on the west side of the street. It, along with Sam Six and the Millikan Hardware, Umbenhauer Drugs, Bill Scoles, Van-Cicle and Hartman, were some of the pioneer Hilltop merchants.

Can you remember when the old brick school was where the creamery now is located on Sullivant-av. I was detailed by Daisy I. Charters to go after the daily report from that school when I attended Highland Avenue School, and it was a long ride on a bicycle at that time.

Dr. Woodruff, at Harris and Broad, was one of our first physicians and Dr. Warner, at Warren and Broad, one of the first dentists to settle on the Hilltop in the days when old chemical engine was a horse drawn fire wagon located on the Hilltop.

I wonder if any of the firemen who put out the blaze in Clark Sites' old steam automobile are still alive and remember it, as that was one of the first autos on the hill.

How many of you know that Mrs. LeRoy built the home now used by the Girls' Rescue Mission, in the woods at the end of N. Powell-av, or how many remember the old blacksmith shop and livery barn owned by Powell and run by Dan Hendrixon, just west of Hague-av, next to Billie Scoles' general store, or the time that Squint Binns caught a rock headed for Billies' window when he and another boy got in an argument?

Why not run a "Do You Remember Column" in the Record.

Ralph M. Hartman,
420 S. Harris-av,
City.

Hilltop Is Nailor's Choice

Joseph Charles Nailor, 109 N. Burgess-av, is one of five representatives from Franklin county to the state legislature.

Although Nailor has lived on the Hilltop only three and a half years, he asserts, "It's a mighty fine place to live."

Nailor said that he came to the Hilltop by choice, after giving other sections of town a fairly thorough investigation.

For years he lived with a family in the North End. But after the death of his housekeeper, he made a "bee-line for the Hilltop."

Nailor was born in Columbus. His parents died when he was a child and he lived for several years in an orphan's home.

Graduating from East High school in 1903, Nailor was employed for a time by the Ohio State Journal and the Press-Post.

In 1906 he entered the law school at Ohio State and was graduated in 1909. "Since his admission to the bar he has practiced continuously in Columbus.

In 1911 Nailor was elected councilman-at-large for Columbus and was re-elected in 1913.

He served on city council, under the new charter, from 1916 to 1923. During the years 1920 and 1921 he served as president of council.

Nailor was elected to the state legislature for the years 1929 and 1930 and was re-elected for a term of two years in 1938. In November, 1940, he was again elected.

A member of the Buckeye Republican club for 40 years, he was elected president in 1935. He is also a member of the Eleventh Ward GOP club.

Nailor holds membership in the Glenwood Methodist church.

Swivel chair tycoons have a place in industry but more important to the success of the production of essential defense materials are workers who can do things with their hands.

Prolong Life of Linens

Sheets, tablecloths, napkins, and similar household linens which are washed and ironed regularly each week can be given longer life if they are folded and pressed differently from time to time. Fabrics tend to wear thin if they are always folded in the same way. Instead of always folding into halves, quarters, etc., work out a variety of ways to fold the articles so that the creases will not come in the same places for several successive weeks.

"There's a face that is haunting as ever,
There's a voice that we're longing to hear,
There's a smile we'll remember forever,
Though we try to forget every tear,
There's sad but sweet remembrance,
There's memory fond and true,
There's a token of affection, dear,
And heartache still for you."
Sadly missed by father, George Lust, Sr., brother, Harold Lust, and aunt, Mrs. T. V. Armstrong.

Garden Club Votes For Rose

Another response in favor of the rose as the Hilltop flower has been received by this column as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"At the last meeting of the Highland Garden Club a vote was taken for the 'Flower for the Hilltop' and the rose received the most votes and the zinnia was second choice.

"We felt as a garden club of the Hilltop you would like to know how we voted on the matter of choosing a popular flower for the Hilltop."

Mrs. Elizabeth Latham,
Corresponding Secretary.

Thank you, Highland Garden Club members. It appears that the rose is far in the lead in this race for the title of Hilltop flower. Now for a little competition in rose growing and may the Hilltop be a great big bed of roses!

Time To Consider Wednesday Closing

These days most everybody that is working for someone else has his or her hours regulated to the extent that a work week of somewhere in the vicinity of 40 hours results.

But pity the poor business man who operates a small business for himself and has had his problems increased tenfold with the increasing regulations and taxes that have come his way in recent years.

He's the man who has to be on the scene to see that the business ekes out enough to make weekly payrolls and to see that he has the tax money when the time comes. Every small business firm today has a struggle unlike anytime in the past and the future is not bright.

So, when someone suggests Wednesday closing for merchants it appears that these fellows have a possible break coming their way. The program is one that most certainly should be put through in order to allow the owner of small business firms to take a part holiday each week.

This program deserves the hearty cooperation of every local firm, independent or chain.

Beware of the Old Swimming Hole

Comes news of the first drowning of the season.

Every small boy is tempted throughout the warm season to take a plunge in what he believes to be a delightful old swimming hole. But around Columbus many of these places have proven to be dangerous and many drownings have resulted.

So, it's time every precaution is taken to keep such swimming holes from appearing too inviting.

Flowers, Did You Say?

County Commissioners when questioned about the matter of low salaried janitors, etc., paying into the kitty for campaign expenses, are said to have replied that, "We'll call it a flower fund."

Yes, no matter how thin you slice it, it's still bologna. And no matter what you call it, flower fund or not, it's meant to keep public officials in office.

Now we have no criticism of such a system of contributions if officials choose to accept them and if public appointees choose to pay into the fund. But at any rate we don't think the lower salaried group should be made to pay . . . and better yet we think a spade should be called a spade.

This collection will never smell any sweeter by calling it a flower fund.

NEW HOURS FOR SHOP

The C-K Photo Shop, 2785 W. Broad-st, will be open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. beginning today according to an announcement by Dave Conwell. The firm is being reorganized and details will be announced next week.

VFW Selects 8 Delegates

Delegates appointed from the Westway Post 3441, V. F. W., to the state encampment, to be held in Columbus during the last of June and the first of July are: Lester Stevens, Raymond Boord, George Chambers, Ray Wilson, Paul Linder, Ray Polus, Frank Wolfe and R. M. Hartman.

These same delegates will attend the election of state district officers, which will be held at Circleville at a date to be announced later.

Members of the post are requested to attend the county council meeting, the fourth week in May.

Herbert Kunzi is commander of Westway Post.

Hill, Beem Named By Honor Group

Among the six juniors who were in the top two percent of their class and elected to membership in Beta Gamma Sigma, College of Commerce honorary, the only two from Columbus were Hilltop boys.

Each of the boys, strangely enough, has the same first name—Chester. They were Chester Hill, 289 S. Powell-av, and Chester Beem, 220 Binns-blvd.

Students above freshman rank in the College of Education, at the Ohio State University, having a point-hour average of 3.25 or above for the winter quarter include the following from the Hilltop:

Carter G. Sanders, 96 S. Hague-av; Avalon M. Bright, 3050 Crescent-dr; Jean E. Haye, 28 S. Roys-av; Robert W. Johnston, 159½ N. Ogden-av; Ralph Bieber, 116 Eldon-av; Maxine B. Oyler, 229 S. Ogden-av; Betty J. Price, 268 S. Eureka-av; David P. Randall, 1989 W. Broad-st.

Lieut. Carl Turner Is Made Captain

He is a graduate of DePauw University class of '28, where he received a commission as a second lieutenant in the Reserve Corps. Captain Turner was called to service on Oct. 6, 1940. He is stationed at the induction center at Fort Hayes.

Goodwin Pharmacy Will Open Monday

A new drug store to be known as Goodwin's Pharmacy will be open for business at 2772 Sullivant-av Monday morning, it was announced today by Joe Goodwin, owner of the store.

A grand opening will be held Friday and Saturday of next week, he said. The store is next door to the new Kroger store recently opened in the same building.

Goodwin has been in the drug business for the past 23 years. He attended Ohio State University; he is married and lives with his wife and daughter, a student at West High, at 53 N. Westgate-av. Mrs. Goodwin is president of the Woman's Pharmacy Club.

Announced as the final winners in the Blanket Club are the following, all of whom are tied: Ruby Cockerill, Sadie Planton, Mrs. F. Weber, Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. J. McGurer, Viola Gay, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. A. R. Standworth, Mrs. Ollie Sexton.

Announcements of the winners in the new Variety Blanket Club just starting will be made after May 21.

Band Parents To Sponsor Party

The West High School Band Parents organization is sponsoring a skating party at Smith's skating rink May 26 at 7:45 p. m.

A king and queen will be chosen from the senior members of the band for the affair.

They Help Open Fishing Season

"Yep. They're bitin' up in Canada this spring."

That's what Lawrence Marble, owner of the Montrose Studios (left center) and Charles Cruea, operator of the Hilltop Swimming Pool and Roller Rink (right center) reported as they returned a few days ago from a three-day fishing trip 70 miles north of Ottawa.

The picture seems to bear out that report, too, as the 150 pounds of Lake Trout shows. The fish were caught in Lake Pythonga where Mr. Marble has a summer cottage. Shown at the extreme left and right are Archer and Alex Knight, two brothers from a family of 10 boys, who served as guides for the party.

Not shown in the picture but also in the party were Ray Lockhart, restaurant owner on the North Side, and Mr. Davis, Harrisburg farmer.

Railroaders Office To Be On Hilltop

As a result of the election held by the National Association of Veterans and Retired Railway Employees, Inc., the national headquarters of this organization is now located on the Hilltop.

C. D. Blair, 2490 Valleyview-dr, was elected grand secretary-treasurer and the new headquarters will be located at his home. Frank W. Crawford, 115 Eldon-av, was chosen as one of the grand vice-presidents.

This organization of retired railroaders boasts some 3500 members in 28 different states. The unit in Columbus is number 20 of 48 units, and the local outfit is headed by F. W. Crawford, president; George Shermer, vice-president; C. D. Blair, secretary-treasurer.

Many of the members of the local organization are Hilltoppers, it is reported.

Leo Phillips Jr., manager of the Westgate Park Tennis Courts, announces the courts will be ready for play Saturday.

West Bucks Battle For Second Place

By winning next Tuesday from the North High Polar Bears, who eliminated them from the central district tournament, the West Cowboys hope to maintain their unconquered second place in the city league.

If the Westerners maintain this position, it will make the fourth second place in city competition that they have scored in the past two years; two coming in football, one in basketball, and the other in baseball.

West lost to Aquinas Tuesday afternoon by a score of 4 to 2.

Despite the fact that two losses nearly obliterated the Cowboys' chances for a championship, either state or city, they have been playing fine baseball, winning 11 out of 14 games for an average of .786.

Bucks Win Tourney Opener

In the initial tilt of the central district tournament, the Buckaroos edged the East High Bengals, 5 to 4. Going into the last of the seventh on the short end of a 4 to 3 score, Wills hit a booming triple, Rogers got on by an error, Wills scored on a pass ball, and Rogers scored on Roy Meloeny's hard hit wash-line drive over third base. Swisher worked on the mound for the Westerners.

North Beats West

The second game of the tournament brought West into conflict with North, who eliminated the Cowboys in last year's tournament. West's Dick Hoover and Schmitter of North held forth in a real pitchers' battle. Hoover allowed three hits and Schmitter held the Bucks to one bingle, a clean single by Roy Meloeny. The North runs were scored on errors by the Cowboy infield.

Bob Swisher, West hurled, allowed the Irish of Aquinas four hits and an equal number of runs in the first inning, but blanked them the rest of the game, striking out 10 men. But those four runs were too much for the Cowboys, who couldn't hit the offerings of Bruf McQuade in the clutches.

Aquinas made only one more hit than did West, but had two less men stranded on the bases.

Hope was renewed among the Bucks' fans when the bases were loaded in the last of the seventh and only one man was out, but the last two men went out via the strike-out route.

Starling Ball Team Has Full Schedule

The Starling Hi-Y Softball team is rounding out its schedule for the semester with the following games; May 21, Arlington Junior High; and May 28, Everett Junior High. The three games will be played at King Field.

The members of the team are Charles Boulon, Paul Briedenbaugh, William Burk, Earl Buxton, William Chidester, Arthur Gilkerson, Delbert Kay, William Kelly, Alan Klemm, James Longerbone, Clifford Morton, James Shackelford, James Smith, Russel Steinbrook, Burton Stimmel, James Taylor, and Glendon Wiggins.

The regular monthly meeting of the Band Parents' Club will be held Tuesday, May 20, at 8 o'clock at West High School.

Sold Her Furniture Before Record Reached Her Home

Mrs. J. C. McMillan, 3048 Crescent-dr, had four pieces of furniture for sale and said as much in an ad that cost her 42c in last Friday's Record.

At 10 o'clock Friday morning, before she had even received her Record, she had sold every item and they had been moved from the house.

Mrs. James Worrel, 1968 Floral-av, is a satisfied user of Record Want Ads too. She had 19 calls from her ad to sell a porch glider.

Hilltop people having anything to sell, wanting anything, having a service to offer, or something to rent are assured positive results if they use a Record Want Ad. The cost is insignificant in comparison with the results. Just phone Ra. 1125.

Legion Plans Joint Service

The Camp Chase American Legion Post and its auxiliary will hold a joint memorial service this evening at the post club rooms. All World War veterans and their families are invited to attend.

Chaplain Elmer A. Young, 125 N. Chase-av, is completing plans for Memorial Day, when the post will conduct its annual service at Memorial Burial Park, Alton and Wesley Chapel Cemeteries.

The Camp Chase Drum and Bugle Corps travelled to Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital Sunday to assist with the annual Mother's Day program. The corps will have new uniforms by Memorial Day, it is reported.

Delegates and alternates to the state convention at Youngstown will be elected at the June 6 meeting, according to Commander M. P. Hain.

Vice Commander Fiscus, chairman of the post's membership committee, announced today that the American Legion has its largest membership in history, both in Ohio and in the nation. The Ohio Legion passed the million member mark at the "Air-Mail Round-up" at Indianapolis Apr. 27, at the Legion national headquarters.

Republicans Plan Festival

Do you remember the old fashioned Strawberry Festival?

If you do and enjoyed that sort of repast you will have an opportunity to attend one at the K of P Hall, Burgess and Broad, on June 5. The affair is being sponsored by the Eleventh GOP Club and will be held from 6 to 9 p. m.

Home made cake, ice cream with plenty of luscious strawberries and coffee will be served. Tickets may be obtained from members of the club.

Posters Herald Starling Festival

Joan Buttner, Chester Carter, John Clark and Wilbur Snowden, students of Starling Junior High School, have designed large picture posters, announcing the annual May Fete.

This festival, sponsored by the P.-T. A., will be held Friday, May 16, at the school.

Wednesday Closing Is Sought For Hilltop

A five-man committee to investigate the possibility of enacting a Wednesday afternoon closing of business firms on the Hilltop during the summer months was named by the Hilltop Business Men's Association in its meeting at Schmelzer's Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st, Tuesday night.

Heading the committee is Charles Kent, 2787 Sullivant-av. Assisting with the work are Raymond [illegible], 3178 W. Broad-st; Fred Raether, 2402 W. Broad-st; Paul Rausch, 2768 W. Broad-st, and Harold Fox, 2422 W. Broad-st.

Mr. Hauntz explained that in view of the effort to conserve man power in line with national defense work there is a possibility that a city-wide closing might be effected.

Similar efforts on the Hilltop during the past three years met with failure when some of the business houses failed to cooperate in the movement.

It was pointed out that such a program would make possible a little more leisure time for store employees during the hot weather without affecting business conditions in the community. It was felt that shoppers could easily accustom themselves to the half day closing without inconvenience.

Bean Committee Named

E. O. Melvin, 2409 W. Broad-st, will again head the committee responsible for sponsoring the annual Hilltop Bean Dinner to be held at Westgate Park July 30, president L. E. Saunders announced.

The general committee named to work with Mr. Melvin consisted of Charles Kent, concessions; Raymond Hauntz, arrangements; C. C. Hartley, publicity; Tom Lewis, music and dancing; Ray Percy, stands; Curt Roberts, games and contests; Gene Hays, ice cream stand; Clarence Story, soft drink stand; Joe Briggs, bean stand; and Chester Herbert, sandwich stands.

Mr. Melvin showed several reels of color film taken last summer on his trip to the San Francisco Fair and the northwestern section of the country.

Booster prize winners were Dr. T. S. Fox, Paul Rausch, George Matson, Fred Raether and Ralph Clements.

Scout Dinner Is Tonight

The Scouters' annual dinner will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at Schmelzer's Restaurant. Chas. F. Martz, editor of the American Education Press and member of Governor Bricker's commission for Democracy in Ohio, will speak on patriotism in a democracy.

Music during the dinner will be furnished by C. F. Orem's Boy Scout orchestra. Members of the band are Joe Orem, drums; Jim Stein, clarinet; Don Huffman, saxophone and violin; Jim Hickel, banjo and guitar. All these boys are members of Boy Scout Troop No. 194. Ray McVay, of troop No. 161 plays the accordion.

Tickets may be obtained from the restaurant or by contacting Howard Miller, 229 Binns-blvd. All scouters and those interested in scouting, together with their wives, are invited to be present whether or not they are active in scout work at present.

Selective Service Calls 4 To Colors

Although most of the quotas for local selective service boards have been filled, board 11 sent three men, and board 13 sent one man, Monday.

Those from board 11 were: Curtis Walker, 177 Lechner-av; Harry Doughty, 115 N. Central-av, and Myron Testement (from New York); 1606 N. Fourth-st. Eugene R. Focht, 267 S. Eureka-av, was sent from board 13.

The next group to go from local boards will leave sometime during the last week of this month.

Girl's Leg Broken When Hit By Car

As Beverly Blagg, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blagg, 156 Whitethorne-av, jumped from her parents' car as they returned from a visit, Sunday afternoon. Her mother cautioned her not to cross the street without looking, but Beverly, more interested in what was across the street, ran out from behind the car into the path of a machine driven by Russel C. Hites, 288 Whitethorne-av.

Hite was driving slowly, it was stated by the Blaggs, or the results might have been different. As it is, Beverly is in the Mt. Carmel Hospital with a broken right leg and possibly a skull fracture. Attendants described her condition as "fairly good."

MAGANNS VISIT HERE

Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Magann of Salem, Ohio, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Day, 165 S. Harris-av. Rev. Magann was formerly minister at the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Demorest Road To Be Improved

After an investigation [illegible] condition of Demorest-rd between Clime-rd and Sullivant-av, the county commissioners ordered Monday [illegible] improvement of [illegible] road.

The road will be widened from 40 feet to 50 and 60 feet and the necessary grading and drainage will be taken care of.

County Engineer Allan C. Slade brought in the plans and cost estimates for the work Wednesday. The project will be a part of the county's blanket WPA road improvement program.

Car Nearly Demolished As Two Are Injured

After her car failed to make the sharp turn in Valleyview-dr, at N. Highland-av, Mrs. Viola Suter, age 39, 53 Stevens-av, and Vassar Slocum, 2734 Ridge-av, who was riding with her, were injured when they crashed into the side of the McDonald Lumber Co. Friday night.

Deputies on the scene stated that the car was nearly demolished and that a hole about eight feet high and 11 feet long was torn in the side of the McDonald building. The car struck and tore down a large sign in the yard of the lumber company and smashed into the building with an impact so terrific that a safe weighing 1000 pounds was hurled 12 feet across the room. Three windows were broken by the crash, and damage to the lumber company was estimated at more than $100.

Two Hilltoppers Are In O. S. U. Plays

Included in the casts of plays to be given at Ohio State University during the next three weeks are, Marian Palmer, 434 Columbian-av, and Harold Mers, 497 Wrexham-av.

Miss Palmer will take part in the next production of the speech drama group which will be "By Special Request," by John Boone, to be given at 8:30 p. m., May 26-30, in the studio in Derby Hall.

Mers is in the cast of "Les Ricochets," one of the two plays to be presented by the University French Club, Friday, May 23, in the University Hall chapel.

"Hey There Mister, Watch That Light," Safety Car Warns

One of the newest and most effective devices in use in the city to prevent an increase in wholesale traffic fatalities, is the Police Department Safety Car. Since this car has been put into service, patrolling the streets of Columbus, the number of deaths have decreased to five less than the total for a similar period, one year ago.

The safety car is operated by Hilltoppers Sergeant J. E. Knight, 180 N. Hague-av, who is the voice of the car you hear over the loud speaker, is in charge, and Patrolman K. M. Watts, 47 N. Burgess-av, is the chauffeur. Knight has been with the police department for 17 years and Watts has been a member of the force for nine years.

Cost $1700

With full equipment, the car, which was presented to the police department by the Columbus Exchange Club, cost approximately $1700. It is a Ford two-door sedan, equipped with a Mercury motor, which is capable of pushing the car along at 120 miles per hour.

The most noticeable thing about the glistening white car is the twin speakers mounted on its roof, which from time to time, will issue cautioning words to jay-walkers, light-crashers, and other traffic violators caught in the act by Sergeant Knight and Patrolman Watts.

Characteristic of the jingles that have been written by the two men or sent in by friends, for the purpose of shaming the violators into remembrance not to commit the same error again, is this one:

"Here is the story of Gertrude Grimes,
Who always jay-walks, just to save time.
A motorist struck her; his windshield was dirty,
Now time marches on—without dear Gerty."

In addition to the job of counseling with traffic violators and getting instructions for safe driving into hands where there is a need for education along the line of driving and walking safely, the safety car is also equipped to do emergency work, should it happen upon the scene of an accident.

The specially designed back end of the car houses a full length stretcher that is taken out and put in through the trunk. The back seat of course, was never installed in the car. Also in the space back of the front seat is an inhalator outfit, similar to the one used by the fire department. This outfit has seen service several times when the safety car has revived people who have lost consciousness on the street.

The numerous batteries and other paraphernalia necessary to insure the efficient working of the loud speaker mounted on the roof of the safety car and the two-way short-wave radio, that connects it with police headquarters, are also placed back of the front seat.

Special turn indicators are mounted on each fender and in order to supply an adequate supply of electricity for these and all of the other accessories requiring current for their operation, the car is fitted with an airplane generator which has a capacity of 48 amperes.

Mostly Lack of Thinking

Most of the accidents that are caused on the city streets are caused by persons' failure to think before they act, asserted Sergeant Knight, and he illustrated this point by pulling up to the curb across the street from a milk truck that had triple parked and called its driver over to the safety car. After finding out what he had done, the driver readily admitted his failure to observe the traffic code and stated that he had been after a pound of butter and had neglected to think.

"You were balancing a pound of butter against a human life," stated Sergeant Knight, and the driver appeared serious as he thought of the consequences that might have come about. "Just remember it the next time," Knight called as the safety car moved out into traffic again.

The operators of the safety car make frequent speeches before school children and civic groups, and the appearance of the car at a corner opposite a school about the time the children are dismissed will collect a crowd four and five deep about it. The friendly manner in which the policemen deal with the children will no doubt be evidenced in the manner of friendliness that will be manifested to other members of the "boys in blue," when these children have grown up.

Whenever there has been a traffic death in the city, black crepes are displayed at each window of the car during the rest of that 24-hour period.

The lack of knowledge of fundamental traffic laws is amazing, the safety car operators stated. Many people do not yet know that the pedestrian, who starts across the street as the light is changing and is not across when it changes, is not afforded the protection of the light any longer and is in the street and responsible for his own safety.

The Hilltop is one section of town where the loud speaker atop the car is noticeably silent, it was stated. There has been considerable improvement in the past few years and local traffic is in fairly good condition.
